Cincinnati Day at Fair.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 22.—His appetite whittled by his word-lashing of abject pacifists who would chinify the United States, ex-President Theodore Roosevelt "did" the exposition here today. He seemed to enjoy everything with a child's delight. Thousands went to the exposition to see him, but could not keep up his pace.

Cincinnatians gathered at the liberal arts palace to celebrate their day at the exposition, listened to speeches over long distance telephones from Mayor Spiegel and leading Cincinnati business men. A special edition here by the Cincinnati Post was a feature.

Young, of Chicago; Miss Lydia Wheeler, Philadelphia; John H. Jones Mrs. James Levins and B. Forbes Mitchell of New York were the American passengers.

HAMILTON SHOE FACTORY CLOSED

Temporary Suspension of Business Has Been Made Necessary on Account of General Financial Conditions.

THEY STILL HAVE FAITH

People Look to Reorganization, President of Business Men's Club Says, For the Future.

[Special to The Gate City] HAMILTON, Ill., July 22.—The Edgar S. Peterson shoe factory at Hamilton is temporarily closed pending the best disposition for all parties concerned in the proposition. An attempt will be made to re-organize and refinance the company on some basis. Hamilton has not lost faith in the factory, but the financial stringency of the present time is given as the reason for the temporary closing of the factory.

John Gordon, representing the Hamilton Business Men's club, made a statement this afternoon when asked by The Gate City concerning the status of the factory here.

"The money we spent in the building of the factory drained our resources," Mr. Gordon said. "The installation of the machinery drained the resources of Mr. Peterson. Taken in connection with the business depression of today, the proposition was too big for us to handle. Ordinarily we would have had the resources to fall back on. The stringency of the money market and the general depression of business has seen such that we have not been able to realize on our resources as otherwise we should have been able to."

"There has been no breach of faith in the matter as concerns either party. The people of Hamilton have stood by us nobly, and we have been square with them, we believe. We are not going to be discouraged at this turn of events. We own the building, and we believe that some way will turn up, whereby we will be able to see our proposition materialize."

Orders for Three Months.
It was stated in connection with the temporary closing of the factory that Mr. Peterson has orders in the future sufficient to carry the plant for three months. For this reason the Hamilton people are hoping that the reorganization of the factory may be successfully accomplished.

The Hamilton people have responded nobly to the calls placed upon them in this matter. They got behind the proposition gladly, and helped to get the money raised immediately for the building. This is theirs now, whatever use it may be put to. They have a big asset in this building. It was due entirely to business conditions that the people were not able to assume added burdens in the matter.

The people of Hamilton seem to realize that under the general business conditions, it was too big for them to handle. They are still hopeful however, that something may be done with the plan of reorganization which has taken Mr. Peterson's representatives to Chicago.

The Business Men's association is loud in its praise of the Hamilton people who have stood by them throughout the entire transaction. That their faith is unshaken was the statement of one of the officers of the club.

SURRENDER CASE TO FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

Police Will Take Blackie Wilson to Ottumwa Tomorrow for U. S. Marshal.

"Blackie" Wilson, arrested here recently, suspected of having broken and entering five freight cars here bearing interstate seals will be taken to Ottumwa by local police tomorrow and turned over to the United States marshal at that place. When arrested Wilson, a white man whose home is in West Keokuk, had in his possession a butt of tobacco believed to have been taken from one of the five cars. No information has been filed against him here.

Call it Simple Murder.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] BAYONNE, N. J., July 22.—Murder pure and simple was all the shooting of the men can be termed, declared Frank Tannenbaum, I. W. U. leader, this afternoon. "They had committed no act of violence and were not given the slightest chance. "Their only offense consisted in standing in front of the company's plant. Guards stationed on the railway tracks about 200 yards away, without provocation, suddenly sent a fusillade of rifle shots at them and they fell in a heap. There were three guards, all of whom had rifles. The shots were heard by many persons, including police, who refused to go to the aid of the wounded men. They lay there without medical attendance for nearly an hour. Friends of the strikers were forced to impress a wagon into service to take the men to a hospital."

Her Life Spared.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] OSSINING, N. Y., July 22.—Mrs. Madeline Ferrola, who was sentenced to die August 2 for the murder of her late husband, was spared the women's "death house" at Sing Sing today, ignorant of the fact that she had been saved from the electric chair.

"We will tell her this afternoon when Warden Osborn is officially informed that Governor Whitman has commuted her sentence," said one of the guards. "It will make little difference with her. She doesn't seem to understand that she was so close to death."

The New York suffragists who won their fight to save the little Italian woman's life were to visit her late today.

Governor Whitman commuted the death sentence to life imprisonment.

Two Adams and Eves.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., July 22.—Garbed in the robes of state in vogue in the days of Adam and Eve, two women and two men have transformed Roosevelt's point on the John A. Roosevelt estate, three miles north of here on the bank of the Hudson, into a modern Garden of Eden.

For the past week they have disappeared themselves in the water, paraded the New York Central tracks and run wild through the woods. Up on complaint of the New York Central officials, Sheriff Hornbeck has taken up the case and has the names and addresses of the parties. Arrests are expected.

Troops Ordered Out.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 22.—Governor Fielder at 1:20 this afternoon ordered out the state militia, to proceed at once to Bayonne to take charge of the situation there. He received Sheriff Kinkead's appeal for troops in his office here and acted on it immediately.

Well Prepared.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] BERLIN, July 22. (Via wireless to Sayville.)—An official investigation completed today has established the fact that Germany is amply provided both with foodstuffs and supplies for the manufacture of ammunition to carry on the war for many years.

15,000 Machine Guns.
[United Press Leased Wire Service.] BERLIN, July 22. (Via wireless to Sayville.)—The Russian armies have lost 15,000 machine guns since the beginning of the war, according to a dispatch received here today, the majority falling into the hands of the Germans. Many of these had been ruined by the Russian soldiers who did not know how to operate them.

Aviators Escaped Death.
PENSACOLA, Fla., July 22.—Lieutenant Kenneth Whiting of the navy aviation corps, and Walter Brooks, Dayton, Ohio, aviator, were only slightly bruised today, the result of a 100 foot fall into the bay here last night. The machine was wrecked.

BOY SCOUTS ARE PATRIOTIC

All Over Italy Comes Word That They Are Running Away to Join Army.

[By Alice Rohe, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

ROME, June 16. (By mail to New York.)—The enthusiasm which permeates all classes of society over Italy's entrance into the war is reflected vividly in the boy scouts. From all parts of Italy the same story is being wired to Rome. "Two boy scouts ran away today to join the army."

And the scoutmasters are now busy explaining to the boy scouts the very active and necessary duties that they may perform at home. Later on it need arise they may be utilized in more martial duties. The memory of the splendid service rendered by boy scouts during the Avezzano earthquake, and the dark days of misery which followed, has placed these youthful aids in the first category of able nurses and assistants.

Three boy scouts from Ferrara, Seno Stancari, 13 years of age, Armando Negri, 14, and Amilcare Liboni, 12, ran away from home thoroughly equipped to go to the front. They were brought back by the scoutmaster and are now busy helping the needy families of soldiers who have been called to the front.

TO STOP ILLICIT SALE OF EXTRACTS

State Dairy Commissioner Barney Plans Prosecution of Bootlegging in Essences.

W. B. Barney, state dairy and food commissioner, has sent out to inspectors of the department instructions to prosecute grocers who sell lemon and vanilla extract as a beverage. In view of the strict temperance laws enacted by the general assembly, it is believed that persons wanting alcoholic drink will resort to the use of medicated booze and extracts.

The letter follows: "This department has always had more or less trouble on account of the sale by the grocer of 'fractional strength' lemon and vanilla flavoring extract as a beverage. "Since the enactment of the more stringent temperance legislation by the last general assembly, these complaints are becoming more frequent than ever. "We believe that 90 per cent of the grocermen are not in favor of more or less trouble on account of the sale of these products as a beverage. We are also certain that those who do sell as a beverage, do so knowingly from the fact that these goods are only required in small quantities for food purposes and in much larger quantities as a drink. "We are asking all of the representatives of this department to take this matter up with the grocermen and others, and to see that their respective territories—the late court decisions are such as would indicate that parties selling these products as a beverage may be prosecuted under the temperance laws."

LID CLAMPED ON EVERY EVENING

Brussels is Wide Open All Day, but Not When Night Comes.

[By Carl W. Ackerman, United Press Staff Correspondent.]

BRUSSELS, June 20.—(By mail to New York.)—Evidences are numerous throughout Belgium and northern France that Germany is preparing to either annex territory at the end of this war, or, to reconstruct the railroads, towns and country damaged by the war. Whatever Germany's aim may be, a week's journey through this conquered country will convince anyone that the German science of preparation is being spread over hundreds of miles of Belgium and France.

During the past week I traveled from Metz throughout northern France and Belgium south of Brussels. I saw St. Quentin, Peronne, the ruins of La Chapelle and Louvain, Namur, which was almost untouched by the war, Brussels, Liege and many other places that one cannot mention. I talked with the inhabitants and the military authorities and everywhere I was impressed by the activity of the German people, through their civil as well as military representatives.

Germany has sent expert engineers into Belgium to rebuild the railroads. German workmen are constructing iron and concrete bridges in many places which were blown up both by the Belgian and German forces. German foresters are scattered throughout Belgium instituting a system of conservation of valuable trees. German agricultural experts are directing the planting of crops and the tilling of the soil and from appearances the Belgian fields are one vast food garden.

Wheat fields are everywhere. Sugar beets have been dug up and are piled by the side of the road, ready for transportation to the sugar refineries. German doctors are assisting the Belgian and French civil authorities in improving city sanitation. German teachers, who know French, are assisting in the public schools. In many cities I was told that education of children was now compulsory, for it was interrupted at the beginning of the war—and the studies in French, although German is now also taught.

In Brussels the city is under the oversight of Belgian police, and in the Belgian uniforms and Belgian civil authorities work with the German military authorities, Belgian workers are repairing streets and caring for the palace grounds of King Albert. The grounds of the former King Leopold are spotless. During an automobile trip there I saw Belgian workmen digging weeds out of the grass and tending the museum. The numerous brown statues throughout the city were untouched. From the former palace of the Belgian king flies a Red Cross flag. Over the Palace de Justice and other public buildings wave the German colors.

Brussels itself was as busy as Berlin. Street cars were running. Children were selling postcards. Cab drivers were everywhere and German soldiers and Belgian police walked side by side. Everything is wide open in Brussels until midnight and then the lid is clamped tight.

THEY FRIEND AT PARTING.

"If thou dost bid thy friend farewell But for one night that farewell may be. Press thou his hand in thine. How canst thou tell how far from thee Fate or caprice may lead his steps ere that tomorrow comes? Men have been known lightly to turn the corner of a street. And days have grown to months. And months to lasting years, ere they Have looked in loving eyes again. Parting at best, is underlaid with tears and pain; Therefore, lest sudden death should come between. Or time, or distance, clasp with press-ure the hand, the hand, the hand; Of him that goeth forth: Unseen, Fate goes too."

Light Lunches Served by Railroad

Pennsylvania System Installs a Service That is Proving Very Popular.

Light lunches served to passengers in coaches is a new feature of travel comfort on the Pennsylvania lines. During meal hours uniformed waiters from dining cars pass through coaches offering light lunches of fruit, sandwiches, coffee and pastry, which are sold at nominal prices and served to passengers in their seats. The food is the same as served in dining cars by the same employes of the railroad company.

After a thorough test, these light lunches are now served on all portions of the Pennsylvania line west of Pittsburgh in coaches of trains having dining cars, and will be extended to certain stations, where uniformed waiters will pass through coaches with the lunches, so that food requirements of all classes of passengers will be fully met en route, relieving them of the annoyance of carrying lunch boxes and baskets, or leaving the train for eatables.

Statistics compiled during the period the plan was tested show the average cost to each passenger was a fraction less than 15 cents, and that in the course of a year several hundred thousand passengers are likely to be accommodated by the light lunch service, established as an auxiliary to the regular dining car service.
