—With the conclusion of the national democratic convention at Baltimore, the closing up of the county tickets of the respective parties at Fort Madison yesterday the political alignment for the fall campaign is fairly well decided. There will be plenty of politics from now on.

—Avoid the Fourth of July rush and order your Puritas beer now.

—Regular meeting of Keokuk lodge No. 13, I. O. O. F. Monday night at 8 o'clock. Visiting brothers cordially invited. Work in initiatory degree.

—A recent despatch from Des Moines says that it is believed that the annual encampment of the Iowa National Guard will have to be definitely abandoned for this year because of the veto of the army appropriation bill. Investigation shows that state funds would not be sufficient to provide for the encampment of all the regiments and probably the entire encampment will have to be abandoned unless a new appropriation bill is passed at once.

—Now is the time for sprinkling; how about your hose? King Plumbing Co.

—Ladies, you must see these low shoes Miller is selling for $2.50.

—Postmaster Moorehead has received a telegram from Washington to the effect that the acceptance of all bids for supplies under the department letters and all exigency appropriations must be made subject to appropriations being provided. This official information came Saturday morning. The appropriation for postoffice expense has not been made as yet and purchases will be made contingent upon congressional action.

—Keep the air in circulation—buy an electric fan. King Plumbing Co.

—Satisfied with my electric wiring and fixtures said one lady to another. Who did the work? was the question asked. Arthur W. Schmidt, 18 South 11th. Bell phone 655.

—Friends of Charlie Thomas, convicted of the murder of Mabel Scofield in Des Moines, confidently believe that the present hearing before the Iowa board of parole, will result in Thomas being released some time in the near future. In case of such parole it is altogether probable that it will be very carefully safeguarded. Efforts have been made in vain for several years to get Charlie Thomas out of prison, but a more hopeful feeling exists today among his attorneys and friends than ever before.

—Keep cool by ironing with an electric iron.—King Plumbing Co.
