VISITORS DAY AT M'KINLEY SCHOOL

Exhibits Shown of Work Done in Manual Training and Domestic Science Classes.

OPEN THIS EVENING

Exhibits Will be on Display Until Nine O'clock This Evening—Are Doing Good Work.

A visitors day was held at the McKinley school this afternoon and will be continued until 9:00 o'clock this evening when exhibits of the work done by the classes in domestic science and manual training are shown.

Visitors were entertained at the school this afternoon in order that the pupils might be seen at their work. In the manual training department, there are classes in mechanical drawing, wood work, wood turning, and forging.

In the mechanical drawing class, forty blue prints that have been completed by the pupils in their work this year were shown, also two exhibits of work done by advanced pupils in mechanical drawing.

The class in forging had exhibits of their work on chains, hooks, rings, lathes and other tools. The exhibits were all very creditable. The equipment for this class at the present time includes one large and three small forges, the former having been added during the present year.

There were a large number of exhibits displayed in the wood turning and wood bench work departments. The equipment in the turning department includes six wood turning lathes and one machine lathe. The classes in wood working have already completed a number of articles of furniture such as small tables, tabrets, and screens.

The classes in domestic science had on exhibit work that has been done in both the cooking and sewing classes. The pupils in domestic science classes are from the eighth grade of the grammar school and from all four years of the high school. Refreshments were served visitors this afternoon by the classes in cooking.

River Terminal Meeting. ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 19.—Reports of consulting engineers that certain standardized machinery could load 100 tons of freight daily for 15 cents a ton, with only a partial lift and specifications which showed that municipal warehouses of an ideal type could be built for $79 a linear foot, today featured the second session of the Mississippi terminal congress in St. Louis. The machinery the reports read, could be built in each city for $18,000.

Following the report, the conference decided to appoint committees to formulate enthusiasm for proper terminals. The committee is to be composed of two members from each state adjacent to the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri rivers.

E. P. M'ANUS, P. M. Miss Anna Powell of Donnellon DONNELLON, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Miss Anna Powell, daughter of Mrs. Luella Powell, died yesterday morning after a lingering illness lasting for about three months. Miss Powell finished the eighth grade in the Donnellon school last spring and in the fall entered high school at Mt. Pleasant. She came home at Thanksgiving time and was not well enough to return to school. She did not seem to be very sick at first, but as partial paralysis seemed to indicate a tumor on the brain, it was thought best to have her go to Chicago for special treatment. An operation brought only temporary relief and she was brought home on

HOW MUCH ARE YOUR FAMILY FOOD BILLS PER WEEK?

The trouble about this high cost of living problem is that we hear only one side of the story—it's all against the maker or seller of eatables. What about your end of it, Mrs. Food Buyer? Let's take a glance at your weekly food bills.

Meat! Meat! More meat! Why this extra extravagance? Listen to what the great dietitian, Dr. Hutchinson, says: "From an economic point of view, meat is a dear food, whether as a yielder of energy or a source of building material." That doesn't mean that we can abolish meat from our table entirely, but we can cut down on it and seek other nutritious but cheaper foods.

What about Faust Macaroni? The same authority says that "Macaroni is absorbed almost in its entirety"—that is, it practically all goes to the making of blood, muscle and tissue. Faust Macaroni is made from Durum wheat, is highly glutinous and can be prepared in many appetizing ways and costs 10c a large package. MAULL BROS., St. Louis, U. S. A.

February 8 to await what seemed could be the only outcome. Anna was fifteen years old. She was a bright student and a general favorite among her classmates. Aside from her many friends she leaves her mother, Mrs. Luella Powell; her brother, James, who is in the United States navy stationed near China, and two sisters, Beth and Ruth, to mourn her departure. The funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. at the M. E. church in Donnellon, and interment will be at the Clay Grove cemetery.

CEMENT PUBLICATION ILLUSTRATES MANDT

Keokuk Manufacturer is Given Prominence in Trade Publication During the Cement Show.

In the Cement Era of recent date appears an article about O. G. Mandt of the American Cement Machine company of Keokuk. He is credited with being the man who put Keokuk on the map and is so illustrated in the Era, a good likeness of Mr. Mandt standing before the globe and putting the word Keokuk on the map with a stamp is striking. The Era is published in the interest of the cement industry and was issued daily during the recent Chicago show. The paper contained the following article about Mr. Mandt:

O. G. Mandt, the manufacturer of the "Boss" mixer, is claimed to be the man who has put Keokuk on the map. Mr. Mandt is introducing to his many friends Mr. G. A. Alston, who has recently been appointed district manager of the American Cement Machine company of the Chicago territory, with offices on the ninth floor of the Lytton building. The company has made arrangements to carry a full stock of equipment in Chicago so that orders can be filled very promptly.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also. "I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SOCIETY

DEPARTED. Behold—not him we knew—This was the prison which his soul looked through, Tender, and brave, and true.

His voice no more is heard; And his dead name—that dear familiar word—Lies on our lips unstirred.

How can we sorrow more? Grieve not for him whose heart had gone before To that untrodden shore.

Here let his body rest, Where the calm shadows that his soul loved best May slide above his breast.

Smooth his uncurtained bed; And if some natural tears are softly shed— Is it not for the dead.

Fold the green turf aright For the long hours before the morning's light, And say the last good-night.

And plant a clear white stone Close by those mounds which hold his loved, his own— Lonely, but not alone.

Here let him sleeping lie, Till Heaven's bright watchers alumber in the sky And Death himself shall die! —Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Thimble Club's Dinner. One of the very pleasant social events of the week was the annual valentine dinner given by the members of the Thimble club to their husbands and men friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Weisman, 1210 Leighton street, on Tuesday evening. Covers were laid for twenty-two at a table gay with red paper hearts and red flowers.

Mentor Reading Club. At the meeting of the Mentor Reading club yesterday at the home of Mrs. N. T. Wilcox on North Fourth street, the program of the subjects and readers for March and April were announced as follows: March 4—American Historic Homes, Mrs. C. F. McFarland and Mrs. H. Boyden Blood. March 18—Charles Dickens, Mrs. E. E. Hawkes; London, Mrs. James Young.

April 1—Holland, Mrs. Henry W. Huiskamp; Durer, Mrs. W. C. Howell; Holbein, Mrs. W. J. Fulton. April 15—Beautiful Buildings of the World, Mrs. E. S. Baker; Glacier National park, Mrs. J. J. Ayres. The beauty of the Mentor reading course is that while the subjects seem very broad and far-reaching, the articles are written by artists and travelers and literary men who have the ability to concentrate the subject so that the club gets a definite and comprehensive idea of the topic. Many pictures illustrate the reading and the club finds much pleasure as well as profit in the reading course.

Mrs. George W. Delaplaine will be hostess at the next meeting of the club. Travel Class Tomorrow. The Travel Class will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Geo. W. Delaplaine. The lesson for the day will be a trip through the gold mining regions of Mexico in which country the class is traveling this year. The historical part of the lesson will have to do with the life of Diaz.

Girls Organize Class. At a meeting of the young women last evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kinnaman, 607 Exchange street, a new organization known as the "Naomi Class" of the Sunday school of the First Methodist Protestant church was effected. The Evangelical Sunday school had arranged for an evening entertainment on Tuesday at the church hall. The program contained quite a number of readings and recitations by members of the different classes, singing and a dialogue. Rev. B.
