Tomorrow A SHOWER OF MONEY SAVING BARGAINS

The Quality Sale of The M. Younker Store Offers to the Bargain Shoppers of Keokuk and Vicinity, Beyond all Question of a Doubt, the Greatest Values of the Day

We will not limit our reduced prices to the collection of $1 items the competing stores of the city are specializing on but will include in our unusually low price range, every item in our store. As far as participation in the plans for the great $1 Day goes, please note that practically every item advertised by the other local merchants of our lines in their Dollar Day announcements, as last night's papers, was advertised by us and will be sold by us at 89c.

Our Entire Stock Will Be Sacrificed

Every Article in Our Store Will be Sold Either at Cost, Below Cost or at Figures Approximating Cost. Not a Single Article Reserved to Sell at Usual Values

 —The Fort Madison Gem City, taking notice of Eugene Maxwell's lofty population predictions for Fort Madison, comments as follows: Eugene Maxwell peers into the future of Fort Madison and sees a population of 20,000 in three years and a population of 50,000 in six years. We sincerely hope that your prediction is partially true, if not wholly. Eugene, but don't you think it a little steep? Not doubting your clairvoyant powers, you know, but just sort of ah-well skeptical, you know, when you mention such lofty figures.
 —3 one pound cans of Red Crown steel cut coffee for $1 and an extra pound free tomorrow at A. P. J. Ewers, 608 Palean street.
 —Two Keokuk contractors received the bids for the new school at Donnellson. The following comment is from the Donnellson Review: The contract for the erection of the new school building, also for the heating and plumbing in same, was awarded last Thursday night. Twelve bidders were represented on the general contract, and ten on the heating and plumbing. The contract for the building was awarded to the lowest bidder, F. L. Griffey & Son, of Keokuk, for $13,465, and the heating and plumbing also goes to a Keokuk firm, W. P. Sutton being the lowest bidder, at a price of $2,861.50. Both contractors are well known in this section, and are responsible men and there should be no question about our getting a good job.

 —It is time now for you to decide on that spring suit question and it means much for you to consult the Glasgow Tailors before ordering.
 —C. S. Abell's automobile attracted considerable attention as it passed through Fort Madison, yesterday, with a party of Shriners enroute to Burlington, judging from the following from Fort Madison: A Keokuk automobile containing a party of five passed through the city today on its way to the big Shriners' meeting at Burlington. On one side of the car hung a canvass with Keokuk printed in large letters upon it, and on the other side a similar sign with Shriners upon it. Attention was also drawn to the auto by the ringing of a bell attached to the machine instead of the usual automobile horn.

Times Have Changed.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] LONDON, May 7.—In striking contrast to the conditions prevailing a year ago, when she was a fugitive from justice, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, tonight will be the petted and lauded guest of honor at the biggest picture theatre in north London. She is to make a recruiting speech and appears at the invitation of the war office. She will be received in state at the entrance of the theatre by the mayor and the corporation officers. In connection with her speech, a patriotic film entitled "Wake Up" will be shown.

Dollar Day, May 8
