RED SKINS ROMP ON RED LEGS 6-5

Ten Inning Revel Goes to Locals in Opening Game of Burlington Series Here Yesterday.

STEBBINS OFFICIATES

Gawge Manusch's Boys Get Excited in Tenth and Hiram Sends Three of Them to the Bench.

The rampant Red Legs were romped on in a riotous revel here yesterday by a score of 6 to 5, the game going ten innings. It was an exhibition extraordinary! And it was no place for a ball player with temperament, as several found out before seeking the solace of their shower bath.

Stebbins got by with the job in fine shape until the last half of the tenth. Then things started to break loose. Before the first Indian batter had been pitched a ball in this round McGlade was benched for talking too freely. Lowther followed over the same route, and a minute later Singleton was also sent to the bench.

Only one of these three pitchers found it necessary to take part in any play that followed, but that one was enough to give the tribe the game. With a man on third and second, and but one down in the same last half of the tenth, Marshall hit a "Texas leaguer" over third. Burg, who was playing left field, caught the ball right but failed to get the ball home in time to cut off the runner coming in from third. The hit was so short that there hardly could have been any doubt about a regular outfielder cutting off the run. And that was the run that won the game.

Although the fray was decorated at places here and there with snappy bits of fielding, the defensive work on the whole was rather loose. And this was true of the pitchers as well as the other players. Wahl, who first went to the mound for the tribe, pitched fine ball for two innings. He let down enough in the third to allow a hit and a walk, which, together with an error, brought in the first run for the Red Sox. A double play, Sweet to Giffin, helped him out in the fourth, but in the fifth a single and a home run by Manusch brought in two runs. McCollough took Ed's place on the rubber after two were down in this period. A walk, a wild pitch, an error and two hits gave the visitors two runs off Mack in the seventh. He was touched for several hits during the rest of the game but failed to allow any runs.

Rowdy Miller went the full length for the Manuschers. Miller's pitching seemed to have an edge on that of the local slab artists, but at that the tribe got to him with much effect at certain times during the game. Miller struck out a total of twelve men, walking four.

"WE WANT BASEBALL IN KEOKUK"

Is what 99 out of 100 people in this city would say if the question was put to them. On top of that there is a big percentage of people here who are willing to pay for the game and support the club to whatever extent they are able. What would we do without baseball here? There are no amusement parks in the city and we would be up against it strong without a home team to root for, to stand up for, to criticize, to knock and to laud. Well, the directors have said that they need money. They have called a meeting, open to all, for this evening, to be held at 7:30 at the superior court room. They want to talk over the situation and see if someone cannot suggest a way to raise the kale. If everybody says to himself what you are likely to say to yourself, "Stoo hot to go. Let George do it," there won't be anybody there but the janitor and tomorrow morning a transfer wagon will haul that little old franchise of ours down to the office of President Justice with C. O. D. marked on it. Then there won't be any more baseball in Keokuk and you can roam the streets at large during these summer afternoons when everything is dusty and dull and you will find not a thing to do. It don't make any difference whether you have any money to give the club or not. Come out to that meeting tonight and make the directors know that you want to see the team stick around here for the rest of the summer. It will help a lot if you are there and say "I" when some one asks, "DO WE WANT BASEBALL IN KEOKUK?"

PLAYERS' FRAT. TO FIGHT COMMISSION

Relations are Strained Between the Two Organizations Over the Case of Player Kraft. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, July 15.—Relations between the national commission, organized baseball's supreme court, and the players' fraternity were badly strained today as the result of a secret meeting of the fraternity held Sunday at which it is rumored the board of directors voted to go to court again with the moguls of the game. The case in point is that of player Kraft, who was drafted by Brooklyn from a Southern Association team just previous to the fraternity-commission working agreement that made compulsory a waiver route through various classifications for all players released by major or minor leagues. The national commission ordered Kraft to Nashville.

PROTESTED GAME NOT THROWN OUT

Game Between Burlington and Clinton Called in Eighth Not Thrown Out by Justice. Despite press dispatches to the contrary, from Clinton, the protested game at Burlington between the Red Sox and Clinton that was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness has not been thrown out by President Justice. The score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Burlington at the time the game was called but Hough entered a protest just the same, saying that he was entitled to the innings.

New Charter Defeated.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 15.—Cincinnati's proposed new charter providing a small council and centralized government under the federal plan stands defeated today by 6,000 plurality, according to complete returns from yesterday's voting. The recall submitted separately was defeated by 3,500.

Body Left Hanging.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LAKE CORMORANT, Miss., July 15.—Jim Bailey, a negro, was lynched for stealing a mule. He had no relatives to claim the body and the county had no funds to bury it, so the body is still hanging in a tree today.

GUNBOAT SMITH SURE OF WINNING

Georges Carpentier Equally Confident Before Big Heavyweight Fight in London.

ODDS ON CARPENTIER

Frenchman Slight Favorite in Betting—Carpentier's Manager Predicts Knockout in 3 Rounds.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LONDON, July 15.—Primed and ready for their twenty round fight at Olympia tomorrow night, both Gunboat Smith, the American heavyweight, and Georges Carpentier, French champion, today expressed the greatest confidence of victory. Carpentier was given a remarkable reception upon his arrival here. He did only light work today. Carpentier's manager, Des Camps, became so enthusiastic that he predicted Georges would knock Gunboat out in two or three rounds. At Harrow, Smith put in his last work today and refused to be disturbed by the prophecy.

"That will be going some, won't it?" was the only comment of the runner. Betting was at even money today. Those backing Smith are counting on his heavy punch to end the fight in an early round. They do not believe Carpentier will be quick enough to get away from Smith as he has been able to dodge away from the European fighters.

On the other hand the Frenchman's backers point out that Carpentier stayed twenty rounds with Joe Jeannette. He has also demonstrated that he carries a knockout punch with this speed and cleverness. "It will be a hard fight but I am confident of winning," said Carpentier today. "I have been warned of Smith's punch and prepared for it. Tom Kennedy, my sparring partner, knows Smith's style and I have trained to meet it."

"You know it only takes one punch to do the work," said Gunboat. "I have to smile at this talk of my being slow. I will guarantee to move fast enough to keep Carpentier busy. His style of fanning his arms, jumping and prancing won't bother me. I expect to win before the twentieth round."

Tremendous interest has been aroused in the fight and it is expected 20,000 persons will be at the ring side. Carpentier was wildly cheered whenever he appeared today. On arriving, Carpentier entered a carriage, whereupon admiring Frenchmen unhitched the horses and themselves pulled the carriage to a hotel, followed by a cheering throng.

Sporting Views By the Editor

Hi Stebbins says the language used by some of the Burlington players who were put out of the game yesterday was fit for an island or for the top of the power house. One of them told Stebbins that for an umpire he was a pretty fine janitor. At that he got away as well as the regular judges have in some of the games played here this year. Hayden's only kick after the game was that Stebbins did not fine the players instead of putting them out of the game.

The new combination on the infield gave promise yesterday of developing into the strongest combination that Abbott has yet put on the field. Chick McGee, the new shortstop, seems better on ground balls than Hensling while his whip to first is much like that of Whitey's, although perhaps not as accurate. Hensling's arm is the best in the world for the long throw across the infield from third and Whitey seems more at home on the third bag than he did at short.

Weish was slated to fling today's fray. This mound artist has created a good impression on the other members of the team who saw him work while on the road trip. The fact that he was to work today gave early indications of drawing a larger crowd than usual to the game.

YOAKUM GAME BOY, WHITE'S COMMENT

Title Claimant Pays High Tribute to Man He Put Out in Nineteenth Round of Their Fight.

YOAKUM IS OUTCLASSED

Was Battered for Five Successive Rounds by White Before He Finally Took the Count.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] DENVER, Colo., July 15.—"I believe Stanley Yoakum is the greatest, toughest fighter in the world." This was the tribute paid today by Charlie White to the man he knocked out in the nineteenth round of a scheduled twenty round battle here last night.

In boxing, punching ability and ring generalship, White greatly outclassed Yoakum, but the latter showed an almost superhuman endurance which prevented a knockout after he had staggered, groggy, through five successive rounds. During the first ten rounds Yoakum had the better of it, fighting aggressively all the way. In the eleventh, White opened up, from then on it was all White. He scientifically chopped Yoakum's face with his straight left, until it was covered with blood. From the fourteenth round on, White kept landing terrific right swings to Yoakum's jaw, administering terrible punishment. Yoakum staggered blindly, but kept boring in. In the nineteenth White put his opponent down with a right to the jaw, but the Denver boy was on his feet at once and fought another minute before a series of lefts and rights put him down for the count. Nine thousand persons saw the battle and the gross receipts were $12,000. White gets forty per cent and Yoakum $1,000. White will meet Joe Azevedo at San Francisco next month.

and Frank Manahl signed to take his place. Hill's injury is much regretted by his friends around the circuit. He was a promising player and very well liked. The injury will keep him out for at least the rest of the season.

Association magnates are preparing for the trip to Rock Island Friday when the Speed Boys change their name and open at the island city. President Justice, and representatives from each club will be on hand at the meeting and will take in the game. It is believed that Egan will get good support from the fans of the new city despite the fact that they refused to take any stock in the club or to have anything to do with it.

You fans who like to see baseball, don't want to forget about that meeting tonight that decides the future of the game in this city. Whether or not you have any money to contribute to the cause it's up to you to take in the season. Your presence at the meeting will help to convince the directors that there is a real desire here for the game.

Hayden's quest for better pitchers continues. He has just engineered the purchase of Pitcher Culver whom he obtained from the Houston club of the Kansas State league. Burgwald, a shortstop, was also expected to join the Pathfinders today.

But one game now separates the Red Legs from the Waterloo Jays. If the tribe is victorious today and the Jays should be able to win another game, Burlington will lose the lead for the first time this season. Muscatine is but a half a step behind Waterloo and is ready to take up the fight to beat Burlington out of the lead at any time it gets too hot for the Jays. There promises to be a hot fight for the pennant between the Jays and the Muskies if the strength of the remaining teams in the league is not materially changed within a short time.

Last call for the baseball meeting at the superior court room this evening. This is your invitation. Consider yourself invited. Unless a few of you bugs turn out tonight, the franchise will be given to Justice tomorrow morning. Money is only half of what's needed. Your presence at the meeting tonight is the biggest factor.

Weather boarding was torn from the building and thrown over against the next residence on the north. Mrs. Edwards had a narrow escape from death. She had gone to the kitchen to attend to some chickens brought in out of the rain and had just stooped over to remove the cover from the box when the lightning struck. She was but slightly stunned. The room filled with smoke and she thought the house was on fire but this proved to be not the case. It was a narrow escape as the lightning seemed to pass over her and through the door.
