Designed to furnish sufficient revenue to finance the United States treasury, it has proven absolutely indequate for that purpose.

In writing the tariff bill the demorats dimly foresaw a possible reduction in customs receipts, although they did not know how much and did not ascertain the facts. So the in-come tax provision was incorporated, in the hope that it would make up for any miscalculations in the tariff bill, although the democrats did not know and did not ascertain the facts. But what happened when these provisions went into effect?

Customs receipts were millions of dollars below the amount needed from that source, and at the same grass leaps out by magic where time collections from the income tax the hills were dull and mean; fell many millions below the amount the other evening before a small and
