Athletes, Youthful Swains and Daintily Gowned Young Ladies in Merry Social Whirl at Track Dance, the Closing Chapter of Fourth Annual Meet.

Resplendent to a degree, aglow with the pleasant and happy delights of light hearted youths and maidens the Fourth Annual Tri-State dance was one of the spring social gaieties of prominence and merriment in Gibbons' hall last evening.

Each year the decorative committee in an effort to surpass former endeavors of adorning arrangements in the commodious ball room, indulge all creative knowledge in making the "track dance" an event of note.

Decorated superbly in the colors of K. H. S., the loyal purple and the true white, the auditorium glistening in its ornamental scheme and transformed into a picture best suited for the cotillion and reception of visiting guest, presented a most attractive picture. And as the strains of music waited life-giving and with a charm that gave tone and breeziness to the affair, the dance numbers unraveled all too swiftly into conclusion.

Nearly five hundred guests were in attendance, presentation of trophies to the winners of the day's field events being attended by Dr. R. L. Reid, principal of the Keokuk High school.

The decorative scheme of ultra-attractiveness was most praise-worthy and bespoke for those young people having it in charge and chairman, Ralph J. McGrath, clever conception in preparation. Since last Monday the committee has labored unceasingly in their work.

The most admirable arrangement, and noticeable in its plan, was the gridded orchestra stage at the far end of the hall. The large "K" in purple and white, studded with forty-eight tiny electric globes stood centered before a latticed effect and gridded from top to bottom of the platform.

The windows were done in streamers of purple and white, suspended their length. Several hundred yards of the crepe found its use in the decorative plans.

Nearly one hundred and fifty miniature "K" pennants were used about the room.

A dropped ceiling of purple and white embowered the above and around in a way that gave harmony to the other features of the decorating scheme.

Much credit and commendation is due Mr. Leslie W. Worthen for the electrical effects used in transformation of the ball room into a scene of prettiness, this department being left entirely to his supervision. Inter-spersed at intervals between the miniature pennants, were twenty-eight electric globes, decorously colored purple and white. At one corner of the auditorium, a gay quarter-moon shed light for the two moon dances on the program. In the punch booth at the reception entrance, gable-shaped, frosted electric lamps gave a soft, shaded effect to the refreshment retreat.

The program of dances were played in faultless and well-received fashion by the Agne orchestra of eight pieces. A feature of the program was the "K" dance which, with the other pleasing numbers, called for many encores.

The out-of-town guests were hearty in giving praise for the reception and entertainment provided for them and as in former years, the event was one which will make a lasting impression.

For the splendid success of the event, those to whom acknowledgment is due are: Mr. Ralph McGrath, chairman; Misses Helen Owens, Dorothy Worthen, Eula Sundbye, Elizabeth Warwick, Frances Sawyer, Minnie Hartley, Ethel Russell and Hannah King, Messrs. Morton Morris, Leslie W. Worthen, Arthur Morgan, Jesse Devero, Hugh Robertson, Birge Elder, J. B. Hodge and George Meister.

Monday Music Club Closes its Most Successful Season With Tomorrow Night's Program.

The 1910-1911 season of the Monday Music club will come to a highly successful close tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock with the rendition of the "Spring Program." Commencing on October tenth, last fall, club meetings have been held every other Monday night of the month and musical arrangements that have been edifying and delightful in their manner of giving, have been participated in by the members.

Other special features for the members and for the public have served to show the musical world that Keokuk artists of instrumental and vocal culture have succeeded in producing for the elevated mind, programs that for interest have not been exceeded by truer styles elsewhere. The Elijah chorus in March and the bi-monthly recitals attest well to this.

Tomorrow night the club's sponsors will be Miss Baldwin and Miss Johnstone. The house committee will be Miss Josephine Talbot and Miss Gertrude Ellsworth. Election of officers will take place at 7:45. The program as it will be given, follows: The Butterfly.....Lavalle Miss Clemence Dabant In May Time..Arthur Olaf Anderson Miss Caroline Baldwin The Song of the Soul.....Brell Mrs. Jos. Furlong Prize Song.....Wagner Mr. George A. Hassall. Soprano Solo—Spring is Here..Dick Miss Russell. Liebestraum.....Liszt Miss Clara Gertrude Fry. (a) Were My Songs With Wings Provided.....Hahn (b) All Souls.....Straus Mr. James Young. (a) Gavotte.....Reinecke (b) Pastorale Mrs. Arvilla Erdman Cooper. Country Club Opens Next Saturday If Weather is Nice.

Next Saturday, May thirteenth, has been chosen as the opening day for the Country Club's quarters on Belknap Boulevard. The members will turn out en masse if the day is nice and assist in an informal opening of the grounds and club home which have been closed for the past seven months or more.

The various games will occupy the attention of the Country clubbers during the day and in the evening a dance will be given by the younger set on the clubhouse porch.

St. Peter's Annual Dance, Enjoyable Affair.

The dance given Friday evening in St. Peter's Hall by the Alumni Association of the High school was an enjoyable event for the large number of young people who were in attendance. Punch was served. The program was played by the Agne orchestra.

Roche-Wickham Nuptials Tuesday Evening Will Be Pretty Home Affair.

A marriage of much interest, this week, will be that of Miss Conna J. Roche to Mr. Chas. A. Wickham on Tuesday evening at five o'clock. The nuptial service will be performed by the Rev. James Elliott of the Unitarian church of Quincy.

The guests will include fifty of the relatives and close friends of bride and groom. Several out-of-town guests will be present.

At six o'clock a wedding supper will be served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Anna Roche at whose residence, 1118 Blondeau street, the wedding will occur.

Among those from out of the city who will attend the services and post-nuptial events are: Miss Clara Lamb of Gilman, Ill., Mrs. Pauline Albrecht of Bushnell, Ill., Mrs. Clara Stors and son, Albert, and Mr. and Mrs. Adam Conrad of Quincy.

During the past several weeks Miss Roche has been honored with several social functions, several friends favoring her with showers.

St. John's Guild. St. John's Guild will be entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. George E. Rix and Mrs. W. H. Carter at the former's home, Fifteenth and Grand avenue.

This Week's Dances. A dance will be given tomorrow evening in Woodman hall by the M. W. A. lodge.

Wednesday evening the Girls' club of Warsaw will give a dancing party. At Bluff park Thursday evening, Messrs. Henry Allison and Rob Wolf of Montrose will give a dance.

Chief Engineer Hugh L. Cooper will leave for Boston in a short time to consult with men interested in the Keokuk water power. On his return he will arrange to deliver an address in Port Madison to fulfill a promise he made to the citizens of that place some time ago. The work on the dam is progressing in the most satisfactory manner.

Travis, the "old master," in the finals of the Garden City spring invitation golf tournament this afternoon. The match went five extra holes.

In the morning rounds Travis was 3 up, but the players were square at the turn in the afternoon round. At the 28th hole, White was down, but a remarkable putt by Travis lost him that. The real fight followed and so intensely absorbing that the largest gallery of the year dropped in behind the golfers. Weather conditions were ideal.
