ACCOUNT OF J. W. OGDEN'S DEATH

Home Paper at Urbana, Ohio, Pays Tribute to the Memory of the Late John Wesley Ogdan, a Former Keokukian.

WAS NEWSPAPER MAN

After Leaving Keokuk He Returned to Urbana and Busied Himself Acting as Correspondent for Numerous Papers.

Miss Lizzie Arrowsmith, who is in Keokuk attending the Fiftieth Iowa Infantry Association, hands The Gate City a copy of the Daily Citizen, Urbana, Ohio, of August 7, containing the following account of the death of John Wesley Ogdan, at one time postmaster of Keokuk, and well known to the older citizens of this city.

John Wesley Ogdan, pioneer citizen, and a man of recognized talent, passed away peacefully at his home on Lafayette avenue early Sunday morning after having lived for nearly ninety years. He had been an invalid for a long time but for the last three or four weeks had been failing rapidly and Saturday he began sinking and kept getting weaker until just past midnight when the end came.

Mr. Ogdan was born in Leesburg, West Virginia in December, 1821. When a small boy he came to Ohio with his father and settled in this county just north of the city. He began teaching when a young man both in public schools and in private families. Later he attended Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, and after finishing college he resumed his teaching in Urbana and about this time he studied law and was admitted to the bar.

The deceased was married to Miss Mary Woods of this city 64 years ago and shortly after this marriage they moved to Keokuk, Iowa. Here Mr. Ogdan engaged in the railroad business for a time and then launched into the newspaper business there publishing the first newspaper in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ogdan lived in Iowa for several years then moved back to Urbana where they have since lived. The deceased engaged in the newspaper business in Urbana for some time publishing the Urbana Sun for several years. Since he retired as an active publisher he has been a correspondent to numerous papers. He was for a number of years a regular correspondent to the Citizen and Gazette and later did a considerable amount of writing for the Urbana Morning Tribune. He was also a regular correspondent to many of the prominent agricultural papers.

The deceased is survived by his wife, their only child, a daughter, died about eight years ago. Private funeral services were held at the home August eighth at two o'clock in charge of Rev. M. B. Fuller, of Dayton.

"Talking Buncombe."

In historic Buncombe county, N. C., was originated the phrase "talking Buncombe," for in this mountainous country years ago Col. Edward Buncombe founded his famous hall and placed the words, "To Buncombe Hall, Welcome All," over his doorway. The expression, "I am talking for Buncombe," meaning Buncombe county, became current hereabouts by home folks, but unregenerate strangers have used it to signify political blarney or exaggerated praise.
