CITY NEWS.

O. B. Towne, manager of the Keokuk Industrial association returned this morning from Cincinnati where he attended the three days convention of the American Association of Commercial Executives.

NAME BURLINGTON WOMAN CHAIRMAN

Mrs. W. H. Davidson is Nominated and Will be Chosen in May to Represent This District.

CONVENTION A SUCCESS

Local Women and Their Guests Feel That Nothing Could be Done to Have Improved Day.

Following Mrs. Trout's lecture yesterday afternoon, a short business session was held, at which Mrs. W. H. Davidson of Burlington, was nominated for district chairman.

Mrs. E. J. Keller, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the following. By unanimous vote the report was accepted.

To the officers and members of the first district, Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs:

We, your committee on resolutions, beg leave to submit the following report:

On behalf of the convention of the first district Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs we wish to thank the Civic League for the gracious hospitality accorded us today.

Mrs. Trout is thanked. On behalf of the convention, we wish to thank Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout for her presence and her address given this afternoon.

We are extremely fortunate in the absence of our district chairman, to have had so efficient a presiding officer as Mrs. Antrabus.

On behalf of the convention, we express our deep regret at the absence of our district chairman, Miss Grace Roberts.

To the Monday Music club our thanks are due for the beautiful musical selections and to all who have assisted in the program.

For the social features of the day, the beautifully appointed luncheon at the Country club and for the reception which we are to enjoy this evening at the beautiful home of Mrs. J. J. Ayres, the president of the Keokuk Civic League, we hereby express our thanks.

Respectfully submitted, MRS. E. J. KELLER, Chairman.

MRS. W. B. FREDERICK, MRS. I. M. JAMISON.

An Echo of the Convention. It is very pleasant now that all the delegates and visitors have gone to their homes, to talk over the convention of yesterday.

It was an unequalled success from the drop of the gavel at the opening of the morning session to the handshake of the last tired woman, at the close of the reception last night.

She wore a black velvet hat with a black and green plume on it, and her dress was of black and dark green brocade with a long black net tunic. At her belt was a bunch of dark red satin roses. About her hair she wore a wide black velvet band fastened at the back with a dull hammered brass pin, which was made for her by her son—the boy who died and of whom she spoke in her address.

—Bobby, a little dog that has long occupied a place in the affections of the city employees, was run over and killed by an automobile on the street near the corner of Seventh and Main this morning.

The funeral of Mrs. Lida Robertson was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Pilgrim's Rest Baptist church, Rev. J. H. Helm officiating. Burial at Oakland cemetery.

which money brings. She is very proud of the fact that she has six grandchildren, although she doesn't look the part. She has been an unusually efficient state president.

Mrs. Antrabus, of Burlington, who presided during the sessions of yesterday, had a clever, witty introduction for every one. She certainly would make a happy toastmistress, for she conducted the program of yesterday much along that line, and kept everyone in a good humor through the very long session of the morning.

Among the delegates were some women of special interest, although every one was a representative woman from her own community.

In the Fort Madison delegation was Mrs. George D. Stewart, one of the pioneer women of this part of the state and distinguished woman in any company.

Mrs. Roger S. Galer of Mt. Pleasant, was one of the brainy women of the convention. She is a Universalist minister and is the wife of a well known Mt. Pleasant attorney.

In the Burlington list. Mrs. W. H. Davidson and Miss Lola Waite are daughters of J. L. Waite, the veteran Iowa newspaper man, the owner of the Burlington Hawk-Eye. They both had a prominent place in the convention.

Mrs. Cate Gilbert Wells is president of three of the prominent clubs of Burlington, the civic federation, the musical club and the D. A. R. chapter. At the luncheon yesterday she said she had visited more than a dozen Country clubs this summer in prominent Iowa cities, and that the Keokuk club was the finest of them all, and the best meals were served here.

This is a merited compliment to the custodian, Mrs. Tebeau, as well as to the club directors.

Local Women Praised. Everybody in the Civic League had their part in the success of yesterday.

The task of doing the "heavy polite" nearly always falls on Mrs. Eugene Baker. At the D. A. R. conference she entertained the president general, Mrs. William Cumming Story, and yesterday she was Mrs. Trout's hostess.

Those Who Were Here. The following is a complete list of delegates and visitors:

WILLIAMS UNABLE TO MAKE SPEECH

Old Settlers at Warsaw Disappointed at Not Having Him There—Parade Prizes.

The old settlers day program at Warsaw yesterday closed the celebration there. W. E. Williams of Pittsfield, who was to have spoken, was unable to be present on account of business in Washington.

The prizes for the parade which was a feature of the celebration, have been announced as follows:

The prize for the most unique float was won by Richard O. Marsh, for the float with a canoe and buffalo head, a float typical of the pioneer life which the celebration is supposed to commemorate.

Features of the parade were the floats representing old Fort Edwards, an Indian canoe and a pioneer log cabin, the generous contribution of Mr. and Mrs. Richard O. Marsh.
