

STEALING COAL IN THE "YARDS"

Man by Name of Alexander and Eighteen Year-old Kelly Nabbed by Officer Park This Morning.

STEAL MUCH FUEL

Large Quantities Taken From Coal Cars as They Stand in Railroad Yards, by Petty Thieves.

A firm resolve has been made by the police to break up thieving in the railroad yards and attention will be turned more particularly to punishment of those who have been making a practice of stealing coal from cars as they stand along the levee and in the uptown switching districts.

Shortly after 7:30 this morning Officer Jake Park boarded the outgoing Rock Island passenger train and rode down to the shops. Enroute he kept well concealed in one of the coaches and looking out, says he saw Charles Alexander and Ed Kelly taking coal from a car standing on a siding.

Getting off the train Officer Park walked back up where the men were. Kelly spied the policeman and ran but Alexander, who is a man past forty years old, was arrested and taken to the station. Kelly's family was told to have the boy, he is about 18 years old, appear at the station, where charges of trespass were preferred against the men.

Both were arraigned in the superior court and Judge McNamara imposed a sentence of thirty days each on the pair, which was changed to a fine and payment of costs, which was furnished.

An All Winter Practice. Throwing coal from coal cars as they stand in the lower railroad yards has been a mal-practice which has been kept up by petty thieves all winter long.

Coal dealers and the railroad companies have made complaint and a number of arrests have resulted when the culprits were caught.

One dealer who had a car of coal standing on a lower yard track about a week, reported that between four and five tons of coal were taken from the car in that time.

Musical Comedy at the Grand Tonight. Manager Worley has received a letter from Manager Kindt of Davenport, telling him that "The Newlyweds," the attraction at the Grand for this evening, is a first class show. It is a big musical attraction and one of the funniest on the road. A number of Keokuk people have had the satisfaction of seeing the show in other cities and they say it is one of the best. So don't stay away from the Grand opera house tonight. You will regret it. The play, so the author says, is about 75 per cent girls. The chorus and the soloists and comedians are all A. 1. Mr. Kindt says the performance at Davenport gave entire satisfaction.

"The Newlyweds and Their Baby." That mischievous two-toothed infant, Napoleon, whose parents have caused waves of laughter to upset the sedate will play his first engagement at the Grand opera house this evening in the big music show founded on George McManus' famous cartoons of like name. He is the mirth star. James E. Rosen, the diminutive comedian, has the role of the Newlywed offspring, while fond papa and mamma are portrayed by Leo Hayes and Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt. There is an abundance of catchy music.

Those Bad Spells. Lebanon, Ky.—Mrs. Minnie Lamb, of this place, says: "I believe I would have been dead by now, had it not been for Cardui. I haven't had one of those bad spells since I commenced to use this medicine. Cardui is a specific medicine for the ills from which women suffer. Made from harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is a safe, reliable remedy, and has been successfully used by weak and ailing women for more than fifty years. Thousands of women have been helped back to health and happiness by its use. Why not profit by their experience? A trial will convince you that Cardui is just what you need."

Samose Makes Thin People Fat, or The City Drug Store and Wilkinson & Co. Will Return Money.

In Samose are combined flesh-giving food elements that soon produces a steady and noticeable gain in flesh. Taken after meals, Samose mingles with the food, and causes it to be assimilated so that the fat producing elements are retained in the system, and you will soon get good flesh, steady nerves and a healthy body. The City Drug Store and Wilkinson & Co. have seen such remarkable results following the use of Samose that they offer to pay for the treatment if it does not make thin people plump and rosy.

You run no risk whatever in buying Samose; it is a true flesh-forming food and is sold under the guarantee of two of the most reputable business houses in Keokuk to refund the money if it does not give complete satisfaction.

The Sweetest Girl in Paris.

Gus Sohlike, who staged the musical numbers of "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," made his debut as a stage director at the age of 16. He with his mother, had traveled with the Barnum & Bailey circus for a number of years prior to the spring opening of the big circus at the Madison Square Garden in 1867, his mother had imported a troupe of Arabians. Just as she was about to put the Arabs through their evolutions she was taken sick and commissioned "Gus" to put on the Dervish and sword dances as well as the marches.

Mr. Sohlike liked the business. His next undertaking was the Dixon & Talbot production of "Pinafore" at the Madison Square theatre, New York, after which he put on the Henderson productions of "Arabian Nights," "The Ravens" and "Yolman" at the New York Academy of Music.

He then went to Daly's theatre and produced "Midsummer Nights Dream" in which Byron Fernandez appeared as Puck. He then filled a five year contract with E. E. Rice. Seven years ago Mr. Sohlike put on the musical portion of "Merry Go Round," for Harry Askin, the manager of the LaSalle opera house. It was here that Mr. Whitney found Mr. Sohlike's superior qualities as a director and put Mr. Sohlike under an indefinite contract. Among the Whitney productions staged by Mr. Sohlike are "Three Twins," "The Knight for a Day" and "A Broken Idol."

By permission of Mr. Whitney, Mr. Sohlike was engaged to stage "The Sweetest Girl in Paris," the first musical comedy to be seen under the new management and which broke all records in America this season in the length of its run. At the Grand tomorrow evening. Seats now on sale.

Senator Thomas P. Gore.

A few months after Mississippi was readmitted to the union in 1879, Thomas Pryor Gore was born on an eighty acre farm thirty miles from the nearest railway.

Here the boy grew up among the creeks and pines, a stocky, gray-eyed little fellow, who could outrun any of his companions. When he was six years old the village of Walthall was established in the woods nearby and the Gore family went there to live. Young Tom attended a small school set among the trees outside the village.

At the age of eight years the boy's left eye was blinded by an accidental blow from a stick. Three years later he was employed as a page in the Mississippi senate and boarded at the house of Senator J. Z. George in Jackson. One day, while playing with a crossbow, an arrow entered the right eye and destroyed his sight.

In spite of his affliction young Gore managed to stand at the head of his class in school, and at the age of 17 years entered a normal school which was opened. Here he gradually became totally blind, yet he mastered the high school course.

Senator Gore will give his famous oration on "Social Duty" at the Grand opera house Monday evening, March 13th. Under the subject he will discuss the present economic problems, showing the spirit to be cultivated and methods to be adopted which will remove a large part of the social unrest and advocate certain policies which will tend to a more equitable distribution of the growing wealth and other advantages of our civilization.

Tickets and seat reservations will be on sale at the Y. M. C. A. office Friday, March 10th, at 10 a. m.

SCHWEER ESTATE IN THE COURTS

Roy Benjamin Brought Suit Today in Court to Establish Right to Possession of Property.

DIED WITHOUT A WILL

Mrs. Schweer Died With No Lineal Descendants and Property Valued at $5,000.

A legal struggle which involves the estate of the late Barbara Schweer, who, until her death a few months ago, lived at 619 Timea street, has been begun in the district court here by attorneys for Roy Benjamin, a nephew of the deceased, who seeks to obtain possession of the property as against W. T. Benjamin, J. F. Benjamin, Louis Benjamin, Mrs. Malinda Bonn and W. J. Westerfield. Ira Anderson, administrator of the estate, is also named as a defendant.

Mrs. Schweer was the widow of William Schweer, who was at one time the owner and manager of a box factory on South Fifth street. At the time of her death she was possessed of property valued at about $5,000. This property is in the form of a residence on Timea street and money and credits to the sum of nearly $1,000. She died failing to make a conveyance or will providing for the disposing of the property, and, according to the petition filed on file here today, numerous claimants have come forward.

Roy Benjamin sets out that he lived with his aunt for a number of years and was always regarded as a son. He went west several years ago, but returned to care for his aunt at her request. It is set out by his attorneys that it was the aunt's intention to bequeath the property to him, as she had no lineal descendants.

The plaintiff lives in Fort Madison, and is a fireman on the Santa Fe. The defendants live in Lee county; several of them residing on farms near Donnellson.

AGED FISHERMAN DIED FROM STROKE

Paralysis Cause of Phillip Jobe's Demise at Six O'Clock This Morning.

This morning at six o'clock occurred the death of Phillip Jobe, whose demise was occasioned by paralysis. Mr. Jobe, who was past seventy years old, was out fishing yesterday afternoon, and after his return to his home at the foot of B street, near the cereal plant, was taken ill with the third paralytic attack.

Mr. Jobe has lived in this city many years, and much of his time had been spent as a fisherman. He lived contentedly in the home he had constructed for himself and appeared perfectly happy at all times, gaining many friends thereby, and causing much sorrow in his death.

Those who survive are seven daughters and three sons. The wife passed away previously.

No arrangements for the funeral have yet been announced.

WIFE CAUSES ALL THE TROUBLE

Disappears From Home and Husband Sold Mortgaged Property, Later to be Arrested

The disappearance of a wife yesterday brought about unusual complications. In the series of events that followed one firm lost $3 and an individual was handed a $100 fine by a justice of the peace.

Robert D. Hines, colored, returned to his home on High street between Tenth and Eleventh, about noon and found that his wife had packed her clothes and disappeared.

Hines' house contained some household furniture which was mortgaged but despite the mortgage he offered it for sale at a second hand dealer, and received $20.

Late in the day Linquist Bros. learning that he had disposed of the mortgaged property brought suit in Justice L. Lindecker's court for the recovery of it. However, it was learned that the mortgage had not been recorded by the firm and the property could not be obtained again except by purchase. This was done, the second hand dealer making $10 on the transaction.

In the meantime a warrant had been issued for the arrest of Hines and when he was picked up by the constable, a charge that had not been previously booked, was preferred against him. It was that of carrying concealed weapons. Hines was armed with a long hunting knife, the blade of which was seven inches in length. For this offense he was fined $100.

MRS. DRUMMOND IN MORE TROUBLE

Education of Her Sons in England May Result in Loss of Considerable of Her Inheritance.

CHICAGO, March 7.—According to rumors given widespread circulation here, a matter of far more importance than the theft of $130,000 worth of jewels is now occupying the time of Mrs. Malvind Drummond, the former Mrs. Marshall Field, Jr.

A clause in the will of the late Marshall Field gives his executors—Chauncey Keep, William G. Beale, and Arthur B. Jones "uncontrolled discretion" in the educating of the two Field grandsons and it is said there have already been many clashes with Mrs. Drummond over this subject.

According to Trustee Jones, Marshall Field wanted his grandsons to be intensely American, while Mrs. Drummond insists on raising them in English schools and in English ways.

At a meeting of the trustees, to be held either Monday or Tuesday, it is said determined efforts will be made to force Mrs. Drummond to return the children to America for completing their education. Threats of using the "uncontrolled discretion" clause in the will are being freely used by the trustees. These threats are said to be in the nature of diverting immense sums to other heirs unless the wishes of the late Marshall Field are carried out.

Contrary to general belief, it is said Mrs. Drummond is herself not independently wealthy. From the combined fortunes of Marshall Field and her first husband she is said to have received about $500,000 and the income from a trust fund of $1,000,000.
