

INCORPORATE CHURCHES HERE

Farm Has Been Drawn and Actual Work Will Start in the Catholic Diocese of Davenport.

SOME OF THE DETAILS

Pastors Must Furnish Abstract of the Title to Church Property Before Work is Carried Out.

The form of incorporation to be used in the Davenport diocese has been prepared and the actual work of incorporating the three Catholic parishes in Keokuk and other cities within the Davenport jurisdiction will be started in the near future.

Catholic priests in Keokuk are busily engaged at the present time preparing for this work of incorporation. Bishop Davis requests that the pastors provide abstracts of the titles to the church property under their charge and have affairs in readiness for the incorporation.

The officers of the church corporations will be the president, vice president, secretary and treasurer. Bishop Davis of Davenport will be the ex-officio vice president. The secretary and treasurer will be elected by the directors at such time as is fixed by the directors at such time as is fixed by the by-laws.

Article V provides that no real estate belonging to this corporation shall be sold, mortgaged, encumbered or disposed of in any way without the affirmative vote of three directors including the bishop, in favor of such action.

Article IX provides that this corporation may incur a total indebtedness of not more than five hundred dollars, with the approval of a majority of its directors. No indebtedness in excess of such sum shall be incurred without the affirmative vote in favor of such action of three directors, including the bishop.

John R. Dimond Makes a Statement. To the Editor of The Gate City:

Permit me to make a statement of a law that is passed in the interest of the soldier's and sailor's widows of the Mexican war and the war of the Rebellion. On the 17th day of March, 1911 the law granting eight hundred dollars off of the value of the property was repealed and in lieu thereof was passed the law granting 1,200 dollars off of the value to all soldiers and sailors or the widows of such soldiers or sailors, the new law taking effect July 4, 1911.

There is a controversy that the law does not apply to the 1911 tax now being paid. County Attorney Craig says that it does so take effect. Other attorneys say the same. The old law died July 4, 1911. This law was passed to take its place and must be the law or else there is no exemption for this year.

12th Iowa, Page 33, says: "Where a statute is repealed it is considered as if it never existed."

This law of 1911 extends the benefits to all soldiers and widows without any exceptions.

Boy Scout Stunts.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Boy scout "stunts" were performed on the white house porch and lawn before President and Mrs. Taft, General Sir Robert Baden-Powell and Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain. For a half hour they shivered in the cold in overcoats, while the 400 boys performed. General Baden-Powell was the dinner guest of Ambassador Bryce and later addressed an audience at D. A. R. memorial hall on the boy scout movement.

3 MONTHS AFTER IN SOUTH BEND

The Men and Religion Forward Movement Has Fulfilled Every Expectation of the Most Sanguine.

CHURCH FEDERATION

All Denominations Striving Together for Greater Growth in Bible Study and Other Phases of Effort.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 5.—The most serious question asked everywhere throughout the continent at the beginning of the Men and Religion Forward Movement, last September, was whether this extraordinary effort would be simply "another flash in the pan," like so many religious revivals of the familiar type, or whether it would have lasting results.

This question has been satisfactorily answered thus far in South Bend, where the second of the eight-day campaigns was held three months ago. Instead of dying out in any way, the inspiration and enthusiasm among the people of the churches, and the people of the community as a whole is steadily increasing. In order to make a test of the matter, a thorough inquiry was made by Mr. E. Everett Carr, a well known journalist of this city, and a detailed statement as to what he found of present conditions is published in the South Bend Tribune, the leading newspaper of Northern Indiana. Mr. Carr finds that three months after the close of the South Bend-Mishawaka campaign of the Men and Religion Forward Movement the program of practical religious work, outlined by Fred B. Smith and his corps of thirty workers who conducted the campaign, is in full operation.

This city was the second to be visited by the religious experts, and in consequence, the results of the revival here have been watched with more than ordinary interest. The movement has fulfilled the expectations of the most sanguine, according to prominent South Bend ministers, who point to the organization of the Federated Churches association, the enlargement of the field of work of brotherhoods and men's bible classes, and the increased church membership and attendance of men and boys as the tangible results.

In the Federated Churches Association South Bend churchmen declared the various religious bodies are united for concerted Christian effort. The membership in this organization is made up of communicants of 30 Protestant churches of South Bend and Mishawaka, who are affiliated with the body for the carrying out of the five-fold mission of the movement—religious effort along the lines of social service, bible study, missions, boys' work and personal evangelism.

This association is the result of one of the recommendations made by Fred B. Smith. At the conclusion of the South Bend campaign, in a conference with ministers and laymen of the various denominations, he suggested its organization in order that the Christian men of the two cities might be united on the subject of broader religious work. Not only did the members of the various bodies form an amalgamated society, but the pastors of the two cities voted unanimously to combine the two ministerial associations.

INVESTIGATION OF INFERNAL MACHINE

Dickinson is Held by Police But Claims That He is Not Implicated.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Because the police wanted further time to investigate, and Charles M. Dickinson, arrested on suspicion, wanted to consult an attorney, Coroner Feinberg today adjourned until Wednesday the inquest into the death of Mrs. Helen Taylor, alias Walker, who was killed by a dynamite bomb on Saturday night. The police admitted they had no actual evidence against any one although Detective Captain Gloucester swore to a murder charge which was placed against Dickinson and he was sent to the Toms without bail. Jealousy or revenge were the theories a score of detectives were working on today to penetrate the mystery surrounding the murder of Mrs. Helen Taylor, blown to pieces by a bomb Saturday night. The police only have a typewritten address, pieces of the bomb and the dead woman's record as clues.

The revenge theory originates from the fact that the woman was fined some time ago for harboring an Italian child who had been decoyed here from Pennsylvania. Relatives of the girl found fault because the woman was not sent to prison and are alleged to have threatened revenge. The girl, when questioned by the police, insisted she knew nothing about the crime.

Charles M. Dickinson, who says he was in the room when the bomb exploded, was still held without bail. Coroner Feinberg, who began his inquiry today, insisted that the police were mistaken in thinking Dickinson, who is a stenographer employed by the United States Motor company, knew anything about the crime. He said that he believed the bomb was sent the woman not to kill, but to disfigure her and that the maker, by mistake, made it too powerful.

Detectives compared the typewriter Dickinson used at his office with the address on the bomb, but refused to say whether this developed anything. Dickinson was taken before Coroner Feinberg today to tell his story of the bomb explosion. As he was led into the building handcuffed to detectives, his aged father who had hurried here from his home in northern New York to aid him, threw his arms around his neck.

"Charlie, my son, did you do this thing?" he asked as tears ran down his cheeks.

"I certainly did not, father, I am innocent," was the young man's reply.

Eggs is Eggs.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] Chicago, Feb. 5.—The "butter and egg" probe, which has been spasmodically prosecuted before Master in Chancery C. B. Morrison for several weeks, was continued indefinitely today. The government claimed it had to hunt some missing links in its chain of testimony and the attorneys representing the Elgin board and the Chicago egg board did not express any anxiety to hurry the investigation. Unless the government produces stronger testimony than that now in the hands of the master in chancery, it is understood that prosecution will not be recommended.

The Grain Market.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Despite bullish cable advices and a continuation of the general conditions that caused an upward movement in grain prices last week, there was a heavy dip in the market today, owing to an extended campaign of profit-taking. The warnings of conservative brokers that bull operations had been overdone led to a scramble to take profits. Wheat and corn futures opened with a jump of about one-half from Saturday's close but the prices did not hold and all were soon below the low levels of last week. The only bear argument in the market was the heavy run of grain in the northwest.

Shorts had generally cleared the corn market Saturday and an attack upon the market was started soon after the opening. The demand for cash corn was not as urgent at last week, but the cold wave was used as a bull argument.

Oats started high but these prices broke in sympathy with a general movement to lower levels in other grains. The movement of this grain is exceedingly small and local traders who had held their commitments over a long upward haul were inclined to sell.

Provisions were firm on a small run of hogs at the yards and steadier prices. There was some investment buying for outside account.
