PRISONERS WORK ON RIVER DRIVE

Gang of Ten From Lee County Jail Are Put To Work On Boulevard Between Keokuk and Montrose

WILL GET ROAD READY

Supervisors Agree to Sheriff Scott's Plan and Road Will Be Kept in Good Shape From Now On

Prisoners from the county jail at Keokuk are repairing the Lake shore drive between here and Montrose.

The lake shore drive is in need of repair in a number of places. It is planned to get the road in shape and then to keep it in shape instead of letting it run down here and there.

Sheriff Scott suggested that the board allow the prisoners in the county jail to be worked on the roads. There was no work being done on the roads, and the work was different from work inside the city, where there are always needy persons who can do the work.

The Nauvoo Gate City

Nauvoo, Ill., June 23, 1915

Mrs. Lou Argast received word Tuesday afternoon of the death of her uncle, Mr. John H. Wolff, of Keokuk, which occurred there at 2 o'clock p. m. on the above day. Mrs. Argast had just returned from Keokuk on Monday afternoon, after a visit of nearly a week with her uncle and aunt, being called there by his illness. Mr. Wolff came to Nauvoo in the early fifties with his parents and resided here until about fifteen years of age when he went to Keokuk and was a resident of that city until his death with the exception of a few years that he resided in Peoria, Ill. He was sixty-six years of age at the time of his death and leaves his wife and two sons, Edward, of St. Louis, and Irvin, of Chicago. Mrs. Lou Argast, a niece, and John M. Bochtold, a nephew, of Nauvoo, besides immediate relatives everywhere. The gentleman had many friends in Nauvoo, his boyhood friends who were pained to learn of his early and almost sudden demise. The funeral will probably occur Thursday of this week and his Nauvoo relatives will attend.

The Cotton Blossom floating theatre was at the Nauvoo landing last Saturday evening and presented the play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine." City boys, in a pretty game, dropped anchor at the west landing just below the city limits, and showed the presentation of the play known as "A Shepherd of the Hills." On both evenings the attendance was light on account of the rains. The company carried by the management was a good one and seemed to please all who witnessed the plays. The specialties were also good.

Mr. Norman Hudson who intended to visit relatives in Chicago last week, didn't go on account of the strike which was on in the big city.

Mrs. Jos. Nelson and daughter, Willa, spent last week in Quincy, Ill.

The Keokuk Electric ball team came up to Nauvoo last Sunday to meet the Invincible Nauvoos on our diamond and were victorious over the Dan City boys. It was a pretty game throughout but the Keokuk sluggers couldn't find Keidener's curves. The score at the end of the ninth inning was 3 to 2 and our boys were jubilant over defeating such a fast bunch as the Keokuk Electric. And the Keokuk boys are a gentlemanly set of fellows to play with.

Mrs. Ed Graf was bitten on one of her arms by a snake last week. The lady was in the ice house on her premises, and while she was uncovering the crystal blocks that had straw on top of it, the snake stung her. The arm showed much swelling, but a physician was called and with careful treatment it is to its normal size, and the danger was passed. A search was made for the reptile but his snakeship found a safe hiding place.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fisher are the parents of a new girl baby which arrived last Thursday.

Miss Lelia, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Haggitt of Nauvoo, who attended college in Decatur, Ill., has arrived home for the summer. Miss Lelia is one of Nauvoo's most pleasant, sociable, and popular ladies, and her many friends here are glad to have her among us again.

Mrs. Lizzitta Edith, wife of Henry Danley, died in Ft. Madison on Tuesday of last week. The family were former residents of Nauvoo and the deceased was brought to this city for burial in our city cemetery. The lady was forty-six years of age. She leaves her husband and several children as well as numerous relatives to mourn.

Geo. Anton of Chicago is home again. George comes to Nauvoo and remains under the parental roof during the summer almost every season. Next Thursday is St. John's day and is generally observed by the Masonic fraternity. Black and red raspberries of the home grown kind are now in our market. Blackberries will be the next fruit to be gathered. Nauvoo's assessor, while making his rounds a few weeks ago, found some awful poor people living here and some persons whom he thought were well to do before his labors began. Those poor mortals. Strawberry festivals were a back number in Nauvoo this year and there were plenty of berries, too. There have been no feelings in dirt in Nauvoo for a long time. There will be a grand family reunion of farmers and citizens in Nauvoo on July 5. Come and join us and help celebrate. Miss Clara Kuhn of State Centre, Iowa, is visiting home folks. Waldemar Krueger, who has been in St. Louis attending dental college, has returned to his Nauvoo home. Nauvoo admits humidity several times this year but it was followed in the form of cool, refreshing showers. The chigger season is now open in Nauvoo and the old remedies that were hidden away, will be looked for. The Riverside ball team of Hamilton will come to Nauvoo next Sunday and cross bats with the home team. The boys from the dam city will have to come greatly strengthened if they expect to keep a string of goose eggs from off the score tab. Wayne Atkinson, the Nauvoo barber, has gone to Milwaukee, Wis., to attend the marriage of his sister. He will return July 2. New potatoes are selling at 60 and 80 cents per bushel in Chicago and St. Louis. Nauvoo's home grown new potatoes are selling at the low price of 3 cents per pound or $1.50 per bushel. You can live cheap in Nauvoo if you raise your own vegetables. Mrs. J. E. Reeder and little son of Sioux City, Iowa, are visiting the lady's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Selwyn Wyles. Mrs. Carl Zaiser and two daughters arrived in Nauvoo last week's end for a visit with relatives, the guests of Mrs. Zaiser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schneider. Mr. and Mrs. Zaiser have been living in Houston, Texas, and are now on their way to Milwaukee, Wis., where Mr. Zaiser has charge of one of the daily newspapers. There will be a public dance in the Nauvoo opera house next Friday evening. It will be given by some young man who lives in Snorra township a few miles below Nauvoo. The books in the Nauvoo library are now free to all persons residing in Nauvoo. The library has become the property of Nauvoo and in future will be under the supervision of the powers that be. Miss Zelma Walther was hit in the face by a batted ball while witnessing the ball game in Nauvoo's ball park last Sunday afternoon, which came near resulting seriously. As it is, the young lady received a bad scalp wound which took one stitch to set it right. The ball struck her over the left eye, making an ugly wound. She was taken quickly to a doctor's office in one of the many automobiles that were on the ground and the injury attended to and we are happy to state that Miss Zelma is getting along nicely now. The baseball boys ought to have the thing known as the grandstand that inhabits the ball park, screened, if they intend to continue to allow ladies to attend their ball games. Some one may get killed or badly injured or crippled for life by a batted ball if this is not done soon. One thing that is bothering some people more than anything else is how they are going to get their vacation money.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mary Pickford at the Grand. Mary Pickford will appear at the Grand today and tomorrow in a five part Paramount picture, "The Eagles Mate," a vitally gripping drama of the mountain country, abounding in honest, exultant and poignant thrills, written by Anna Chopin. Mary Pickford portrays the delightfully fascinating character of Little Anemone, a dainty slip of beauty, adorably girlish, tantalizingly wilful, gloriously feminine. From her peaceful little valley home, Anemone rises to great heights, and in the stress of that mounting, realizes the sternest self-sacrifice for love, that later results in the full accomplishment of her womanhood. You should not fail to see Mary Pickford in "The Eagles Mate" at the Grand today and tomorrow.

Another Paramount feature will be presented at the Grand Friday.
