AMUSEMENTS.

Dante's "Inferno."

The higher destiny of the moving picture has at last been exemplified in the latest production of this marvelous discovery—Dante's immortal "Inferno." With all the modern aids to a complete and satisfactory presentation, in the shape of special music and explanatory lecture, the wonderful creation will be offered at the Grand opera house Friday and Saturday evenings, Nov. 17 and 18. It will be the first production of its kind in this country. The performance will be given in five reels constituting an entertainment of more than two hours. The music is the work of Signor Carvaglio, a Neapolitan composer of note.

The reels were shown at a private exhibition to the King of Italy and the royal household and were very warmly commended. The voice of the European press has since fully endorsed the royal judgment of the pre-eminently meritorious character of the production.

No single effort in the world of art has within the past century stirred the amusement-loving circles more profoundly than the reproduction in moving pictures of Dante's "Inferno." The work has been done in Milano, Italy, through the co-operation of a number of famous artists of Italy and Europe generally. Their labors, extending over a period of more than two years, have now resulted in this splendid creation. The films would appeal to all, and no man, woman or child can fail to derive both entertainment and instruction from this magnificent work.

Prices: Adults 25c, children 15c, gallery 10c.

"The Girl I Love."

Victor Morley, who visited Keokuk as a comedian in "The Three Twins" will reappear at the Grand opera house next Monday evening in "The Girl I Love," a musical comedy that has been making a great hit in Chicago. It is one of the very best. This attraction is direct from the big Auditorium, Chicago, and it is a sister to the "Sweetest Girl in Paris," and "Louisiana Lou," all LaSalle successes and under the same management, so that theatre goers to the Grand next Monday evening will be delighted. It is a show with the frolic and the bully music, a riot of fun, laughter, girls, music and pretty costumes. The seat sale will open tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Prices: Main floor $1.50; balcony $1 and 75c; gallery 50c; boxes, $2.

Tonight's Pleasures.

Tonight at the Congregational church, corner of Sixth and High streets at 8 o'clock will commence an entertainment which will long be remembered by those who are wise enough to attend. It will include number of pipe organ numbers by Mr. H. T. Graham and the imitative interpretations of "What Every Woman Knows" by Miss Ellen Van Volkenburg, the Chicago girl who goes to a play once and is then able to tell every line uttered, describe every

My Corns Don't Hurt A Bit

Tired, Ailing, Swollen, Smelly, Sweaty Feet, Corns, Callouses and Bunions, TIZ Cures Right off.

Say good-bye to your corns the very first time you use TIZ. You will never know you have a corn, bunion or callous, or sweaty, tired, swollen, aching feet any more. It's just wonderful the way the pain vanishes. Rub the corn—hammer it with your fist if you wish—no more pain after TIZ than if there had never been a blemish on your feet. Doesn't that sound good to you? Doesn't it? Then read this.

"The corns on either of my toes were as large as the tablets you make to cure them. Today there is no sign of corns on either foot and no soreness. It's an up-to-date Godsend.—Sam. A. Hoover, Progress, N. C."

Just use TIZ. It's not like anything else for the purpose you ever heard of. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principal of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. It works right off. You will feel better the very first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

scene and costume and imitate perfectly every actor in the piece. Her gift of memory is little short of marvelous and added to this is her charm of personality in giving her entertainment. At her first appearance in the city a year ago, she greatly delighted a large sized audience and her second appearance this evening, under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution, should fill the church to the back doors. Here is a Chicago review of this woman:

Miss Van Volkenburg cannot be classed as a "reader," for neither theory, technique, imagination nor literary analysis is necessary to her success. That her work is phenomenal cannot be denied. That she possesses a strange subtle gift, the young lady acknowledges but cannot explain it.

When Miss Van Volkenburg steps upon the platform, you feel she has something to give, and a desire to give it earnestly and truthfully. You are interested. Soon that interest grows to fascination, then to amazement, as she has marvelous retentive and imitative powers. You enjoy as you wonder, and wonder as you enjoy, at the mysterious something which makes it possible for this young girl who has never had an hour's training in any dramatic school, to reproduce in word and spirit not one but many entire plays, as given by the several stage favorite who have made these plays celebrated. That Miss Van Volkenburg can do this after one hearing of the play, seems incredible, yet she has repeatedly proven that she can listen to a play—a line of which she has never before heard—and reproduce it in detail, and substantially verbatim, the day following, retaining it indefinitely. So perfect is her imitative acting that she renders not only the words but every tone and mannerism of the artist she portrays. In "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," or "Sunday," you do not see Miss Van Volkenburg. It is Ethel Barrymore who is entertaining you. In "Glorious Betsy" you are listening to Mary Manning herself, with her many quaint individualisms; and Eleanor Robson would instinctively reach for a mirror could she see Miss Van Volkenburg's clever reproduction of "Merely Mary Ann." This young genius does not assume—she becomes the character she is portraying, not through her own interpretation, but through the interpretation of the one who has created the part. Her acting is no less great than her imitation, and her imitation no less great than her acting. This new star has suddenly risen and dramatists, scholars and scientists are watching her course with intense interest.

INQUEST OVER SILBANO ALCALA

Jury Finds That Mexican Came to His Death by Striking Dynamite With His Pick.

TELLS OF THE BLASTING

J. P. Allen Explained Before Coroner How the Operations Are Conducted at the Dam Site.

That Silbano Alcala, the Mexican killed on the water power works Tuesday, came to his death by striking a cap of dynamite in an unexploded hole that had remained undiscovered from Friday until the time of the accident, was the verdict of the jury, following an inquest this morning. The jurors were J. P. Christy, J. T. McEvoy and E. J. Korschgen. Evidence was introduced to show how the Mexican came to his death, and J. P. Allen gave the following explanation:

"The blasting is done by a 'powder monkey.' This man loads the holes, connects the wires to them and 'shoots' them with a battery connected to all the holes. After each blast he returns first to the scene of the blast and makes a careful examination to ascertain whether all the charges have exploded. He did this after the last blast in the place of the accident as usual, but on account of the fact that the holes were covered with loose rock resulting from the blast he failed to discover that one of the holes containing a single stick of dynamite had not exploded."

WHAT MAKES GIRLS GO WRONG

River Excursions, Moving Picture Shows and Low Wages Are Given as Reasons.

GALESBURG, Ill., Nov. 16.—During the civic conference by the state Federation of Women's clubs, on "The girl amusement question," Mrs. Philip N. Moore of St. Louis, president of the National Federation made a plea for a federal law to regulate river excursions, which she denounced as a ringing evil and temptation in the downfall of young women. She spoke of the temptations that befall girls who receive such low wages that they are forced to accept questionable invitations for amusement.

The moving picture show leads many young girls to their downfall, said Minnie Starr Grainger, president of the Illinois federation. Judge Edwin K. Walker of Chicago, speaking on "the question from a man's standpoint," said that the ranks of the "scarlet women" were steadily being augmented. He blamed mothers for much of this state of affairs, saying that the time has come when ignorance and innocence should not be synonymous terms.

BURGLARS KEEP RESIDENTS AT HOME

Petty Thefts Have Aroused Citizens of Fairfield, Who Remain by Fireside.

FAIRFIELD, Iowa, Nov. 16.—Clubs are deserted in Fairfield, evening gatherings are attended by few, and not a married man is away from home after 9 o'clock at night.

For the last month a series of petty burglaries has been in progress, and the married men are vowing eternal vengeance on the night prowler when he is located, not so much on account of the amount of the thefts, for in nearly all cases they have not been large, out for the recalcitrant feminine unrest which is forcing many a householder to gain an intimate acquaintance with his own fireside by night.

The supply of bolts, padlocks and keys of every hardware store in the city is lower just now than it has been for several years. The cause of the shortage is a run on these articles which began last Saturday, following the entrance in nine dwellings Friday night, the climax of the series of petty burglaries.

On Monday afternoon the sale of protective devices fell off a little, but with the news that the home of W. B. King had been entered during the

What "Cooking in Paper Bags" Does

IT does away with the cleaning of greasy pots and pans.

As bags are sealed when contents are cooking, it keeps cooking odors from filling house or apartment.

It conserves the health-giving juices of meats and the life-giving salts of vegetables that escape wholly or in part under the present system of pot-and-pan cooking.

Because of this fact it makes every dish more savory and nutritious, and it is economical, the food weighing practically the same when drawn from, as when put in, the oven.

It means quicker cooking, and, hence, lowering of gas or coal bills.

It saves time and anxiety—you don't have to keep looking at the food from time to time as it is cooking to see if everything is all right. You just put the food in the oven, shut the door, and at the set time take it out, done to a turn.

If food is left in the oven five or ten minutes longer than time called for it will not be harmed in the least, as is likely to be the case under present system of cooking.

A housewife, intelligently employing Sayer's paper-bag cookery, can put an entire meal in the oven, and then, secure in the knowledge that it cannot burn or come out underdone or overdone, go about other duties, or pleasure, until the minute arrives when the meal is to be served.

The Chicago Daily News tells all about Sayer's "Cooking in Paper Bags." It prints every day a descriptive article, telling just how to do the thing, and gives new recipes every day for cooking the every-day meals by the new system.

All newsdealers sell The Chicago Daily News. It is Chicago's family newspaper. Its circulation is over 300,000 copies a day. Considering that almost every copy goes into a family of two, three or more members, it is safe to say that a million people read it every day. More people in Chicago read The Chicago Daily News than read any other Chicago newspaper.

On Oleomargarine Scent.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Nov. 16.—Instead of hunting down bootleggers, at least one internal revenue collector here attending federal court, is keeping track of sales of oleomargarine. Not only are the meat markets and the grocery stores under surveillance but the restaurants are watched to see they have posted signs telling they serve substitute for butter. One collector predicts a large increase in oleomargarine consumption because of the high price of butter. He declares

Germs Spread in Skin

Eczema, Psoriasis and other skin troubles are caused by myriads of germs at work in the skin. Unless these germs are promptly destroyed they rapidly multiply, gnawing their way deep into the sensitive tissue. This is what causes that awful itch, and what seemed a mere rash may grow worse and develop into a loathsome and torturing skin disease with its years of misery.

We have had experience with many remedies for skin trouble but have never seen such remarkable cures as those from D. D. D. Prescription. Instant relief from the very first application.
