

NEW YORK NEWS LETTER

Suffragist Movement in New York City is Assuming the Militant Characteristics of the English Campaign.

TO WIN BY ARGUMENT

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is One of the Leading Advocates of the Movement—Music Cure Latest Indian Cult.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Slowly but surely the suffragist movement in New York is assuming the militant characteristics of the English suffragette campaign.

The New York advocates of "votes for women" are not suffragettes. Oh, dear no! For that implies fighting and rock-throwing and jousts with the police and jail sentences and a lot of other things that are rude and undesirable.

All this is the theoretical difference between the suffragists and suffragettes. Practically there isn't such a wide difference and the chasm is being bridged every day.

"There was sharp suffragette skirmishing in front of the Lyceum theatre in West Forty-fifth street yesterday afternoon."

This is the introductory sentence in a recent New York daily in a story of a clash between several hundred suffragists and anti-suffragists.

The change in the tactics of the New York suffragists is traceable directly to two causes: the influence of English suffragettes who have been proselyting among them and the opposition of the National league for the Civic Education of Women and other anti-suffrage organizations.

Such missionary work as Miss Sylvia Parhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emeline Parkhurst, leader of the English suffragettes, is now doing in this country is bearing rich fruit and it is noticeable that after every such visit from an English sister, the New York suffragists grow a bit more emboldened.

But what incites the ire of the suffragists particularly is the attitude and the comments of those of their own sex who are opposing woman's suffrage. Whenever you want a nice little row, just let two of these opposing bunches meet.

It was such a meeting that the quoted newspaper sentence refers to. It was after a lecture by Richard Barry, a magazine writer to the Women of the National League for the Civic Education of Women, in which he described the "complete failure" of women's voting in some of the western states.

His several hundred high brow bearers, in the most complacent mood, were emerging from the theatre when a flying column of suffragists—almost suffragettes—enveloped them. The suffragists carried yellow banners and shouted, "Votes for women!" "Down with Barryism!" into the ears of the anti's.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont is one of the leading suffragists. Even she forgot herself long enough to say that Barry ought to be horsewhipped and the Rev. Anna Shaw declared that "the bar will be answered tomorrow."

At this rate it won't be long.

Eighteen years of putting up the money for a mother-in-law-bossed home proved too much for William Curren, naturally one of the meekest of the meek in Brooklyn. He is enjoying a temporary respite which, on the order of a magistrate, he is paying $5 a week.

"Judge" Curren told the court in the preliminary hearing, "we were married eighteen years ago and since that time I have not had a day of rest or a night of half an hour's sleep. My mother-in-law came to our house eight days after we were married. The first week I did not mind but as the weeks grew into months and the months into years, I objected. When I kicked my mother-in-law said: 'Why, you little shrimp, do you think you are master here?'"

"Think of that insult to me, Judge."

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Bansom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice. No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential and always helpful.

when my little son spoke to me she slapped his face and said: 'Get out of here you scamp; you are, the image of your father.' How would you like to be called shrimp, spider, scamp, Fussy-Pee Wee and Dot? I am small but then—' and here Curren stretched himself all of his four feet and eight inches—'I'll do anything for my wife and family but I hate to give the old woman daylight.'

Once more New York's faddists and believers in the mystic cult that comes out of India and other oriental countries are having their inning. The latest cult might be called the "music cure" and the high priest who has been conducting his classes through the mysteries of the new "wrinkle," is Inayat Khan, who holds the title of Tansen, or a champion of Music of East India.

With his two assistants, Maheboob Khan and Mohamad Ali Khan, Inayat professes to demonstrate the influence of Hindu music over the mind. "Music is a branch of philosophy in India," he explained, "and in theory and practice and powers of creating emotions I am prepared to expound, I call it healing."

Inayat considers his mode of healing a religious one. His chief instrument is the veena, the sacred instrument of India. No one but a Tansen may play the veena.

"By means of a certain melody there is relief for one who is anxious, or angry, or lovesick, or for one who is ignorant of the higher spirits," declares Inayat.

Just what tune it requires to soothe the course of love, the Indian professor explains only to the initiated and so far there is none among his disciples who has openly confessed to having had the dispassion properly conducted through the medium of the veena. Inayat has indorsements from the Maharaja of Mysore, the Nizam of Hyderabad, the Gaekwar of Baroda, the "Emptydum of Yipibibi" and a host of other dignitaries. He's getting away with it, too.

SIR THOMAS AND THE MANIAC

Madman Demanded Money But Was Not Shrewd Enough to Get It.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—It was learned today that the man named Meldon who gained admission to Sir Thomas Lipton's residence at Southgate Saturday and drew a razor on the noted yachtsman in an effort to enforce his demand for $5,000, was lately discharged from an insane asylum.

Sir Thomas, who owes his escape to his presence of mind and his ability to humor his guest, is being congratulated on all sides on his lucky escape. Meldon got an interview with Lipton on the pretense of being a Scotland Yard detective who wanted to lay before the baronet an alleged forgery by one of his employes. When in the library, the madman drew a razor and demanded money of Sir Thomas.

BOWLING TOURNEY HAS COMMENCED

Hundreds of Ten Pin Rollers From All Over the Country at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 23.—The eleventh annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress has opened with several hundred pin rollers from as far east as Pittsburg, as far west as Denver, and from the north and south. The opening was brilliant despite a small attendance on account of a raging snow storm.

Edmund Koeln, president of the St. Louis Bowling association, presided. The first ball was rolled by John H. Gundlach, president of the municipal council.

Participating in the opening were Robert E. Bryson, president of the A. B. C., M. A. Phillips, vice president, Abe Langtry, secretary, C. W. Turner, Wm. Agnew, John Koener and S. L. Drake of the executive committee.

The sixteen teams comprising the Anheuser-Busch league occupied the alleys the first night. The present records that the bowlers will endeavor to break during the tournament follows: The five men record, Lipman's, Chicago, 2962. Two man record, A. Schwoegler and T. Schwoegler, Madison, Wis., 1304. Individual record, T. Haley, Detroit, 705.

Business sessions of the congress will be held Tuesday and Wednesday. The following slate will probably be elected: President, Robert Bryson; secretary, Abe Langtry; first vice president, John T. Hartmann, Pittsburg; second vice president, Judge Howard, Chicago; and treasurer, Frank Pasdelop.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying its foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for lists of addresses. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

LIMBURGER CHEESE AS CANCER CURE

Federal Court Decision Takes Fall Out of Court of Quack Medicine Preparation.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 23.—Limburger cheese may be entitled to deepest respect as a delicate dish, but as a cure for cancer and contributory maladies, the dainty edible was discredited in the federal court here by Dr. E. P. Morgan, of Washington, D. C., testifying in the hearing of the government's case against Philip Schuch, Jr., vendor of proprietary medicines, indicted for alleged questionable practices. Dr. Morgan is attached to the government pure food inspection staff. He examined the admixture which Schuch sold in Denver to hundreds of sufferers as a cure for cancer and other diseases. He found it, he said, to be a combination of limburger cheese and glycerine. Its one ingredient he detected simply by its odor. The other was made apparent by chemical analysis.

Schuch summoned several former "patients" who are said to be ready to swear that the limburger and other medicines of Schuch cured them completely, but the court ruled their testimony out.

SOYA BEAN BEATS THEM ALL

Chinese Bean Which Contains all That is Necessary to Keep Alive.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—Thanks to an enterprising and scientific young Chinese, Li Yu Yin, Les Valles, a suburb of Paris, is to rival Battle Creek, Mich., as a producer of new fangled foods.

Li has opened the most up to date factory in Europe in Les Valles, the workmen of which are all Chinese. The machinery of Chinese manufacture, and the raw material used in which will all come from China.

The raw material is the soya bean, countless bags of them, out of which

Faith Rewarded By the Building of the Dam

As Many as Fifty Years Ago Damming of Rapids Was Predicted.

[By Frederic C. Smith.] CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 21.—This story is one which is given simply for what it is worth. It was related by a member of the faculty of the department of geography and was not vouched for by him nor were any names given that might verify it. However it is a new one to the writer and at this time seems more than appropriate. Possibly the prophecy contained here in will some day be realized, at least we may hope that to some extent it will be. The matter of the Keokuk dam having been commenced brought forth the story and is given for its own merits alone with no attempt to verify it. Unusual in its elements, it is singularly appropriate at this time of awakening for Keokuk.

Along in the late '50's or early '60's two brothers living in the east were preparing to go to the west to seek their fortunes. They had spread before them a crude map of the regions of the west and central states. They also had the data of what trade then was being carried on and tales of men, who were returning east, rich in wealth and tales of this new country.

One of the brothers put his finger on Fort Dearborn or Chicago and said:

Li proposes to manufacture all sorts of foods. Li claims to have discovered that everything the human system requires is contained in the soya bean.

After studying the little bean in the laboratories of Europe, Li returned to China two years ago and obtained $100,000 capital to start his factory.

Mrs. D. Gikenson, 326 Ingles Ave. Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Wilkinson & Co.

ANTI-JAP BILLS NOT TO COME UP

Agitation in California Will Not be Allowed by Governor Johnson.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 23.—No legislation singling out the Japanese for exclusion as land owners will be passed at this session of the California legislature, from the present outlook. Two bills which have been introduced thus far, seek to prevent Asiatic or persons not able under the law to become citizens of the United States, from owning agricultural lands or leases of the same.

These bills will probably be amalgamated in committee and allied so as to read that no alien shall own such lands or lease them. Governor Johnson, though recognizing the menace to the American farmer of the low-waged, cheap living Japs, will not, it is stated, allow any diplomacy disturbing law to pass.

ROOSEVELT AS GUEST

Hebrews of Spain Were Responsible For The Success of Columbus Whom They Backed.

The delegates to the twenty-second council of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, at a banquet in the Hotel Astor in New York, listened to addresses by Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Mayor Gaynor, Oscar S. Straus, Dr. David Phillipson of Cincinnati, and Jacob H. Schiff, Gov. Dix sent a telegram of greeting. Col. Roosevelt, as the guest of honor, was praised by the toastmaster as "one, who more than any other American, living or dead, has taught the world the lesson that, equally with any other citizen of this country, the Jew is entitled to the square deal. More than that, he not only preached theories; he turned them into actualities, and called one of our co-religionists into the cabinet of the president of the United States, the highest office within his gift. We Jews owe him a debt of gratitude, which I owe him will never be forgotten."

Dix Praises Jews' Work. Gov. Dix wished the delegates "God speed in the transcendent work you are doing for the good of mankind."

Mayor Gaynor said: "Israel always has been a growing and advancing religious force. The history of the members of the Jewish faith discloses no period in which were non-essential regulations and forms were not being gradually changed or abandoned in order to keep pace with the teachings of experience or to conform to the just local or national usages."

Schiff Pleads for Reform Judaism. Mr. Schiff who presided at the dinner, pleaded the cause of Reform Judaism. "The mission of Reform Judaism," said Mr. Schiff, "is not to discard, but to reconstruct, not to forget a glorious past, but to create the basic conditions for an assured future, so that our posterity may remain within our faith, as proud of it as our ancestors were ready to bring every conceivable sacrifice to maintain and perpetuate it."

"Many are the divisions within Judaism and in our country, which is the meeting ground of a multitude of our co-religionists from almost every part of the globe, we need a better respect to the religious opinion and differing belief of all who call themselves Jews. We need to encourage even where we disagree, be it with orthodox or with extreme radical, for that which we have in common, and not quarrel as to what we differ in."

"It is our proud and justified claim that in this city of a million people of the Jewish faith, it is the reform Jew who has, in the main, created and looks after the proper management, not only of Jewish charity, but after the proper maintenance of the educational and cultural efforts within the Jewish community, and we truly can say of reform Judaism, with its existence in this country of six or seven decades: 'By its fruit ye shall know it.'"

REFUSES TO BE WRESTLING GOAT

Mahmout is Willing to Butt in But Does Not Like the Other Features.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 23.—Mahmout refuses to be the "goat" any longer. So his manager, Anton Pierri declares in a letter received by a local wrestling promoter here. The letter says in part: "I'm tired of allowing Gotch to use my man Mahmout as a cloak in his efforts to avoid meeting Hackenschmidt. Every time Gotch is in a tight place or cornered by the Hackenschmidt crowd, he pushes Mahmout to the front. What we want is a match with Gotch or Hack. Mahmout is willing to wrestle Gotch and then let the winner meet 'the Lion' for the championship. But we refuse to be the catspaw to pull chestnuts out of the fire for Gotch any longer. We are getting in bad with the public through the manner Gotch has used us. Let Gotch wrestle Hack himself if he is so anxious to test the big Russian's ability."
