Another game will be played in the near future to decide the championship of the church teams in the city.

—Willis E. Dick and Albert Schwab of Quincy, Ill., reached Keokuk today on their week's wagon trip through this section, which is one given to both business and pleasure. —Mrs. William Gattton, a resident of Gregory, Mo., died last night at half past eleven after a short illness since last Saturday. Stomach trouble was the cause of her passing. The deceased was forty-eight years of age, and was born in Indiana. When a young child, she came to this section of the country with her parents and had lived at and near Gregory for a number of years. Those who survive her in death are her husband, William Gattton, daughters, Mrs. Mary A. Gray of Wayland, Mrs. Anna A. Johnson of Gregory, and Misses Nellie, Eltha and Alma of Gregory, and an eight-year-old son, William.

The body was brought to the Crimmins and Chase undertaking parlor in this city today to be prepared for burial and interment will be made tomorrow some time at Bluff Springs cemetery about three miles from Gregory.

—A great comedy "Wifies' Mamma" at Dodges tonight.

—It will be well to keep in mind a few of the extracts from the Iowa game law. You are allowed to kill per day but twenty-five game birds of any one kind except ducks; and it is against the Iowa law to have in possession any more than twenty-five game birds, with the exception of ducks. With the open season for ducks only one month, interested ones will be glad to learn that report says that there are hundreds of young wild ducks along the large rivers of the country, and some of these will in a few weeks begin to fly in this direction. The variety are teal, mallard and others. Experienced observers say, however, that a heavy rain is the only thing that will preserve these young ducks until the "open season" arrives. The swamps are drying up completely and many of the lakes are nothing but parched mud.
