

MRS. ENGELHARDT PASSED AWAY

Died of Heart Trouble After a Long Period of Serious Ill Health.

SHE WAS BORN IN OHIO

Came to Keokuk When About Five Years of Age and This Has Continued to be Her Home.

The citizens of this city generally will be grieved to hear of the death of Mrs. Anna E. Engelhardt, an estimable woman, who has been many years an esteemed resident of Keokuk.

Mrs. Engelhardt was born at Hanging Rock, Ohio, May 28, 1850, and came to Keokuk when but about five years old and was reared here and was educated in the schools of the city.

She was an earnest and consistent member of the First Westminster Presbyterian church, active in the performance of every religious and social duty, popular in all her social connections and her presence will be sadly mourned among those who have known her so long and so well.

For some time she had been in bad health, most of the time an invalid. She was a woman of strong vitality and bore her illness with becoming fortitude. Some months ago she suffered an operation for a tumor, later she was prostrated with a protracted illness, during which her life was despaired, but she rallied, and friends had strong hopes of her restoration to normal health.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: William D. Engelhardt, John W. Engelhardt, of Keokuk, and Charles J. Engelhardt, of Los Angeles, Cal. Mrs. W. A. Loeffler, Mrs. T. Sidney Giles and Miss Minnie Engelhardt, all of Keokuk.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence, 290 North Sixth street, Sunday at 4:30 o'clock p. m.

PIONEER'S DEATH IN VAN BUREN COUNTY

John Harlan Passes Away at His Home at the Age of Ninety-four Years.

The death of John Harlan, another of the honored pioneers of Iowa, the family name of whom is familiar to Keokuk and Lee county people, is reported dead from his home in Van Buren county and his passing away will be heard of with regret by a large circle of Iowa people.

Mr. Harlan was the grandfather of Edgar R. Harlan, curator of the Iowa historical department, of Des Moines and is prominent in the state. Curator Harlan left Des Moines Friday night for Stockport, Van Buren county, where he was joined by his father, S. A. Harlan, his brothers, Walter R. and Clarence R. Harlan, and his uncles Elisha T. and Alva E. Harlan, in taking the body of his grandfather John Harlan to Bethel, Ind., for burial. John Harlan died at the advanced age of ninety-four years.

He was born at Bethel, Wayne county, Ind., in 1821, and was of Quaker ancestry and possessed the sterling qualities born of pioneer days. He united with the Christian church in 1839 and was an enthusiastic follower of the teachings of Alexander Campbell.

Mr. Harlan removed to Van Buren in 1875 where he invested in farm lands and made his home until his death.

He came of stock noted for its longevity. He was a cousin of Aaron W. Harlan, a Lee county pioneer whose death it will be remembered, occurred recently in his hundredth year. He was remotely related to Justice John Marshall and Senator James Harlan. He was a member of the Odd Fellows.

BASCO, ILL.

Taylor Day of Omaha is visiting his mother, Mrs. Day and other relatives.

Frank McGinnis and wife were the guests of Bowen relatives Sunday.

Mrs. John Peter is visiting in Dallas.

Mrs. Mary Hawkins and daughter, Mrs. Clarence Collins were guests of Homer Hawkins several days this week.

Ross Elder, the oldest son of James Elder had the misfortune to fall from the barn loft Saturday and break his leg.

The ladies of the Baptist church will give a social Saturday evening on the church lawn. The Basco band will furnish music for the evening.

Miss Stella Osterloch received her teachers' certificate Wednesday from Macomb where she has been attending school. We must remark that she is a German girl, eighteen years old and only been in the United States seven months.

On Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Elder at Hamilton, there was a quiet and simple wedding, but one of ideal beauty and taste in all its arrangements. In the presence of relatives, the marriage ceremony of Miss Ruby Elder and Dr. Frank Preissman was performed by Rev. Nelson Hall. To the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding march, played by Professor and Mrs. Zoellner, of Keokuk, the young people took their places unattended. The bride was lovely in a dainty dress of shadow lace over crepe meteor and carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas and hyacinths. The bride is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Elder and has won many friends in Basco. The groom, whose father is in the general merchandise business here, has lately completed his medical education in Chicago and located in Mechanicsville, Iowa, where they will make their future home. The relatives who attended the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. William Preissman, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Steffey and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dameron.

The Opportunity Circle spent Wednesday in cleaning the church. Some of the faithful members were on the spot at 6 a. m. If work will make the church shine it surely will for fifteen ladies and a number of men spent the day there. It has just been papered.

Little Lucile Thompson, twelve year old daughter of Dave Thompson, while playing with a half dollarsaw allowed it. She was taken to a Keokuk hospital and everything that can be done to save her life is being done. She is a bright and jolly little girl, a friend of every one, and all Basco is anxiously waiting to hear of the success of the operation.

300 LICE Or More on One Hen

Is by no means uncommon. No one would expect to find a crow with that number of lice eating his blood, but many expect to find the old hen in go ahead about the red eggs while lice and mites are sapping her very life. We have a crowd over 2500 dead lice under a row of ten hens, on a roost been painted the night before with Lee's Lice Killer. This great killer does double duty—contracts lice, mites, lice, bedbugs, etc. about the rooster; the venger kills lice on the chickens sitting over it. Put up only in airtight cans. For sale at over 100,000 stores.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that do us, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.
