A Prayer.

Teach me to walk with brave, unfaltering feet
Down thorny paths and only see the rose;
Teach me to taste the gall, and call it sweet;
Teach me to see the poetry in prose.

Oh, powers that be, teach me how best to cope
With life's great game; to old ideals keep true;
To firmly grasp the hearty hand of Hope;
To know that grayest clouds are lined with blue.

When my last sun behind the hill shall dip,
Teach me to give to God my failing breath
With tearless eyes and song upon my lip,
With boundless trust in Him, and joy in death.

—Anna Campbell.

Surprise for Miss Davidson.

Miss Myrtle Davidson was the guest of honor at a surprise party which was given Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weissmann, 1210 Leighton avenue, by the members of the choir of the Christian church. Miss Davidson has been a faithful and efficient member of that organization, having been the organist for several years, and on the eve of her departure for Des Moines to enter Drake University, her friends and associates wished to express in some manner their appreciation of her faithful and earnest work in the musical activities of the Christian church here. The members of the choir repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weissmann after choir rehearsal Friday evening, and saw to it that Miss Davidson accompanied them. During the evening Mr. Roy Whaley presented Miss Davidson with a student clock as a small token of the esteem in which Miss Davidson is held by the members of the choir and her many friends in this organization. Mrs. E. L. Aldrich will succeed Miss Davidson.

"Why, I'm not a bit tired tonight!"

Yesterday she returned home tired, depressed, foot-weary, eagerly hurrying to remove the cause of it all—her shoes. Today she came back as fresh as when she left, her step buoyant, her face radiant from a brisk walk in the keen winter air.

Scores of our customers have experienced this happy, this blessed change. Yes can, too, if you do this: Come in and see the season's new Red Cross models. First, note their chic lines, their refinement of finish. Then choose just the style you want.

Now walk: At your first step you will feel a marvelous difference in this shoe—its instant adaptability, its utter freedom from burning and binding. Prices, $4 to $6.
