DENMARK.

Mrs. Sniff held her sale last Wednesday and last Saturday got started for her new home with her daughter Mrs. Farley, at Parsons, Kansas. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Van Tuyle and family are now moved into the property they bought of Mrs. Sniff and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barnes and family will move into the property vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Van Tuyle, and Mr. Grossman will tear down the house where Mr. Barnes has lived and build new and so the changes go on and we slowly get some improvements.

Mr. Liddle is improving his property east of town.

We hear stories of school children and teams of horses getting stuck in the mud. Well, what do you expect after the rains we have been having. Yet the fall of 1914 will be spoken of as the wet fall with no frost, for when it gets to Oct. 15th and no frost it is certainly remarkable.

Mrs. Swift and daughter Miss Alice of Eugene, Ore., left last Monday evening for home after a very pleasant visit with relatives and friends here.

Mr. Wautzmaur lost a fine horse with lockjaw as the result of a small sore rubbed by the harness.

Bluebirds and blackbirds are flocking now for their southern flight, but we are enjoying their farewell songs.

The rains have been fine for peonies and cosmos, cannas, dahlias and other flowers are certainly just as beautiful as they can be. We also have roses and Mrs. Goodson reports she has a large spot of regular wild violets in bloom in her yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Murphy are home from their visit.

Word received by relatives states that Mrs. S. S. Martin and daughters Misses Ruth and Marie who were in Belgium, at Brussels, taking music, Miss Ruth piano and Miss Marie violin, have been able to get over to London, where they are safe for a time at least.

NO SPORTS IN ENGLAND TODAY

Cricket, Football, Horse Racing, Prize Fighting and Other Contests Are Shoved Aside During the War.

MANY JOIN THE COLORS

Nearly All Professional and Amateur Sportsmen Have Gone to the Front and Answered the Call.

[By P. M. Sarge, United Press Staff Correspondent.] LONDON, Sept. 19.—(By mail to New York.)—For the first time in English history sport has been brought to a standstill by war. Hitherto whatever campaign England has had on hand—even during the Napoleonic wars—horse racing, cricket, football, prize fighting, etc., has continued serenely. But the present conflict has smashed all precedents, and with the leading exponents of every branch of sport under arms it has been found impossible to carry out the various athletic programmes.

True, spasmodic efforts are being made to complete the winter turf season, but public opinion is so strong that football, which was just starting at the outbreak of hostilities, has been practically abandoned. The football association, the governing body, offered to close down altogether if the war office thought it advisable.

The cricket season was brought to a close like a shot, for most of the leading amateurs flocked to the colors. Not a big team but had a number of army officers in its ranks, but the record goes to the county of Hampshire, whose team supplies nineteen of its members to the army and navy.

Turfmen were not slow to answer their country's call, and Lord Torrington, himself a capable performer "over the sticks," led a detachment of crack amateur jockeys to the recruiting office, and enlisted in the 7th Hussars. Torrington did exactly as less exalted recruits were doing, signed a form requesting that one third of his pay—28 cents a day—be paid to his wife, though Lady Torrington is spending lots more than that on relief work.

Lieutenant Norman Champion de Creepigny, member of the famous sporting family and a crack amateur jockey, and Capt. A. C. Luther, famous cricketer, tennis and football player, were among the first killed at Mons.

The prize ring has supplied its full quota and the fight game is dead for the present. Bandman Plake, a "white hope," although under no obligation to do so, rejoined his old regiment, only to be sent home wounded in less than a week. Gunner Moir, who went down before Tommy Burns some seven or eight years ago, is in the saddle again, riding with one of the guns that have given the Germans so much trouble.

Dick Swan, another promising heavyweight who was a reservist, rejoined the Oxford light infantry and was in the murderous fighting of the first days of General French's early retreat.

Other prominent pugilists who are thirsting to get home a few "straight lefts" are Bill Landbury, Jim Lewis, Johnny Webb, Tom McCormick, who came from Australia under doctor's orders, only to rejoin his old regiment, the Manchester, Private Bradock (with the marines at Ostend) and Harry Rudge, Petty Officer Curran and Seaman Hayes are with the fleet in the North sea, while the four brothers Condon, well known in north country and army boxing circles, are at the front.

Henry Coxan has not so far seen his way clear to join the colors but his three fighting brothers are with their regiments.

E. V. Chandler and Johnny Doherty led the way for the amateur boxers and were quickly followed by others. So far, to the regret of the "fancy" Bombardier Billy Wells has not made up his mind to rejoin the artillery, in which corps he made his name as a fighter.

In France, of course, every branch of sport has been tied up by the calling to the colors of every able-bodied man, and in addition to Georges Carpentier every French boxer has had to change the gloves for the rifle. George Stern, the crack steeplechase jockey, is shouldering a rifle in an infantry regiment. To his amazement, on going up to do his military service, the riding masters did not consider his horsemanship good enough for the cavalry.

Steamer Is Held.
LONDON, Oct. 16.—The Holland American liner Noordham which sailed from New York, October 13, for Rotterdam, has been taken into Falmouth harbor by a British cruiser. It is believed that after her mails and cargo are examined, she will be allowed to complete her voyage, although part of her cargo may be held.

Greatest of All Human Blessings
The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant. And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

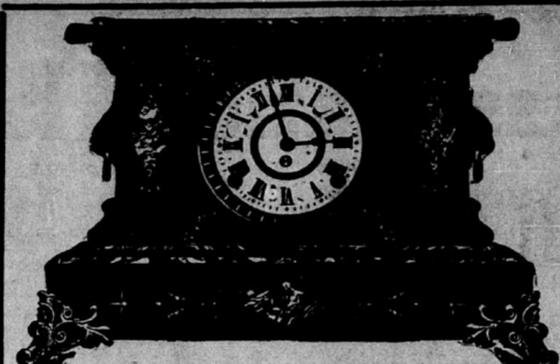

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pain so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort.

There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Emerald Regulator Co., 303 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

TWO FOREIGN LEGIONS FORMED

Allies Will Gain 5,000 Men by the Enrollment of New Men in the Army.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—(By mail to New York.)—Two foreign legions are being formed in London which probably will increase the fighting forces of the allies by 5,000. One of them headed by Chevalier Luigi Ricci and numbering among its members many princes, it is expected will total 3,000 men. The other which is expected to be 2,000 strong is being organized by Captain Webber, a veteran of many wars.

"We have already enrolled 1,250 men," Chevalier Ricci said today, "and in a letter to the king we offered 3,000 men, a number which we shall easily raise by the end of the week."

Lord Stamfordham has acknowledged the letter, and states that the king has forwarded our offer to the war department. I hope that in a fortnight's time the king's foreign legion will be fighting for England and her allies in Belgium.

"At a meeting of the officers of the legion today the command of the legion was offered to me but on account of my age—I was fighting with Garibaldi in 1866—I have refused the offer. I shall remain the honorary colonel, be in command of the home depot and feed the legion at war with more men."

"We have asked the war office to appoint an English officer in command of the legion. The legion is composed of all nationalists except Germans, Austrians and Turks, who under no condition whatever will be allowed to join."

"Several Australian bushmen and Canadian frontiersmen who served in the Boer war have joined our ranks and we have enrolled two aviators, E. Boszic and Gustave Manin. They both have machines. We also have had a large number of motor cars offered us."

"A meeting of the officers of the legion will be held soon to arrange for a drilling depot."

"Captain Stannard Rogers, who fought in the Boer war has been appointed adjutant of the legion pro tem and the names already enrolled include Prince Alexander Tschardadoff, a Russian officer; Prince I. Orusoff, formerly a captain in the royal bodyguard of the czar; Count Anthony de Borch, a Russian officer; Count di Radionne, formerly in the Italian navy; Count di Montanba, a Portuguese; Captain Granville Baker who fought in the Boer war; Colonel Vere Wright and Captain Giese, Garibaldi veterans; Lieutenant F. Buberi, formerly in the English cavalry; Lieutenant A. T. Barberini, formerly in the Italian navy; Captain Text Vondt, of the Dutch army, and Captain Copinger Mahoney, late of the Munster Fusiliers."

Sure and Sure

Mr. Justice Letton of the Nebraska supreme court went East one summer and left his house in care of friends. One morning the telephone bell in the Letton house rang and a woman asked for Mr. Letton. She was told the justice was not in town. She refused to believe that and asked where Mr. Letton was. "He's on his way home now," the lady at the Letton home replied; "but he stopped off at Milwaukee to attend the meeting of the American Bar association." "Evidently," said the woman at the other end of the wire superciliously, "there is some mistake." The Mr. Letton-I know and want is not a saloon-keeper. He ran a grocery store.—Saturday Evening Post.
