HARTER IN BUICK WINS AUTO RACE

Erickson Drops Out on His Last Lap, While Leading Both of the Other Drivers.

LARGE CROWD PRESENT

Twelve Hundred Present to See Impromptu Event—Dusty Track Makes Time Slow.

L. S. Harter, driving a Buick, yesterday won the ten mile automobile race at the old fair grounds track. His time for the ten miles was sixteen minutes, eight seconds, an average of 37.19 per mile. Lotis Corbeille, driving an Overland, finished second. The third driver, Arthur Erickson, piloting a Regal, dropped out of the race with but one lap to go and while he was leading both the other drivers.

Despite the fact that the race was arranged hurriedly but a day or two before it was staged, there were in the neighborhood of 1,200 people at the track when the cars started. Six hundred of these were paid admissions.

Before the start of the ten mile race each driver made a mile against time, making a flying start. Erickson was clocked for this distance in the fastest time, 87.54 seconds for the mile. Corbeille was second, making the two laps in 84 flat. Harter's time was 1-5 second slower than Corbeille's. Erickson's mile was made at an average speed of 38.81 miles per hour.

Stars Ten Seconds Apart.

The cars were sent off ten seconds apart in the ten mile grind. Corbeille was started first, with Erickson and Harter following in the order named. Until the fourteenth lap it appeared to be an even race, with Erickson, perhaps, gaining a few feet on Corbeille. On the fifteenth lap, Corbeille slowed down perceptibly and was passed by both Erickson and Harter before he was forced to stop. A disconnected spark plug wire was the cause of his trouble.

After repairing this, Corbeille went into the race again, starting just ahead of Erickson, who, being in the lead of Harter, had removed his goggles. The dust from Corbeille's car blinded Erickson and after circling the track once behind him and with but one more lap to go, Erickson pulled off the track. He was leading both the other drivers when he quit and had been setting the pace for the race. Harter had no trouble in finishing first after Erickson stopped.

Dust Heavy on Turns.

Considering the condition of the track and the fact that it is but a half mile circuit, good time was made in the race. The dust on the turns was so heavy as to obscure the car many times and made it necessary for the drivers to shut down for the turns.

The officials for the race were Ray King, Harry Deitz and J. D. Ecker. Dr. W. W. Holmes did not serve as an official, as announced in yesterday's Gate City. The name of Dr. Holmes was given to this paper by the committee in charge of the race before Dr. Holmes had been requested to serve.

Plans for holding another race Thanksgiving day are already on foot. The race will be held at the same track which will be put in better condition and the number of entries will be larger. It is believed that such an event would attract a very large crowd.

HUNDREDS ENDORSE POST-SEASON GAME

Conference Elevens Approve Suggestion of President James Regarding Benefit Game for Belgians.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 9.—President James of the University of Illinois, who on Saturday suggested a post season football game between eastern and western champions, the proceeds to go to the Belgian relief fund, today declared he had received hundreds of telegrams endorsing the idea.

Chicago, Indiana and Illinois, of the western conference universities have approved the plan thus far, but Wisconsin objects on the ground that there is a taint of professionalism about playing for big gate receipts. Dispatches from Harvard declare that the Harvard authorities consider such a game feasible though they have not committed themselves in public statements.

President James expected to have answers from all the "big nine" conference schools before tonight.

HARVARD ALONE HAS CLEAN SLATE

Crimson, Only Big Eleven in the East That Has Not Been Defeated This Season.

YALE MUST IMPROVE

Sheridan Thinks Eli Must Improve Twenty-five Per Cent to Have Chance Against Harvard.

[By Hal Sheridan, written for the United Press.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Harvard alone of the eastern championship possibilities, remains unbeaten on the football field this season. The Army gridiron warriors have come through so far without defeat but their opponents have been small fry. Up to Saturday Princeton was thought to have a chance. The Crimson steam roller, however, crushed and mashed the sons of Nassau. Curling up the Tiger offense and smearing its defense far below the surface of the turf of the stadium at Cambridge, Harvard showed class that must have caused much fluttering at the heart strings of the Yale outposts, who were sent up to Boston way as a reconnoitering party.

It is not flying in the face of the 1914 season's upsets and disorder dope to prophesy that to beat the Crimson juggernaut on November 21, Yale will have to improve at least 25 per cent over what the Eli eleven has slipped to the public's view so far this fall.

Building and Tiger will have their fling Saturday when Yale meets Princeton at Jungletown. Undoubtedly the Blue will be much stronger than on Saturday when just enough of the regular team was left at Yale to beat Brown. They will be fighting on home territory where the Orange and Black always fight best. It is a matter of tradition also that there is more fight to the square inch when Princeton and Yale meet than is generally shown by either team against any other opponent. It is a safe wager that Saturday's game should prove a humaner. Dartmouth, with a trail of wrecked smaller teams in their wake, today is far in front of all rivals despite one defeat, in the matter of total of points scored. The big green eleven has rolled up 276 points to their opponent's 25. Princeton made 16 of the 25; the Massachusetts Aggies made 6 and Williams made 3.

Washington and Jefferson is second in the matter of total points scored with 227 to their opponent's 27. Other records are Cornell 206, opponents 29; Pittsburgh University 276, opponents 35; Army 165, opponents 14; Yale 159, opponents 28; Harvard 151, opponents 18.

MINOR VANGUARD REACHES OMAHA

Delegates to Annual Minor League Baseball Meeting Arriving in Omaha Today.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—The vanguard of the 200 or more baseball men who will attend the annual meeting of the national association of professional baseball clubs arrived in this city this afternoon. Among them was James C. McGill of Denver, and H. L. Jones of Lincoln, who are members of the entertainment committee.

Overshadowing all other matters to come before the general meeting of the association will be consideration of the advent of the professional so-called "outlaw" Federal league. Expressions have already come from many members of the minor league association that they must be protected against incursions of unorganized baseball.

That there is a possibility of there being a general change in the topography of the baseball map is the belief of many of the delegates who already are in the city. Into this change enters the class AA league clubs and members of the American association and Western league are already discussing the possible changes that may be made.

It is believed by delegates here tonight that the Federal league will seek an agreement by which that league shall come into organized baseball. The conditions under which such an arrangement might be made, formed the mooted question and one in which major league club owners and the national commission will probably have a hand.

POST MORTEM ON WORLD'S SERIES

Most Human Thing Wasks Have Done for Two Years Was to Take a Licking.

RED SOX ARE COMERS

Boston American League Club Looks to Have Good Show for the Rag Next Season.

[Written for the United Press.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The most human thing the Philadelphia Athletics have done in the last couple of years was to take a licking from the Boston Braves. It wasn't a thumping as a result of which doubt might be expressed, but a good sound thrashing, and this means much in the general consideration of what may happen in the American league during the season of 1915.

The winter league outlook is that Boston has an excellent chance of having a corner on the world's series next year. The spell of the Mackmen has been broken. It doesn't take any super-human efforts to turn the trick either—just an aggressive attack with a sting in every blow and a defense that refuses to admit it is punctured. The Boston braves showed that in a series lasting four games. Over a stretch of 154 games, the wallop of the Athletics must, of course, assert itself to more effect, but the threatening gestures against Connie Mack's crabbing another pennant are coming from Boston, just as the threats and then the wailing came from that direction for McGraw and the Giants in the National league this year.

Mackmen Have Not Broken.

The Athletics gave no indication of being broken and on the down grade in the clashes with the Braves for the world's championship, but the Boston Red Sox give every indication of having again rallied after their glide down the chutes which followed their capping of the world's title two years ago. As a wind-up they beat the Athletics nine straight games in their concluding sets of games. They wound up with a rush that carried them within striking distance of the leaders, but the sprint was timed too late. With the pounding handed out by the Braves, Boston teams took the Athletics into camp on thirteen consecutive occasions, which is swinging along with a little amount of gracefulness and in a manner that might almost suggest collusion. The Mackmen have not hit the bumps yet, but whether the green machine may waver if pressed sufficiently next year, ought to serve for a matter of debate during the long cold spell ahead.

The Red Sox have all that could be desired in the pitching line. Their infield was strengthened when Scott-zel was planted at first and now compares favorably with the best of them. Nothing is lacking in the outfield and Tris Speaker stands out as the particular terror in the attack.

Senators Failed to Deliver.

As good as Clark Griffith's Washington collection looked during last year's winter session, they failed to put the expected dent in proceedings. They kept themselves in the fight, but their threats were never dangerous. Walter Johnson was nicked with more regularity than usual, which speaks volumes. Had Johnson lessoned through with as big a year as he showed for 1913, Washington would have been a dangerous proposition. Next year the great speed merchant should swing back again.

Bugleg Jennings had yet to whip his Detroit Tigers into the speed necessary to carry them to a position of real contenders since his unbursting after the string of triple victories. What with the thumping of lumber boys and other pastimes of Ty Cobb, Jennings has difficulty keeping this main-spring of his offense on the firing line in a manner that would assure a constant hammering with full strength. In case of a grand scramble among the four leading clubs the Tigers should cut a big figure in 1915, however.

Other Four Clubs Colorless.

The remaining four clubs of the Johnson circuit are more or less colorless. The White Sox have cantered along with about the same gait and the same brand of ball. The Cleveland Naps broke all records for ability to sink so deep that there was no chance of any one getting beneath them. While a long string of automobiles stood outside the ball park, the owners of the cars romped care free and spiritless on the field in batting their daily ticking. The St. Louis Browns have evolved from the Browns of a couple of years back and carried their fight along with much gusto for a time, and will offer a scrap on most any old occasion. The power has been lacking there, however.

A regular manager must be picked for the New York Yanks before the season opens. Roger Peckinpaugh did the piloting during the latter games of this year after Frank Chance packed his belongings and fled. Some believe Roger may be given an opportunity to continue his job during next season. Under present conditions Peck is welcome to the task. The Yanks are burdened with quantities of material that would go toward making a strong minor league team, and larger quantities of opinions from a strategy board that doesn't know how to "strategy."

They are afflicted with "inside baseball" of the brand that does not appear on the field, but comes from a source sadly lacking in baseball brains. One of the favorite pastimes in New York is selling the Yanks and it begins to look as though Ban Johnson may have to make a housecleaning about this club as President Tener did in ousting a certain pompous person from the Cubs.

MILWAUKEE MAN TO REFEREE BOUT

Attendance of 7,000 Expected at Fight Tonight Between Freddie Welsh and Charley White.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 9.—Walter Smallman of Milwaukee, will referee the Welsh-White bout here tonight. Welsh said he was unacquainted with the work of Harry Stout who had been tentatively selected by the club management. Furthermore he exercised his prerogative as champion. Stout will referee the three preliminaries.

Tom Andrews, promoter, estimated the attendance will be close to 7,000. Several hundred fans are expected on special trains from Chicago. White was scheduled to arrive by train at one this afternoon. The odds here at 10 to 6 on Welsh, but there is very little betting and 90 percent of the money that changes hands on the outcome will be wagered in Chicago.

McCoy Fights Tonight.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Al McCoy who jarred the middle weight title aspirations from George Chip by a wallop on the chin, is slightly favored over Soldier Bartfield of the U. S. A., for the ten round bout tomorrow night at 91g Broadway Sporting club. An attempt will be made to match the winner of tomorrow's scrap with Jimmy Clabby.

Michigan Preparing for Cornell.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 9.—Preparation for Cornell was started by the Michigan squad today. Despite the fierceness of the play staging Penn. Saturday, Trainer Farrell reported every member of the team in excellent condition. Only a light work-out was planned for this afternoon.

Pacific Slope Auto Race.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9—More than twenty racing automobiles will be sent away tonight in the annual Los Angeles-to-Phoenix road race over a difficult route. After leaving the perfect highways of the southern California citrus belt beyond San Bernardino, the cars must force their way across the sands of the Mojave desert to the Colorado river. Long stretches of Arizona desert then must be conquered before Phoenix is reached. Several thousand dollars in prizes are offered.

First Snow of Season.

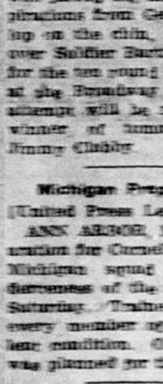
MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 9.—The first snow of the season fell here early today to a depth of from two to three inches. The mercury dropped to 32 above zero.

Attacks of Indigestion

"I believe Chamberlain's Tablets have saved my life," writes Mrs. Maggie Coil, Golden City, Mo. "I had pains in my stomach so bad I thought I could not live. Our doctor said it was congestion of the stomach. I would get helpless with them and want up in the night as bad as I could be and five. Our doctor said it would do no good to give medicine internally. He had to inject medicine in my arm. Since taking Chamberlain's Tablets I can eat anything I want without hurting me." This form of indigestion is extremely painful and often dangerous. By using Chamberlain's Tablets after eating, and especially when you have fulness and weight in the stomach after eating, the disease may be warded off and avoided. Chamberlain's Tablets not only aid digestion, but strengthen and invigorate the stomach.



REPORT OF DEATHS IN IOWA IN AUGUST

Automobile Accidents Crowded Down Column by Drownings and Railroad Accidents During Month.

According to the report of deaths in Iowa in August, issued by the state board of health there were 1,502 persons who died. Auto accidents took third place, crowded out by railroad accidents and drowning.

The report states that there were two deaths in Iowa in August that were due to small pox. Until quite recently it was the rule that there was no figure in the blank for this disease in the monthly reports. There must have been whole years with never a death in Iowa due to small pox. Of late the number is increasing and that is the inevitable result of carelessness. When everybody was vaccinated there were no deaths and few cases, and it appeared as if the dread disease had been wiped out. The very fact that no deaths were reported helped to make people careless and the result is that the disease is gaining and is beginning to take toll again. The reasonable course would be to vaccinate, as they were wont to vaccinate in former times when everybody had his arm scratched.

The cases are classified by age as follows:

Under one year	203
1 to 5 years	126
5 to 10 years	25
10 to 20 years	65
20 to 30 years	108
30 to 40 years	125
40 to 50 years	153
50 to 60 years	180
60 to 70 years	245
70 to 80 years	283
80 to 90 years	186
90 years and upward	31
Unknown	4

Cancer claimed the greatest number of victims, there being 159; apoplexy followed with 126; and then came heart disease with 130; Bright's disease with 105, while the dread white plague took 85.

Some of the unusual causes of death are noted as follows:

Suicide	27
Poisoning	2
Burns	6
Suffocation	2
Accidental drowning	25
Traumatism by firearms	1
Traumatism by cutting	1
Traumatism by fall	14
Traumatism by machines	4

Women Should Take Warning

If the statement made at a New York assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression, that are tell-tale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.—Advertisement.

Lord Mayor's Ceremonial.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—It was a very subdued civic pageant which marked the induction today of Sir Charles Johnson, as lord mayor of London, in succession to Sir Thomas Vansittart Bowater. The usual symbolical cars and parade of London militia, were missing for the troops are all under arms training for the war, and it did not seem worth while having the cars with groups representing peace, etc.

Starting from the Guildhall at noon the new lord mayor, accompanied by his sword bearer, marshalsea and the chief civic officials, drove to the law courts where the oath of office was administered by Lord Chief Justice Reading, in the presence of the high court judges. The war office allowed one of the London Territory regiments to furnish a troop for the mayoral escort, but with the exception of a couple of bands which were not needed in the fighting line, these were the only military present.

It was at first proposed to do without the annual banquet at the Guildhall, but as there was no precedent for its abandonment during a period of some seven hundred years, it was finally decided to hold it as usual. Premier Asquith, with the leading members of the cabinet and opposition will be among the speakers tonight. Sir Charles Johnson is an express company magnate, and is 66 years of age.

Agricultural Special.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 9.—To advertise the peculiar agricultural and commercial advantage of New York state is the purpose of the tour of the "agricultural special" which arrived here today on its railroad journey through the middle west. The train, which was sent out by the New York State Agricultural department under the direction of Charles W. Larson, an agricultural expert, carries lecturers, moving picture operators, film literary material and genuine products of the empire state's soil. The tour, it is officially stated, was suggested to the agricultural department by the numerous requests which it received from middle west residents asking for information regarding farming in New York state.

The itinerary of the "special" through the middle west, follows: November 3, Fort Wayne; 10, Goshen; 11, Warsaw; 12, Wabash; 13, Huntington; 14 Alexandria; 16 Tipton; 17 Kokomo; 18, Peru; 19, Frankfort; 20, Lafayette, Ind.; 21, Gibson City; 23, Fraton; 24, Peoria; 25, Bloomington; 27, Champaign; 28, Danville; 30, Paris, Ill.; Dec. 1, Marion; 2, Pana, Ill.; 3, Terre Haute; 4, Indianapolis; 5, Shelbyville; 7, Greensburg; 8, Rushville; 9, Anderson; 11, New Castle, Ind.; 12, Troy; 14, Springfield; 15, Delaware, 16, Marion, Ohio.

Doctors War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Over-eating reduces your resistance."

To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers.—Advertisement.
