

SINTON GAVE CHICKEN SUPPER

Jolly Party of Seventeen From Keokuk, Enjoyed Themselves at the Warsaw Hotel.

THE PEORIA EXCURSION

Steamboat Inspectors Come to Warsaw and Find That the Ferry Boat is All Right.

WARSAW, Ill., Aug. 27.—The young people of the Church of the Sacred Heart gave a successful social on the school house lawn, on Webster Street. Mrs. Anna Foster of Chicago is visiting her brother, Marshal Robert Wetman. They have not met for ten years.

A jolly party of 17 Keokuk people, headed by Wm. Sinton enjoyed a chicken supper at that popular caravansary, the Hotel Grant. An orchestra of four pieces played during the repast. These trolley and auto suppers have been "the thing" with our Keokuk friends for some years. In the winter game suppers are often enjoyed.

Harris and Reynolds' electric is open six nights of the week instead of three, the change having been recently made.

Mrs. Mary Andrews of Kansas City is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarepta Crawford.

There were seven coaches and a combination coach in the Odd Fellows' train to Peoria Thursday, this guaranteeing a seat for every one.

Mr. George Worthen has offered his home for sale, and contemplates taking up his residence with one of his sons in the south. It is a pretty, cozy home and in an exceptional neighborhood.

Captain Archibald Gordon, and Captain McDonald, steamboat inspectors of St. Louis, were here Wednesday, and inspected the ferry, Meeker, and pronounced her O. K.

The farewell dance reported in these columns given at Odd Fellows' hall, on Friday evening last, in honor of Miss Bertha Troutvetter, was for Miss Grace Sidnor of Omaha, Neb., cousin of the Misses Jaquot, who had been visiting them and was tendered by her young friends. This correction is but due Miss T. and is cheerfully made.

ALL STAR TEAM TO MAKE BIG TRIP

Tex Rickard to Organize Star Team and Tour Entire Country—Best in Both Leagues.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Aug. 26.—It became known in Cincinnati yesterday that Tex Rickard is the man who is back of the scheme to take two all-American baseball teams on a tour of this country just as soon as the regular season is ended. Rickard has been keeping in the background of the plan because he thinks if it were known he is the man financing the plan it probably would receive a lot of unjust praise.

His man in Cincinnati, who is handling the money for the teams and who will conduct them on their tour, is D. A. Fletcher, who for many years has been a big man in the racing history of America, and only recently left that field to enter this plan.

Cincinnati people who know of the scheme say that Rickard has put up almost all the money to be used and that he will receive the lion's share of the proceeds. He furthermore has guaranteed the salaries of the players in advance and has told them through his Cincinnati manager that the money for the entire fall season will be sent to them before they start on the tour. They will go to the ten largest cities in this country.

A club composed of National league players will play against a club composed of American league men. The backers of the plan are trying to get Silk O'Loughlin and Hank O'Day to go along as the umpires, but this has not been definitely settled. In the list of National league men are Konechy of St. Louis, first base; Doyle of New York, second; Wagner of Pittsburgh, short stop; Delvin of New York, third base; Bescher and Mitchell of Cincinnati, left and right field; Hofman of Chicago, center; Gibson of Pittsburgh and Bresnahan of St. Louis, catchers; Rucker of Brooklyn, Brown of Chicago, and Mathewson of New York, pitchers.

The American league men are: Chase of New York, first base; Lajoie of Cleveland, second base; Wallace of St. Louis, short stop; Lord of Chicago, third base; Speaker of Boston, Cobb and Crawford of Detroit, outfielders; Stannage of Detroit and Carigan of Boston, catchers; Ford of New York, Walsh of Chicago, and Donovan of Detroit, pitchers.

Daily Grain Letter. CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 27.—Wheat—Prospects for a fairly good run of spring wheat in the northwest and large stocks at terminal points, apparently have lost their effect for the time being, and the bulls were active in taking a foreign demand, several small lots have been worked and exporters claiming bids for more at about the present prices. European supplies are in excess of those a year ago and adequate for immediate requirements. With the light trade, we cannot enthuse on the bull side and believe sales are to be preferred whenever bulges occur.

Corn—Short covering and strength in wheat were the main supports. The weather forecast is for fair and warmer weather, thus eliminating the possibility of a frost scare. With the small stocks and waiting attitude of the bear element, believe that purchases are advisable on the recessions for scalping profits, keeping in mind the possibility of a frost development at any time.

Oats—Sympathetically strong with wheat. The heavy stocks should prevent any sustained advance and we believe sales on bulges will result profitably.

Provisions—Nothing pressing on the market and with the outlook for a small run of hogs next week, prices were advanced and look higher. Cash demand is only moderate but believe the January product while selling at a good discount should be sold whenever the nearby futures are strong. The best informed people believe that the run of hogs in late November and December will be very heavy.

Sample market—Cash wheat up with the futures market, premiums steady. Shippers and elevators were good buyers, contract grades 3/4c higher over September. Corn 1/4c higher, following the futures market. Shippers the best buyers. Oats 1/4c higher in sympathy with the other markets. Elevator houses best buyers for storage purposes. Shippers and local track dealers in the market in a small way.

DESPONDENT, KILLED HIMSELF

Fred A. H. Adams of Fall Creek, Ill., Committed Suicide in Corn Field.

Fred A. H. Adams, of Fall Creek, Ill., committed suicide by shooting himself in the left temple some time yesterday morning. For several weeks he had been despondent over the condition of his health, which has been gradually failing for some time, and this, with worry attached to the death of his father, who died last fall, was assigned by the relatives of the man as the cause of his act. The deed was committed in a corn field northwest of his house and from the manner in which the body was found and the conditions of the surroundings it was evident to those who located the body, that death had come instantly. The weapon which Adams used in taking his life was a .32-caliber revolver.

The family missed him on rising yesterday morning and the neighbors were at once notified. With the hands on his farm, they formed a searching party. The body of the dead man was located in the corn field by Raymond Wilson, a nephew who was making his home at the Adams farm during his school vacation. At the time of his discovery he was accompanied by Charles E. Willis.

WILLING TO CALL IT OFF. Lew Dockstrader Tells Story to Illustrate His Theory That We're All Superstitious.

"We're all superstitious," says Lew Dockstrader. "Ever hear the story of the two negroes who got into an argument? One says to the other: 'I'll bet yo' a dollar that I got the nerve to sit on a tombstone in de graveyard while the clock strikes midnight. The bet was made, but the other man had to go along to see whether or not the conditions were carried out. On the way to the cemetery the second man fell and broke his wooden leg. But he was so anxious to win that dollar that he took the leg off and hobbled along to the cemetery, one hand on the other negro's shoulder. They seated themselves on a prostrate tombstone. 'Do I win that dollar, or do I not?' asked the man who made the proposition, triumphantly. Just then the clock in the church steeple began to strike. From behind a bush near by a sheeted figure advanced upon the negroes. 'Whafoah are you all distubbin' mah rest?' it asked. The negro that bet he wasn't afraid started for home on the keep jump. The only way out was through a narrow lane, bounded on either side by tall hedges. About half way down the lane the running negro heard a pat-pat just behind him. He could feel the hot breath of his pursuer on the back of his neck. A hand reached out and touched him on the coat, and he just doubled his speed. 'Oh, mah goodness, niggah!' said the voice of the one-legged man, 'git outen mah road and yo' can keep yo' ole dollar!'"
