SOCIETY

The Home Going.
We must get home—for we have been away
So long it seems forever and a day!
And O, so very homesick we have grown
The laughter of the world is like a moan
In our tired hearing, and its songs as vain—
We must get home—we must get home again.

We must get home, all is so quiet there;
The touch of loving hands on brow and hair,
Dim rooms, wherein the sunshine is made mild,
The lost love of the mother and the child
Restored in restful lullabies of rain—
We must get home, we must get home again.

We must get home, and unremembering there
All gain of all ambitions otherwhere,
Rest from the feverish victory and the crown
Of conquest whose waste glory weighs us down;
Fame's fairest gifts we toss back with disdain,
We must get home, we must get home again.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Picnic a Success.
One of the greatest successes of the season proved to be the harvest home coming picnic held in Kilbourne park, August 7. At least four hundred people were on the grounds during the afternoon and a more enthusiastic crowd has not congregated anywhere of late.

The committees in charge are delighted over the fact that what they aimed at was accomplished, that of bringing not only the children together, but their parents, to get acquainted. The sports began strictly on time, at 1:00 p. m., with a hundred yard dash by six bright, active boys and ended with an automobile slow race. One of the most beautiful and interesting sights was witnessed when the large crowd sat down at one time at the long tables prepared by the committee. All who attended this picnic are enthusiastic and pronounced it a success from beginning to end. The chairman of the committees in charge were as follows: Henry Kreuger—general chairman. P. G. Benner—Chairman committee having charge of swings and men's sports.

Mrs. W. H. Nell—women's sports. Mrs. Sam M. Lloyd—girl's sports. Byron A. Lutman—boy's sports. Miss Anna Ritter—primary sports. A. G. Peterson—Quilts and ice water.

Mrs. W. F. Guiss—supper. Miss S. Elizabeth Matheny—refreshments.

Miss Lucretia Matheny—publicity. One of the most enjoyable features of the afternoon was the line up of the children and young people led by Miss Ritter's drum corps and during this march all received ice cream cones, and just before the crowd sat down to supper, everyone on the grounds joined in the grand march.

Shower For Bride-to-be.

Miss Mary Bonham was the guest of honor Friday evening at a shower given by the members of the D. D. club and the young women clerks of the Woolworth store, at the home of Miss Ruby Green, Fourth and Franklin streets. Miss Bonham is to be married this week to Mr. William B. Sunley. The club members gave Miss Bonham a very handsome present, and the young women clerks made their gifts in the shape of a miscellaneous shower. The house was very prettily decorated in red hearts and flowers and ferns were very effectively used in the decoration scheme. Dainty refreshments were served and the evening proved most enjoyable to the hostesses and their guest of honor.

FINDS PEARL SAID TO BE WORTH $1,000

People Living Near the Floyd River Have Pearl Hunting Fever.

SIoux CITY, Ia., Aug. 29.—People living near the Floyd river have been struck with the pearl hunting fever. Men and boys, dressed in old clothes or bathing suits, can be seen in the shallow parts of the stream every day, digging the clams from the bed of the river and searching through the meat for hidden gems. Several pearls of more or less value have been taken from the stream during the last week.

What is claimed by some as the most valuable pearl ever found in Iowa was taken from the Floyd river recently by Frank Veidt and John Ross near Merrill. The pearl weighed 22 grains and its luster is a del-cate and beautiful white. The gem is shaped like an acorn.

Some Sioux City jewelers are said to have declared the pearl to be worth from $500 to $1,000. The young man have, for the present, refused to sell the gem until they have had it judged by an expert. W. Cornish Beck, who examined the pearl, last night stated that it was imperfect in shape and that there was not much demand for such a stone.

WAR IS DICTATING FASHION IN HATS

Military Chapeaus will Make Their Appearance This Fall, Say Milliners.

Military hats for women will make their appearance this fall. The Retail Milliners' association now holding its annual convention at Chicago has decided on the military hat as a renaissance in art made imperative by the present war.

The new school of hat design, it is stated, inspired by the clash of nations, has sprung up as swiftly as the birth of the earliest school of art followed the midnight vision of the radical of the brush who put asbathine into his rarebit instead of beer.

The military hat will give millinery an opportunity to top off properly her advance style and military carriage and to show which of the warring nations has her sympathy.

It has been suggested by the milliners that a coronet hat be made for those whose sympathies are with Great Britain. This model, with a coronet suggesting that worn by England's queen for its base, is hemmed in gold lace, emblematic of the yellow hoard within in the walls of the Bank of England. The idea behind the hat is that Tommy Atkins is fighting, above all, for his queen.

If the wearer favors Austria, then a turban of peacock green, with a tam-o-shanter crown and aeroplane bow in front, will be the thing. The ensemble is said to be decidedly Viennese.

For loyal subjects or sympathizers of the czar there will be a Russian bonnet, which consists of a St. Petersburg turban, trimmed with a different assortment of ribbons and feathers of various hues.

Those who have been to Paris and found the place to their liking may wear a French hat of the war years, a red fox with pompon and feathers. The German hat is the result of much thought and planning. It probably will be a helmet of whites and gold, similar to those worn by the Kaiser's palace guards on Sundays and holidays. A sword plume will take the place of the durable but inertistic spike.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Orpheum.

Mr. Underwood of the Orpheum theatre, has made arrangement for the best service possible for his patrons. Tonight will be presented for your approval, "The City," in two parts, a beautiful and interesting drama of life in the large cities. Also there will be presented "Mabel's New Job," a comedy in two reels. Don't miss seeing this splendid bill tonight.—Advertisement.

Francis X. Bushman at Colonial Tonight.

Nothing but the best pictures are shown at the Colonial theatre, pictures of quality. Francis X. Bushman will be seen in a two reel comedy drama tonight, "His Stolen Fortune," adapted from Munsey's magazine. This is the story:

Frank Wentworth, a young adventure-seeking American is left a vast fortune by a deceased uncle. After enjoying it for six months and engaging himself to a charming society belle, he discovers a letter from his uncle, confessing that the fortune was stolen from a poor Pole, named Max Illuski, and charging Frank with the responsibility of returning it to Illuski or his heirs. Frank inserts an ad in two or three of the city's leading dailies, explaining the situation. Mrs. Holcombe, Frank's prospective mother-in-law, denounces him publicly and the newspapers expose the will and letter left by his uncle. Illuski seem to bloom in every street and every corner of the hotel, each one emphasizing the fact that he is the real Illuski and heir to the fortune.

Frank's experience in attempting to return the fortune to the proper heir is the foundation for a most thrilling twenty-four hour experience, and when he is exhausted and finally eludes everybody, he is captured by an attorney for the estate, who tells him that the letter was merely a test of his honesty, and that he is rightfully the sole heir to the fortune. All ends happily as Frank claims his sweetheart for his wife, and mother forgives.

The program includes "The Gypsy Gambler," exciting Kalem western picture, and "A Modern Samson," a dandy Edison comedy. Four high class reels. See them tonight.—Advertisement.

Vaudeville at the Hippodrome.

A new bill of vaudeville will be presented at the Hippodrome theatre beginning Monday evening. The bill includes several high class vaudeville acts in addition to the motion pictures which are changed daily. Roland Travers company will present a magical act in which many interesting features will be shown. Neal and Able, the man with the mobile face, appear in a comedy act. The bill for the last half of the week will include Francis LeMaire in a unicycle novelty, and Doyle and Elaine, a pair of girls with daffodil twirls. The bill which has been current the latter part of the week will be shown this evening.—Advertisement.

COLLEGE PROFS. OWN FEW AUTOS

Either They are Poorly Paid or Elect to Invest Their Money in Other Ways.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Aug. 29.—Although the average automobile to population is one to ten in Iowa, among the instructors in the state university it is one to thirty.

Whether it shows that the professors are as badly underpaid as popular opinion supposes them to be or whether it shows that they prefer to invest their money in other ways, the fact remains that less than one dozen of the faculty members own cars, and of those who do have them, the majority are local doctors who, besides being in the faculty of the college of medicine, have a private practice in the city.

The faculty members who have cars are Dr. L. W. Dean, Dr. T. L. Hazard, Dr. J. B. Kessler, Dr. F. L. Love, Dr. C. E. Van Epps, Dr. W. R. Whites, all of the college of medicine. J. B. Hawley, the football coach, is another of the automobile owners, and so is W. J. McChesney, university treasurer, who is also president of a local bank. Professor H. C. Horack of the college of law and Professors B. J. Lambert and G. W. Stewart of the engineering college make up the list of automobile owners.
