

COMPANY L MAN WAS PROSTRATED

H. G. Reddick Overcome by Heat During Maneuvers at Camp Dodge Yesterday.

REGULARS GIVE DRILL

United States Soldiers From Fort Porter Will Show Guards New Equipment Today.

H. G. Reddick, of Company L, became prostrated under the hot sun after three hours of stiff drilling at Camp Dodge yesterday where the Iowa militia is holding its encampment, according to a story appearing in Des Moines papers today.

The following is taken from the Register and Leader: CAMP DODGE, Iowa, Aug. 12.—Troops of the Iowa national guard this morning formed in battle line and drilled as under actual war conditions.

Three hours of stiff drill work in intricate maneuvering in the hot sun was meted out to the soldiers, but they bore up well. H. G. Reddick, of Company L, of the Fifty-fourth regiment became prostrated, but he soon recovered under the care of the medical staff.

A spectacular feature of the drill this morning was the final regimental review by the combined Fifty-fourth and Fifty-sixth regiments. The columns were in perfect order and led by the Otumwa regimental band, elicited cheers of spectators as they passed down the field.

The official muster completed this morning shows that there are 214 officers and 2,571 men assembled in camp.

An exhibition drill by a company of the Twenty-ninth United States Infantry will be a feature of the events tomorrow. The soldiers who come from Fort Porter, N. Y., will drill with the new equipment which Uncle Sam is now introducing into the army.

Members of Company B, Fifty-sixth regiment of Carroll, which demurred when ordered to report for the state encampment and who were brought to the encampment by Maj. R. H. Philpott of Fort Dodge, resented the imputation that they are under technical arrest. The company, however, is still under charge of Major Philpott who arrested them at Carroll, and Privates Coyne and Laver who persisted in holding out against the order for mobilization, are awaiting court martial. Private Laver is in the guard house at hard labor.

Members of the company gave as the reason for their ignoring the summons, that their captain, Donald A. Ogilvie had tendered his resignation and the resignation had not been accepted. The whole company became disorganized through the difficulties, and it was almost impossible to get all the men together, they explained.

FIRE AT HOME OF GREEN VERMILION

Small Blaze on Second Floor Last Night Burns Mattress and Bed Clothes.

Fire broke out in the home of Green Vermilion, 816 Fulton street at 10:45 last evening, there being no one in the house at the time. Neighbors who saw the smoke sent in an alarm. The fire was on the second floor of the house, a mattress and some bed clothes being burned. The fire is believed to have been started by sparks from a cigar which a young man had been smoking there several hours before.

Another alarm was sent in at 5:45 this morning when a shed in the alley between Carroll and Paleau burned down. It is believed this fire started from a small fire some children had built in the shed the evening before. The damage amounted to about $30.

WEST POINT FAIR LIST IS READY

Premiums Are Announced For Big Exposition Which Will Be Held September 22 to 25 at West Point, Iowa.

BREAD CONTESTS AGAIN

Awards Offered on This and for Special Corn and Special Cattle Show —Big Prizes Are Put Up.

The annual premium list for the West Point fair, which will be held at West Point, September 22, 23, 24 and 25 has been issued. This is the forty-third premium list of this popular fair. The Keokuk merchants no doubt will make a similar trip to West Point as they are making to Donnellson today. There will be special trains, also for the big fair.

The officers of the fair for 1914 are: Geo. E. Rogers, president, Weaver; Theo. Brinck, vice-president, West Point; John Walljasper, secretary, West Point; T. J. Lampe, treasurer, West Point; Theo. Vonderhaar, superintendent of privileges, stalls and chief of police, West Point; John Lachman, marshal, Weaver.

The directors are O. B. Walljasper, West Point; J. W. Stewart, West Point; W. R. Timpe, Fort Madison; J. W. Blackford, Hillsboro; Wm. J. Francey, Lowell; Henry Jansen, West Point; Joseph Carver, Primrose; Gilbert Lee, Fort Madison.

The executive committee is composed of Geo. E. Rogers, Theo. Brinck, T. J. Lampe, J. W. Stewart, John Walljasper.

Special premiums are being offered in the corn show class and Wednesday Sept. 23, has been set apart as a day for the corn show. Special premiums on corn are offered and the special bread contest is to be renewed. It is believed that these special attractions will be enough to guarantee the high class of the West Point fair.

Tuesday will be a day of preparation Wednesday will be the day for the corn show and the baseball games and Thursday will see the cattle and horse show, in the morning and a big race program in the afternoon. The 2.27 trot, 2.14 class pace and a running race of 1/2 mile are the events for the afternoon race program on Thursday.

Friday afternoon there will be a grand parade of all premium animals and the 2.18 trot, and 1.25 pace with a half mile running race will occupy the race enthusiasts.

IOWA WOMAN TELLS OTHERS

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Carried Her Safely Through Change of Life.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—"At the Change of Life the doctor said I would have to give up my work and take my bed for some time as there was no help for me but to lie still. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and kept up my work and now I am over the change and that is all I took. It was better for me than all the doctor's medicines I tried. Many people have no faith in patent medicines but I know this is good."—Mrs. E. J. RICKETS, 354 8th Avenue, West, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dizziness, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis. If there are any complications you don't understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Here's Primer of War

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 13.—The National Geographical society intends to make public from time to time in the course of the European war a "primer" on the war's geography for the benefit of Americans. Here is the first one: Colmer—A town in Alsace, on the main line from Strasbourg to Basel, about forty miles from the former city. It is the seat of government of upper Alsace, and the supreme court of Alsace-Lorraine sits there. The population is approximately 50,000, and the people are employed mainly in the textile industry, sugar making and machinery factories. Around the city there are rich vineyards and orchards.

In 1476 it took part in the struggle against Charles the Bold, was taken by the Swedes in the Thirty Years war, and from them taken by the French three years later. Under the treaty of Westphalia the French released it, but again in 1673 re-occupied it and dismantled its fortifications, which now serve as pleasant promenades. It passed with Alsace-Lorraine to Germany in 1871.

From Liege to Namur.

From Liege to Namur—The valley of the Meuse from Liege to Namur is picturesque and attractive and is densely populated, even for Belgium, which is the most densely populated country on earth. There are many bold cliffs and ruined castles bordering it, while innumerable thriving villages and rich pasture fields vie with one another in making a beautiful landscape. Huy, a fortified place, has a citadel rising in terrace from the river, and defensive works hewn out of the solid rock. Huy is fourteen miles from Liege and twenty-four from Namur. Here Peter the Hermit was buried, and the ruins of the abbey he built upon his return from the crusades are still pointed out. There are also many mining and manufacturing towns in the Meuse valley, between Liege and Namur.

Esch and Breisach Described.

Esch-on-the-Alzette—A town of about 18,000 inhabitants just off the main road from Liege to Luxemburg, with iron mines and factories. It is to be distinguished from Esch-on-the-Sauer, an unimportant place not far away, which is also called Esch-in-the-Hole. Breisbach—A town in Germany, with a population of about 4,000, in the grand duchy of Baden, on the south bank of the Rhine. It is on the railroad connecting Freiburg with Colmer. Across the river, connected by a bridge, is Neubreisach, with the fort of Mortier commanding it. Breisach has figured in many wars.

Until the middle of the eighteenth century it was a strongly fortified place. It was called "the cushion and the key" of the German empire. It resisted successfully the Swedes in the thirty years' war, but after a memorable siege and defense surrendered to Duke Bernhard in 1633. It had numerous vicissitudes thereafter, its fortifications being alternately razed and rebuilt, until it was made a part of Baden. It was bombarded severely in the Franco-Prussian war.

Neubreisach Strategic Point.

Neubreisach—A place built in the form of a hexagon and of great strategic strength. In time of peace it has a garrison of 2,300 men. It was fortified by Vaughan. In the Franco-Prussian war it was bombarded for eight days and then surrendered.

Lake Constance—An immense reservoir of the Rhine, 207 square miles in area, about 40 miles long and 7 1/2 miles wide.

The Vosges—A mountain range of central Europe, extending from Basel to Mainz, a distance of 150 miles. The southern portion has been the frontier between France and Germany since the Franco-Prussian war. No railway crosses these mountains between Sarre and Belfort.

TO SAVE EYES

Is the Object of This Free Prescription—Try it if Your Eyes Give You Trouble.

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that every one should use: 5 grains Optona (1 tablet), 2 ounces Water.

Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Optona system keeps the eyes clean, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredient which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Wilkinson & Co., or any drugist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.

Lille a French Stronghold.

Lille—Where Lille thread comes from. The chief town of the department of the north of France, with 210,000 inhabitants. It is a fortress of the first class, with a citadel said to be Vauban's masterpiece. The city is situated on the Deule river, with which numerous canals are connected. The present fortifications there were largely built in 1858.

Lille was founded before the middle of the eleventh century by Count Baldwin IV. It was held successively by the Austrians and Spanish, being taken from the latter by Louis XIV. in 1667. During the war of succession it was besieged by the Duke of Marlborough and surrendered. Under the treaty of Utrecht it was incorporated with France.

Selle River and Lemberg.

Selle river—A tributary of the Mosel, which in turn flows into the Rhine. Lemberg—The capital of Galicia, Austria, not far from the Russian frontier. The fourth city of the dual monarchy. It is situated on the small river Pelter, an affluent of the Bug, in a valley in the Sarmatian plateau. It is composed of an inner town and four suburbs. The inner town was formerly fortified, but the fortifications were razed in 1811. The population is about 175,000, of whom approximately 80 per cent are Poles and 10 per cent Germans.

KAISER SEEKING SOME ASSISTANCE

Is Doing His Best to Get Greece and Other Nations to Help Him Out.

By Henry Wood, United Press Staff Correspondent. ROME, Aug. 12.—(Delayed)—The Kaiser is making a supreme effort in the courts of Greece, Bulgaria and Romania to have these nations side with Germany and Austria in the present war. This is admitted in official circles here where the negotiations of the Kaiser's representatives are being closely followed. That the Balkans must inevitably be drawn into the war is considered certain here. But it is unlikely they will line up entirely for the Kaiser. Greece and Turkey must inevitably fight, but the latter will range itself on the side of the Kaiser while Greece will aid England. Partial mobilization orders by Bulgaria may cause trouble. It has proclaimed a state of siege and the reserves are being called to the colors.

FRIGHTENED ANIMAL CAUGHT ON THE RUN

About 9 o'clock this morning a horse attached to a meat-market wagon came dashing in North Fifth street and when nearing Main street, Constable Aus. Hollowell, with hero-sparks flashing from his eye, made a sudden dash toward the frightened animal and before reaching Main street, the doughty constable, preserver of the peace, had a firm grasp upon one of the reins, and the horse was safely in check; with no damage resulting from the runaway. It was "a good catch."
