

MINE WORKERS IN CONVENTION

after which the miners will begin active work on the problems confronting them, chief of which is the wage issue.

Indications today point to the wage scale committee reporting to the convention a demand for an increase of five cents a ton for mining coal with proportionate advances in other mine work.

John H. Walker, president of the Illinois miners, said today that the Illinois delegation would demand an advance of ten cents a ton for mining and a uniform seven cents differential on machine mining.

Some of the Pennsylvania delegates assert that an effort will be made to unseat a number of delegates from that district who are connected with the Robert Gibbons faction.

The expected fight is the result of a struggle between Gibbons and Francis Feehan, president of the Pittsburgh district, over control of the district.

A plea for industrial peace and the use of arbitration wherever possible in place of strikes, criticism of court injunctions and an assertion that the present wage scale in the coal mining industry must at least be maintained.

John P. White to the United Mine Workers International convention here today. Regarding strikes he says: "While we will never surrender the right to strike, we should not lose sight of the fact that some of the greatest successes our organization has ever achieved lay in the channels of peace."

Means must be found to overcome the growing evil of the strike locally inaugurated and allowed in many instances in defiance of the well-defined authority of our established tribunals. We find in numerous instances that grievances of minor importance are the means of causing strikes and upon examination of the facts, there is little or no merit in them.

Discussing the injunction case in West Virginia which the mine workers have appealed to the supreme court of the United States, White asserts: "We may denounce the courts for issuing these writs, but like any of the wrongs which labor is compelled to suffer, they will be eliminated when labor itself asserts its political power."

The wage problem, which is the chief one confronting the miners in the present convention, all contracts in both the anthracite and bituminous fields expiring this year, is treated as follows by the president: "Our policy should be such as to leave no doubt in the mind of anyone that there will be no reduction from existing wage agreements and we should earnestly strive for such advancements as it is within the range of possibilities to secure."

Thomas Haggerty of Pennsylvania, chairman of the resolutions committee announced this afternoon that the committee would report favorably a resolution endorsing the bill of Victor Berger, the Wisconsin socialist congressman, providing for old age pensions.

The report of Vice President Hayes asked that more attention be given to the influx of Mexican miners and organization in the anthracite district. The report of Secretary Perry showed a membership of the mine workers organization in 1911 to be 351,957, slightly below 1910.

MILLIONAIRE KID GOING TO JAIL

Stole $7,000 and Made it Fly When Arrested by the Police.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—The game's up, the going was good while it lasted and I guess I'm ready to cash in and take my medicine.

With this statement Robin C. Fargason, 22, known as the "Millionaire Kid," winner and diner of chorus girls and impromptu impresario, wound up a meteoric career here today and prepared to go back to Atlanta to face a charge of robbing the Southern Express Company of $7,000.

Fargason arrived here a couple of weeks ago with his pockets lined with money. He proceeded to dispose of his wealth as fast as possible and soon earned the sobriquet. He was arrested last night while acting as host at a "chorus girl dinner" on North Clark street.

"Yes, I'm the guy, I'm the express messenger and here's what's left of the $7,000," said Fargason when confronted before his guests. The detectives recovered $3,000 of the stolen funds. Today Fargason agreed to go back to Atlanta and "face the music."

LORIMER STILL TELLING STORY

Continues History of His Public Life and Tells of Illinois Politics.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Senator Lorimer of Illinois continued the history of his public life before the senatorial investigating committee today under the examination of Attorney Forman. He drew an interesting picture of the machine's political methods in Chicago, declaring that many of the wards in the city voted for Foss for senator in the primary simply because the organization was for Foss.

"Are these organizations strong enough to decide what candidates shall carry the wards, regardless of the voters?" asked Senator Kern. "The organizations hold the strings," said Senator Lorimer, "and debate on the chances of different candidates. The organization reflects the sentiments of the republicans of a ward. It thrashes out a situation and nine times out of ten carries the ward for a candidate favored by its members. This is true of all the ward organizations."

Lorimer said he did not want to discuss Hopkins more than to say that Hopkins never made strong friends. In the campaign of 1902, witness continued, Lorimer and his friends supported Hopkins against Charles Dawes for the senatorship. Hopkins was elected. Afterwards, Hopkins turned against those who had elected him, and they accordingly opposed him in 1909 for re-election.

"Many legislators who voted for Hopkins did not really favor him," said Lorimer. "No member coming from Hopkins' senatorial district voted for him. Representative Butts voted against Hopkins although he lived in the precinct carried in the primary by Hopkins."

Lorimer said that if Deneen's friends had supported Hopkins on the first joint ballot, Hopkins would have been elected.

PREACHER LOCATED BY OFFICERS

Will Be Arrested in a Short Time on Charge Following Girl's Death.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 16.—The arrest of the Rev. D. W. McFarland, former Pittsburgh educator, accused of causing the death of Miss Elizabeth Dodds Coe, formerly his secretary, through a criminal operation, is only a question of a few hours, according to the district attorney's office today.

The minister has been located, it is said, at Cedar Creek, Tenn., near Greenville, where he conducts a United Presbyterian mission. He lives with his wife and daughter, the latter about fifteen years old.

The grand jury today continued its investigation of the case, and several witnesses, who testified before the coroner's jury retold their story today. While there is no formal charge against Rollin McCollen, connected with the Chicago office of the Westinghouse Co., who Miss Coe in her ante-mortem statement accused of being responsible for her condition, the district attorney requested him to come to Pittsburgh and tell what he may know about the case. He was in conference with District Attorney Blakely for more than an hour today.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 16.—The Ohio supreme court today handed down a decision upholding the workingmen's compensation act. The act provides for an insurance fund formed from contributions from employers and employees and provides for benefits from $1,500 to $5,400 for death resulting from industrial accidents and $5 to $12 weekly for a period up to six years in case of lesser injuries. Estate of Late Justice Was But Meagre One and Creates Surprise.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Official Washington marveled today at the meagre estate left by the late Justice Harlan of the supreme court—the people's judge—which amounts to a bare $7,000.

"Justice Harlan was a great man," said Representative Sherley, (dem., Ky.) "It is now apparent that he gave his wonderful talent to the people of this country without thought of pecuniary returns."

Sherley announced that he would endeavor to place in one of the appropriation bills a provision giving Justice Harlan's widow the amount voted for the widow of Justice Brewer—one year's salary.

GOT BAD CHECK FOR HIS WORK

Confessed Fire Bug Tells of His Part in the Blaze at Peoria Hotel.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] PEORIA, Ill., Jan. 16.—Confessing his part in the affair, Louis W. Hill today took the witness stand for the prosecution in the trial of Harvey A. Six of Springfield and Samuel F. Darr, of Quincy, and told a story of how he burned the Aldine hotel in this city. He alleged that Darr was to give him $325 to do the job. Six, he said, was with him on the night last March when they fired the hotel. Hill, in connection with the other two men, is under indictment for arson.

The witness said that with Six he purchased an oil stove and some oil. The stove was to be left in the building in an effort to cover up their work. "We went to the Aldine hotel at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon," said Hill. "We took the oil and poured it down the sides of a dumb waiter. Six was there at the time, I poured the oil. After evening came I took a candle and touched the oil off. I went down town, got on an interurban car and went to Springfield. Six left the hotel an hour before."

Hill charged that a check for $75 which Darr gave him in part payment was a bad check and he had Darr arrested. Hill was under cross-examination this afternoon.

THEATRE TICKETS IN CHICAGO

Effort Will Be Made to Put a Stop to the Business of the Scalper.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—With an aldermanic committee probing the theatre ticket scalping and Master in Chancery Eastman of Judge Landis' federal court examining the theatre managers in connection with the revelations made by Ticket Scalper H. N. Waterfall in connection with his proceeding in bankruptcy, the promised campaign for the elimination of the theatre ticket graft is in full swing here today.

Mayor Carter Harrison has announced that he will hold a meeting with the theatre managers and unless they agree to stop absolutely their dealings with the speculators, he will revoke their licenses under the power granted him by the city council last night. An ordinance was also adopted by the council providing a severe penalty for theatre managers whose ticket agents inform patrons that all seats have been sold when there are tickets in the hands of scalpers.

Master in Chancery Eastman took the theatre managers under oath today in connection with the Waterfall bankruptcy case and they were required to disclose all details of the agreements whereby the speculator was able to get all the best seats and force the public to buy from him when they found they could not procure seats at the ticket offices.

It was stated at the mayor's office today that all the theatre managers had agreed to let no more tickets go into the hands of scalpers if the Shuberts, who control three theatres here, would join them in the fight on the scalpers.

LIGHTED MATCH STARTS A FIRE

Will Huiskamp's Home at Second and Blondeau Endangered Last Night.

A lighted match flipped from the fingers of Will H. Huiskamp in a west second story room of his residence, corner of Second and Blondeau streets early last evening, started a fire that burned nearly everything in the room at a loss of several hundred dollars.

The fire department was called at 8:30 o'clock and upon its arrival the rear of the house was pouring forth a large volume of smoke. The blaze was confined to the one room, however, and was put out without a great deal of difficulty by the chemical engine.

Because the match started a fire in the closet the discovery was not made until the woodwork was heard crackling.

The New York Stock Letter. [Copyright 1911, by New York Evening Post.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Until the last hour of trading speculation was about as narrow as it could possibly be today with the market not in motion at all. Just before the close the best prices in most stocks were made, and the movement broadened considerably. There were times during the day when trading came virtually to a standstill, and had it not been for the show of strength in the coal stocks, there would have been nothing to excite attention. As it was, the movement most of the time was thoroughly

A Main street merchant today to a Gate City reporter expressed his enthusiastic approval of the center street lighting plan as proposed for Main street and recently explained in this paper. That such an illuminating process would give to Keokuk one of the best lighted and most beautiful streets in the United States is readily recognized. With the light from the center of the street as furnished by four magnetic arcs, supplemented by a consistent display on the part of the merchants in their store windows, the effect would be magnificent and complete. He swallowed the stone and the owner sought an operation for its removal, which the man's mother refused to consent to.

uninteresting. The market appeared to be awaiting leadership of some sort, and while there was no special buying power manifested, there was on the other hand no particular selling. Prices in the main held fairly close to yesterday's level, with fractional variations, except in Reading, which again served as the vehicle of speculation for those traders who must buy or sell something. Jersey Central was very strong, advancing to the highest level on record. Negotiations for additional financing followed naturally the news of the new bond issues by Rock Island, Norfolk & Western, and Chicago & Northwestern. It was evident that one or two important note issues would be brought out in the near future by roads that needed money without delay. The buying of high grade bonds by real investors was something of a factor here, and abroad, although the total demand was much below that which is abnormally seen at this time of the year. The stock market closed at prices slightly below the best of the day.

A Home Recipe For Removing Wrinkles (From Woman's National Journal.) Who will blame the modern woman for trying to look as young and attractive as she reasonably can? Why should she be placed at a disadvantage in numerous ways by wearing wrinkles, if she can avoid these hateful marks of advancing age? Few women, however, know what to do to effectively rid themselves of wrinkles or saggingness. None of the advertised preparations is satisfactory and most of them are very expensive. But a very simple and harmless home remedy, which any woman can make, will work wonders where all the patent preparations fail. Day an ounce of powdered sassafras at any drug store. Dissolve the whole ounce in a half pint of witch-hazel and use it as a wash lotion. The results are practically instantaneous. Marked improvement is noticed immediately after the very first trial. Wrinkles and sagging are corrected and the face feels so refreshed and snug-like.
