When the Troop's Away The Rioters Will Play

SPAIN SHAKEN BY REVOLUTION

While the Soldiers Are Away in Morocco, Rioting is Going on all Over the Entire Country.

TROOPS ARE INADEQUATE

Not Enough Left at Home to Afford Protection in But a Few of the Larger Cities.

MADRID, Sept. 20.—Prime Minister Canalejas had an audience with King Alfonso after which he informed the newspapers that the government is in possession of the details of the revolutionary plot at Barcelona and Valencia.

The cabinet was aware of the names of the persons implicated in the conspiracy, of those who furnished the money for the conspirators and where and by whom it had been received. The ministers also knew that an attempt had been planned to assassinate Capt. Gen. Weyler of Catalonia.

The government, the premier declared, would act vigorously. Strategic points at Valencia had been occupied by the artillery. The liberalian, Zapata, is the mainspring of the present syndicalist, or union movement. Three anarchists were arrested at Bilbao. The police seized their homes as well as that of Senor Zapata.

The official gazette prints a decree suspending the constitutional guarantee throughout the kingdom, while the general labor union has decided to order a general strike throughout Spain.

In view of the general disturbed condition of affairs throughout the country and the suspension of the constitutional guarantee, the absence of a greater part of the army in Morocco is causing the government anxiety.

There are only 70,000 troops available, which is barely enough to defend two or three of the cities where martial law has been declared.

Troops fired on a crowd at Bilbao that was endeavoring to free prisoners, including strike leaders, who were being taken through the streets. Twenty-six persons were wounded. The situation there is grave.

Judge Slain by Rioters. Official bulletins from Valencia on the strikes and revolutionary disturbances there state that in the commune of Cullifra the rioters invaded the residence of the mayor, where Judge and members of the legal fraternity were assembled to deal with strike matters. They killed the judge and injured two other officials. Afterwards these rioters dispersed.

Another band of a hundred rioters held up the tram cars in Valencia and compelled them to proceed to the station. By 3 o'clock the mob had become masters of the town and had stopped all traffic. They closed down work at the dock yards and in the various shops. Showers of stones were hurled at the stores and the proprietors were compelled to close them.

Toward 5 o'clock the police, who had been armed with rifles, and the gendarmes and troops took up positions in the streets and factories. The revolutionists at Valencia have cut the telephone wires and the railroad lines and there is serious disorder at Saragossa, where three have been killed. Much damage has been done at Leon and at Seville.

At Seville last evening the king presided at a meeting of the cabinet held to adopt measures for the repression of the riots. Severe measures were decided upon. At Barcelona everything is quiet and the general strike has proved a fiasco.

ment will restore normal conditions "at whatever price."

Try to Burn Nunnery. The situation is worse in the Province of Valencia, says Canalejas. At Carcaganta an Alcira the commune has been proclaimed. Alcira is especially in the power of the revolutionists.

The town hall and two other public buildings have been burned by the revolutionists, who tried to burn a nunnery. A bridge has been blown up, the railway cut and the fate of the civil guard is not known.

The captain general has sent troops to the scene. The foreign investigation has been observed more particularly in the Province of Valencia.

The last time martial law was declared in Spain was in the summer of 1909, when the efforts of the government to put down the revolutionary outbreak culminated in the execution of Prof. Ferrer, a distinguished educator of antimilitary principles.

The trouble which began at Barcelona was caused by popular opposition to the Spanish campaign against the Rif in Morocco. The calling out of reserves for the re-enforcement of the army was a signal for a general strike and the beginning of mob violence.

Barcelona was for a time at the mercy of a mob, which burned churches and monastic institutions. Much blood was shed before the disturbances were suppressed. This was late in July. Early in August an attempt to create a general strike in Madrid failed. Ferrer was arrested, charged with being the prime mover in the revolutionary activity at Barcelona, was tried by court martial and shot October 13.

The government stamped out the rebellion, but the unpopularity of the Rif campaign, the storm caused by the execution of Prof. Ferrer and criticism of the action of the government in maintaining the suspension of the constitutional guarantee for some time after the necessity for the course appeared to have passed led to the resignation of the Maura cabinet, which was succeeded on October 22 by the Moret ministry.

Real Facts Suppressed. HENDAYE, Sept. 20.—Aside from the knowledge that martial law prevails all over Spain, little is known of the exact situation because the wires are cut and the censorship is very severe. The situation is considered very grave and the throne is in danger.

Wires have been cut, bridges blown up and Madrid is the storm center. Wholesale arrests have been made where the loyalists are in control and many have been executed.

Valencia in Turmoil. MADRID, Sept. 20.—The center of the rebellion appears to be at Valencia today, where 2,000 revolutionists all well armed, under command of a former army officer are marching on the town and a battle is expected soon. Prince Alfonso has taken personal command and sent orders to all officers in cities and towns that they will be held personally responsible to put down the rebellion with an iron hand.

Police in Control. MADRID, Sept. 20.—At Leon and Seville the police aided by the militia were in control of the situation today but further outbreaks were feared. Bilbao is quiet today.

Through Canalejas, King Alfonso has sent word to the governor general at Valencia that the disorders there must be crushed out immediately.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 20.—Champ Clark of Missouri and Kentucky, once a barefooted boy of Kentucky, now speaker of the house and a candidate for president of the United States, came home today to Lawrenceburg, the first time he had been in his old home since he left thirty-five years ago with his family, for Missouri.

The little town was gaily decorated and he was met by one hundred prominent citizens of Anderson county who had been his pupils at school years ago, when he was a teacher.

DREAMS SAVED FIRE LOSSES

Woman Was Awakened After Twice Dreaming That There Was Danger Because of Flames.

COUPLE ARE SUFFERING

Lamp Exploded and Man and His Wife Are in Hospital on Account of Their Burns.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Sept. 20.—Their clothing a mass of flames, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Setter of 100 Ely street, South Side, ran from their home at 3:15 o'clock in the morning with the interior of the structure in flames as a result of an explosion of a coal oil lamp which had been left burning during the night as the two slept. Both are in the Levering hospital in a serious condition. Physicians say that there are chances for both to recover from their burns. It is not believed they were burned inwardly.

That a dream by Mrs. W. R. Chisham of 125 Ely street, probably saved two other houses from being damaged, is the belief of several residents of that vicinity. According to Mrs. Chisham she had two dreams shortly before discovering the fire in the Setter home. Dreaming that the lamp in her husband's grocery store had exploded, Mrs. Chisham awoke but dozed back into sleep again not thinking any more about the dream. She then had another dream in which she thought she could hear her daughter, Mrs. Clinton Woolfer, of 102 Ely street, cry for help, that her baby was burning. The dream awoke Mrs. Chisham and she looked out of the side window and discovered the Setter home afire. The Setter home stands diagonally from the Chisham residence.

She then awoke her husband who went into the grocery store and turned in an alarm to which departments Nos. 1 and 2 responded. By that time Mr. and Mrs. Setter were in front of their residence which was ablaze on the interior. They were both taken to the Chisham store where Dr. Bounds gave them temporary relief from their burns, later they were removed to the Levering hospital.

STEAMER QUINCY AT NEW ORLEANS

Is First Through Boat From St. Louis in Past Sixteen Years.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 20.—The steamer Quincy, of the Streckfus Steamboat Line, arrived in New Orleans from St. Louis, being the first steamboat in the regular trade to touch New Orleans from St. Louis in the last sixteen years. It carried a cabin list of fifty and had 150 tons of assorted freight. Many passengers and 850 tons of freight had gone to way points.

Shortly after the arrival a reception was held aboard the boat which was attended by Mayor Martin Behman, W. B. Thompson, president of the Cotton Exchange; A. F. Leonhardt, president of the Board of Trade; James W. Porch, president of the Progressive Union, and more than 100 of the city's most prominent shippers, manufacturers and jobbers. It was the opinion of all that traffic on the river is about to be restored to its old time prominence and the line was assured hearty support.

D. W. Wishard, traffic manager of the company, said the trip down the river had exceeded expectations. If the boat clears New Orleans with a cargo and passenger list equal to the down trip, the boat will not fall far short of paying expenses on the first round trip. It was announced the service will be regular.

Nathoo, who was convicted of mistreating a young girl, was sentenced to the Fort Madison penitentiary. Pending the appeal of his case he was brought back from the penitentiary to Des Moines and given his freedom on bonds by Mary A. Johnson. Mrs. Johnson withdrew the bond from the clerk of the supreme court. The sheriff's office was notified and Nathoo was taken into custody.

He had been in the air only twenty minutes when he lost control of the machine. Rosenbaum was making a trial flight when he met death. He was using a Curtiss biplane which had been at the De Witt fair last week. At that time Ludwig, an aviator, failed to make a flight. Rosenbaum declared he would prove that the machine would fly. He had just started to descend when he lost control. Rosenbaum was to have given exhibition flights at Clinton, Iowa, later in the week.

POPE HAS ONE WORLDLY DESIRE

As to See His Old Home But Cannot Leave the Vatican Under Any Circumstances.

LONGING IN OLD AGE

Is Homesick Again as He Was When He First Became the Head of the Church.

ROME, Sept. 20.—The homesickness that attacked Pope Pius during the early years of his reign has returned with all its bitterness. From the vatican comes his wish: "In the last years of my life, this is the one worldly thing I desire." His holiness has refrained from discussing the yearning to see his old home even to his friends, but he cannot leave the vatican.

BODY OF WOMAN IN THE LAKE

Was Well Dressed and Her Hands Had Been Tied Together.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 20.—The body of a young woman, described as being 25 years old, having dark brown eyes and hair, weighing 130 pounds and being 5 feet, 1 inch in height, was found in one of the ore slips in the harbor at Gary, Ind. The authorities of Gary are working on the theory that the young woman was murdered, thrown into the lake and carried by the undertow to the Gary ore slip.

The woman wore a dark green coat and skirt and a white lace waist of fine texture. Her hat was of soft grey felt, trimmed with green ribbons and plumes. The police hope to be able to identify the young woman by a drab belt, which was ornamented with gold and silver figures, and the fact that she wore unusually high-topped shoes and silk hose. It is supposed the body had been in the water for several days, but the only mark of violence is a deep bruise in the temple.

It is one theory that the body may be that of a woman who was shoved off a lake excursion steamer a few weeks ago. The hands were found to be tightly bound with a cloth. This is viewed as an indication of murder. The authorities now say that the body of the woman is not that of Miss Grace Hoffman, thrown from a steamer by her lover Francis Cooper, now in the penitentiary, but an unknown woman. The authorities are now looking for the body of a baby, for the woman's hands were tied behind her back with parts of a baby's garments.

SALOON PLAN VOTED DOWN

Effort Made to Retract Them in Quincy Under Proposed Ordinance—License Up.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 20.—An ordinance that if adopted would revolutionize the saloon business of Quincy was introduced in the council last night after having been threshed over in caucus in the mayor's office for over two hours.

The ordinance provides for a $1,000 a year saloon license; a restriction of the number of licenses issued to the number that are in effect at the time of the adoption of the ordinance until the city attains a population of 50,000 and then one to be added to every 500 inhabitants over that number; no license to be issued to or for the benefit of any brewery, brewer, wholesale liquor dealer, or their agents, employes or representatives, and while permitting transfers and sales of licenses, prohibiting re-issuing after any license has been permitted to lapse.

The ordinance so far as it was practicable to do was copied from the saloon ordinance of Kansas City, Mo. Press representatives were shut out of the caucus in the mayor's office and the eleven aldermen present were privileged to talk as long and eloquently as they pleased for and against the measure. When all had declared themselves it was found that four of the aldermen were in favor of the measure.

Killed Children. CANON CITY, Sept. 20.—Despondency and temporary insanity prompted Mrs. T. W. Garrett, mother of eleven children to murder two of them and then commit suicide. Her struggle to assist her husband, a teamster, to keep up the family, undetermined her health.

OLYMPIC HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Greatest Passenger Ship in the World is Rammed by British Warship While Departing.

WITH 1200 ON BOARD SHIP

Collision Was Bad One and Had it Happened at Sea Would Have Proven Very Disastrous.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A dispatch from Cowes roadstead says that the big White Star liner Olympic, the largest passenger vessel in the world, was rammed by the British cruiser Hawk. The Olympic has been beached in Osbourne Bay. The Olympic had just left on her way to New York when she was rammed. She had left her pier at South Hampton with every berth filled, this being the height of the season for west bound business. The majority of the passengers were returning American tourists.

The big steamer was rammed flush on her starboard quarter. Perfect discipline was maintained and the collision signal was given. The big liner was taking water fast and was immediately run ashore. All vessels in the vicinity stood by in case of need when the shrill whistle was sounded.

There were 1200 passengers. The warship Hawk also signalled for help and was surrounded by a number of tugs. Her bows were badly stove in.

ESCAPED FROM FARMER POSSE

Man Hunt is Ended When Bloodhounds Fail to Keep the Track.

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 20.—The man hunt which kept nearly 500 armed farmers of Iroquois county busy for more than twenty-four hours, ended about 6 o'clock last night, when the four bloodhounds which had been sent from Danville emerged from the dense forest into which they had trailed the murderers of Melville Bradrick at the coal chutes at Gilman. At this point all trace of the murderers was lost.

The belief is that the men escaped on an Illinois Central freight train bound for Chicago, and the police of every town along the road have been notified and asked to search every car on every train that passes through the day was one of intense excitement and the posse of farmers was worked up to such a high pitch that had the three bandits been captured nothing could have saved them from death. Orders were given when the hunt began to take no chances, but shoot to kill, and as the day wore on and the posse grew larger there seemed to be no possible chance of the men getting away. However, it appears the corn field in which the men are known to have been in hiding, was not properly guarded.

When the dogs from Danville were sent to the scene of the crime, it did not take them long to run the trail out of the field. They followed it into the forest and to the coal chutes at Gilman. The men are believed to have caught a north bound train and to be in Chicago now. Every avenue of escape is being watched between Gilman and Chicago.

GUIANA WILDS WERE PENETRATED

American Scientific Expedition Returns From Three Months Exploration.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The completion of another notable American scientific expedition was marked by the arrival of Prof. Henry Crampton of Columbia university, who for three months has been exploring the wilds of British Guiana for the American Museum of Natural History. He obtained a large consignment of valuable specimens and photographs.

For the journey through the wilds of British Guiana to the base of Marabona, which is near the Brazilian border, Prof. Crampton engaged 28 Indian guides. After traveling 260 miles from Georgetown, the capital of British Guiana, to the foot of the mountain the party climbed 5,000 feet, but did not ascend the peak, which is 8,740 feet above the sea level. Most of the region traversed is uncharted and has been visited heretofore by only one white man, an American missionary.

MORMONS HOLD STREET MEETING

Small Group of Elders Gathered Here Last Evening and Preached Their Faith to Keokuk People.

MANY MADE THE TRIP

Went to Carthage to Visit Scene of Old Jail in Which Prophet Smith Was Shot to Death by Mob.

Mormon elders who have been in attendance at the big conference in Nauvoo this week came to Keokuk yesterday and from here went to Carthage to visit the old jail where the mob shot and killed Prophet Joseph Smith in 1845. It is estimated that more than one hundred made the trip to the Hancock county town, which has been written in the Mormon history because of the prophet's death. A number of the elders held a street meeting in Keokuk last evening.

Attendance Was Large. NAUVOO, Ill., Sept. 20.—One of the largest attended conferences of the elders and higher dignitaries of Latter Day Saints of Utah, was held here during the past three days, closing Monday night, and among one of the most prominent was Apostle Penrose, one of the twelve, who are advisers of the presidency. He is a forcible and eloquent speaker at his time of age, though nearly 80 years old.

President Joseph F. Smith of Salt Lake, a son of Hiram Smith, who met his death at Carthage, Ill., in 1845, with his brother, the prophet, was expected to be here to attend this important conference, but was unable to attend. With Apostle Penrose was C. E. Ellsworth of Chicago, president of the Northern State mission, they having had charge of the meetings.

Yesterday was an important day for the gathered elders, because they received their assignment for their further labors in the various districts throughout the northern states missions. It is estimated that about two hundred and fifty elders were present, a number being accompanied by their wives and daughters. Their business meetings were held in the afternoon, and in the afternoon and evening their preaching occurred. It must be conceded that the Latter Day Saints are a well organized group. Their behavior and demeanor here was beyond reproach. In dress and cleanliness they were all right. The elders and all attending exhibited a deep interest in their visit to Nauvoo. Their faces indicated that they loved the present people here who now occupy the places of their ancestors. But not to forget, we must mention that they are superb singers and their songs were sent out with fine chord and melody to the ear that heard.

Since Nauvoo and the country round about is blessed with such an abundant fruit crop—fruit of all kinds, indigenous to this part of the north-central interest taken by our people, however, criticism was made in regard to the immense waste that occurs on account of the deficiency in marketing all this that must necessarily go to waste, and this is true.

The harmony among the elders is evident. They work as one body and no discord seems to prevail. They surely believe in the motto: "That in Unity there is Strength." The conference held in Nauvoo, in September, 1911, seemed to be very successful.

PRESIDENT TAFT SPEAKS IN TENT

MARQUETTE, Mich., Sept. 20.—President Taft arrived here today and was met by a large crowd. He took an auto ride and then made a speech in a large tent. He leaves this afternoon for lower Michigan and will go to Battle Creek and Kalamazoo tomorrow.

Chauffeur Detectives. CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Acting under instructions from the assistant chief of police, the chauffeur detective squad began today an active search for the three bandits who are wanted near Waukega for murder. The police say that they are the most desperate gang of robbers since the days of the car barn bandits.
