

URGE PLAYGROUNDS AND CURFEW HERE

Parent-Teachers Association at the Meeting Yesterday, Goes on Record and Will Work For This Program.

TO FIGHT ALLEY SCHOOL

City Council Will be Asked to Pass Law Which Will Send Children Off the Streets.

That Keokuk should have one or more supervised playgrounds for the moral and physical welfare of the idle boys and girls during the summer vacation, and that Keokuk should also have a curfew law to take the children off the street at late hours of the night were the two issues decided unanimously yesterday afternoon at the mass meeting of parents and teachers held in the high school assembly room.

In his introductory remarks he said he believed very sincerely in supervised play grounds and he felt that there is an urgent need here for one or more such grounds. Some people speak disparagingly of a schedule of games for children on the grounds that boys and girls should have tasks to occupy their time. He said it was far from the intention to take any boy or girl away from work which their parents wished them to do.

Alley School is Bad. "It is absolutely necessary that these children have some wholesome, safe employment or play, to prevent a repetition of this alley school crime," he said. It is not safe to can these children together, without some supervision, because we want the play grounds a fit place for the boys to congregate, where bad language and immorality is barred.

Have One at Start. Superintendent Aldrich then introduced D. A. Glascoff, secretary of the United Charities, who said it had been his privilege to be connected with the first supervised play ground established in Washington, D. C., a city which now has eighteen such grounds. He said: "I have seen children here playing on dump heaps, in dirty alleys and in other unwholesome places. Many children are deliberately kept out of their homes because they regard the work there. I have seen children in Keokuk out until all hours of the night and until 1 and 2 o'clock in the morning. If these children were provided with a place where this surplus energy could be worked off and they were tired out with play, they would go to bed by 9 o'clock. Begin with one play ground and work up to having one in every district and make the school a center of influence longer than just the nine months of the school year."

Dr. J. C. Christensen was then called on and made a splendid speech full of sound logic and telling points. He had for a subject "Helpful or Harmful Recreation."

FOR UNSIGHTLY COMPLEXIONS USE RESINOL

Pimples and blackheads disappear, unsightly complexions become clean, clear, and velvety, and hair health and beauty are promoted by the regular use of Resinol Soap and an occasional application of Resinol Ointment. These soothing, healing preparations do their work easily, quickly and at little cost, when even the most expensive cosmetics and complicated beauty treatments fail. Resinol is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for nine-dozen years.

Every child should have lots of outdoor life. I do not favor too much apparatus for playing. The little folks want to use that which is intended for older children and the result is harmful. I do not favor basketball for girls or football for boys. The games are all right, but the boys and girls aren't strong enough for the game. Any one who goes beyond his strength, is never again so strong. Games gotten up for the sake of contest and with victory as the only goal are to be decried."

Some Games Harmful. "Every child should have lots of outdoor life. I do not favor too much apparatus for playing. The little folks want to use that which is intended for older children and the result is harmful. I do not favor basketball for girls or football for boys. The games are all right, but the boys and girls aren't strong enough for the game. Any one who goes beyond his strength, is never again so strong. Games gotten up for the sake of contest and with victory as the only goal are to be decried."

Plan is Suggested. Mr. Aldrich asked Professor Hayden to speak of the play ground association plan. Mr. Hayden said that the industrial association, the city commissioners, the Civic League, the Ministerial association and the board of education all have public playground committees. Why not by some plan bring all these forces together.

Name Curfew Committee. The question of a curfew law was then brought up and upon motion it was decided that the meeting endorse the passage of a curfew law. Eighty present signed a petition for the same. Mr. Aldrich referred the matter for presentation to the commissioners, to a committee composed of Mrs. Harry J. Reeves, Rev. R. W. Lilley and D. A. Glascoff. The meeting was largely attended by both teachers and parents. A number of representatives of the People's Institute were present.

Funeral of General Sickles. Hero of Gettysburg will be Buried in National Cemetery at Arlington. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, May 6.—Major General Daniel E. Sickles, hero of a dozen battles of the civil war, will be buried with military honors at 11 o'clock Friday morning from St. Patrick's cathedral.

The family planned the details. It is probable that interment will be in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., on a hill top, among his comrades of the old Third army corps. The war department offered a detachment of regular troops as a guard of honor but for some reason unstated, the family declined the offer. Militiamen will be the guard of honor. From the Sickles home to the cathedral, the coffin, flag draped, will be borne on a gun carriage, followed by veterans who were with the general at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pictures at the Hippodrome. Feature pictures are the order at the Hippodrome theatre all through the present week. All the programs have been furnished by special arrangement with the Feature Film company and a new bill will be given each day. Although the regular prices for these shows is twenty-five cents, the management of the theatre has decided to offer the bills here at the low price of ten cents for any part of the house. This is the first time the public has had an opportunity to witness the greatest photo-plays ever produced at this low price. The show for this evening is "The Conspiracy," or a $4,000,000 dowry. It is a story of love and hate and in the end shows that the way of the transgressor is hard while love and virtue triumph in the end. The play has been produced at an enormous expense and introduces the most accomplished motion picture actors of the world today.—Advertisement.

Peg O' My Heart. A theatrical event of more than usual importance is brought home in the announcement of "Peg O' My Heart," by J. Hartley Manners at the Grand, Monday, May 11, with dainty Florence Martin as "Peg." This great comedy of youth comes to the Grand, backed by critical and public recommendation since it has stood both tests victoriously. The New York critics were united in their approval of the comedy and theatre goes took "Peg" to their hearts. "Peg O' My Heart," with Laurette Taylor, is now playing and has been running steadily for over a year at the Cort theatre, New York, with unabated popularity. The cast of this company is a notable one including besides Miss Martin, Isabel Vernon, Collin Campbell, Maude Allen, Fred L. Tiden, Nella Horan, Pell Trenton, Reginald Carrington, John Lyons, etc.

Health a Factor in Success. The largest factor contributing to a man's success is undoubtedly health. It has been observed that a man is seldom sick when his bowels are regular—he is never well when they are constipated. For constipation you will find nothing quite so good as Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only move the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. They are sold by all dealers.—Advertisement.

CARNEGIE MEDALS TO CARTHAGE PEOPLE

Coveted Honor Paid to Beryl Parker and Martin Kimbrough for Bravery.

Miss Beryl Parker and Martin Kimbrough of Carthage, have been awarded Carnegie hero medals. The exhibition of bravery of the young people was occasioned at a skating accident on Thanksgiving morning in 1911, near Carthage. The young folks were skating on a pond, when two children, Anna and Isabel Dorsey, aged 14 and 10 years, broke through the ice at a point, where the water was about 7 feet deep. Sanford Parker, aged 42 years, a brother of Miss Parker and Martin Kimbrough, both rushed to the assistance of the drowning girls. Both got hold of a girl each, but the weak ice gave way beneath, and they went into the water. After heroic attempts to save the Dorsey children, the latter slipped from the arms of the boys and they found themselves in danger of drowning. Miss Parker crawled out on the quivering ice as far as she could, sinking into the rising water several inches, and all the time encouraging the children. She reached her stick out as far as she could and enabled Sanford Parker to grasp it and haul himself ashore. She did not delay, however, but persisted in her work of rescue, managing to get the stick to young Kimbrough, after he had sunk once, finally pulling him to safety. The two little girls, Anna and Isabel Dorsey were drowned, the attempts to save them being in vain. The medals were deserving.

Sometime— a Grape-Nuts Ad May Set You Thinking

Grape-Nuts ads have set many people thinking, who for years have been suffering from constipation, liver complaint, headache, "nerves," and various other troubles arising from indigestion.

Thousands are learning that one common cause of indigestion is the lack of mineral salts—phosphate of potash, iron, sulphur, etc.—in the ordinary diet.

This is true of white bread, for, as is well-known, nearly all the mineral salts are removed from flour in the milling process just to make it look white and pretty.

Scientists tell us this lack of mineral salts in food is causing actual, if slow starvation, for these salts are absolutely necessary for the growth and maintenance of body, brain and nerves.

What set people thinking was that the "ad" pointed out the cause of their trouble, and why Grape-Nuts would probably help them.

A ration of Grape-Nuts—along with other food—supplies what is lacking in the ordinary diet, because Grape-Nuts—made from whole wheat and barley—contains all the nutritious elements of these grains, including the invaluable mineral salts.

Grape-Nuts is an ideal food ALL the time. Comes ready to eat from the package, fresh, crisp and appetizing. Digests easily and quickly.

If one of these days a Grape-Nuts ad sets you thinking and a trial of the food starts you on the Road to Wellville, you'll know
