CITY NEWS.

—For garden hose and lawn sprinklers see King Plumbing Co.

—Several merchants and citizens have asked that the street sweeper be operated at night instead of day. Dust blowing all over the person and in the eyes when the one-horse machine is cleaning the streets is aggravating.

—In this morning's St. Louis Globe-Democrat the following marriage license giving the bride's home as Keokuk is announced. Frank Elias, Bay City, Mich., and Frances Groves, Keokuk, Iowa.

CITY NEWS.

—For garden hose and lawn sprinklers see King Plumbing Co.

—The handsome new front in the Sullivan & Auwerda store has been completely installed by the workmen. The Ewers-McCarthy Company's store which adjoins the former was also furnished with a new front recently and both together create a fine appearance for the street.

—We can save you money on a light delivery wagon. Sherwood.

—A sad iron heating plate free with each cook stove bought at Smith Hdw. Co.

—More and more Main street is becoming a better lighted night thoroughfare. Merchants are getting into the old-fashioned habit of using electrical displays that illumine the business blocks and give an increased tone of betterment by fifty per cent. Those who have not already done so, are preparing to fall in line on the lighting of their stores in brighter fashion and advertising the city better than ever as up-to-date.

—Get our buggy prices before buying elsewhere. Sherwood.

—Get choice roast of spring lamb or fine chicken for Sunday at Markley's.

—C. D. Streeter, president of the Congregational Brotherhood of this city, has sent out letters announcing that on May 14, 21 and 28, the next three Sundays, that Rev. Geo. C. Williams will speak on subjects of particular interest to Brotherhood members during the evening services.

The subjects as they will be given are: "The Church and the Brotherhood," "The Individual and the Brotherhood," "Environment and the Brotherhood."

—Fine dressed chickens. Haubert's.

—The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening.

—Burlington Gazette: The delegation to the Manufacturers' convention from Keokuk are in Burlington asking that the convention select Keokuk for their meeting place in 1912, two years from now. And they will probably get it. By that time Keokuk will be the location of the greatest power plant in the world. Nothing in history or existence will equal it. And of all others the manufacturers of Iowa are most interested in the development of power. They are the users of it, and they want to see just how well and how cheaply it can be produced. Nothing in their business interests them more and they should and probably will avail themselves of Keokuk's cordial invitation to meet with them in 1912 and inspect the greatest demonstration of power development the world has ever known.

—If you want a choice roast of meat for your Sunday dinner, get it at Joe Haubert's 709 Main Street. Both 'phones.
