

HOUSE OF MYSTERY; WOMEN DISAPPEAR

(Continued from page 1.) siring to give any alarm I simply posted my two detectives, one on each side of the house and returned to Pittsburgh.

"Then I sent for Meredith and he came to see me. "I want to go through your sanitarium, doctor," I told him, after explaining who I was.

"You can't do that," he replied shortly. "Well," I said, "I'll either go through quietly with you, doctor, or I'll go through with the chief of police and every reporter in Pittsburgh." That settled it.

"All right," said he, "we'll go." Then as an after thought, he remarked: "But I could easily telephone there and have every woman taken out of the place before we arrived."

"I laughed. 'Oh, no,' I said, 'I have two detectives on guard out there now. No one will get away.' "That seemed to worry him a great deal. But anyhow we got on the trolley car and started out. When we arrived at the house I at once went inside and saw the woman who had given my friend the information about Miss Arnold. Her's was a short name, I think Orr.

"Where is the woman who says she is Miss Arnold?" I said to her and she directed me to a room in the front of the building. I went in and at a glance saw that it was not Dorothy Arnold. The woman was a natural blonde. Dorothy was dark. I came out of the room.

"Did that woman say she was Miss Arnold?" I asked the nurse who was standing outside the door. "No she didn't," was her reply. "but I was so sure it was she that I said so for I wanted you to be sure to come."

"Not desiring to overlook anything, I then, with the doctor went through every room in the house. There were several women there but no Dorothy Arnold. We went down in the cellar right around the big furnace which stood there—there may have been two—but could find no trace of the girl I sought. I did not look in the furnace. After I finished in the house I went to every outhouse on the place, even exploring the pigeon coop in which several birds were nesting. There was not a trace of Dorothy Arnold to be found anywhere. I am sure she was not there.

"Well, Mr. Keith, are you satisfied now," asked the doctor who was right beside me at every move. I answered yes. I am sure Miss Arnold is not here." Then we started back to the city. On the trolley car, Dr. Meredith referred to the detective who seemed to be worrying him.

"Where did you get those detectives, Mr. Keith," he asked. "Did they come with you from the east or are they Pittsburgh men?" After some evasion because I did not want him to know too much, I said they were from the east.

"I'm glad of that," said he. "I wanted to know that. You see this house here is a good place for my business and I wanted to know if there were any of the Pittsburgh detectives in a position to know things that might prove embarrassing."

sonally convinced that Dorothy Arnold died in the private maternity hospital conducted by Dr. C. C. Meredith, at Bellevue, which was raided late yesterday by county officials and detectives. He declared that while it was obviously impossible to state definitely that further disclosures will establish the fact beyond doubt, that he hoped and believed that they would.

The evidence contained in an affidavit by Dr. H. E. Lutz, close associate of Meredith and self-confessed feeder of the institution is only a part of the evidence in hand that the daughter of a wealthy New York perfume importer was a patient of Meredith's, he said.

KEOSAUQUA.

The election yesterday decided the matter of bonding the county for $35,000 with which to build a county home for the insane. No election for some time at least has been so widely of interest as this one. The proposition was defeated more than two to one. The opposition was not against a county home but against the amount asked by the supervisors.

A cablegram was received this week by Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Day from Chengtu, China, announcing the marriage of their daughter, Georgia, to Mr. Robertson, a professor in the University at Chengtu, West China. Georgia is a graduate of Keosauqua high school, also of the Iowa State college at Ames, and has been a missionary in West China four years, having been sent out by the M. E. church. They will reside in Chengtu.

Keosauqua has a new jewelry store. James A. McNeal is the proprietor and occupies the place in the Fosnot building recently vacated by W. E. Fosnot.

Mr. Benj. Vance, who was so seriously ill, is now able to be down town and his many friends are giving him the glad hand.

Mr. Tom McManus is fully recovered from the smallpox but his mother who was ill with heart trouble, still remains poorly.

Mr. L. P. Spencer of Portland, Oregon, and Mrs. Alice Phillips of Farmington, were married at Kahoka Tuesday and made this city a visit the first of the week and were receiving congratulations.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Rose Maiden, The cantata Rose Maiden by Cowen is highly musical in every measure. The plot of the story told in the cantata is entirely imaginary in which a rose is turned to a young woman and goes through the world seeking joys of human love and human companionship. The music is imaginative and fanciful as the plot of the story and it is this appeal to the imagination in the music which gives it one of its great charms. Solists, orchestra and chorus will all be in fine fettle Monday night and will produce the Rose Maiden in all its joyous beauty.

There should be 135 voices in the chorus, 15 pieces in the orchestra and the beautiful solos of the work will be sung by most capable artists. Altogether the concert will be brilliant and enjoyable from beginning to end. Popular prices have been decided on in order to make it easy for the friends of the young musicians to fill the house.—Advertisement.

the city which were successful. The Waters-Pierce Oil company suffered heavy damage. At Arboyo Grande, the rebels were entrenched in their plant. The federal gunboats Zaragoza and Vera Cruz bombarded the refinery. Six big tanks were struck in addition to 162 crude oil tanks. They immediately took fire and the burning oil poured out upon the river. The blaze spread to the Agencia Commercial, a German concern, and every effort was made to save this plant from complete destruction.

It was reported here today, though not confirmed, that Rear Admiral Mayo had landed marines to prevent further wanton destruction of property.

The Agulla Oil company offices here were advised today that their loss by fire at Tampico due to the bombardment of gunboats will amount to 800,000 pesos. So far no foreigners are reported injured in Tampico.

The German battleship Dresden is said to have started up the river to take off refugees.

Desperate Fighting.

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 10.—That desperate fighting has been in progress for the past several days at San Pedro de Las Colonias between the rebel forces, commanded by Generals Benavides, Ortega and Hernandez, and the federal troops of General Maas and General DeMoure was the substance of an official report made today to General Venustiano Carranza by General Pancho Villa.

General Villa's dispatch stated that the federals were completely surrounded and the constitutionalists hoped to exhaust their ammunition and capture them. The dispatch added that all railway lines in the vicinity of San Pedro de Las Colonias had been cut, thereby preventing any reinforcements reaching the federal army from the direction of Saltillo.

Constitutionalist officials are elated today over the visit yesterday of their consul, Miles of El Paso to General Venustiano Carranza, to ask protection of constitutionalist, of British property in Tampico, probably Lord Cowdray's oil wells and certain British mines in Sinaloa. As this is the first time that British representatives have dealt direct with the constitutionalist government, Carranza regarded the visit of Consul Miles, who acted upon instruction from British Ambassador at Washington Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, as formal recognition of the constitutionalist government. Protection asked for by Consul Miles was promptly promised by constitutionalist officials.

Here Is Good News for Stomach Victims

Some very remarkable results are being obtained by treating stomach, liver and intestinal troubles with pure vegetable oils, which exert a cleansing, soothing and purifying action upon the lower bowels, removing the obstructions of poisonous fecal matter and gases and preventing their absorption by the blood. This done, the food is allowed free passage from the stomach, fermentation ceases and stomach troubles quickly disappear.

George H. Mayr, for twenty years a leading Chicago druggist, cured himself and many of his friends of stomach, liver and intestinal troubles of years' standing by this treatment, and so successful was the remedy he devised that it has since been placed in the hands of druggists all over the country, who have sold thousands of bottles.

Though absolutely harmless, the effect of the medicine is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable effectiveness, and within 24 hours the sufferer feels like a new person. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by
