Large Number of Players Have Been Paired off for Championship and Play Will Start Immediately.

THE PROBABLE WINNERS

Tennis Experts Favor Bouscaren and the Younger Joy for Title—C. R. Joy to be Challenger.

Drawings for the first round in the city tennis tournament were made this afternoon by the committee in charge and play will start immediately.

In tennis circles the general opinion prevails that L. H. G. Bouscaren, runner up to C. R. Joy last year, and Ralph Joy, son of the present city champion, will be the finalists.

City Champion C. R. Joy will challenge the winner of the tournament at its completion and thus be given an opportunity of continuing his title even though not participating in the tourney.

EDITOR PRINGLE AS A PAINT ARTIST

"Caught in the Act" of Painting His Mother's Home, Attired in Regulation Uniform.

The Quincy Herald recently devoted a little attention and some space to a former Keokuk newspaper man which will read with interest by readers of The Gate City.

When W. E. Pringle returned from Kellogg, Iowa, the other day, after a vacation of two weeks, he proudly exhibited paint stains on his hands to prove an assertion that he had been improving his time while abroad in beautifying the external appearance of his mother's house.

In his mail, yesterday morning City Clerk Schroer received two photos on postal cards, and these cards bore out and proved to be true the assertion of Mr. Pringle that he had painted and rested while away.

They came from his brother, enclosed in the envelope used by the Des Moines union of painters and decorators. One showed the agile newspaper man in midair on a ladder, diligently applying the brush to the side of a pretty cottage.

He wore overalls and a dinky cap, and there was nothing in the pose suggesting that he had knowledge that he was being photographed.

The other showed that the assertion he had made as to resting part of the time while away was also true. It represents him lying full-length on the grass, with eyes closed and a sound emanating from his lips in very good imitation of a portable sawmill.

Bro. Pringle has been reinstated into full club membership, and the stain that has rested upon his character has been removed. Washington has nothing on him as a child of truth and veracity. The photographs have saved him.

CITY NEWS

Four hundred excursionists were on the steamer Keokuk when it arrived from Quincy about 1:15 Sunday afternoon. The Columbia arrived here from Davenport about 2:30 in the afternoon with a crowd of between six and seven hundred people from points intermediate.

The Owls hope to make the first week in October one of the biggest in the entertainment history of Keokuk and say they will succeed if the merchants and citizens generally co-operate with them.

Why Dummel then went to Justice John Anthony of Des Moines township and filed an information charging assault with intent to do great bodily injury is not brought out in the agreed statement of facts received with Judge Hamilton's order today.

The principle of the thing stung Hayes so deeply that he took an appeal to the district court and Judge Hamilton reversed Justice Anthony, holding that the former conviction was the only one that could be secured.

WOULD PAY ONCE, BUT NOT TWICE

When Thomas Hayes of Argyle Bumps Stockholder Over Head He Will Pay the Penalty and That's All.

JUDGE UPHOLDS HIM

Story of Altercation Between Stockholders of Telephone Company and What Came of It.

Judge W. S. Hamilton holds that when a stockholder in a telephone company casts aside his dignity to such an extent as to whale a business associate over the head during a stockholder's meeting, he can be fined once—but only once.

The story is a curious one and has its setting at Argyle, Iowa, not far from Keokuk. During the month of April a meeting of the stockholders of a local telephone company was being held. There was an altercation and Thomas Hayes struck R. Dummel over the head with a chair.

Hayes—I am ashamed of myself. Dummel—you will have to pay a fine for this. Hayes—I am willing to pay a fine.

Appeared Before Justice

Later in the day Dummel, suffering from a bump on his head, appeared before William Shepherd, justice of the peace of Charleston township. He did not file an information against his assailant but told the justice what had happened. The magistrate said that if the facts were true he could enter a plea of guilty and assess a fine, while Hayes agreed would be all right.

Daily Grain Letter. CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 21.—Current week should be a new period for wheat.

Sentiment favors belief that wheat will hold current levels. Kansas ran around 100 temperature over the week end.

Only bearish thing in corn still the price level. Buyers await breaks.

Anxiety of September corn shorts offsets nearing of liberal September corn run. One half the wheat world believes and is afraid of protective purchase on dips.

Russian weekly September and October shipments will tell you the size of the crop.

January lard and ribs are slowly moving towards the $9 level. August oats receipts are in line with the small crop.

Absence of violent sentiment in all grains. Broomhall Cables.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 21.—Wheat market opened with a steady undertone. At opening values were 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher.

The former American cables on Saturday were offset here by the heavy American shipments to Liverpool.

Following the opening the market became extremely nervous and advanced 1/4 to 1/2 with the principal covering in October. This buying was stimulated by private bullish cables from America.

Later a decline occurred with profit taking and the advance was lost. Selling was prompted by the heavier world's shipments than expected, better reports from Russia and a settlement of the railroad strike here.

There was, however, a very small inquiry for forward shipment. At 1:30 p. m. the market was nervous and 1/4 to 1/2 off from the high of the morning and unchanged to 1/4 higher than Saturday.

Corn—The market opened unchanged and later declined 1/4 to 3/8. Notwithstanding the light world's shipments there was heavy American shipments to Liverpool and European offers were liberal.

Ask your druggist for them. 25c a box. A Cure for Leprosy. An inmate of the leper asylum at Cocorite, Trinidad, has been declared cured and has been discharged from that institution. The patient was a West Indian coolie about thirty-five years of age and of good physique about two years ago. He was suffering from the anaesthetic form of leprosy, and about eight months ago began the so-called Nasta treatment. At the time of entering the institution all external and other symptoms were so evident that attending physicians, who have been familiar with such cases for years, entertained no possible doubt of its being a pronounced case of leprosy. He was given an injection once a week for about forty weeks, when he was discharged as cured. The More Worthly.
