

THE AWAKENING IN INDIA LAND

A Study by the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church Last Night.

A GOOD ATTENDANCE

"Individual and Mass Movement," the Special Theme—Dr. Smith's Lone Star Hymn.

Last evening was held a very interesting monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church. This organization is now engaged in the study of "Awakening in India." The theme last evening was "Individual and Mass Movement," in connection with the general subject. In the absence of the president, J. A. Roberts vice president of the society presided and there were several interesting talks and readings enjoyed.

William M. Fouts gave a short address in which he gave out some entertaining facts concerning the benighted country.

Mrs. J. A. Roberts pleased those present with a pertinent reading which was well received.

Miss Birdie Linquist gave an excellent reading of the Lone Star missionary hymn by Dr. R. F. Smith, a poem with a history and saved the India "Lone Star Mission" from being abandoned. The story of this wonderful poem or missionary hymn and the effect it had in 1841.

Mission in India years ago from abandonment, is well known to missionary workers in all lands, and its very pretty reading by Miss Linquist, brought back recollections and aroused a missionary spirit and enthusiasm in the meeting that scarcely could have been brought about by the eloquent words of a gifted speaker.

Miss Mary Albertson gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the castes of India, the great number in that country and the appalling conditions resulting.

The regular study of the subject was then taken up with Rev. J. F. Sanders as leader, with every member of the organization giving heed with the closest interest and attention.

Kidney Trouble Overcome by the Great Treatment

I have been a sufferer for years with kidney and bladder trouble and took almost everything a drug store contained, without obtaining any benefit.

I suffered so that I became utterly discouraged, as I could not sleep, was always dizzy and had a headache all the time. I saw one of your advertisements and as a last resort, decided to try your Swamp-Root. I am now taking the third bottle and feel like a new woman, sleep well and have no pains whatever.

I strongly advise all sufferers to take the only real cure for kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was a God-send to me.

You may publish this letter if you wish so that it may be the means of bringing some poor sufferers back to health.

MRS. MARY O'DONNELL, Lander, Wyo. Subscribed and sworn to before me this July 14th, 1909. CHARLEY ALLEN, Notary Public, in and for Fremont Co., Wyo.

PINCHOT MAKES POLITICAL STATEMENT

Says Withdrawal of LaFollette Has Weakened the Cause He Stood For.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Amos Pinchot, one of the most active of the republican progressives, brother of Gifford Pinchot, and one of the men who has been the welding force uniting the extreme progressives of the LaFollette type and the less radical Roosevelt supporters, prepared for the United Press a statement in which he declared that the withdrawal of LaFollette as a presidential candidate, resulting from the fact that, with the senator's health broken, and his ability as a campaigner weakened, not only LaFollette but the principles for which he stood, were threatened with defeat, especially in view of the nationwide clamor for the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

The Pinchot statement follows: "When last year a small group of progressives met at Washington to discuss placing a presidential candidate in the field, we had two definite ends in view to bind the progressives together as an effective fighting force and to prevent the nomination or re-nomination of a reactionary candidate for the presidency.

"If there was no progressive republican candidate in 1912, party loyalty and hostility to the democrats in a great national election would tend to weld the progressives and reactionary republicans together so that the former as an effective fighting unit, would disappear, and the cause of the government for the benefit of the average man would suffer a serious setback. "As to the re-nomination of a reactionary every case where the interests of the average man conflicted with the interests of the standpat machine and the business interests which it represents, the Taft administration has regularly lined up on the side of big business and party politics. "On account of his character and his great record of useful service, Senator LaFollette was chosen to be the candidate. He accepted reluctantly, only under pressure from progressive friends, and at a great personal sacrifice to himself, solely to serve the cause for which he has fought for years.

"Since our organization started, largely through the work of LaFollette and the men who are supporting him, the political leaders have seen clearly that the only way to save the republican party in 1912 and to make it an instrument to serve the average man, is to nominate a progressive candidate for the presidency. Senator LaFollette as a factor in the presidential race has been chiefly responsible in demonstrating this fact. "His withdrawal from the race simply means that the progressives realize that owing to the growing demand for Roosevelt, and owing to the senator's health, LaFollette cannot himself accomplish the purpose which has at all times meant more to him than his individual success. With LaFollette out of the race, his followers are free to get behind Roosevelt and continue the old fight with another leader. Many LaFollette men feel that Roosevelt is not advanced in this progressiveness as LaFollette. But however that may be, it is clear that Roosevelt and LaFollette are agreed on most fundamental points, and above all that they have the same real conviction that the country belongs to the people and its government must be an instrument for the people's benefit. "It seems entirely clear to me that Senator LaFollette's withdrawal was the only sure means of uniting all the progressives, of insuring the nomination of some progressive and of making it possible in 1912 for the average republican voter to cast a ballot in his own interest and not in the interest of the political and business interest. Presidential Nominations. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Taft has nominated the following: To be postmasters at South San Francisco, Ebenezer E. Cunningham. To be paymaster general of the army with the rank of brigadier general, Colonel Geo. R. Smith, promoted from assistant paymaster. To be receiver of public moneys at Juneau, Alaska, Frank A. Boyle, of Idaho.

Not Salts, Oil or Pills But Cascarets

No Odds How Sick Your Stomach; How Hard Your Head Aches or How Bilious—Cascarets Make You Feel Great.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

MELLIN'S FOOD

"One baby was sick and we tried several kinds of foods, which did not agree with him. At five months he weighed twelve pounds and we thought he would not live. A friend told us to try Mellin's Food. We commenced using it and he began to mend and at eight months old he weighed twenty-five pounds and is a picture of health. We feel that we owe his life to Mellin's Food."

Mrs. C. Sears, Haskell, Texas. "I have five healthy children and an infant starting the fifth, which is two months old, on Mellin's Food. I am positive it will prove successful as I gave it to the other four and had no trouble with them, even during the hottest weather. I recommend it to all my friends and recently induced a friend who has a very delicate baby to try it and now the child is in perfect health. I cannot praise it too highly and would not think of giving my baby any other food."—Mrs. W. Monahan, Hillsboro, N.Y.

AN INGENIOUS FOX FUR THEFT

A REWARD IS OFFERED

There is no Clue to the Perpetrator of This Skillful Theft or Unfair Exchange.

One of the cleverest thefts for some time happened after 6 o'clock Saturday evening when the stolen fur was last noticed and this week when the ingenious felony was discovered.

Among the other furs hanging for display at the Golden Rule store was a handsome fox fur. This was seen late at 6 o'clock Saturday evening and nothing more was thought of it until this week when it was discovered that the handsome new, latest style fox fur was gone and in its identical place was hanging an old style fox fur of inferior quality and out of style. Even the ticket had been removed from the new fur and carefully tied to the old fur and was found there when the discovery of the criminal swap was made. In the window of the store there is now displayed the following card offering a reward for the apprehension of the purloiner of the handsome fox fur, leaving in its place an inferior article. The card reads: "Twenty-five dollars reward for information leading to the arrest of the person who left this fur and took a new one."

The old fur is displayed in the window with the card and many persons going by read it and treated it merely as an advertising dodge, but in fact it was the revelation of this most skillfully performed one-sided trade in furs. Mr. Conners of the house, seeing that his offer of reward was misconstrued hoisted another card in the window on which was asserted that the reward was bona fide and would be paid for the information sought, and is waiting for results. There is no clue to the individual who perpetrated the theft or unfair exchange.

DENIED EVERY CHARGE MADE

McGowan Admitted Going Fishing With Detective But Did Not Tell a Lie.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Charles McGowan, who was "roped" by Burns' Detective A. C. Bailey, today denied in detail every charge made against him by the detective, swearing before the Lorimer committee that he told nothing but the truth in his previous examination.

The witness admitted meeting Bailey at Regina, Sask., and at Toronto, and of going on fishing and hunting trips with him, but denied emphatically every statement made by Bailey to the effect that he had "perjured himself" in the interest of the Hines people.

McGowan swore that he never told Bailey that William Burns "told the truth" when Burgess declared on a train in Minnesota that C. F. Wiche had boasted of contributing to a fund to "put Lorimer over." McGowan declared Burgess never made such a statement.

The witness also branded as false Bailey's story that McGowan had admitted accepting "$5 from a pile of money" which Robert J. Shields, the "affidavit getter" for the Hines interests, had tendered when McGowan testified favorably for Lorimer.

Haney had the witness describe in detail his association with Bailey. It coincided exactly with Bailey's account of their friendship, but McGowan would admit none of the statements credited to him by Bailey regarding wrong doing on his part in connection with the Lorimer case.

AMERICANS ARE TOO STRENUOUS

England and Japan Make Kick on Lee's Management of Chinese Army.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] SHANGHAI, Feb. 7.—Because of unofficial protests from both England and Japan it was announced today that Lieut. Gen. Homer Lee, the American soldier of fortune who was mainly responsible for modernizing the Chinese army, has been deposed as chief military advisor to the republican leaders.

Lee's public criticism of the Anglo-Japanese treaty and his admitted belief that Japan and England were parties to a plan to gobble up the best of China when the opportunity arrived, have made him persona non grata to the diplomats of the two nations and their influence is directly responsible for his being set aside.

Lee formerly lived in Los Angeles, and has been in the military service for many years.

BOOSTER CLUB OF HAMILTON

Second Meeting Held Last Evening and Membership Increased From 25 to 110 Business Men.

Many Things Brought Before Club

and Progress on Water and Sewer System is Explained.

HAMILTON, Ill., Feb. 7.—The second meeting of the Hamilton Booster club, held at the city hall last evening, was largely attended—and that great enthusiasm is manifest in Hamilton was evidenced by the fact that the club's roll was swelled from 25 to 110 members. Many who were unable to attend last night have since applied for membership, and it is expected that the club will soon have 300 or more active members.

Many remarks and suggestions were made by prominent business men, and the officers of the club, if they carry out half of the suggestions made, will have their hands full for the next six months, at least. All present expressed much confidence in the future growth of Hamilton as an industrial center, and a willingness to get behind the movement to properly advertise the city's natural resources and advantages. City Attorney Earl W. Wood explained in full the progress being made on Hamilton's new water and sewer system, and his remarks were received with much interest. H. M. Billingsley, superintendent of schools, also stated that work would begin on the new $20,000 school building as soon as possible, and that preference would be given to Hamilton labor and materials in this work, so far as practicable.

Other matters brought before the club were the securing of better train service for Hamilton; an appropriate slogan for the city, to be used on booster buttons; the continued patronage of home merchants and enterprises; free factory sites, etc.

A big meeting is planned for some evening next week, and all the ladies of Hamilton will be invited to be present.

GOVERNOR ALDRICH IS FOR THEODORE

Comes Out Flat-Footed, Square-Toed and Cross-Legged for the Ex-President.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LINCOLN, Nebr., Feb. 7.—Governor Chester H. Aldrich, believing that Senator LaFollette will be physically unable to prosecute his campaign, is out today square-toed for Roosevelt as the candidate of republican progressives for the presidency. The governor gives warning that republicans cannot risk being split into factions and declares that the party should unite upon Roosevelt as the most available. In a formal statement the governor says: "Events have been marching mightily fast of late; scattering forces are rapidly getting into solid phalanxes; issues are becoming joined. We are ready for conflict, and in this connection I want to say that one thing is noticeable in a general way, and that is that the spirit among these contending republicans is for results; for concerted action that in the long run will surely win. The only difference is, under what leadership can these results that we all want to most effectually obtain. "In my judgment the evidence on every hand from straw votes, taken by the great metropolitan dailies in many states in the union and from other undoubted and reliable sources of information, the sentiment is rapidly crystallizing around our ex-president, Theodore Roosevelt. "In the last few days the situation has so changed that it would seem that Senator LaFollette will not be able, owing to his severe illness and worn energies, to prosecute his campaign and to farther conduct his leadership at this critical period of formation of political forces, and the republican party in this state and nation is indeed fortunate in having in Col. Roosevelt a republican whose progressive policies and great character have done so much for this country. "Col. Roosevelt's moral earnestness
