

Duncan-Schell Furniture Company

Our store will be closed until noon Monday in order to finish marking down prices for our Stock Reducing Sale.

Second Announcement

This week we have installed handsome solid mahogany fixtures to correspond with the new Soda Fountain we told you about last week. Our English Wall Cases will enable us to display our large stock of sundries to better advantage. The dust-proof cigar case with zinc lined humidifier compartments will bring this department down to the minute. Plate Glass Candy Cases, Special Floor Cases, Plate Glass Wrapping Counter and many interesting finishing touches make this the Model Drug Store of Keokuk. Our Prescription Department is our especial pride. We have reserved a large room for its exclusive use, away from the distractions of a busy store, and furnished it with modern equipment and the highest quality Chemicals and Pharmaceuticals. Competent and Registered Men are in charge always. "Eternal Vigilance" is our watchword. By this new arrangement, we have enlarged our floor space and increased the convenience as well as the beauty of the store. We are now in position to render prompt and satisfactory service. Let our store be your store.

Mallum-Hayes. At the home of the bride's parents, at Bricker, Iowa, at 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, April 22, 1914, Mr. Magnus C. Mallum of Fort Madison, Iowa, and Miss Ruth E. Hayes, of Bricker, Iowa, Rev. G. W. W. Amick of Fort Madison, Iowa, officiating. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hayes and is well known throughout this section of the county. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Jane C. Hayes, and the groom's chum, Mr. Arthur P. Amick, the later of Fort Madison, Iowa, but the past few weeks at Wellington, Kansas. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe meteor with a medium train and trimmed in silk chantilly lace, pearl bandings and pearl ornaments. Her veil was made cap effect, ornamented with a string of pearls and white bride's rosebuds. The bride carried a shower bouquet made up of white bride's roses and ferns. The maid of honor, Miss Hayes, was attired in a gown of deep pink de chine trimmed in lace, pearl bandings, picked out with pink coral and carried an arm bouquet composed of pink roses and ferns. The ceremony took place in front of a bank of ferns and smilax, interspersed with pink and white roses and pink and white carnations. The color scheme, pink and white, being carried out in the decorations of the rooms and the tables, which were decorated with large vases, containing roses and carnations in combination with ferns and smilax. The ceremony was preceded by a vocal solo, "O Perfect Love," sung by Mr. Septimus Barbour; Miss Viola Daube played the accompaniment. The bridal party descended the stairs to the strains of "Lohengrin Bridal Chorus," played by Mr. Septimus Barbour. Immediately after the vows were exchanged, "Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Mr. Barbour. Mr. Barbour and Miss Daube rendered some beautiful four handed pieces on the piano. The groom is employed at the Santa Fe shops in Fort Madison, Iowa, where he graduated as a machinist in the spring of 1911. He is a young man of sterling worth and numbers his friends by the hundreds, as it were. The young couple were taken to Vieie, by their friend, Mr. Will Auwaerter, in an auto. From Vieie they went to Fort Madison, by train. At that place they took passage on No. 9 for Los Angeles, California, for a wedding trip of several weeks. Returning, they will stop at several points and visit with friends. The bride wore a traveling suit of blue. The following persons, from a distance, attended the wedding: Mrs. J. H. McGoff and daughters, Louise and Lillian McGoff, Topeka, Kansas; Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Cooney, Kahoka, Mo.; Mrs. W. P. Sawdon, Farmington, Iowa; Mr. Arthur P. Amick, Wellington, Kansas; Rev. and Mrs. G. W. W. Amick; Miss Margaret Amick; Miss Viola Daube, Miss Rosalie Einspanger and Septimus Barbour, Harvey Creagan and Howard Amick, Fort Madison, Iowa. The young couple will be at home to their friends after the first of June, at Fort Madison, Iowa. Their many friends extend congratulations and best wishes. Miss Brown to Chicago. Miss Eleanor Brown who is general chairman of the missionary exhibit, "Everywhere," to be given in St. John's parish house in May, will go to Chicago this week to see its presentation in Christ's church and in St. Paul's church. The Rev. John C. Sage and Rev. Mr. Long will also go to Chicago some time during the week for the same purpose. Mr. Long is director of the pageant "The Great Trail" which will be presented in connection with "Everywhere."

Y. M. C. A. ITEMS The Minstrels. It was a jolly event at the Young Men's Christian association when the minstrels held their rehearsal. There were no absentees and none were marked tardy. It was a bright, breezy bunch and the "end men" were as sparkling and juicy as an uncorked bottle of unadulterated grape juice. Not Numerous. A true Christian is one who can enjoy a sermon in an old suit of clothes.
