An Amateur "Butted In."

[United Press Leased Wire Service.]
NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Sailors from the United States battleship Kansas arriving here today, brought an explanation of the S. O. S. calls which the big warship was reported to have sent out when she was stumbling along the Maryland coast Sunday night through the gale and mountainous seas.

The blue-jackets resented the story that they were forced to call for aid. "We were having a gale of a time of it," said one today. "And at one time had only a fathom of water between us and the rocks, but there was never a time that we didn't have our ship in control. While we were staggering under the biggest waves I ever saw, our wireless operator caught an S. O. S. call from some amateur I suppose on shore. The sender asked our call and we heard the cutter Itasca answer. Either that amateur was mighty worried about us or he was playing a poor joke."

MAN--HE TOTES A BIG REVOLVER

Young Colored Man Relates to Judge McNamara His Hair-Raising Escape From Destruction.

FIRED AT HIM TWICE

Thought He Was Done for Once When He Slipped and Fell In the Mud--Warrant issued.

William Clifford Logan, a young colored man who until recently was employed at the Elks club, had a narrow escape from death last night when a "friend" of his fired two shots at him with a big revolver, chased him around a house several times, and then pursued him for several blocks down Des Moines street, according to the story told by Logan to Judge McNamara this morning when Logan filed an information against his "friend," charging him with assault to murder.

"He don't carry no gun like a man would carry," said William Clifford, in recounting his escape from destruction. "That gun he carries has got a great big long barrel like this and the bullet it shoots--whoey--it don't have to hit you to kill you, it's so big."

According to Logan's story he was walking along Des Moines street between Ninth and Eleventh some time after twelve o'clock last night, with a young colored girl, Nellie Tone, known as "Mississippi Mamie." Near the intersection of Eleventh street he passed his friend, Charles Hedges, also colored. Hedges, Logan said, was with another woman. When they passed each other in opposite directions, Hedges directed a few uncomplimentary words at Logan and immediately drew his revolver.

Logan says he told the girl he was with to jump behind a tree and he ran for the corner of a house near which they were standing. Just as he swung around the corner Hedges cut loose with the "gun" and Logan says he heard the bullet rip through the weatherboarding on the side of the house just above his head.

Once around the corner Logan looked back and saw Hedges coming. He didn't wait to see anything more. Before Logan could reach the next corner of the house his "friend" had circled the first corner. Logan says he knew Hedges had turned the first corner because he heard another bullet hit the house just above him.

Took to straight-away, William Clifford didn't look back any more to see if his "friend" was coming after him. After circling this and another house several times he tried the straight-away down Des Moines street. Hedges stopped after two blocks of it.

"Judge, I ruined my new suit that cost me $25 and my new overcoat that I just bought two weeks ago for $30, falling down in the mud. And the first time I fell I thought he had got me sure."

Logan claimed there had been no previous trouble between them and said he did not know why Hedges tried to shoot him. Judge McNamara filed out an information charging Hedges with assault to murder and issued a warrant for Hedges' arrest.

TOO MANY BULLETS ARE FALLING

he will be in a position rigidly to enforce this demand.

Five persons have been killed and forty-four wounded since the Maytorena-Hill forces clashed for the first time. Of these, twenty are Americans and seventeen of them are members of the American cavalry patrol.

While the troops are being massed where they can be utilized at short notice, the representatives of the state department are endeavoring to influence the combatants to stop fighting. Consular Agent Carothers, who is with Villa, has been directed to notify that general that action of his subordinate in keeping up hostilities at this point is creating an extremely delicate situation. At the same time the American consular agent at Naco, Sonora, has been ordered to use his influence to force General Hill to withdraw from the border.

No Aggressive Action, WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Denial was made at the white house today that the movement of artillery and cavalry at Naco, Ariz., indicated any change in the "waiting" policy of the administration. It was stated that There is one medicinal whiskey so absolutely pure that physicians have no hesitancy in prescribing. It is Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

By virtue of its uniformity, dependability and freedom from the injurious elements found in ordinary beverage whiskeys it has established a reputation as A Medicine For All Mankind. In cases of exhaustion following long illness with tedious convalescence, Duffy's will be found very beneficial. Its use is recommended in the treatment of wasting and run-down conditions of the body, brain and muscle, as it enables the system to resist disease germs.

which nineteen men, women and children were slain. This precipitated ten days of violence which ended only when United States troops took the field and relieved the militia.

How many lives were lost during the strike is uncertain. There are records showing that at least seventy-five were slain, but it is probable the real number will total close to 200. Many estimate the deaths at more than three hundred.

The cost of the strike has been about $10,000,000. The miners have paid out $4,000,000 since the struggle began and the cost to the operators is estimated at about $6,000,000.

"Cabiria" at the Grand. Elsewhere in this issue appears a space ad telling of the endorsement by some Keokuk people who have witnessed this grand film production during the early part of the year when it appeared in New York and Chicago theatres.

history since 200 years B. C. Two years were consumed in staging Cabiria. The story of the piece is one which grips the attention of the audience from first to last. "Cabiria" will be offered at a second matinee tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock at 25c for everyone to any seat in the theatre. Scale of prices for tonight and Thursday nights will be 50c and 35c for the main floor, 25c for the entire balcony, 15c in the gallery. Evening showings at 8:15 o'clock.—Advertisement.

At the Colonial. Tonight at the "house of quality pictures," a movie program will be given that should secure your patronage. In the Lubin two reel drama, "The Bond of Womanhood," a picture will be shown that you will enjoy and watch with the greatest interest. "The Harbor of Love," is a Sellig production and one that holds your interest all the way through. Then there is a funny Essanay comedy drama of "Sweedie and the Double Exposure," that will drive away the blues and make you happy. The service at the Colonial is continuous and it is the finest ever offered by a Keokuk moving picture house. If you are not acquainted with the Colonial service go there a few times and you will become a steady Colonial picture fan.—Advertisement.

At Hippodrome Thursday. Big Bouquet of loveliness—If there is one point on which Pepple & Greenwood, producers of "The Follies of Broadway," stand pre-eminent it is the bunch of chorus beauties gathered for this big musical revue. Were none of the other features in this big show worthy of consideration the individual and collective loveliness of the fair choristers would alone entitle "The Follies of Broadway" to a distinction no other show can hope to equal or excel. "The Follies" will hold forth at the Hippodrome, starting matinee tomorrow. Considering the merit and reputation of this attraction the scale of seat prices will be extremely moderate. Don't miss seeing this big show.—Advertisement.

Vaudeville at Orpheum. Renaldo & Lawrence, clever singers, talkers and buck and wing dancers will appear at the Orpheum tonight and for a three day's engagement. Also Harry Reader, the juvenile entertainer and song writer, and the Majestic Trio, in fun—more fun. This big bill along with a picture program consisting of "The Bride of Marblehead" in two parts, the Animated Weekly No. 137 and a big comedy hit entitled, "A Race for a Bride," and a program of special music will be shown worth seeing. If you appreciate a good show see Renaldo & Lawrence, Harry Reader and the Majestic Trio tonight at the Orpheum. General admission only 10 cents.—Advertisement.

Her Rat Was Her Bank. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 9.—Struck repeatedly with a hammer, Mrs. Margaret A. Clark, 55, rooming house keeper, is today at the general hospital in a serious condition, her skull badly fractured. Mystery surrounds the attack and several roomers and acquaintances have been arrested.

If robbery was the motive, the fiend missed $19, concealed in a "rat" in the woman's hair.

Second Storm Coming. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Another serious storm is creeping up the Atlantic coast from the Gulf of Mexico and will probably smite New York and the New England coast with as much force as the one which has just swept to sea. Few storms in recent history have lasted as long or created as much havoc as that which has been raging for five days. It is estimated that $1,000,000 worth of property has been destroyed and nine lives lost.

THE WEATHER

For Keokuk and vicinity: Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday. Probably light snow. Slightly colder tonight.

For Iowa, Illinois and Missouri: Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday. Probably light snow. Slightly colder tonight. Fresh northerly winds.

Weather Conditions. The weather continues unsettled in all sections, with snow in the northern and rain in the southern districts from the Rockies eastward to the coast.

The pressure is high on the northern boundary of the plains, and is causing somewhat colder weather in the plains and mountain states, reaching below zero at Havre, Mont., last night.

Conditions indicate little change in the weather for this section tonight and Thursday, and somewhat colder tonight.

"GARDIE EASTMAN" IN WINTER QUARTERS

Captain Fetter's Boat, Towing Large Fleet, Puts Up at Quincy for the Winter.

Quincy Herald: Towing a large fleet of five or six barges, the Gardie Eastman, Captain A. V. Fetter's government boat, after finishing a government contract near La Grange, steamed into the local port yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, and shortly afterwards was safely anchored in the Quincy bay, where it will remain until spring.

The Gardie towed probably the largest fleet that has been seen in the local port for some time. It was necessary for the pilot to do considerable maneuvering in mid-stream before the long string of barges could be gotten in line to tow into the bay. While this was being done, it was necessary for the Ferry B. B. to detour, dropping into the local port from the south.

With the Gardie going into winter quarters, the ferry is the only boat plying the river near here. The ferry will continue running until ice forms or probably about Christmas. The Gardie, though it was not put to work until late, had a good year and the contract near La Grange, just finished, was a big one. The Gardie has wintered in Quincy bay for the past several years.

STRAIGHT SALARY TALK IS SETTLED

Supreme Court Reporter May Get Money on This Basis Rather Than for Volumes Edited.

It is expected that, among other things, the legislature will make a change in the manner of compensation of the supreme court reporter. He is now paid $600 a volume for editing the reports of the supreme court. The plan is to have him placed on a straight salary basis and be required to devote his entire time to the work, or to work in relation to the subject. As a makeshift, Mr. Whitney, the new reporter, will go to Des Moines and connect up with Attorney General Cosson's office during the legislative session to help out in the work of assisting members of the legislature to get their bills in proper and presentable shape. Inasmuch as the reports on which he will work will not commence to come from the court until in February, it will be no conflict for him to do this work.

The publishers of the Iowa reports are behind with their work now. They have the copy for three and possibly four new volumes which have not been issued. They are printed in Chicago on contract and not by the state printer. The present reporter, Mr. Cornwall, will finish up as to all the cases submitted prior to January 1 next.

As Brave as Men

CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Women are as brave as men, the city council judiciary committee held, in tabling a proposed ordinance providing that theatres should employ only male ushers. Assistant Fire Marshal McDonald asked for an ordinance on the ground that girl ushers would become panic stricken in case of fire.

Kidney and Bladder Trouble Causes Great Distress

It gives me great pleasure to recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root to any one suffering from bladder trouble.

For four years I was troubled by hemorrhages from the bladder and was not able to get any doctor who could help me. I was in such shape that sleep at night was impossible on account of distressing symptoms. While bending over I would be stricken with such a pain that it was impossible for me to straighten up. Mr. Henry, one of our leading druggists, advised Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root; although I never had any faith in patent medicines, as a last resort I purchased a dollar bottle of Swamp-Root. I noticed a decided change and after using two bottles I was completely cured. It seemed remarkable that I should be cured so quickly after being ill so long. But since this took place nearly two years ago, I have never been troubled and would highly advise any one suffering from the same trouble to at least give Swamp-Root a trial and I think the result will be the same as mine.

Yours very truly,
THOMAS A. BENNETT,
Greensburg, Indiana.

Personally appeared before me this 14th day of February, 1913, Mr. T. A. Bennett, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

L. A. BOWER,
Notary Public.

Letter to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Bi-hampton, N. Y.

Prove What Swamp-Root Will Do For You. Send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample size bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention the Keokuk Daily Gate City. Regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles for sale at all drug stores.

LATEST MARKET QUOTATIONS

United Press Association Telegraph Market Report Over Gate City Local Wire.

Grain Review. [United Press Leased Wire Service.] CHICAGO, Dec. 9.—Wheat moved with a very narrow range today, balanced between bullish cable news and an unwillingness of pit leaders to buy to any extent. Noon found December steady and May 1/4 above last night's close.

Liberal receipts of corn pulled prices down early in the day, but there was a rally to a fraction above last night's close before the noon hour.

Oats wavered up and down with slight changes in the other grains and at noon was a shade below last night's close.

Provisions started higher with the higher hog market, but lost part of the gain.
