

LAKE SHORE DRIVE WILL BE REPAIRED

Beautiful Boulevard Between This City and Montrose to be Kept in Good Shape.

$2,300 FOR THE WORK

City Agrees to Give $200, County $1,000 and $700 to Come From the Automobile Owners.

Lake shore drive, the beautiful boulevard between this city and Montrose, will be repaired at a cost of about $2,300 this summer. Of the amount to be spent on the drive the city council has agreed to give $200 besides what the city already has spent in the repair of Anzette hill, the county supervisors will give $1,000 and $700 will be raised among automobile owners of this and other cities along the drive.

A meeting of the board of supervisors, the city council, E. A. French and O. B. Towne, the latter representing the industrial association was held at the city hall this morning at the instance of Mr. French for the purpose of deciding how money could be raised to repair the drive.

First Plans Fell Through.

In stating to those present the purpose of the meeting, Mr. French said that at the time the road was built J. P. Allen of the Mississippi River Power company had promised $500 a year from the water power company for the upkeep of the road. At that time it was tentatively agreed that the cost of the upkeep of the road should be paid by the $500 from the water power, $500 from the city council, $500 from the automobile owners and about $700 from the board of supervisors.

It was found recently, however, that the water power company did not feel they should pay anything for the upkeep of the road outside of about $50 for their automobiles. Shortly before the new city administration took office the old council was approached on the matter, but this body preferred to leave the matter to the new council. When the new council first went in it was also approached but wanted to defer the matter until the members had been longer in office.

Requires Special Permission.

That the county does not pay all the cost of caring for the drive is due to the fact that this cost per mile is greater than the law allows the supervisors to spend. The law prohibits their spending over $50 per mile per year without special permission. In giving $1,000 it will be necessary for them to receive special permission from state officials, but they say this can be done in view of the fact that so much more money toward the project comes from other sources.

Pledged for the Future.

Supervisor D. A. Young stated that while the present board is in office, for the next three years, he will promise to appropriate from $1,000 to $1,500 each year for the upkeep of the road. The county engineer will be in charge of the work.

Mr. French said he was confident automobile owners here would be glad to contribute at least $700 for the support of this road. A committee of automobile owners will be named by the industrial association to secure money for the road. This committee will meet tomorrow.

MOOSE MEETING IN MILWAUKEE

Big Crowd Present for Convention and "Howdy Pap" is Universal Greeting.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 27.—Milwaukee became the capital of Moosehood today. "Howdy Pap" became the universal greeting and brilliant regalia will be more common than ordinary clothing. Officers of the organization who arrived today for the national convention of the Moose lodge were confident that 25,000 members would be in the city before two o'clock this afternoon when the first session was to be held. Only 1,500 visitors are delegates to the business session.

According to gossip today San Francisco or Seattle may be chosen for the next convention. San Diego was promised the honor, but the promise may be rescinded. This will not be decided until later in the week. The Moose plunged directly into business this afternoon when committees were appointed and suggestions for legislation were made. This evening there is to be an open meeting to be addressed by Governor F. M. McGovern and Mayor G. A. Bading.

Boat lines have made arrangements for excursions, public swimming beaches will be open to delegates, auto trips are provided and special programs are arranged for all parks and most all other orders of the city have thrown open their club rooms to the visitors.

$100 for a Few Words.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 28.—"For the love of Mike, give me a drink." This demand shouted in a rich baritone, proved to the police that Walter Boyd, posing as a deaf and dumb beggar could really talk when occasion demanded. Boyd was arrested when he attempted to collect alms in a school for the deaf. His yell cost him $100.

Finds City Water In Good Condition

Tests of the city water supply just made show that although the water has a slight color it is in good condition. The color is due to organic matter which can not be entirely removed. This is believed to be the source of complaints that have been made regarding the water supply, according to Dr. C. A. Dimond, city water inspector.

Recently Manager O. B. Towne, of the industrial association, wrote to Mayor Moorhead stating that he had heard many complaints about the water and asking if a regular analysis is made. Mayor Moorhead turned the matter over to Dr. Dimond whose report in the matter has just been received. The report made by Dr. Dimond is based on tests made each day from July 19 to July 25, inclusive.

CAILLAUX TRIAL STILL GOES ON

A Third Duel is Predicted as Result of Reference to Brenstein.

[By Wm. Phillip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

PARIS, July 27.—Partially recovered from the collapse of Saturday, when the love letters of her husband were read in court, Mme. Caillaux today faced the closing ordeal of her trial for the murder of Gaston Calmette, editor of Le Figaro.

Looking wan and weak, Mme. Caillaux was able to appear only after hypodermics had been administered by her physician. She swooned twice Sunday and a doctor was in attendance on her all day. She sank wearily into her chair when she entered the court room and did not take the keen interest in the preliminaries she did last week. An enormous crowd jammed the room. Great throngs were outside the palace of justice, eagerly awaiting the next sensation.

Attorneys following the trial today predicted the acquittal of Mme. Caillaux or a verdict making it possible to release her on suspended sentence under the first offense act. Members of the jury have received letters threatening them with death if they free the accused woman, it is declared today. French juries are not locked up during the progress of big trials and though they are not supposed to discuss the case which they are hearing, they are permitted to return to their homes at the end of each session.

Dr. Eugene Doyen was the first witness called today. He testified that Calmette's wounds were not necessarily fatal; that with proper medical attendance, the editor would have lived. If the hemorrhage had been stopped by means of hemostatic plinches when Calmette was taken to the clinic, he would have been on his feet in two weeks time, the witness asserted.

A third duel growing out of the trial of Mme. Caillaux is expected today, following a bitter altercation between the husband of the prisoner and Henry Bernstein, noted playwright, author and intimate friend of Calmette whom Mme. Caillaux slew. Caillaux on the witness stand recalled Bernstein's desertion from the army and the author leaping to his feet in the court room made a heated reply.

FROM OBSCURITY TO GOVERNOR'S CHAIR

Rise of James E. Ferguson of Texas Who Won the Democratic Nomination.

DALLAS, Texas, July 27.—From obscurity to governor of Texas was the rise of James E. Ferguson, who returns showed today had defeated Thomas H. Beall, prohibitionist candidate for the democratic nomination for governor by about 40,000 majority in Saturday's primaries. Ferguson had never been heard of in politics when he opened his campaign last March. His primary nomination is equivalent to election.

Submission of a statewide prohibition amendment was defeated by about 25,000 majority. All of the democratic district congressmen appear to have been nominated except Beall, who was not a candidate. Congressman-at-large Garrett is not certain of renomination on the face of incomplete early returns.

Strangled on a Bean.

CHICAGO, July 27.—A big wax bean lodged in the throat of two-year-old Robert Cockman, caused his death today. The boy strangled to death before a physician could be secured.

Report Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Secretary of the Navy Davis will send to the senate tomorrow testimony in the investigation of Ensign Wm. Richardson, charged by Correspondent Fred L. Boat with applying the law of flight to Mexicans at Vera Cruz. At the same time he will make this public.

Thirteen on Board.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 27.—Seven persons were injured, two probably fatally when a street car rammed a motor truck carrying thirteen passengers at Sycamore and Johnson streets today.

Negro Murdered Captured.

MURPHYSBORO, Ill., July 27.—McKinley Hinkins, the negro who killed Louis Bradley when trainmen tried to force three negroes from a car, was captured during the night. Two of his companions are also held here. Engineer Barrett, who was wounded during the fight, is improving.

Their Funerals Tomorrow.

KANE, Pa., July 27.—Rocking the boat and spilling water were two diversions of John Horsecar, 29, and John Cardens, 27, who went boating on Crystal Springs lake. Neither could swim. Funerals will be held tomorrow in their homes in James City.

Her Mind is Blank.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Police are today attempting to solve the mystery surrounding a twenty-year old girl, who remained unconscious from Saturday until early today after fainting in a north Clark street restaurant. The girl gave her name as Dollie Stanley, declaring she left Detroit, Mich., six weeks ago but as to how she got to Chicago or where she had been staying, her mind is a blank.

Busy Month of October.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The first intimation from an official source that President Wilson will take an active part in the coming campaign, came direct from the president today. He was asked to go to Boston to attend a pure food convention October 5 to 31. He said that he would be very glad to accept, but he expected to be very busy during October, which was interpreted to mean that he will take the stump.

The president is hopeful that congress will get through by September 12. He will then go to Cornish for a three weeks' rest and immediately thereafter make certain speeches. While there will be no swing about the circle, the president's trip will take him into the middle west and south.

What Every Mother Wants to Know About Her Baby

BY ANNA STEESE RICHARDSON

Director of the Better Babies Bureau of the Woman's Home Companion

NO. 2.—INFANT FEEDING IN SUMMER.

(These articles are based on questions asked by mothers who have turned to the Woman's Home Companion for assistance in the difficult and delicate task of rearing their babies. Each question presented and answered here was asked not by one but by many mothers. They represent the general questions and problems of the average mother. Mrs. Richardson is entirely willing to answer personally any further questions that readers may wish to send her.)

1—Why is the bottle-fed baby more prone to summer complaint than the breast-fed baby?

Because mother's milk is not exposed to bacteria, while cow's milk is. Milk which stands absorbs germs. Mother's milk passes directly from the breast to the baby's stomach. Cow's milk is handled, often by dirty hands.

2—How can the nursing mother protect her baby from summer complaint?

By keeping her own digestion in good condition. She must not over-eat foods that cause indigestion, cramp or dysentery. She must not nurse her baby when overheated. She should nurse the baby regularly and not so frequently as in cool weather. She must not give the young baby water to drink. After six months she may quench his thirst with water which has been boiled and cooled, not fed. She must never let him sip ice water, lemonade, cold tea or other drinks which she enjoys.

3—What precautions should be taken for the bottle fed baby?

Know the source of milk supply. If you live in a city, buy certified milk, or the best bottled milk obtainable. Never buy milk from open cans in groceries or dairies.

4—Shall I order milk from one cow?

Milk from a herd of healthy cows is better. Milk from a single cow is affected by what the cow eats, its slightest ailment. Baby ailments have been traced to the milk which came from a cow that was chased by a dog and became overheated.

5—How should milk be prepared?

With infinite care and cleanliness. It should be cooled quickly after milking, shipped quickly to your door and then prepared immediately in vessels used for no other purpose. Baby experts agree on cow's milk, with the cream stirred in, malt sugar and boiled water, as the best substitute for mother's milk. If the bowels are loose, barely water can be substituted for plain boiled water. Directly the food is prepared, it is poured into bottles, each holding a single feeding. These bottles are stoppered with clean absorbent cotton or cotton wool, set in a wire basket or rack made for the purpose and placed near ice.

6—What proportion of milk and water should be given babies at different ages?

The department of health, city of New York, issues the following formula for general use: Baby 3 days to 2 weeks, 1 tablespoon fresh bottled milk, 3 tablespoons barley water. Start with 2 tablespoons at each feeding and increase gradually. Feed every two hours. Baby 2 weeks to 3 months, 2 tablespoons milk, 4 tablespoons barley water. Feed every two or three hours, gradually lengthening the time between feedings to the latter amount. Not more than 8 feedings in 24 hours. Baby 3 to 6 months, milk 3 ounces or 6 tablespoons, barley water, 8 ounces or 6 tablespoons. Feed every three hours, 6 feedings in 24 hours. Baby 6 to 9 months, 6 ounces or 12 tablespoons of milk, 3 ounces or 6 tablespoons of barley water. Feed every four hours. Five feedings in 24 hours, the last at 10 p. m. Baby 9 to 12 months, 8 ounces or 12 tablespoons of milk, 2 ounces or 4 tablespoons of barley water. Feed every 4 hours. Last feeding 10 p. m. When whole milk, boiled water and malt sugar are combined for feeding a very young baby, mix four parts of milk, sixteen parts of water and one part of sugar. Gradually, the amount of water is decreased, the amount of milk is increased, but the amount of malt sugar remains practically the same.

7—If modified milk does not agree with my baby, what may I substitute?

Nothing, without consulting your physician. Never take the advice of neighbors. Your baby's life depends upon his receiving the right sort of food.

WIDOW IS STILL CENTRAL FIGURE

Girl Too Prostrated to Attend the Funeral of Her Husband on Sunday.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] HAVERSTRAW, N. Y., July 27.—Beautiful twenty-year-old Mrs. Anna Newman was still the central figure in the tragedy that has jarred this town to its foundations today when her father, Wm. V. Cleary was slated to be arraigned on a charge of murdering her eighteen-year-old husband, Eugene H. Newman.

Recognized by both prosecution and defense attorneys as the most important witness, the girl, prostrated at her father's home, refuses to make any statement. She was unable to even attend Newman's funeral yesterday. She was not expected at her father's hearing today.

By testifying that Newman had wronged her before their marriage and that her father was aware of it, the girl will save her parent from the electric chair, is the belief of many. That Cleary lured Newman to his office the day of the shooting is a new clew that the district attorney's office is investigating today. Telephone calls from the town clerk's office, where the tragedy occurred, form the basis of this probe. Search for the murder weapon also is being made. The district attorney expects to prove that Cleary purchased his weapon a day or so before the murder and hopes in that way to show that the act was premeditated.

Walking unsteadily and apparently extremely nervous, William V. Cleary, today appeared in court and waived a preliminary hearing on the charge of murdering his son-in-law of six days, Eugene H. Newman. He was turned back to the sheriff and will be held in jail without bail until the session of the grand jury.

Packing the walks around the little town hall and the corridors of the building, a crowd of several hundred curious, gathered to get a glimpse of the political boss who had killed the son of a life-time friend as a result of his runaway marriage with his daughter. Friends of Cleary bunched about him as he walked into the court house, preventing newspaper photographers from "snapping" him. The entire court proceedings took less than five minutes.

LATEST MARKET QUOTATIONS

United Press Association Telegraph Market Report Over Gate City Landed Wire.

Grain Review.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, July 27.—Wheat jumped 1/4 to 2 1/4 in the early trading today, excited buying following sharp advances at Liverpool that were based on the war scare. Later in the day more reassuring news was carried to this country, both in news dispatches and private cables and the market suffered a reaction, losing about one-half the early gains.

Corn prices were sharply higher at the start also, benefited to a considerable extent by the war talk but toward noon reports of rains in the southern portion of the belt where complaints of drought had been made, caused selling and prices dropped until July was even with and the other months only 1/4 to 1/2 over Saturday's closing figures.

Oats moved upward at the start in sympathy with the other grains, but slumped when the break came in wheat and corn.

Provisions were higher on account of higher hog prices.
