

In the swift restoration of peace in Ciudad Juarez.

The firing of a single shot from the Mexican side of the international border will be considered sufficient justification for the sending of the troops of the United States cavalry, now paroling the border, into Juarez.

This was the substance of an ultimatum delivered early this evening to the Mexican consul here, E. C. Llorento and to Col. Augustine Estrada, former commandant at Juarez, but now leader of the mutineers there, by Col. E. Z. Steever, commanding the U. S. troops at Fort Bliss.

The ultimatum was also subscribed to by Chas. Moore, representing the Texas state rangers, and Chas. Webster, acting under the authority of Governor Clegg.

The ultimatum was so unmistakable in its language that the concentrated efforts of the entire Madero government of Mexico are being directed to stopping the revolt in the northern part of the state of Chihuahua.

To this end, General Pascual Orozco, hero of the Madero uprising against Diaz, left Chihuahua tonight on a special train bound for Juarez with his entire staff and a force of troops. He will arrive late tonight or early Sunday morning and will endeavor to pacify the malcontents in the Juarez garrison.

Simultaneously, former Governor Abram Gonzales, of Chihuahua, now a member of Madero's cabinet, left Mexico City for Chihuahua in an effort to restore peace to that city. Dozens of small towns in Chihuahua state have joined in the revolt started in Juarez and Chihuahua and it is said that practically the whole state is ready to join in the movement against Madero and in favor of Emilio Vasquez Gomez.

Mexican Consul Llorento tonight received a long telegram from the Mexican government at Mexico City, advising him that 1,200 federal troops had left Torreon and Parral for Juarez and that they should reach their destination Sunday. These troops, together with General Orozco's force are expected to put a quick quietus on the Juarez trouble at least.

Estrada, leading the discontented garrison of Juarez, reported tonight that his men did not fear the coming of Orozco. His men are in favor of the mutineers, said Estrada, and will not oppose them. The malcontents do not fear the coming of the Torreon and Parral troops, however.

Both the mutineers and the Maderists are apparently realizing the danger of foreign intervention and intend to do everything possible to prevent it. A peace commission, composed of Captain Blas Guillen, Captain Alvaro Frias, Salvador Garza, Jose Diaz and Fernandez Chavez, all members of the Juarez garrison, started from Juarez late today on a special train over the Mexican National line for Chihuahua. There they intended to confer with Acting Governor Auralian Gonzales and Minister of the Interior Abram Gonzales, but they turned back when overtaken by a courier with a message from Gen. Orozco urging them not to go.

American residents of Juarez, whose property was destroyed during the revolt, are making a fight against United States Consul Edwards, who they allege, refused to investigate the damage after the Juarez trouble had subsided. The consul insists he did all that he could to protect American life and property and that American residents may do what they please in the matter.

Juarez is hungry tonight and unless order is restored by Monday sufficiently to permit food to be taken across the international border, there will be a serious famine among the ten thousand persons who were unable to get supplies. Every store in the city was looted of provisions and there is not sufficient food to sustain the people.

Juarez postoffice has been closed indefinitely and all the books and mail matter have been brought here for safe keeping. Commander Estrada says the customs house will re-open Sunday and the stores may reopen if they wish. No one from the American side was permitted to enter Juarez today unless provided with a military or civic pass signed by Col. Steever or Mayor Kelly.

Orozco Arrives. EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 3.—With many a resounding "viva" which echoed through the ruined and looted buildings, Pasquale Orozco, beloved of the peons and commander-in-chief of the rurales of Chihuahua, arrived at Juarez tonight to assume charge of the situation. He announced that he had not come to fight but on a mission of peace. It is believed his coming will mean a restoration of normal conditions.

Announcement was made that street car traffic will be resumed tomorrow and that the Juarez race track will reopen.

It was learned late tonight that Orozco is not accompanied by any troops, but merely his staff. The ultimatum from the commander of the United States troops and Texas rangers are believed to have resulted in the Mexican government recalling the troops it had started from Chihuahua with Orozco. Colonel E. Z. Steever's ultimatum declared positively that bullets must not be fired into El Paso and if a battle had been fought this could not have been prevented. A battle would have been fought if the troops had come.

As a part of the loot secured by the mutineers, they distributed $13,000 today among themselves taken from the Customs house, where it was deposited by Enrique Bowman, a Mormon. Bowman is a customs broker in Juarez and had the money on deposit to guarantee customs duties. When the mutineers learned that it was in the custom house vaults, they distributed it, calling it "back pay."

All money in the Juarez banks was removed to El Paso tonight.

Rebels Hold American. DENVER, Colo., Feb. 3.—Advised that his son, Geo. P. Robinson, is in the hands of Mexican rebels and threatened with death, M. J. Robinson, of Denver, today appealed to United States authorities for immediate intervention. As a result the United States government formally demanded Robinson's release today.

Young Robinson has been in Mexico, where he is the American manager for the Suriana Mining company, for eight years, and during the last revolution sided with Madero, though not in any military fray. He became acquainted with Jesus Salgado, the officer of Madero's army, who since has turned against the president and who is participating in the embryo revolution now in progress.

It is thought that Salgado's reasons for holding Robinson are for purposes of robbing him and his wife of their estate, and, according to reports from Cuernavaca, Mexico, Robinson is at the present time under arrest and in the power of Salgado. It is said that the rebel intends to execute him.

In recent letters to his father, young Robinson intimated that he was in some danger from Salgado, who was trying to rob him and force him to support the rebel troops over which Salgado has command. Robinson, however, did not anticipate anything so violent as arrest or death. His father has not heard from him for several weeks.

Robinson is about 36 years of age and is a graduate of the Colorado School of Mines.

FINAL CONFERENCE HELD TODAY

Chinese Will Try and Come to an Agreement Over the Baby Emperor.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A final conference between the Manchus and Chinese republican leaders to consider abdication of the baby emperor Pu Yi, is scheduled tomorrow according to advices received late tonight from Admiral Murdock, in command of the Asiatic station.

Admiral Murdock stated that the imperials hope only to agree to abdication with the proviso that the emperor should be retained as religious head of China. The republicans fear such action would leave the Manchus with a sufficient semblance of power to foment trouble for the republican government in the future.

European opposition to the proposed German-American alliance for the settlement of the "Chinese question," is expected shortly to materialize, according to state department officials tonight. While no details of the expected coalition will be available for some days, it was authoritatively stated tonight that no partition of the celestial kingdom was anticipated.

Ain't it a Shame?

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CINCINNATI, Ohio, Feb. 3.—"Down with the fumigators," was the cry raised at today's session of the hobo convention. A delegation went to City Hall this evening and protested that their clothes were being ruined in the municipal lodging houses here because of the fierce heat in the fumigators, in which they were compelled to place their clothes before retiring. "Wot's de use of makin' a gent tuck his duds in the 'galory,'" complained one of the delegates. "De heat cops all de good out of de togs."

Lost in Jail.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—The "finding" of Tony Provost, who was "lost" in the county jail for over four months and who should have been liberated last September, has resulted in the liberation of three other prisoners whose "terms" have long ago expired. As a result at least three justices of the peace have been cited into court on charges of misfeasance and Judge Owen in the county court indicated that grand jury action may result from his investigation.

SHIP AT SEA IS ON FIRE

British Steamer is Roaring Furnace and Crew Had Narrow Escape in Fighting the Blaze.

WIRELESS CALL SENT

Five Times Was Hawser Attached to the Vessel But Each Time the Rope Was Burned.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—With flames shooting from her hatches, her steel sides warped by the intense heat from her burning cargo, the British steamer Consols was still afloat tonight off Cape Hatteras, according to wireless advices received here.

The crew, which battled for ten hours against the fire, was finally forced to flee when it became evident that its efforts were not retarding the progress of the flames, but the little revenue cutter Onandaga was still trying to salvage the big freighter.

Five of the Consols crew were overcome by smoke, but were dragged to safety by companions, and later returned to the task of dumping water into the roaring hatches, but all hands were finally compelled to "abandon the ship." The heat became so intense that the sailors' clothes caught fire and they were forced to drench themselves repeatedly to prevent being burned to death.

Francis appeals for aid were sent by wireless, and the signals were finally picked up by the revenue cutter Onandaga and the steamer Castle Eden. A message was flashed back to the imperilled seamen that they would soon have help. Cheered by the hope of rescue, the men redoubled their energies to check the flames.

Five times a hawser was attached to the doomed ship. Five times a hand of flame reached out and severed the great rope. The heat became so intense that it was almost impossible for the cutter to remain alongside, but the Onandaga's captain continued to risk his vessel to save the Britisher.

Tonight a wireless from the cutter said that she had succeeded in getting a chain attached to the Consols and was trying to work her ashore, with little hope of success.

TONG MEMBERS ARE AT WAR

Chinese Outbreak Leads to Two Deaths and Two Mortally Wounded.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—Warring Chinese Tongs along the Pacific coast have resumed hostilities here after months of peace. Two Chinese Tong leaders are dead tonight. Two more are mortally wounded and two gunmen are in jail as a result of battles fought within the past 24 hours. In all five Tongs are involved and a regiment of police are on duty to prevent a possible outbreak in Chinatown here.

The war is a resumption of the old feud between the Hop Sing Tong and the Sen Suey Ng Tong, which began months ago with the kidnaping of a slave girl who was later smuggled into New York, where she was killed. Several Tong men met their death as a result. Chinese here predict that before the feud ends, every high bidder clan west of the Rock mountains will be involved.

Battling at short range with automatic revolvers and heavy army pistols four Tong men today had a duel in an open lot here in the presence of hundreds of spectators. Police captured two of them, Ah Wing and Ah Joe, before either was seriously injured. Both are in jail. The other two escaped. Fong, a Hop Sing chieftain, was killed and Sing Foy was fatally shot. A third Chinese was mortally wounded but his Tong men spirited him away. Police tonight are searching for him or his body.

This attack was planned to occur simultaneously with one at San Jose during which Lee Kee, also a Hop Sing gun man, was shot and instantly killed by a San Francisco Sen Suey Ng. Wah Get. He is under arrest.

CHINESE CREATE SCENE IN COURT

Woman Charged With Murder Accused Men With Doing the Deed.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 3.—Arraigned in Judge Tazewell's court today, charged with the murder of Seld Bing, a wealthy Chinese whose dismembered body was shipped to Seattle in a trunk, Oi Sen, a Chinese woman, created a sensation by pointing dramatically toward Wong Si Sam and Lew Soon, jointly accused with her, and said: "They did it. It was a man's affair. I saw, but took no part."

Lew jumped to his feet. "Hold up your hands to the skies. Face your Joss and say you lie!" he shouted.

"You do the same," she retorted. They spoke in Chinese but even before the interpreter had translated their words, those in the court room had caught the meaning of the denouncement, by Lew's actions.

The Chinese woman's plea of innocence did not save her, however. A few minutes later she and Wong and Lew were bound over to the grand jury without bail.

As the case stands, it is the woman's word against the Chinese, with material evidence, connecting all three with the crime, in the possession of the authorities.

Oi Sen, who implicated the men, says they were enemies of Seld and that they murdered him in her rooms on the night of December 19. They packed the body in a trunk after dismembering it, she said, and sent her away.

Wong declared he never met her, but no credence is placed in his assertion as her trunk and clothes were found in his rooms.

Lew admits he knew Oi Sen but denies any knowledge of the murder.

SHIRT WAIST WORKERS STRIKE

Have Voted to Quit Work Again as Promises Have Not Been Kept.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Because the women and girls, although they work from ten to twelve hours daily, average only $7 a week, and the men not to exceed $10, the shirtwaist and dress operators in New York, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, voted to strike late this afternoon. Final arrangements and the exact time will be fixed by the union leaders at a meeting Sunday.

The leaders declare that the promises made when they returned to work after the strike two years ago, were not kept. With the cost of living, steadily advancing, they say, the wages have been reduced.

The present demand is for a fifty hour week, and twenty-five per cent advance of wages. The right of the union organizer to have free access to the shops to observe working conditions will also be insisted on.

Union leaders charge that there are hundreds of girls compelled to work long hours for $2 a week, although they are under thirteen years of age.

There are 35,000 waist and dress makers employed in 800 local factories. Conditions are unbearable, according to the leaders, in all but about 300 of them. The others are characterized as unsanitary, foul smelling, poorly lighted fire traps where more serious conditions than prevailed at the Triangle factory where 146 lives were lost are the rule.

WILL TAKE LAW IN OWN HANDS

If Strike Leaders Are Not Allowed to Gain Liberty by Giving Bail.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 3.—Bitter denunciation of the state authorities featured the mass meeting of striking textile workers tonight. Open threats were made that if the strike leaders, Etor and Giovanni, are not soon admitted to bail, they will be forcibly released.

Failure of the attorneys to serve writs on the jailer to produce the men in court was taken advantage of by the authorities. The speakers tonight alleged that this was part of a pre-arranged plot to keep the men in jail over Sunday.

Lawrence was quiet tonight, but militiamen did not relax their vigilance.

Strikers tonight said that the mill owners have offered many strikers double pay and bonuses if they will return to work to fill thousands of orders which are piling up.

Although the Industrial Workers of the World are backing the strike, it was said tonight that the American Federation of Labor will also come to the relief of the strikers.

Were Out of Style.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Though the material of which they were made was of the finest and though they were made by the best dressmakers of Paris, gowns which were "all the rage" in 1905 failed today to appeal to the feminine mind. A trunkful of "creations" seized by the government in the sleeper trunk cases, were auctioned off for $80.05 although their initial value ran into the thousands.

According to the weather officials the cold wave is moving east rapidly and cold wave warnings have been issued for the gulf states as well as those of the Mississippi and Ohio valleys.

Drifting Snows. LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 3.—Snow storms with a driving wind behind them, have played hob with train schedules in Nebraska.
