KEOKUK WILL HAVE CIRCUS IN SEPTEMBER

DIED SUDDENLY AT BOSTON, MASS.

William Walker, a Former Resident of Keokuk and a Prominent Eastern Lawyer, Passes Away.

The Body is to be Brought to Keokuk for Burial Beside the Grave of His Father.

William Walker, a former resident of Keokuk, and at the time of his death a prominent lawyer of Boston, Mass., died suddenly at his home city yesterday and a wire announcing his death came to The Gate City yesterday morning...

William Walker was a cousin of Henry S. Walker, the resident attorney in Keokuk of the legal firm of O'Harra, O'Harra, Wood & Walker. He was a son of John Walker, who lived in Keokuk for many years and had prominent connection with the old Keokuk and Western railroad.

At the time of his death he was about forty-five years of age and leaves his wife and three children. The body was placed in a vault at Cambridge adjoining Boston, and later the remains will be brought to Keokuk to sleep in Oakland cemetery, beside the resting place of his father.

TRYING TO FATHOM CAUSE OF DEATH

Miss Snodgrass Thought to Have Taken Poison Before Falling Into Creek.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CATSKILL, N. Y., July 31.—While the body of Miss Dorcas Ijams Snodgrass found in Catskill Creek eleven days after she disappeared, today was being shipped from Mt. Vernon to the old family home in Martinsburg, W. Va., District Attorney Wilbur and Coroner Vandenberg were considering the advisability of the young woman to search for poison.

Dr. R. L. Rooney, of Albany, who performed an autopsy is authority for the statement that the condition of the body was such as to indicate death by drowning, but that the shallow water in which it was found made it probable that Miss Snodgrass was possibly unconscious, when her body was placed in the water.

An examination of the body revealed nothing to indicate murder. A dummy placed in the water at the mouth of the creek by Wilbur became fast on the flats before it had gone one-eighth of the distance to the place where the girl's body was found. Wilbur said this did away with the theory that the body was washed in from the Hudson. Today a canvass of all the motor boats known to have been in the creek within the past ten days failed to reveal anyone who admitted knowing the dead nurse.

DEATH TO ALL THE SQUEALERS

It is expected that when Becker is actually placed on trial for the murder of Rosenthal he will demand a change of venue. His lawyer will seek to have him tried in an up-state community where the evidence of confessed gamblers and law breakers would be accepted by a jury only under compulsion.

Watched Like a Hawk.

Police Lieutenant Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of Gambler Herman Rosenthal, was under constant espionage in his cell today. Warden Hanley of the Tombs, who is responsible for the accused policeman, posted a guard where he could observe his every movement.

Hanley said that while he personally did not put any stock in rumors that Becker might commit suicide, he did not "intend taking any unnecessary chances." Becker laughed at the precautions, reiterated his protestations of innocence and declared he would be able to prove that the case against him was a gambler's "frame up" when his trial was reached.

District Attorney Whitman indicated in his manner today that the district attorney would have a hard time convicting Becker on the evidence now at hand.

Whitman hopes that through Mrs. Rosenthal and others he can show motive and thus establish the connection which would make the story material and eligible in open court.

"If it can be proved that Becker instigated the murder of Herman Rosenthal," said Whitman, "I could not allow him to turn state's evidence just to turn up police graft. But you must remember that we presume Becker to be innocent until he is proven guilty."

Whitman made it very plain today that he did not believe the three confessions had told all or nearly all that they knew.

He also said that William Shapiro, who drove the murder car, had been too close mouthed for one seeking clemency. Whitman believes that while driving Rose and his gangsters all about town the night of the murder Shapiro heard the entire killing discussed down to its minutest details. The district attorney went to the west side prison today to put Rose, Webber and Vallon through another third degree.

Police Lieutenants O'Reilly and Costigan, squad commanders, had been scheduled to go before the grand jury today, but Whitman said they would not be called. He declined to give any reason.

Police Inspector Cornelius S. Cahalane, commanding the first inspection district, indignantly denied today a report that he had accepted graft collected by Rose and declared that the reason his name was mentioned by Rose and Vallon was that they wanted to get square with him for raiding them.

"These gamblers have good reason to remember me," said the inspector, who has enjoyed that rank only a few months. "I drove Rose out of my district, when he ran a play at 64 East Tenth street and I raided Vallon's place five times in eleven months at four different locations. My district, the first, is fifty per cent cleaner than when I took charge of it. If it was not I would resign. The allegation that I am a grafter is a damned lie of the blackest kind."

Mouths Are Closed.

Police Commissioner Waldo again refused today to talk about the scandal for publication. He also sent a general order to all police officials throughout the city warning them to refrain from talking and made it clear that any captain or lieutenant known to have talked would be automatically reduced in rank.

From a high official in Waldo's office the statement was secured that the commissioner considers absurd the Rose charge that $2,400,000 has been paid annually by the gamblers for protection. He said that if protection money was paid, the sum was very much less and the money must have gone to certain inspectors.

The method used in stamping out gambling, it was explained, was to hold the inspector in charge of a district responsible. He reported direct to the commissioner and the latter detailed the strong arm squads to get evidence and conduct the raids.

It was also admitted that Waldo, since he has been in office received many letters alleging that organized graft existed but in every case, it was stated, investigation failed to produce any evidence that the charge was based on any facts. Attorney Bernard E. Sandler called on Whitman this afternoon and offered to arrange the surrender of Tom Schepps, who rode in the murder car with Jack Rose early on the night of Rosenthal's killing. He said that Schepps could confirm much of Rose's story and Whitman said he would grant him immunity as a material witness, if he proved he had no hand in the actual killing.

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise made a vitriolic assault on Mayor Gaynor in a lengthy statement issued this afternoon, saying Gaynor had tried to "becloud" the real issue by inflaming the public mind against Jews as a class, because Rosenthal was a Jew. Wise asserted that the mayor was simply trying to aid his own campaign for the gubernatorial nomination.

PRAYERS FAILED TO RELIEVE CHILD

Zionites Did Nothing for Little One Who Fell From Third Story Window.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WAUKEGAN, Ill. July 31.—The coroner today began an investigation into the death of little George Marion, aged 6, son of the once famous George Marion, the actor. The child died, according to the report to the coroner from injuries received in a fall from a third story window in the home of his grandmother in Waukegan City. No medical attention was given the child as he writhed in the agony caused by his fatal hurts, but followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, John Alexander Dowie's successor, surrounded the suffering child and prayed.

The coroner was told today that the child died in terrible agony. The grandmother, he was told, was one of those who surrounded the dying child and prayed.

George Marion, father of the dead child, is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Philadelphia for shooting his wife. Until the crime, two years ago, Marion was well known throughout the United States. Actors over the country raised a large fund for his defense when he was convicted of the murder.

TWO THOUSAND LOOKING FOR ONE

Negro Will be Lynched if Captured Alive, for Murder of Sheriff.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CLARKSVILLE, July 31.—Two thousand men are today searching the country about Clarksville for Leonard Potts, a negro who last night shot and killed Sheriff Charles Stevens when the latter led an attack on a house where Potts had taken refuge. The negro escaped, but a negro who accompanied him was killed when the posse directed a score of shots after the fleeing couple.

Potts escaped from the Dallas jail Saturday. He killed a policeman there who tried to capture him. The negro is armed with two automatic revolvers and a rifle and has shown that he is a crack shot.

Potts is now hiding in a wild section of the country which makes the hunt difficult and hazardous. If located by the posse a desperate battle is certain and the leaders declare Potts will be lynched on the spot if taken alive.

MISSOURIANS TO HAVE FULL TICKET

Will Hold Bull Moose Convention in St. Louis on Third of September.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 31.—The progressive party of Missouri will hold a convention in St. Louis September 3 to nominate a full state ticket. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the convention here at midnight last night and today the question of placing congressional and county tickets in the field was discussed.

As the legal number of voters required to place a ticket in nomination by petition is 1,000 the convention in St. Louis will consist of this number of delegates. When the delegates sign their names to the nominating petitions, the ticket will thus be legal before the voters.

The progressive party in Missouri will stand firmly by its own electors in the fall elections and made it plain that it will not seek to control any Taft electors. M. E. Boisseau was stricken from the list of Roosevelt electors because he is also on the republican ticket.

The convention selected delegates instructed for Roosevelt to the Chicago convention, elected a national committeeman and adopted a progressive platform.

Democracy Always Did Love Them.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] TRENTON, N. J., July 31.—A delegation of negroes from the United Negro Democracy of New Jersey called on Governor Wilson, told him their organization felt they could not support Taft, that it did not want to support Roosevelt and would like to know his views on the negro question.

Governor Wilson replied that he knew and sympathized with the negro because of his southern birth and upbringing and that as the campaign progressed he had no doubt his fairness to all classes and all races would be clearly demonstrated.

John Doe From Anywhere.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] ST. LOUIS Mo., July 31.—A mysterious visitor appeared here today in the person of the man claiming to be George A. Kimmel, the missing Niles Mich., banker. "Kimmel" registered at a local hotel as "John Doe" from "Anywhere." The clerk asked that "Kimmel" pay for his room in advance and in doing so he displayed a healthy roll of bills.

Authorities of Decatur, Ill., have been watching for Kimmel since a suit case consigned to him and containing clippings and papers relating to the various insurance suits was found. The suit case was shipped from Osman shortly after a jewelry store was robbed there.

KEOKUK WILL SEND DELEGATES

Important Meeting to Be Held in Des Moines Tomorrow For Agriculture Improvement.

Keokuk will be represented tomorrow in Des Moines at a meeting that will be of more than passing interest to Iowa farmers, and to others interested in agriculture. The plans for the Des Moines meeting are for the perfecting of a state organization whose object it will be to improve agricultural conditions in the entire state of Iowa.

Manager De Witt, of the Industrial association, received an urgent message from R. H. Bolton, of Des Moines, temporary state secretary, and in the message received here the Des Moines man outlines briefly the proposed plans. The plan is to organize a state organization, and this organization will place a crop expert in each county of the state. Extensive plans for the betterment of crop conditions in this state will be undertaken, and an increase in the yield of farm products will be the task to be undertaken.

The meeting tomorrow will be held at the Savery hotel, and Prof. Holden, the great Iowa agricultural expert, will probably be in attendance. A. L. Parsons of Keokuk, was named today to represent Keokuk tomorrow. It is probable that each county of the state will send one or more delegates to the meeting.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pathe Weekly of Current Events.

Every new Wednesday night patron to the Grand adds one to the already long list of regular attendants for Pathe Weekly night. To see it once creates a desire to see it every week. It's a very interesting feature this week, the following critical review was taken from the New York Morning Telegraph: The thirtieth of the year's series of Pathe's Weekly contains the following subjects: A recent century automobile race at Old Orchard, Me., won by David Lewis; At London, Eng., the king and queen attend a civil and military horse show, close views of their majesties being obtained as they alight from their auto; the result of a recent oil tank explosion at Belleville, N. J., are interestingly photographed; at Spezia, Italy, a peculiar naval device is launched, it being a contrivance for the raising of sunken submarine craft; the Fourth of July parade in New York is reviewed by Mayor Gaynor, while the Hon. Dr. George Kunz makes the speech of the day; at Potsdam, Germany, the Kaiser and the king of Bulgaria review troops of the mother empire; at Bridgeport, Conn., an enormous flag, the largest ever made, measuring 175 by 75 feet and weighing 800 pounds is unfurled; the annual rice fete at Tokio, Japan, is interestingly photographed, though in one portion the camera was placed too close to the moving throng; at Plattsburg, N. Y., Governor Dix attend the dedication and unveiling of a statue to Champlain, the explorer, Little Miss Katherine Booth doing the unveiling honors; at Paris a highly entertaining jousting match is interestingly photographed on the Seine, showing the ruins of Thousand Island Park on the St. Lawrence river, is somewhat long drawn out and makes the feature a bit monotonous; a picture of the recent collision between the Fall River steamer Commonwealth and the U. S. S. New Hampshire in Long Island Sound shows the big hole torn in the bow of the former vessel; late summer millinery fashions as posed by Parisian models, and delicately tinted, close the film.

A beautiful Ebsany drama, "White Roses," and two Biograph comedies, "The Would be Shriner," and "Willie Becomes an Artist," completes an all feature program.

Orpheum Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones, musicians, in a new and novel entertainment are pleasing the patrons of The Orpheum. Tonight a special fine picture program will be presented. "At Cripple Creek" a two reel Reliance picture and "Papa's Double," a Majestic comedy. Don't miss it. First show at 7:30.

TOO UP TO DATE TO SUIT PEOPLE

New Mikado of Japan Has Advanced Ideas Which May Not Please All.

TOKIO, July 31.—His advisors are said in diplomatic circles today to be much worried lest the new mikado prove undiplomatically up-to-date in his policies. It is to tell the members that he means to be a strictly modern ruler that his majesty wants parliament called in extra session. The group nearest to the throne has no objection to modernity, but a strong element in the country thinks the nation has been getting away from the best ideals in recent years. The elder statesmen, a great power in the land, are particularly backward in their views. Much tact is necessary to avoid antagonizing them. Mutushto was an adept at pursuing modern methods, while seeming to cherish everything ancient. Yoshihito's training has been strictly on present day lines, and it is feared he may do or say something impolitic.

Are You Seeking Knowledge?

Do you really know the advantages of having city water carried into your house or yard, under pressure? If you do not, why not find out? A representative of the WATER COMPANY will gladly call upon you at your request, and explain to you how you may have all the advantages which city water brings, and at the same time save you money. This matter will be intensely interesting to you from both a financial and a sanitary standpoint, which two items no one can afford to ignore. If you are not using city water you are very probably paying more for your water each year than if you were, and you are giving up an absolutely pure water for one that is in all probability unsanitary. For the sake of your family, can you allow yourself to do this? You can at least take the matter up with us and inform yourself on the subject.

THE WORLD'S MARKETS

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, July 31.—A very tame opening and a subsequent small volume of speculative business characterized the wheat market today. Prices changes were insignificant, but the market had a firm undertone July shorts helping by covering. Weather throughout the spring wheat country was reported favorable. Harvesting is under way in South Dakota and southern Minnesota.

The promised rains for the southwest failed to materialize and corn futures were in demand with prices slightly higher. Oats were quiet but firm. Provisions were slightly lower.
