Packers Have Fumigated.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Six packing house companies outside the union stock yards, that have completed the work of disinfecting their yards, announced today that they will make formal application to the state live stock commission tonight for permission to re-open for business tomorrow. They agreed, however, that if permission is obtained they will not resume slaughtering until Monday, when the quarantine at the stock yards expires.

The companies are The Bismarck Packing and Provision company, Brennan Packing Co., Boyd, Lunham & Company, Independent Packing company, Louis Pfleiser & Son, and the Standard Slaughter Co.

The live stock commission today issued an order directing shippers in Illinois to send with every shipment of live stock in the future, an affidavit declaring the animals are not affected with the foot and mouth disease and have not been exposed to the disease.

The Omaha Packing Co., which was given a clean bill of health by the state commission and given permission to re-open today, set its yards and plant in shape, but will not resume operations until Monday.

MORE BLACK BASS FOR LAKE COOPER

Fish From Fairport Bureau Are Infected With Glochidia to Help Propagate River Mussels.

SOME SENT LAST YEAR

Hoped to Overcome Pearl Shortage on Account of War by Using River Mussel in Its Stead.

The bureau of fisheries at Fairport is assisting in the propagation of the river mussels, and also in the stocking of Lake Cooper. Twenty-five hundred bass have been dumped into Lake Cooper above Keokuk, and all of these fish were infected with glochidia. By this infection they are made active agencies in the propagation of the river mussel.

Dr. R. E. Coker, director of the bureau at Fairport is authority for the statement that the bass were dumped into the lake here. He states that a field party will take an even larger number of fish to the waters about Fairport before the first ice forms.

Black bass were dumped into Lake Cooper last year in the effort on the part of the state fisheries bureau to keep the water stocked with game fish. The second shipment of bass will help this work along and it is believed that a goodly supply of game fish will be found in the lake for the future.

The propagation of the mussel is being urged because of the opening up of a new industry. The war is causing and will cause, before it is over, a serious shortage of gems and precious stones, and pearls are affected. It is hoped that the river mussel can aid in establishing an American industry along this line.

The fact that the government is taking up this work, and sanctioning it, shows that it is interested in the plans for the propagation of the river clam.

AMUSEMENTS.

Hippodrome Tonight.

"Undoubtedly one of the best plays written in America" is the way "Bought and Paid For," which comes to the Hippodrome theatre tonight, was described by Alfred H. Brown of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences, in his lecture at the Fine Arts theatre, Chicago. It was the fourth of a series of six lectures by Mr. Brown on "Significant Plays of Purpose" delivered under the auspices of the University Lecture association. "In the first place," said Mr. Brown, "George Broadhurst has written an excellent play, which is marvelously well constructed and full of the keenest interest for the theatre-goer. I cannot imagine anybody failing to be interested. But the play is more than mere entertainment. It is a picture of a considerable segment of American life. Every character is true to life. We all know these people. 'Bought and Paid For' is still more; it is not only a good play—it is a strong drama, a sermon eloquently preached on a great text. There is nothing so significant as the relations of man and woman. It is impossible for this splendid play to be played in vain. It must do good in the cause of a higher purity in wedded life, in this time of transition from all standards which are breaking down to new standards and ideals which are as yet unformed and chaotic. The play is one more evidence that we have reason to hope for a real and significant American drama. The management has made us its debtors by producing this excellent piece."—Advertisement.

ARABIANS MOBILIZING.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] BERLIN, (via wireless to Sayville), Nov. 12.—Mohammedans in Arabia are mobilizing for war against England, advices to the war office stated today. At Measia and Nejeed, in central Arabia, Moslems are taking up arms to join the Turks.

Such an uprising of Moslems in Arabia would indicate plans for a movement northward to join the Turks for the invasion of Egypt.

GERMAN REPORT.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] BERLIN, (via The Hague), Nov. 12.—The official statement from the war office this afternoon declares that Germans have succeeded in driving the allied forces across the Yser all along the line. The Yser has been cleared of French and British entirely to the North sea. "South of Dixmude favorable progress is being made," the statement continues. "Seven hundred prisoners and eight guns have been captured. East of Ypres counter attacks have been successfully repulsed."

Scrambled Cattle.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 12.—Four thousand head of cattle, valued at nearly a quarter of a million dollars, which became mixed beyond the hope of identification when their pens were thrown open and they were driven out ahead of the fire which gutted the stock yards here, were sold today by Frank G. Robinson, by order of the circuit court. An unscrambling process was necessary because of claims of owners, liability of the stock yards company and of insurance companies were confusing. The owners and the traders who bought the stock today were not certain how the "unscrambling" was to be done. The money will be turned over to Judge Lucas and he will do the rest. Trading in thin cattle, suitable for shipment to the country for feeding, was active today, prices being up 25 to 40 cents from yesterday's low.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 12.—In "dry" Atlanta, one of the largest cities in the country under prohibition rule, thousands of delegates arrived today for the annual national convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. Anna A. Gordon of Illinois, will preside. A squabble between temperance leaders and Atlanta ministers over accommodations for housing the visitors was settled by laymen. It was charged that the ministers utterly failed to arrange for accommodations and it began to look as if the delegates would have to foot their own bills. Mrs. T. E. Patterson of the Georgia W. C. T. U., said the ministers had failed to keep their promise to raise entertainment funds which were finally gathered by laymen.

Lost Hat and Life.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Seated on the window sill of a third floor apartment, an insane negro named Walker, poured a fusillade of shots on pedestrians this afternoon and engaged in a duel with a police sergeant sent to capture him. Six policemen broke down a door and overpowered Walker after he had exhausted his ammunition. He formerly was employed as janitor of the building.

South American Neutrality.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Secretary of State Bryan today denied that the United States had been requested by Great Britain to police South America to preserve the neutrality of the republics. State department officials admitted that Ambassador Spring Rice had submitted information that German ships were using ports in Ecuador and Colombia as bases for supplies. It was held, however, that this could be taken only as a hint to the United States to take steps to preserve the neutrality of South American republics and not as a direct request.

The British government is understood to believe that information was furnished through wireless stations in Ecuador and Colombia to German vessels of movements of British ships before the recent engagement off the Chilean coast, in which the British ship squadron was defeated. It will be the policy of the state department, it was reliably stated today, to keep hands off in the neutrality problems of South American republics.

Governor Dunne Speaks.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—The governors present at the conference here today spent a large part of the day in get-together sessions. They found time, however, to listen to three papers and to enter a discussion of them. Governor Chas. R. Miller of Delaware, was on the program for an address, but wired yesterday that he would be unable to get here. His paper on "Uniformity of Laws Fixing the Conditions to be Met by Foreign Corporations Before Doing Business in a State," which had been sent on in advance, was read into the minutes and made part of record.

Governor Edward F. Dunne of Illinois, was the only speaker this morning. Governor S. F. Stewart of Montana, spoke on extradition and Governor F. M. Byrne of South Dakota, on submission of governor's recommendations in bill form, this afternoon. Governor Dunne talked on uniformity of safety and sanitation laws for places of employment, including administrative machinery. The governors spent the greater part of this forenoon at the executive residence where they were guests of Governor McGovern at breakfast. Discussion of progress of legislation in states will be part of the program tomorrow morning. Governor Dunne was originally scheduled for that time, but the change in the program left that time open for the governors to take up other things in which they are interested.

Generals Plan Campaign.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LAREDO, Texas, Nov. 12.—Gen. Alfredo Ricaut, commander of the Nuevo Laredo Carranzista garrison, left for Monterey today, following the receipt of a summons to a conference of Carranza's generals, supposedly to prepare plans for a campaign against Villa.

Attempted Suicide.

[Special to The Gate City.] DENVER, Illinois, November 12.—Closely following the shock of the sudden death of H. Wilson, is the attempted suicide of William Loring, while standing in the store door. The bullet entered the side of the temple, glancing upward and lodged between the eyes. The shooting was witnessed by Cliff Clark, Fred Bliss and William Scott, at about seven o'clock. When Dr. Seigfried arrived, he asked him why he did it. Mr. Loring replied: "I lost my mind for a time." Afterwards he told the doctor there was a note in the drawer that would explain all. The note was found, but the contents were not made public. It will be remembered that Mr. Loring was married last week and the papers published the account of the previous arrangement of the wedding when he failed to show up and started north. It is concluded that he has been temporarily insane at times. His relatives came over from Plymouth and he was taken back there by Dr. Seigfried and Charlie Greves, and will be taken to the Maconm hospital. The shot put out one of his eyes.

Talk About Exports.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 12.—How to get the most out of exports trade will be the chief topic of interest to middle west manufacturers, merchants and transportation men meeting today in a general conference of Mississippi valley citizens.

KEPPORD SENDS OUT APPEALS FOR FUNDS

State Tuberculosis Lecturer Asks Societies to Order Christmas Seals at Once.

A. E. Kepford, state lecturer on tuberculosis is sending out letters to various societies requesting that orders be placed at once for the Christmas seals which are sold for the benefit of the campaign against the white plague. Last year the sales amounted to nearly half a million seals. The department hopes to exceed that figure greatly this season.

The results of the state census on tuberculosis which was taken through the ministers of the state during September, were received by Mr. Kepford. They show that of the states of the union in which figures on the white plague were collected, the ministers of Iowa gave the best co-operation, but at that only about one-sixth

For the Iowa pastors sent in statistics. For the year ending August 31, 1914, 318 pastors of Iowa reported 245 cases of tuberculosis among their flocks. There were 2,927 funerals during the year conducted by these ministers and 187 of the deaths were due to tuberculosis. The 318 churches represent 140,890 members.

In Des Moines ten ministers reported. There are thirty-three cases of the disease in those congregations. Last year there were 117 funerals of which nineteen deaths were from tuberculosis. The number of members represented was 10,337.

This census also reports many deaths from tuberculosis which in the reports to the state are disguised under some other name, the lecturer says.

Taking the reports for the country over, it is figured that one person out of every ten who died was a victim of tuberculosis. However, the statistics of Iowa show that only one in sixteen dies of tuberculosis. Before the campaign against the white plague began, the rate was one in nine.
