BUNNIES ROMP ON BOYS AGAIN 9-4

Crowd of 1,800 Cedar Rapids Bugs Look on While Indian Invaders Are Repulsed.

RILEY DID SLAB DUTY

Hits Were Evened up 10-10 But the Bunnies Bunched Blows While Indians Were Left On.

[Special to The Gate City.]

CEDAR RAPIDS, Aug. 9.—Continuing the pace they have maintained against Keokuk throughout the present season, the Bunnies closed their 1914 performance with the Indians Sunday afternoon by taking the final game of the last Keokuk series, making a clean sweep of the series and tightening up by one notch the hold they have on third place where they have been since Saturday night.

And the game Sunday was much similar to those of the preceding two games of the series, being a walk-away for the home club, the final count standing nine to four, although the visitors must be credited for playing the best game of the series yesterday.

Riley, a flinger recently secured by Manager Sweet from the Kansas State league, was picked for mound duty on Sunday, and it is supposed that it was due entirely to his lack of previous experience against the Bunnies that enabled him to make the best showing of the four flingers who worked here during the series. However, whatever reason, the fact nevertheless remains that he was the best shown here, and it might also be mentioned that his mates got into the game in better form than they have done at any previous time during the series and cut their total number of errors down to a paltry trio, the while they collected ten safe bingles.

Riley was opposed by Mellinger, who, although the box score fails to show it, was given much the same support that he has been given in a majority of the games he has pitched, the lack of the usual number of errors being offset by a superfluity of bonehead plays that prolonged the contest unduly, and also served to permit some unnecessary tallies on the part of the visiting delegation. And Molly's failure to show his usual class was assisted to a large degree by the work of Empire Genins who evidently had forgotten that the base is not a circular object, and accordingly failed to credit Lefty with certain numerous tosses that nicked the corners of the plate but which were for balls instead of strikes.

In the effort to give the 1,800 fans who were present, full value for their money, the players on both clubs did some fancy stick work during the Sabbath matinee, three homers being clouted during the afternoon. Two of the three were made by the Bunnies. Lund, leading off in this phase of the game with a drive to the far corner of the right garden with a blow that sent two runs in ahead of him in the third inning, and on which he got credit for the circuit drive through a decided close decision at the plate.

The second of the homers by the Bunnies was made by Long Jawn Fulton who cracked one clear over the Stark sign in centerfield, thereby establishing himself as the first 1914 Bunny to hammer the ball over the fence. His, however, came when there was no one to precede him in crossing the platter.

The visitor's homer was cracked out by Wetzel, Dutch the Younger, who took occasion in the seventh, as the first man up, to shoot one which also cleared the Stark sign in center.

Aside from the home-run features, which have already been given their proper amount of credit, and the honors about which the less said the better, that was all there was to the game which is not shown by the box score, and it follows:

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery.
"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B. W. Hill of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

Committee Conference.
General Secretary Burns has returned from Burlington where he attended a conference of a committee of general secretaries appointed at the Lake Geneva conference to prepare a meeting of the general secretaries of the state to be held at Ames, Iowa, on September 6 and 7. J. B. McNeill of Muscatine, chairman of the committee presided at the Burlington gathering.

A program was prepared, subject to approval. Previous to the meeting, the secretaries had been asked on what topic they were vitally interested in connection with the work of the association. The program was formed in view of the answers received and prepared to touch such topic as was suggested, which will make it a practical and not a theoretical program and will result in an interesting, entertaining and instructive state conference. The program has been presented to the proper authorities for approval and the result will be known in a few days when the program will be given publicity.

NEW DRY DOCK HAS BEEN PUT IN USE

Two Barges Already Have Been Put on Ways in This New Plant.

The new government dry dock is being used. One of the fleet of government barges was repaired in the new dock last week, and another barge is now on the ways and is being gone over by the dry dock force.

The permanent buildings which are being erected on the dry dock grounds are fast nearing completion and the dock will be practically complete within a very short space of time.

The buildings are painted white and have a dark roof. When finally completed and turned over by the Mississippi River Power company to the government, the property along the river will be very complete and present a most artistic view.

COMPANY L OFF FOR CAMP DODGE

Members of Local Company Took Special Train for Des Moines at Five O'clock This Morning.

NOT ALL ARE ON TRIP

Some Unable to Get Away But Keokuk Will Be Well Represented, Nevertheless.

At 5 o'clock this morning the members of Company L, I. N. G., left on a special train for Camp Dodge where they will take part in the annual state encampment of the Iowa militia for the next ten days. Not all members of the company were able to get away for the trip, but there was a big representation from Keokuk.

At Camp Dodge.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 10.—Marching troops, braying bands, incoming trains with hundreds of olive gray garbed militiamen. Europe had nothing on Des Moines today when 4,200 Iowa national guardsmen arrived and marched to Camp Dodge north of here for a ten day tour of duty in camp, under instruction of regular army officers. There are forty-eight companies of infantry from forty Iowa towns, four bands and dashing field and staff officers without number, all under the command of General H. A. Allen of Cedar Rapids, Iowa's only general of the line.

Before the men came to camp each was vaccinated to prevent typhoid fever, the new wrinkle which makes the regular army immune from the disease which killed thousands during the civil and Spanish American wars. The camp ground owned by the state and government has been placed in fine condition, even water mains having been laid, the water being pumped from the Des Moines river, above the camp.

The men were busy today pitching their conical tents, forming for muster, preparing kitchens and getting ready for business. Guards were counted for the first time and General Allen announced his order of calls for the week. The rest of the program for the ten day tour of duty is briefly as follows:

August 11—Company drill, extended order, battalion drill, close order.
August 12—Companies and battalions consolidated to form war strength companies, following by company, battalion and regimental drill.
August 13—Company drill, fire control, blank cartridges, battalion combat blank cartridges, companies in war strength as on August 12.
August 14, 16, 17, 18—War maneuvers, peace strength, problem to be announced later.
August 18—Visit of paymaster.
August 19—Breaking camp, entraining for home stations.
On Sunday, August 15, there will be church services and in the afternoon the four combined bands will give a concert.
A detachment of regulars from Fort Porter, N. Y., arrived last week and is in camp to show the militia men how real soldiers conduct themselves in camp.

Money Back in Banks.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The gold and silver from the treasure ship Kron Prinsessin Cecelie arrived here early today. It included $10,000,000 in gold and $3,000,000 in silver bars. Forty men constituted a guard for this shipment and special guards were stationed at the Grand Central to watch its unloading and convey it to Wall street for distribution back to the shippers. The Kron Prinsessin Cecelie is still at Bar Harbor, where she put in for fear of capture by British cruisers.

Gave Him A New Stomach

"There are thousands of sufferers from stomach and liver troubles whom I wish I could meet and tell what Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets would do for them," writes E. M. Youngpeters, editor of the Sun, Lakewood, Ohio. "One bottle of the tablets would end the trouble for most of them. I suffered intensely after eating and never felt well, and no treatment or medicine I tried ever seemed to do me any good until reading an advertisement for Chamberlain's Tablets in my own paper. I tried a bottle. The first few doses gave me surprising relief, and the second bottle seemed to give me a new stomach and perfect good health. I didn't think anything would give me such a complete cure. They are wonderful."

WHEN MONEY WAS A BURDEN

Next to Impossible to Spend Anything in Paris Unless One Had the Correct Change.

BRIEF FINANCIAL PANIC

Twenty Dollar Bills Might Just as Well Be Checks for a Million at the Cafes.

[By Wm. Phillip Simms, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

PARIS, Aug. 1 (By mail to New York)—Mark Twain with his $10,000 bank note which he found impossible to spend, had nothing on me. I came near starving in the city of Paris, the city of paramount cafes and restaurants, with my pockets lined with $20 bills, or rather with 100 franc notes because nobody had change.

It was Thursday, July 30, the day the money panic struck Paris. The officials didn't call it a panic and probably would have expelled from French territory any correspondent sending out the news of it as such. But by whatever name one calls it, it fell so suddenly on the city that few knew it had fallen until caught tightly under its stomach-flattening weight. Quite serenely I left the office at 7 o'clock after a day of war news, rumors of French mobilization and the arrest of an editor who printed too much news. I took a seat on the terrace fronting the cafe Cardinal, on the Grand boulevard. It is one of the biggest in the city.

I had an appetizer and a cigar and asked to have one of my 100 franc notes changed. The restaurant was changing nothing higher than Louis ($4) pieces. I barely had the change, but made the payment, scraping my pockets of the last sou.

Then I went to Le Pettit Riche, a fair sized restaurant in the Rue Le Peletier. Being rather hungry I ordered a fairly imposing meal. The waiter respectfully inquired: "Has monsieur the money to pay for his order?" I bog Monsieur's pardon, but has he seen this?" and he pointed out a line in red ink at the top of the bill of fare. It read: "Customers not provided with the correct change will not be served." There was nothing to it. I had to get up and go. I did not have the change.

I found the same thing at the next restaurant I went to; Hunbin's, in the Rue Duport; and at Gauciat's in the Rue De Richelieu; and at the third and fourth and fifth eating houses.

All the time my hunger was growing. Then I tried more presumptuous restaurant; cafe Riche, cafe Viennois, the cafe American, the cafe De where I was met by the same thing, a conspicuous sign reading "larger sums than $4 (twenty franc) not changed here; or customers not provided with change will not be served." It was a desperate situation. Nor was it solved until I met a fellow correspondent and the two of us went to the cafe De Paris and held a $10 dinner between us. There we got in change for a 100 franc note, a dinner and a 50 franc note.

The next day at the bank I was quietly, almost secretly, given a fifty franc note and ten silver five-franc pieces in exchange for a 100 franc bill. Though the silver almost pulled my pants off, I was never so proud in my life.

Later I learned that housewives either had to buy on credit or go without market produce, small merchants being caught without a particle of change. Department stores did a tremendous business in petty articles, purchasers invariably tendering paper money in order to get the change. The unprecedented situation was largely due to the thrifty French changing their paper into gold and silver and salting it away against war times. The change shortage lasted until the Bank of France put out five and twenty franc notes. Then came a rush to obtain the divisional money. Lines, eight and ten deep, squares long, waited all day at the change windows. Women by the thousands were there. Many sat on camp stools and hundreds brought their lunch along.

France Not Excited.

[By Warrington Dawson, United Press Staff Correspondent.]
PARIS, Aug. 1.—(By mail to New York.)—France was never so calm, so sure of herself as at present. The hoary idea that the French are a highly excitable, easily riled people must give way to the new one of a race which faces a national danger with cool, calm courage. In all Europe from the start of the war menace until today, France has been the nation most serene. Street demonstrations have been practically nil. Loud talk of a bombastic sort is totally unheard. The soldiers one sees are gay; the men one meets in the streets are stepping along buoyantly; the crowds are highly interested in every extra edi-
