

CHINESE SCENES AT MISSION FEST

China's New Day Was Topic and Was Presented in Lecture and Tableaux Last Evening.

ADVANCE IS DEPICTED

Contrast Between the Old and the New is Shown Vividly in These Pictures Last Night.

The second evening's entertainment given in connection with the mission fest, was held in the Y. W. C. auditorium last night and was a very successful affair.

The lecture on China's New Day was written by Miss Martha Hornish, the facts in part being taken from the book by that name.

The lecture was given by Mrs. Leonard Matless, who gave it without notes of any sort and with excellent effect.

Celebrates Her Birthday. Little Miss Martha Wilcox, 519 North Fourth street, entertained a company of boys and girls this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at a delightful party in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Mentor Reading Club. The Mentor Reading club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Geo. W. Delaplaine. The reading was of an unusual interest. The subject was American Historical Home, with Mrs. C. F. McFarland and Mrs. H. Hayden Blood as readers.

Miss Spiesberger Weds. The Omaha Daily News of recent date has on the society page a large picture of Miss Hortense Spiesberger who formerly lived in Keokuk. The family have many friends here who will be interested in her wedding which occurred on Tuesday evening. The following is from the Omaha Daily News:

Society is intent on hearing about every detail of the new hotel. When the name Fontonelle is mentioned, there is a pause in the conversation, for no one wishes to miss a bit of news about the new hotel.

Suffrage Issue Postponed. The local club women who have been interested in the woman's edition of the Register-Leader which was to have been issued on March 24, will be interested to know that the date of its issue has been changed to May 12, owing to the recent burning of the Register-Leader plant.

Birthday is Celebrated. The local grand army and relief corps made a social call last evening on Superintendent and Mrs. Mart Howe of the National cemetery. The occasion was the seventieth birthday of Mr. Howe. Although the night was stormy a goodly number attended and enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Howe. Mr. Howe has long been in the government service. He and his wife came here from Lincoln, Neb., where they were close acquaintances of W. J. Bryan.

Young-Pfaffe Wedding. At the parsonage of St. Paul's German Evangelical church, Rev. A. C. Ernst officiating, occurred the marriage last night of Miss Willa Maria Young of Warsaw and Mr. Randolph E. Pfaffe of this city. Mr. Pfaffe is connected with Pfaffe Bros. in this city, and his bride was one of Warsaw's prominent young women. The young couple will make their home in this city.

Ladies Aid Society. The Ladies Aid society of the First Christian church was entertained this afternoon by Mesdames Narel, Bulman, Betts, McPherson, Baker, Singleton, Skirvin, Lowe and Tally. The meeting was held at the church.

Honor, Bride and Groom. The Baptist Young People's union were entertained last night by Mrs. J. Malone at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Roy Morgan who was married Wednesday. The Sunday school auditorium was beautifully decorated with streamers of red and white crepe paper. A short business session was held at which time Miss Flossie Bear was elected secretary of the union. The evening was enjoyed by fifty-three young people who participated in the many games played by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan were escorted to their places under a bell where they received a shower of hearts. The presents were brought in on a decorated wagon by little Iva Sullivan who was preceded by Vera and Cecil Malone, who represented the bride and groom.

MRS. ANNA TOBIN; ADDITIONAL FACTS Concerning the Beautiful Life of This Former Resident of Keokuk For Many Years.

Some additional details have been received of the life of Mrs. Anna Tobin, whose death was announced in The Gate City and brief mention of her funeral here yesterday.

Mrs. Tobin was an old and highly respected resident of Keokuk for probably a quarter of a century, and was during that time a member of the German Methodist church, located for many years at the corner of Fourteenth and Johnson streets.

She was born in Germany and was married there to George Tobin in 1852, who died in that country in 1868. As a widow she came to the United States with her little family, in 1870, residing for a time in Missouri, and then located in Keokuk in about 1873, going to St. Louis in 1907, which had since been her home.

After the death of her husband, she had a son, John Tobin of Highmore, S. D., and a daughter, Mrs. P. C. Larson, residing at Cantril, Iowa, and only a few months ago made a visit alone from St. Louis to Cantril, to see her daughter. She was very active for one of her age up to a few months before her death, when signs of failure were shown. At the time of her death which occurred at St. Louis at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, she was 82 years and one day old. Worn out by length of her years, her death was very peaceful, gently going into a sweet sleep from which she never awoke.

Funeral services were held for her at her home, which was with her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Brinkman, 5091 Cates avenue, St. Louis, and the body was forwarded to Keokuk for burial. After going to St. Louis, she united with the Ellenbank M. E. church, which she attended regularly until her condition became so that it was beyond her strength to attend. The story of her life would be a beautiful story of love, and duty well performed. She was devotedly attached to her home and church.

Her life work was going about doing good. Perfectly unselfish, her chief aim was to do good to others and her charitable hand was always open to the hungry and needy.

Her funeral yesterday was largely attended, a number of out of town relatives and friends being present, among whom were Mrs. F. H. Brinkman, Mrs. C. W. Tobin of St. Louis, daughter and son who accompanied the remains to this city; Mrs. John Gutting and Mrs. Marsh, of Kahoka, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lips of Wyaconda, Mo., Mrs. P. C. Larson, a daughter, of Cantril, Iowa.

Mrs. Will Raber of Keokuk is a cousin and there are other relatives of this city, including the Brinkmans. There was much tender feeling extended to the mourning near relatives of the good woman who had left behind her a beautiful life, filled with incidents of charity and love for her friends and neighbors.

Those who acted as pall bearers at the funeral were Messrs. August Wustrow, Will Raber, Harvey J. Bonham, Ben Raber, Walter Raber and Jessa Marsh.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with serious lung trouble, it will pay to fully investigate Eckman's Alternative, a remedy which has caused many recoveries. One follows:

"Gentlemen—in the winter of 1905 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1906 I had a cough, cold, fever and raised quantities of awful-looking stuff, and later I had many hemorrhages, at one time three or three successive days. Three physicians treated me, but I was ordered to keep my bed, but did not improve. I was then recommended by a friend, after taking a small quantity I had the first quiet sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well." (Abbreviated.)

HONORABLE ANNIE F. LOUGHRAN. (Abbreviated) Eckman's Alternative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections and up-building the system. Contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Small size, 31¢; regular size, 42¢. Sold by leading druggists. Write for booklet of recoveries. Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Grand. You can come to the Grand tonight with every assurance that you will see a great photo-play production. It's a Paramount program, in which Dustin Farnum takes the leading part in "The Virginian," in five reels. The Paramount is recognized as the world's greatest producers and has already set a new high standard for quality.

There will be two Paramount programs each week at the Grand and Monday and Friday will be known in the future as Paramount days. A selected licensed program will be shown tomorrow and Sunday night, with matinees tomorrow at 2:30 and 4.—Advertisement.

Henry Miller in "Daddy Long-Legs" at the Grand. There never was more interest shown by the public in an attraction at the Grand than the present for Henry Miller in "Daddy Long-Legs." Already the house is more than half sold out, and the prospects are that they will be greeted here with their usual capacity business. A number of theatre parties from out of town have made reservations for seats. While it is still a week before their appearance, the seats are being taken up very fast, and if you are going, you should make your reservation at once.

Those who have furnished the papers this year on the programs of the Parent-Teachers' association will be interested to know that the synopses of those papers as published in The Gate City reports, have been used all year to furnish the programs for a little town in South Carolina. This fact became known from a letter written by the president of that association to Mrs. Frank G. Beardsley, after the last meeting. Mrs. Beardsley had one of the papers at the last meeting, and the president wrote to ask for the full text of it. She spoke with much appreciation of the inspiration which had come to them from the work done in the Keokuk association.

Novel Effects in "A Fool There Was." In making the screen version of "A Fool There Was" the latest of the William Fox productions extraordinary, which appears at the Hippodrome tonight, Director Frank Powell has introduced several distinct novelties, some of the most striking of which occur in the "introductions" of the various characters. Quite noteworthy indeed are some of the Powell effects in Porter Emerson Browne's drama of "The Vampire-woman," which is re-released through the Box Office Attraction.

Miss Theba Bara, the leading woman of the Gymnase and Antoine theatres in Paris, and equally well known in Berlin and Vienna, for her remarkable powers, is seen literally at first as the "rag and a bone and a hank of hair," of Kipling's poem. Gradually the evolution of the vampire takes place till Miss Bara herself is seen on the screen, in a wonderful gown that accentuates the serpent-like characters of the green, holding a white rose, and then dissolves into a splash of crimson blood.

Theba Bara, friend of Isadora Duncan, owes a striking impersonation to the famous dancer.

Miss Theba Bara, the Parisian actress, who plays the vampire-woman in "A Fool There Was," admits that one striking feature of her impersonation is due to the careful schooling she underwent to adopt a peculiar serpentine walk which she uses with great effect in her playing of the part.

"My idea has always been," said Miss Bara, "that the gestures and walk of a person must be influenced by their character. My idea of this woman is that she is pantherish in her every pose and action as well as in mind. Under the tuition of my friend, Miss Duncan, I think I have gained the woman cruel and calculating, fascinating her victim, as a cat fascinates its prey, by her movements which in a measure reflect her nature."—Advertisement.

At the Orpheum. "Old Peg Leg's Will," a two reel "101 Billion" picture is the feature of an exceptionally good bill that will be offered at the Orpheum theatre, this evening. The rose signed to this evening's feature picture is a romance in the west, one of the most clever and interesting little stories ever told by the camera. "Lizzie's Dizzy Career," a laugh producing Nestor comedy, and "When the Deacon Swore," with Billy Rhodeads and Jack Dillon, those two Universal favorites of the screen, complete the bill for this evening. Tomorrow's bill is featured by a two reel drama, "Her Escape," in addition to this will be shown "The Boy Mayor" and "The Fox Trot Craze," the latter by Sterling comedy, which the Hallroom Boys are featured. Don't forget the big six reel detective photoplay of New York's police scandal, "The Line Up," coming to the Orpheum Monday.—Advertisement.

Colonial Theatre Tonight. "The Wrong Prescription," a sensational two reel drama; "Sea Brat," one reel drama; "Her Mother's Voice," a screaming comedy, Shows 7, 8 and 9. Coming tomorrow, Mary Pickford in "The Lighthouse Keeper," Keokuk's most favorite actress. By all means don't fail to see this picture. Mr. Sansone went to a great expense in securing this picture.—Advertisement.

Prevents Liability Limitation. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—Congress within a few hours of adjournment passed a bill of much importance to western live stock shippers. The Cummings bill to prevent railroad limiting liability for shipments was passed by the house through the efforts of Representative Townner.

The senate which had previously passed it agreed to a House amendment and the bill went to the president. The bill has been widely demanded by shippers of live stock in Iowa and other states.

He says that he finds the roads in fine condition, nearly all of them have been dragged, showing for themselves that the commissioners and people in general are advancing in the improvement of the highways.

MRS. SARAH KELLOGG DIED IN PASADENA

Widow of Dr. George Kellogg and a Former Resident Here, Has Been Called by Death.

Friends in the city have received news of the death of Mrs. Sarah Winter Kellogg, widow of Dr. George Kellogg, which occurred Thursday, March 4, in Pasadena, Calif. Dr. and Mrs. Kellogg, years ago, lived in Carthage and will be remembered by the older residents there as well as in Keokuk. Mrs. Kellogg was a writer of ability. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. John McKinney of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Henry Goldwater of Aberdeen, Wash. Dr. Kellogg was a brother of the late Mrs. Charles P. Birze and of W. E. Kellogg and C. A. Kellogg.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, that's why you need Scott's Dandruff. Get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

MRS. MARIA WILSON DIED THIS FORENOON A Venerable Colored Woman at the Advanced Age of Eighty-five Years.

A venerable colored woman, Mrs. Maria Wilson, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Byrd, 1213 Morgan street, at 10 o'clock a. m. after an illness of about two weeks from a severe attack of the grippe, aged near eighty-five years.

She was born in Mississippi and came to Keokuk about five years ago. She was a devout member of the Pilgrims' Rest Baptist church, and was earnest in performing her religious duties and passed away peacefully.

She was a widow, and is survived by three sons, Mat Wilson of Mississippi, Dr. C. M. Wilson of Des Moines, Iowa and John Wilson of Keokuk and one daughter, Mrs. Ida Byrd, wife of Joseph Byrd at whose home she died. She is also survived by one brother, Shelby Johnson of Keokuk, and two sons, one in Mississippi and one in Tennessee; also five grandchildren.

ANXIOUS TO HELP PEOPLE ADVANCE

Captain L. C. Valle, Colored Catholic of Prominence, in City and Says Priests Are Helping.

TALKS OF CELEBRATION Progress That Race Has Made Since It Has Been Given Freedom Will be Shown at Congress.

Capt. L. C. Valle, of Chicago, a colored Catholic of national character, is in this city, creating an interest in the Roman Catholic department of the national half century of negro freedom celebration, to be held in Chicago in August, 1915, under the Illinois commission, appointed by the governor of Illinois. Captain Valle is chief of the Roman Catholic bureau, Cardinal Gibbons, and several archbishops, bishops and priests especially those in charge of colored Catholic churches and schools are honorary vice presidents. The object of this celebration is to show the progress made by the negro since his emancipation. The Roman Catholic exhibit of negro progress will be one of the great features of the celebration. It will present in pictures painted and sculptured from the marvelous progress the Roman Catholic church is making among the upwards of 2,000,000 American negro Catholics.

Captain Valle says that there are about 100 priests laboring exclusively among the negroes. Of these, the fathers of the society of St. Joseph, about fifty in number, labor in twelve southern dioceses and have their mother-house at Baltimore, Maryland. There are twenty-eight diocesan priests in various dioceses, and priests of the society of African missions, in the diocese of Savannah; the society of the Divine Word in the diocese of Natchez, and Little Rock; the society of Jesus in St. Louis, Mo. The Capuchin fathers in Milwaukee, Wis. The Franciscan fathers in Kansas City, Mo., and in Louisville, Ky. And the congregation of the Holy Ghost in Pennsylvania and Virginia. There are four colored Catholic priests in the country. There are several white sisters who are assisting the good work for the race, teaching over 12,000 children in the parish and mission schools. Besides these, there are two communities of colored sisters in this country. The Oblate Sisters of Providence, with mother-house at Baltimore, Md.; the Sisters of the Holy Family, another order of colored women, now has 116 sisters, who have charge of seventeen schools and asylums situated in the archdiocese of New Orleans and in the dioceses of Galveston and Little Rock. They also conduct a government school in British Honduras.

A commission established by the third plenary council of Baltimore, for the Catholic missions among the colored people, and Indians, consisting of three archbishops, distributes the funds collected for this purpose annually through the United States; and a special board for mission work among the colored people incorporated in the hierarchy in 1907, fosters a missionary spirit among Catholics in favor of the colored people, and labors also to provide funds for this object. The good priests of the city of Keokuk are all very zealous for the advancement of the colored race in this country as well as in this community.

The governor of Iowa, in his biennial message to the thirty-sixth general assembly, has asked for an appropriation for this celebration of negro freedom.
