Mothers!—See the Famous Vanta Baby Garments in Our Infant's Department

These are the garments that Baby We fare Experts Advise You to Use. NO PINS—NO BUTTONS.

To guard your baby from the danger of blood poisoning, from pin scratches and the tortures of hard, lumpy buttons—see our line of Vanta Vests with the new Tape Fastening.

Vanta Baby Garments

This fastening is made a kind of fastening instead of dangerous pins and buttons. We have them in never needs re-sewing. The tape—unlike the kinds you know—never gets hard or stringy—never curls or kinks up in the wash. It has simply revolutionized baby dressing.

Every Vanta Vest is made double breasted—fits snugly around the throat and has this new kind of fastening instead of dangerous pins and buttons. We have them in sizes for babies of all ages—finely knit—daintily finished in several varieties of material. And every one has a little fastening below the curve of the abdomen that keeps the vest from working up around the waist. See these garments for your baby's sake.

If you are interested in COATS or FURS, you can buy them now for a very small amount of money. We are bound to close out every garment we have and former selling prices will be cut more than half.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Geneva Sunday.
The Geneva club announce the following short talks to be given at the Geneva meeting this afternoon at four o'clock:

The Beauty I See at the Lake—Miss Immegart.
The Physical Benefits—Miss Emily Pence.

The Fun We Have—Miss Meta Kummer.
Why It Is a Good Financial Investment—Miss Edna Porter.

The Peculiar Charm of the Conference—Miss Edna O'Hara.
Miss Minnie Waggoner will have charge of the music, and a good audience is anticipated for this pleasant hour of service. Every girl and woman in the city is most cordially invited.

An Invitation.
The Young Woman's Christian Association take this means of inviting all of its members save the little folks to the George Washington party held in conjunction with the Young Men's Christian Association at the home of the latter Monday night. All of the Y. W. C. A. members will meet at their own building and will go in a body from the Association at 8:30. Before going over each member will be badged with her name and number which later in the evening will aid her in securing her partner. Under Mr. Vernon McKay's, chairman of the social committee of the Y. M. C. A., direction a lively program of events has been arranged for, including a human checker game, a Mutt and Jeff stunt and a number of other funny things.

The World in Keokuk.
Many questions are being asked concerncerning the exhibition of the World in Keokuk indicating the interest that will be manifested in seeing the results of this great undertaking. It is planned by Miss Martha Hornish and the members of the Religious Work committee of the Y. W. C. A. Friends are asking if there is to be an admission fee. There is none. The exhibition is free to all. All those who wish to express their interest after seeing the "world" are invited to visit the ginger jar with their offering. This offering will be used to help defray the expense of the exhibition and the support of the secretaries in the mission field.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Traffic."
The return engagement of "The Traffic," which appears at the Grand opera house Monday afternoon and evening, promises to play again as it did on the previous engagement to large audiences. Twenty-five ladies in one party have secured seats for the afternoon performance and several smaller parties will go to the evening show. This is one of the live dramas of the day and deals with a vital problem that the federal government has given not only attention to but adopted legislation dealing with the subject of white slavery. The play is thrilling and deals with the subject in a broad way. Seats can be secured by telephoning the Grand opera house or calling in person. White slavery is laid bare in this remarkable play. It is said by Ashton Stevens of the Chicago Examiner to be "the cleanest play of the sadder world ever written."—Advertisement.

Cheering Thought.
While mourning the wickedness of the present age, it is well to remember that if we had lived in another age we would be dead now.

KEOKUK CHAPTER HONORS PATRIOTS

Daughters of American Revolution Observe Washington's Birthday With Pretty Luncheon at Hotel Iowa.

TALKS ARE INTERESTING

Following Secretary Bryan's Example, Keokuk Daughters Pledge Their Toasts in Grape Juice.

Keokuk chapter D. A. R. celebrated Washington's birthday on Saturday with a luncheon at the Hotel Iowa, followed by a program of patriotic toasts. A long table decorated in the colonial colors, blue and yellow, was spread in the center of the dining room with covers laid for twenty-eight. The vice regent Mrs. Clara I. Sheldon was seated at the head and the toastmistress Mrs. H. Boyden Blood at the other end of the long table. Two out of town guests were present, Mrs. Keator of Watertown, state regent of South Dakota, and Miss Rudd of Galsburg who is Miss Ora Cole's guest. Place cards were in the form of a drum and flag and had a quotation suited to each guest written on the back. The following menu was served:

- Blue Points
- Wafers
- Potato Roses
- Chocolate Ice Cream
- Candies
- Radishes
- Purse of Celery
- Salmon
- Turkey with Dressing
- Vienna Rolls
- Lettuce Hearts with Tomatoes
- Assorted Cakes
- Coffees
- Olives
- French Peas

Toasts in Grape Juice.

In the absence of the regent Mrs. Hazen I. Sawyer who was detained by illness, Mrs. H. Boyden Blood acted as toastmistress, making very clever introductions for each speaker. Greetings were read from the regent whose absence marred the pleasure of the event. Mrs. Blood said, "The Daughters always stand for loyalty to the government. We will today show our appreciation of its policy by drinking our toasts in grape juice." This propos of Bryan's attitude and of the fact that Mrs. Paul Dyeard had sent this beverage for the toast.

Mrs. Joshua F. Elder gave the first toast to February's great man. She made a delightful talk naming the unusual list of great men and women born in February. In closing she toasted "the children of today who will be the great men and women of the future."

In introducing Mrs. W. G. Blood who spoke on "The Year's Achievement," she said: "I believe it was Macbeth who said 'it were well if it were done quickly,' and this must have been the slogan of the monument committee; but I will leave the telling of the story to one who was all along the firing line and in the forefront in every skirmish of the small band who led us on to victory."

Some Interesting Experiences.

Mrs. Blood in a very delightful way told of the experiences the chapter had in entertaining the conference and pledged a toast to the president general Mrs. William Cumming Story who was the honor guest at the conference. She reviewed the difficulties surmounted in securing the funds for the Keokuk statue. She spoke of the regret felt by the chapter in the absence of Mrs. D. A. Collier and pledged a toast to "Mrs. Susie Smythe Collier without whose efforts this chapter would today be head over heels in debt for the Keokuk statue." In closing she said: "As one of the park gate committee, may I express the wish that 1914's achievement may be the building of the park gate way. Let us undertake yet another work of civic adornment."

Miss Collins on Indians.

Miss Mary C. Collins gave a toast to "The Indians." During this year the chapter has been studying the lowa Indians. Miss Collins who was a missionary to the Indians for many years always speaks in their defense. She told a number of interesting incidents connected with her personal acquaintance with Scarier Top, Sitting Bull, Rain-in-the-Face, Chief Grindstone and others. In speaking of the women she said: "They paint their faces, yes, green and yellow instead of pink and white."

Mrs. J. O. Boyd read in a very delightful way, "Old Glory" by James Whitcomb Riley.

The Keokuk chapter D. A. R. is proud to have in its membership one of the noble women who helped to make the pioneer trail. Mrs. Blood said in introducing Mrs. W. S. Ivins who spoke on "The Pioneer Trail."

All Honor Mrs. Ivins. Keokuk is always proud of Mrs. Ivins. She was a remarkable young woman when with her husband and little family she crossed the plains in a prairie schooner, enduring all sorts of hardships. She is no less remarkable a woman now when with many years upon her she keeps still her young heart and brave spirit. She both graces and adorns any social gathering fortunate enough to include her as a guest.

Mrs. Ivins said: "All things come to him who will but wait. One thing there is at least that comes and that is the store of years and in these some of us are rich indeed. This country of ours has not like Topsy, 'jes growed.' It has been made and some of us recall the time when the task was but fairly started. In early days ways of commerce and communication were by trail, from village to Lamlet, from trading post to fort. Only those who followed those trails can appreciate how long and how hard was the way, peril lurked at every turn and danger at every ford and hardship all the long way. Those of us who traveled that way do not forget—we cannot, its hardships and privations, its griefs and disappointments, all are indelibly written upon our hearts and minds to endure to the end.

Praises Pioneers.

"There were many giants in those days who blazed the trail, Boone, Lewis and Clark, men of iron conquering the wilderness. Marquette, LaSalle, Hennepin bore the cross and the message of Christ. These were the trail makers and we who enjoy the fruits of their toil do well to erect to them, tablets of bronze as we have done here in Keokuk, for they made possible for us an abiding place abounding in peace, happiness and prosperity."

Mrs. Sheldon, the vice regent, read the following telegram which was greeted with great applause:

Mrs. Collier's Message.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 20, 1914.—Mr. Hazen Sawyer, Regent Keokuk Chapter D. A. R.: Drink with me a toast to the Keokuk chapter, its capable regent, its efficient chairman who made possible the George Washington luncheon you are celebrating today. Please give three cheers for our dear old Keokuk statue, your Keokuk and my Keokuk who will be there when we are all gone.
MRS. D. A. COLLIER.

Committee in Charge.

The social committee which had in charge the luncheon arrangements was Mrs. W. G. Blood, Mrs. Robt. M. Lapsley, Mrs. H. Boyden Blood, Mrs. J. F. Elder and Mrs. A. C. Decker. The committee having in charge the program was Mrs. Clara I. Sheldon, Mrs. J. L. Canby, Mrs. Harry Reeves, Miss Anne B. Davis.

HUDSON Light Six

For $1750—a Quality Six Below Same-Class Fours Less Weight, Less Fuel Cost Than Fours

The HUDSON Six-40 comes out this year to offer legions of motorists just what they have wanted—

- A light-weight Six—2,980 pounds.
- An economical Six—
- A high-grade Six under $2,000.

Howard E. Coffin, the great HUDSON engineer, has solved all these problems. He has made a Six which underweighs any comparable Four. He has made a motor, with small bore and long stroke, which uses far less fuel than any equal-powered Four.

And the HUDSON factory through enormous output, is selling that Six below the price of any same-class Four.

A New-Type Car
This new-type motor follows the latest European practice. Its operative cost is far below what is possible in Fours.

The new-type body—an ideal streamline body—also follows Europe's vogue. The gasoline tank is in the dash. The extra tires are carried ahead of the front door. It has the convenient new "One-Man" top. The curtains are quick-adjusting and attached. All hinges concealed, speedometer gear concealed. Disappearing tonneau seats. Dimming 54 of the 79 Automobile exhibitors at the 14th National Automobile Show held in New York January 3 to 10 this year, displayed six-cylinder cars. Eighteen showed Sixes exclusively. That emphasizes the dominance of Sixes.

searchlights, Hand-buffed leather upholstery, The Delco patent system of electric starting and lighting. It is almost identical in design and equipment with the new HUDSON Six-54. And that is considered the handsomest car of the year

Now Fours Must Go
This new Six-40 means that four-cylinder cars at any like price must go.

The Six is too smooth-running, too flexible, too free from vibration, too saving of tires to leave any question on this point. And a Six depreciates, in this day of Sixes, very much less than a Four.

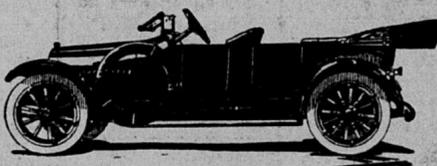

Now comes a Six of quality, lighter, more economical, lower in price than equal-class Fours. So not one reason now remains for clinging to a Four.

The HUDSON last year built more Sixes than any other factory in the world. But the demand for this new car—this light Six-40—is breaking all HUDSON records. Men who are likely to want early delivery are urged to call at once.

TROTTER OUTSLANGS SUNDAY.

Said Obediah Feared He'd "Get It Where Nellie Wore the Beads"

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 21.—"How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God follow him, but if Baal, then follow him; and the people answered not a word." I Kings, xxvii, 21.

From this text the Rev. Melville Trotter, a Michigan evangelist, delivered a sermon here calculated to

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Keokuk People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Keokuk people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

Mrs. M. Betts, 1326 High street, Keokuk, Iowa, says: "I had severe attacks of backache and was subject to dizzy spells and pains in my head. I always felt nervous and languid and was unable to sleep well. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I procured at Wilkinson & Co.'s Drug Store, proved their merit by entirely relieving me. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly today, as I did some years ago when I publicly endorsed them." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. make the Rev. Billy Sunday, who is also conducting a revival here, "sit up and take notice." Said the Rev. Mr. Trotter:

"Ahab was king, that is, he was supposed to be, but he was married to Jezebel, and she was a devil. She wore almost all the clothes for the family. Israel was never in worse shape than she was at this time. Baal was the god, and there were 400 prophets living on Easy street.

"The Goddess Asteroth had 450 prophets that lived at Jezebel's table. Jezebel was some sport, believe me. One is enough for the folk in Pittsburgh—she had 450. The Lord put that bunch to the bad by getting hold of Elijah, a big fellow who stalked into the king's palace one day and said: 'There'll be no more rain or dew till I say so.' And he beat it.

Watch for the Mules.

"Three years and a half he stayed away and God took care of him, then he came back. Obediah was called in to Ahab's palace this day and Ahab said to him: 'You go off to the west and I'll go to the east and see if we can find some water to keep the mules alive.' Ahab couldn't bear the thought of losing his mules. A mule is a great comfort to a man, if Jezebel is his wife. Oh, you mule!

"When Obediah saw him, this big man stalking along the road, he recognized him, fell on his face and said, 'Art thou my Lord Elijah?' 'I'm it. Go tell Ahab I'm here.'

"Do you want to get me put out of business? Don't you know if I should go now and tell them you're here the Lord would spirit you away and I'd get it where Nellie wore the beads?" "No," he said. "I'll promise you that I will see him." And when Ahab came up and jumped off his mule, he said: "Art thou he that troubleth Israel?" Elijah said, "No, it's you and your dirty sins and your old crooked dad."

Prayers to Baal.

Here followed the Rev. Mr. Trotter's description of Elijah's proposal to call down fire from heaven, allowing the followers of Baal to call on their god of fire. "All day long," the revivalist continued, "they called on their god, who never answered them a word. About noon time Elijah grew sarcastic and said: 'He's a god all right only perhaps he was sleeping or he may be entertaining company; maybe he's out motoring, or perhaps he has blown a spark plug; call a little louder. That tango you're doing doesn't seem to attract his attention.' "Elijah turned and said: 'Grab that bunch and take them down to the brook and kill 'em!' Not a one escaped."

BANK OVERRULES NEW TRIAL MOTIONS

Another Chapter Added in Cast Which Has Record for Time for Trial.

In the district court at Fort Madison Friday Judge Bank announced his decision overruling a motion for a new trial in the case of Mitchell versus Beck. The case will be remembered as one wherein the plaintiff, a colored man, sought to recover from W. J. R. Beck a sum claimed due on accounts accruing during the plaintiff's occupancy of the defendant's farm near Beck station. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. The motion for a new trial was presented several days ago. The defense has indicated that it will appeal, and has been given until Tuesday to file appeal bond. The case occupied over four weeks in its trial here last year, establishing a record in the length of time taken before a jury. D. F. Miller represented the defendant then, and J. L. Benbow now. The plaintiff's attorneys are Herminghausen & Herminghausen.
