—Mrs. Thomas Case of Argyle, died at four o'clock Saturday afternoon at the home of her son Elmer near Argyle, from a complication of diseases. She was about eighty years old and was long a resident of this section of the country. She has two sons in California, and Mrs. W. W. Newberry, daughter, and son Elmer of Argyle, survive. She will be buried at Meek's cemetery this afternoon at two o'clock. Her husband passed away August 6th, 1906.
—Round trip to Quincy, on steamer Keokuk, Sunday and Monday, 60 cents. Boat leaves both days, at 8 a. m. Returning leaves Quincy at 4 p. m. Sunday's return check good Monday. There is now plenty of water and no danger of sand bars.

cheered mightily when the colonel before proceeding to his Taft reference demanded that the national government be given the power to regulate the manipulation of capital. He said: "Two great railroads are now at work on a piece of construction work where I have no question the stock is being honestly provided for and I believe a great mass of bonds will be issued which will represent in effect a bonus to certain big men who ought to have something for what they have done but who ought not to have anything like they will get."
Throughout the day the colonel talked, it is estimated, to 75,000 people, and the bearing of his audiences touched him deeply. At the little water tank of Alton, with a population of 250 fully 800 people were gathered and for three minutes while the engine took water, the colonel talked to the crowd. A huge, broad faced farmer in his shirt sleeves handed up to the colonel a tiny pair of hand carved wooden shoes, "a tribute to your Dutch ancestry," he shouted, "we are from Holland, too," and as the train pulled out the colonel could barely restrain himself when the crowd shouted the Dutch salute of farewell, "Oranje Bogen."

At one little town eight hundred people had a well trained group of shouters who yelled "What's the matter with the Elephant Tamer of the G. O. P.?" and the answer came back "He's all right!"

Throughout the day the colonel was in a typical Roosevelt frame of mind. He joked with Seth Bullock, the long, lank westerner whom he knew on the plains and who is now United States marshal for South Dakota. He broke up his lunch to go out and talk to the crowds in towns along the route. He piled all the party out of the train at the South Dakota-Iowa line to have group pictures made of the men who made the trip and he insisted on making the center of the group with the freeman of the train on his left and the engineer on his right. And when the day was over he remarked that it was the greatest day he had had on the trip.

Here in Sioux Falls the colonel and his party were paraded through town in a long line of automobiles. He was taken to an enormous tent where some eighteen thousand people had gathered to hear him.

The crowd was wildly enthusiastic and they shouted their approval of his tariff sentiments. Later in the evening the colonel was the guest of the business men of the town at a banquet at the Cataract Hotel.

Senator Gamble, Representative Crawford, Governor Vessey and a score of other public men were at the dinner.

Late this afternoon Colonel Roosevelt received a score of telegrams from towns along the route of tomorrow's trip, begging him to make a speech at each point. The fact that tomorrow is Sunday, however, determined the colonel to refuse all invitations and he will make no speeches tomorrow.

The Roosevelt train will leave here tomorrow for Fargo, arriving there at six tomorrow morning.

FIEND WRECKS OPERA HOUSE

Dynamite Bomb Placed on Floor of Stage Explodes, and Burlington's Amusement Palace Suffers.

NO CLEW TO MISCREANTS

Almost Every Window Light Blown Out and Interior of the Theatre is in a Sad State.

A fiendish and partially successful attempt was made at an early hour yesterday to wreck the Burlington Grand opera house with some explosive. The identity of the miscreant who perpetrated the deed and the motive for the same are engulfed in mystery and conjecture offers no solution. It has been proven to the satisfaction of Chief of Police Hiltz and Manager Scovill of the Grand that the job was performed by some expert and that the explosion was caused by the ignition of a dynamite bomb on the floor of the stage in the center and just back of the footlights. The purpose of the perpetrator was evidently to wreck the stage and auditorium at the same time. The force of the explosion tore a jagged hole in the floor of the stage fully ten feet in diameter, reducing the boards to kindling wood and forcing the wreckage downward into the cellar.

The concussion shattered almost every window in the house, jarred down hundreds of yards of plastering from the proscenium arch and the ceiling in the front part of the theatre and created great havoc in the proscenium boxes.

The damage is of such extent that it is necessary to cancel all dates for door on the south side of the theatre, house can be temporarily arranged for attractions in two weeks. In addition to replacing every pane of glass in the building, it will be necessary to repair the hole in the stage, replaster the damaged places and redecorate the entire theatre.

Damage May Reach $5,000. Manager Scovill could make no estimate on the amount of the damage, but it will require at least $5,000 to put the play house in its original condition. Experts who have examined the walls of the theatre find no cracks of indication of weakness, so it is certain the force of the explosion spent itself on the windows and plastering.

It is thought the person who performed the deed entered by the stage door on the south side of the theatre, as a steel "jimmy" about two feet in length was found by the police in the south entry and there is evidence of the stage door being forced.
