3,500 in Paris.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] PARIS, Aug. 18.—But 3,500 Americans are in Paris today, according to estimates. It is believed those remaining may soon be able to leave London. Two weeks ago there were at least 7,500 Americans in the French capital but they have been pouring from the country daily and most of them reached London and have taken passage, or will sail within the next two weeks for America.

The number of American volunteers to fight with the French army is growing daily. Andre Lesourd, an officer in the reserves who is drilling the Americans, said there had been 200 enlistments today and more are expected. William Benjamin Thaw has volunteered for service in the French army and turned over his high powered aeroplane to the government. Stephenson MacGregor, the American aviator has also enlisted and with Thaw will probably be assigned to the aviation corps.

SEITZ IS BOUND OVER ON HEARING

Justice Leindecker Puts Him Under $1,000 Bonds to Await Action of Grand Jury in September Term.

STATE PRESENTS CASE

Strong Chain of Evidence Including Letter Is Presented—Defense Doesn't Show Hand.

Irvin Seitz, charged with robbery, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury this morning, following his preliminary hearing in the court of John Leindecker, justice of the peace. The state presented its case through County Attorney McManus. Judge F. T. Hughes, counsel for Seitz, said he would not present any evidence. Justice Leindecker then ordered Seitz put under bonds of $1,000.

The first witness at the hearing this morning was Conway Armstrong, the colored boy, whose confession a few weeks ago, led to the interrogation of Seitz and his subsequent arrest. Armstrong said that he was sitting in the barn of the Taber house, reading, when Seitz came up to him and asked for a drink. He said he quizzed him about his work there and said he wanted to see him. Armstrong said that Seitz met him again, and on the afternoon of May 15, suggested that it would be a good trick to pull off the little job, which had been explained in other meetings. Armstrong said. He said Seitz asked him if he had a partner and he said he did not. Seitz is said by Armstrong then to have said that Ben Pyles was all right. Armstrong said he met Pyles and they went down to the Taber house to watch their chance.

He then related the trip through the house, entering from a basement door, going into the bed rooms where they found the jewels. He said after getting the jewels they boarded a street car, getting on at different corners. The next morning, he said, he went to Seitz's house. He told of giving the jewelry to Seitz, and described the jewelry.

Meetings With Seitz

Armstrong said he met Seitz in the park at another time. He told of getting $15 from Seitz and of Seitz telling him he would mail a letter to a man in Hot Springs, J. C. Bohl, and of what was in the letter. This letter was to be mailed from Fort Madison. Armstrong said. Armstrong said he got $20 from Seitz, presumably his share of the draft from Hot Springs. Later he said Seitz borrowed $25.

On cross examination, Judge Hughes asked Armstrong how he knew about the jewels, and he said the housemaid showed them to him last August. When asked why he did it, he said he guessed she wanted to show what nice jewelry Mrs. Taber had. He said he had no intention of taking the jewels then.

E. Carroll Taber was next called and told about the movements of the household that night. He and his wife left the house at a quarter to eight, he said, and he returned at nine o'clock to get some fruit from the ice box, but didn't go upstairs, and an hour later when both returned, he found a jewel box in the hall, and when they noticed that the mattress had been turned back, his wife

Simple Way to End Dandruff

Stop Falling Hair and Itching Scalp.

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need) apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy, every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have. You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, and glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. If you value your hair, you should get rid of dandruff at once, for nothing stops the hair so quickly. It only destroys the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it.

looked in the laundry bags and saw that the jewelry was gone.

Mr. Taber described the jewelry, said he had not seen any of it since the day of the robbery. When asked by Judge Hughes if he had any idea where it was, he said he did, that he thought it might be in Hot Springs, Ark.

Letter is Identified. Chief Kenney when put on the stand told of sending for Seitz one evening in July. He said Seitz denied having sent any diamonds to Bohl at Hot Springs for over a year. Chief Kenney then identified a letter which had been written to J. C. Bohl, Hot Springs, Ark., and which had been registered and mailed from Fort Madison, and had Seitz's name on the envelope. The letter was of one or two lines, simply stating diamonds were enclosed. There was a P. S. on the letter saying "Many Thanks."

This letter was shown to Seitz by County Attorney McManus that night at the station, the chief stated, and then Seitz said he got the diamonds from a friend in Omaha. When asked to divulge the name of this friend, Chief Kenney said Seitz told him he didn't think he had to tell them.

Wilson Corroborates Chief Judge Hughes wanted to know if this was the third degree. Chief Kenney replied that there might be such a thing in cities but not in Keokuk. In reply to Mr. McManus' question, he said there were no knives or talk, and that it was not until after he had talked that they arrested him.

William Wilson corroborated the chief's testimony about the conversation in the police station, and identified the letter from Seitz to Bohl. At the conclusion of his testimony, the state submitted its case without argument, Judge Hughes, for the defense, said he had nothing to say, and the justice delivered his decision.

The original draft was secured a day or two ago from the bank and is in possession of the state together with the letter which was introduced in the hearing today.

CZAR INTENDS TO GO TO THE FRONT

As Soon as He Can Figure Out Just Where He Would be Most Needed.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 18.—The Russian cavalry is in action along miles of the Prussian and Austrian frontiers. The entire cavalry forces of the nation have been pushed to the front to prevent raids by either the Germans or the Austrians while the infantry was being mobilized. As a result, it is stated that there have been numerous skirmishes in which heavy losses were sustained by the enemy but that none of them has assumed the importance of a general engagement. Meanwhile the mobilization for all practical purposes is completed. En route to Moscow the czar was greeted everywhere with outbursts of patriotic enthusiasm. It is stated here that he plans to go to the front as soon as it shall be determined where he can best serve the nation.

COMPANY L BOYS ENJOY CAMP LIFE

Letter Received From Sargeant Huellesheim Relates Intimate Affairs of Life at Camp Dodge.

GIVEN GOOD RATIONS

Sunday Dinner Served at Camp "Good Enough for Anybody"—Come Home on the Nineteenth.

"News from the front" was received by The Gate City this morning in the form of a letter from B. Huellesheim, mess sargeant with Company L at Camp Dodge where the Iowa National guards are holding their annual encampment. The letter relates some of the intimate affairs of camp life that are not given in the ordinary newspaper reports and no doubt will be of interest to the many friends of the Company L boys here in Keokuk.

The letter follows: We are working hard every day, and enjoy ourselves at the same time. We have drill or maneuvers for six hours every day, enough to keep us warm at this time of the year. Reveille is at 5:30 a. m., when the famous band from Ottumwa wakes us with a march. After eating a good breakfast we go out for three hours morning drill and are pretty hungry when dinner time comes. In Sargeant Huellesheim as mess sargeant and Cooks Brassill and Vandenberg we have a very efficient kitchen staff and of course soldiers are like the rest of men, they want something good to eat.

We have a moving picture show here and a concert and entertainment every night by one of the regiments, so we are well taken care of in every way.

Our menu for Sunday follows: BREAKFAST. Fried Eggs with Bacon Coffee German Fried Potatoes

French Toast DINNER. Baked Chicken with Onion Dressing Celery Mashed Potatoes Gravy Creamed Peas Pumpkins Raisin Pie Pumpkin Pie Bread Butter Coffee Ice Water Vanilla Ice Cream Cigars.

SUPPER. Porter House Steak Potato Salad with Dressing Cream Gravy Peaches Cake

Ice Tea This is good enough for anybody and it certainly is well cooked. Everybody is gaining in weight.

Following is a roster of our company: First Lieutenant Clark, Second Lieutenant Powell, First Sargeant Moody, Quartermaster Sargeant Leighton,

A Message To Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

An Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. or Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended highly by physicians here and abroad.

Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Wilkinson & Co. and other good druggists have Sargol, or can get it from their wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution.—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

IN MEMORIAM

Mrs. Higham.

[Contributed.] Mrs. Annie Pitney Higham died at the age of eighty-three years, ten months and twenty-five days, a beloved mother, a noble citizen, kind and loving neighbor and friend. Her spirit took its flight from its earthly casket to await a beautiful reward among the just at that great judgment day.

Miss Annie Pitney was born in Dorken City, Birmingham, Shire, England, September 20, 1830, and in the year 1832, with her parents and one infant brother emigrated to this country, landing in New York, and after a short residence moved to Philadelphia, Pa. After a short time she was left an orphan as both parents and brother died in 1833. She was left to face the world in the hands of strangers. She is the last of her kinsmen. Her mother's parents were residents of this country before the Revolutionary war, and fought in the struggle for its independence.

The late Judge Dean Caton of Chicago, who was its pioneer citizen and the first lawyer who opened a law office in Chicago, was her uncle. She was reared and brought up in her mother's faith, a consistent Quaker, until 1851, when she was married to James Taylor Higham of Philadelphia, Pa., May 1, 1851. Leaving the city of the Friends they left for a new life, a new country, coming to Keokuk in the spring of 1851, which was then known as the great coming city of the west. She often repeated the wearisome journey to her new home, making a good part in a stage coach. After establishing the new home, they remained citizens of Keokuk until death called them to their reward. She was a resident of Keokuk for sixty-three years, making her a pioneer of Lee county and of Keokuk. Her husband, James T. Higham, a beloved and respected citizen, preceded her in rest February 27, 1901. To their union was born four children, Harriet Caton, who died January 8, 1908; Annie E., William P. and George O., all residents of Keokuk. Mrs. Higham was one of the oldest and most faithful members of the First Baptist church, uniting with that body with her husband and daughter in 1874, and continued a consistent christian life up to the time of her death, caused by an attack of pneumonia and followed by inflammation of the bowels. She was always bright and cheerful and remained clear in mind and consciousness and spirit and was conscious to the last. She always took a deep interest in the welfare of the city and its progress and was a great reader of The Gate City and when the great dam was started she took much interest in its construction and visited all parts of it while under construction.

She is survived by Annie E., Wm. P. and George O. Higham and four grandchildren, Howard H. D., Harriet A., Ellen A. and James E., all of Keokuk Iowa.

MAN IS INJURED IN CUTTING SCRAPE

Assailant Has Escaped—Several Informations Charging Fighting were Filed Today.

Roy McCollough, a white man employed with a carnival company, was badly cut on the breast in a fight with James Owens, a local negro, last night about 10 o'clock. McCollough was cut in five or six places during the encounter.

The police interfered and brought McCollough to the police station where he was given medical attention. Owens escaped from the police at the time of the fight and so far the officers have been unable to locate him.

Three informations charging fighting and quarreling were filed with Justice Leindecker this morning. Frank Carlson and George Fourte were haled into court and both were charged with disturbing the peace by fighting and quarreling. Both pleaded guilty and were fined one dollar and costs.

William McKee was fined $1 and costs for the same charge. McKee said he wasn't fighting, he guessed he was just quarreling. A. Reing was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication.
