A RULING IN SALOON CASES

Judge Smyth Sustained Motion for More Specific Statements as to Count No. 3 and Overruled on Others.

COURT HAS ADJOURNED

November Term Concluded Today, Morning Being Spent by Judge in Signing Orders in Various Matters.

Judge James D. Smyth ruled on the pending motion in the saloon injunction cases this morning, sustaining the motion, which was for more specific statements on count No. 3, and overruling it as to the rest of them. Count No. 3 reads: "That the plaintiff be required to state in what respect the defendant has not complied with the requirements of the mullet law. He should state whether said defendant has failed in respect to the requirement precedent to getting the right to keep and sell intoxicating liquor or in the requirements in respect to the conduct of a person who has attained the right to sell by compliance with said conditions precedent. He should state definitely the particular requirement or condition of the mullet law said defendant has failed to comply with or observe."

The November term of the district court which convened on November 28 adjourned sine die at noon today. Judge Smyth was busy this morning concluding his work here, which consisted of the signing of numerous orders and disposing of minor court matters. The most important matter of the day was the ruling in the saloon cases, while the Grimsley case was dismissed, as intimated in yesterday's Gate City. The term has been a busy one and while there have been few trials, much work has been done. The criminal docket received a setback because of the inability to secure a jury.

Overfatness Condemned
Fat, or even fattish, women readers who want to be in the modes this year must understand that the demand is for lines, not curves and govern themselves accordingly.
That means off with the fat! It has become a duty. Many are trying exercise or dieting; but it is certain they will find these methods too slow and unreliable. The cheapest and safest way to get in form for the Directorate mode is by means of Marmola Prescription Tablets. Any druggist (or the Marmola Co., 379 Farmer Bld., Detroit, Mich.) will give you a large-sized case of these elegant little fat reducers, containing a good, generous supply, for seventy-five cents, and even this quality should be enough to make a decided impression on your excess fat. Many have lost as much as a pound a day.
These Marmola Prescription Tablets may be used with impunity and likewise perfect confidence, for being made strictly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription, they are of course, quite harmless. They are rather beneficial than otherwise in fact, never disturbing the stomach or causing a wrinkling of the flesh.

the sufferers with the malady. Many older persons have experienced it and are undergoing the trouble in a lighter form generally known as "stiff neck." In some cases the elders are also subjected to the gatherings in the ears and the kidney trouble. The physicians say epidemics of Pifer's glandular fever have occurred in New York, in Ohio and in Indiana at various periods, but that such epidemics have been very rare so far.

The case here has been assigned for argument Jan. 9, 1911, and succeeding days and the commission will announce its decision at the earliest possible date thereafter. Inquiry into incidents during the year ended June 30, 1910, shows that the number of passengers killed in train accidents was 227, compared with 131 in the previous year. The number of employees killed in coupling accidents increased from 161 in 1909 to 207 in 1910—22 per cent. It is pointed out that, notwithstanding the increase in the number of casualties, marked improvement is noted in the practices of railroads in guarding against violations of the safety appliance laws. An alarming number of employees of railroads fell from cars. From this cause there were 589 deaths and 13,244 injuries.

Grasps Forces of Nature.
A man's mastery over the beasts is not due to his superior strength. The elephant can push him over, the horse can pull more, and the lion can beat him naked and bare handed. But he controls the brutes simply because he is wise enough to reach up and get hold of forces in nature more powerful than either the animals or himself.

QUINCY SAYS HER PEWS ARE EMPTY

Churches There Must Turn Over New Leaf First of Year to Attract People.

Keokuk people are good church goers and though there are some that need their religious faith bolstered up now and then, the same condition in empty pews does not exist here as it does in Quincy on Sunday evenings. In an editorial in the Herald of that city, the following regarding the moving picture versus the church service question, is printed:

As usual the churches were comparatively empty last evening and the moving picture theatres were packed. Yet the church census says the town is very religious. Query: When? The pictures, by the way, at several of the theatres were quite good. It looks very much as though the churches would have to turn over a new leaf when New Year's rolls around, and have services which will attract the multitude who need the ministrations of the church, if any do, and not merely the deacons and the good old ladies. The public wants something that will grip hold of it, something that is not the imitation of something else.

THE PRAYER OF THE HORSE

While the Christmas Spirit is On, Why Not Think of the Brutes?

The Horse's Prayer, printed a year ago in the papers of the country, is reproduced again by request. It is as follows:

To thee, my master, I offer my prayer. Feed, water and care for me; and when the day's work is done, provide me with shelter and a clean, dry bed. Always be kind to me. Pet me sometimes, that I may serve you more gladly and learn to love you. Do not jerk the reins, and do not whip me when going up a hill. Never strike, beat nor kick me when I do not understand what you want, but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I fall to do your bidding see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.
Do not overload me or hitch me where water will drip on me. Keep me well shod. Examine my teeth when I do not eat; I may have an ulcerated tooth, and that, you know, is painful. Do not tie nor check my head in an unnatural position nor take away my best defense against flies and mosquitoes by cutting off my mane or tail.
I cannot tell you when I am thirsty so give me clean, cool water often. I cannot tell you in words when I am sick, so watch me and by signs you may know my condition. Give me all possible shelter from the hot sun, and put a blanket on me when I am working or when I am standing in the cold. Never put a rusty bit in my mouth; first warm it by holding it in your hand.
I try to carry you and your burdens without a murmur, and wait patiently for you long hours of the day or night. Without the power to choose my shoes or path, I sometimes fall on the hard pavements, and I must be ready at any moment to lose my life in your service.
And finally, O my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not turn me out to starve or freeze, nor sell me to some human brute to be slowly tortured or starved to death, but do thou, my master, take my life in the kindest way, and your God will reward you here and hereafter. Amen.

THAT PENSION FOR TEACHERS
Bill Will Be Presented to Legislature at Coming Session in Des Moines.
The educators of Iowa want a state teachers' pension fund.
To provide with lifetime pensions those teachers who have served the state in the school room for twenty-five years, an enactment of law will be asked of the next legislature giving the urban and rural school districts of the state the right to levy a small tax upon all taxable property. The money thus raised by taxation will be turned over to a state fund, the distribution of which shall be under the control of a board of trustees of which the superintendent of instruction and board of educational examiners shall be ex-officio members.
To relieve the teachers of the state from the embarrassment of being state charity wards, it is proposed to assess the salaries of the teachers wishing to come under the benefits of the law not more than one per cent of their earnings, providing that the assessed amount does not exceed $12.
O. P. Bostick, superintendent of the schools of Clinton, is author of the bill. A preliminary draft of the bill is being circulated among the educators for approval. The bill will come before the legislative committee of the state teachers' association for final approval.
A new point in the law faces the educators who are backing the bill providing for state aid to schools giving instruction in agriculture. They want the Minnesota plan adopted in Iowa, but to their surprise they found Appropriate.

The kindergarten teacher in a certain Sunday school, who is also a public school teacher well on in years, announced to her class of little ones that as she was very tired and much in need of rest she would not teach them during the summer.

The children's sympathies were aroused and they collected in the class a sum of money to buy their teacher a gift.

One evening the mother of the boy who was the leading spirit in the movement asked: "What are you going to buy for your teacher?"

"I'm not quite sure," replied the small boy, "but we saw something in the florist's window today that we thought she'd like. It was a pillow, all made of white flowers, and right in the middle in purple flowers it said, 'At Rest.'"
