In all probability the matter interesting the directors as well as the fans to decide in a few days. If the Quincy fans really are satisfied with Central association ball and want to continue in this league, the directors will give them another club in this league. Before the local association takes any further steps it will endeavor to learn the sentiment of the fans. John Wall was elected a director to fill a vacancy on the board.
 —Beginning next week the steamer Wenona will alter its former trip. Instead of running from this port each day as usual, it will make three trips from this city to Ft. Madison on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and from Ft. Madison to Burlington on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. It is the intention of Capt. Walter Bialr to have this steady little craft continue these trips for the remainder of the season. The cause for the change is due to the low stage of water.
 —The best fishing trip of the season was held yesterday at Taylor's slough when a local fishing party threw their lines in this pond and tried to diminish the vertebrated animals, of which they very nearly succeeded in doing. The party left for their destination yesterday morning and caught fish incessantly until their visions were obstructed by darkness, when they decided that they had made the best catch of the season, which consisted of 92 game fish, including bass and croppie, they returned home. Those in the party were Joseph and Frank Moeller, Charley Schenk, and Albert Meinberg, all of whom are very proud over the lucky day.
