[Special to The Gate City.] HAMILTON, Ill., Aug. 7.—The Hamilton chautauqua opened its eleventh season most auspiciously on Friday night with a concert by the Oxford company. The sale of season tickets has been unusually good and the talent secured for the ten day's program is the best which the chautauqua bureau has to offer. The local management is in the hands of prominent residents of Hamilton as follows:

President—A. B. Agnew.
Vice president—J. P. Guthrie.
Treasurer—H. G. Williams.
Secretary—M. G. Dandant.
J. A. Gordon, A. L. McArthur, H. S. Harrison, B. L. Mathis, Warren H. Orr, H. E. Rayburn, W. H. Harkrader.

The tent colony in the grove back of the big tent is not so large as in former years, owing to the weather conditions this season, there being only four or five tents as against twenty or more in former years.

The Oxford company which opened the programs of the assembly is a musical organization of a high order. The opening program included:

Quartette—
Armenia.....H. Lane Wilson
Aunt Margery.....Parks
Piano—
(a) Preliminary.....Macdowell
(b) The Spinning Wheel.....Chaminade
(c) Blue Danube Waltz.....Strauss
The program closed with The Mikado in costume.

Saturday's Program Prelude.
The tent was comfortably filled on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock to hear the prelude given by the Oxford Quartette. The program included:

Quartette—
Bridal chorus from The Rose Maiden, by Cowen.
The Rosary, by Nevins.
Piano—Staccato Etude, by Rhenubenstein.

The closing group of songs was six nursery rhymes of English folk songs, the musical arrangement for which was by H. Walford Davies.

(a) Lullaby.
(b) Willie Winkie.
(c) Valentine.
(d) Tother Little Tune.
(e) Thomas and Annice.
(f) If All the Sea were One Sea.

Missouri Veterinary Speaks.
The lecture for the afternoon was by David Francis Luckey, state veterinarian for the state of Missouri. He spoke on the Prevention and Prevention of Tuberculosis, speaking in particular of its presence in cattle and its effect on the presence in cattle and its effect on the presence in cattle.

the infection of herds. In opening his lecture he said:

"Suppose you were to read in The Gate City tomorrow morning that some powerful force had come from Iowa over into Illinois and had killed 6,297 residents of this state? And that furthermore in the next year that same force was going to kill during the next year one out of every eight of the residents remaining. What would you do about it? You'd surely do something, wouldn't you? Well, there is exactly such a force at work right here and we are going to talk about what we can do to put it to rout.

Is Community Affair.
"To fight tuberculosis is a community affair; one man who doesn't co-operate can defeat the final driving out of the disease. Whenever we quit eating, drinking and breathing tuberculosis we are out of danger. There is one thing which every man, woman and child should unfailingly observe and that is to cover their nose and mouth whenever they cough or sneeze. In hospitals and sanitariums the patients use paper napkins for handkerchiefs and these are burned. It wouldn't be a bad idea to have in every school room a pile of paper napkins for the children who forget their handkerchiefs.

"Remember one thing, hereditary cuts no figure in the transmission of tuberculosis; it is a disease which you can contract from the outside.

Know Milk Supply.
"It is criminal carelessness not to know all about the source of the milk supply which feeds your family. Many cows which look healthy and normal are affected with tuberculosis. If you have any suspicion regarding your milk supply, an appeal to your milk inspector or state veterinarian will give you the information you need. You don't need many laws, two are enough, one to punish a veterinarian who passes with a clean bill diseased cattle and another law to pen a dairyman who knowingly sells milk from diseased cows. Organization—that is, all the community working together—and education are the two things that are needed to wage this war, a war not to take life but to save it, to save in this state alone annually 6,297 lives. Don't you want to enlist?"

Last Night's Program.
The program on Saturday evening was given by the Oxford quartette and was a presentation of The Chocolate Soldier, by Richard Strauss. The story of the Chocolate Soldier is from Geo. Bernard Shaw's Arms and the Man. The costumes were elaborate and the stage setting remarkably good for a tent. The generous applause showed the appreciation with which the catchy airs and tuneful music was received.

A SUMMER BENEDICTION.

O happy one, for whom the days Of summer break in wonder signs, Whose life grows pure, tuned to the praise Of God's own mountain priests and vines,
Lay down thy chain of cares and ills Beneath some mighty sunlit crest, And shadowed by the great hills—
Rest.

O favored spirit, who shall breathe The wild, white incense of the sea, And watch time's lights and shadows wreath.

Yet dream of all eternity— Forget thine old reward or blame, Forget thy little goal and quest, Wrapped by the peace that hath no name—
Rest.

O home-bound soul, whose household round Is broken by no holiday, Open thy doors to scent and sound, Let summer meet thee on thy way, Gather its glory and its balm, Make ready for thy royal guest, A shrine of sweet perpetual calm—
Rest.

And thou, O toiler in the heat, Whose eyes no birds nor blossoms cheer,
Against whose toil and longing beat The blaze and burden of the year; For thee the cold white stars are born,
For thee, night veils the burning west;
From crimson eve till golden morn—
Rest.

Women Find Flag Law Violation.
Several patriotic people had their sense of the proprieties in the use of the American flag shocked on Friday, by a person who kept a small refreshment stand on the road to the circus ground. She had a table on which was laid the American flag for a cloth. One of the members of the local D. A. R. chapter driving by, saw the flag and its use and stopped and asked the proprietor if she knew she was violating the Iowa law for the protection of the flag. She replied that she didn't know it was a violation of the law and was very polite to her expression of regret at the occurrence—but she didn't take the flag from the table, as was discovered later in the evening. To use the flag in any other way than as a banner is generally speaking, a violation of the law and the penalty is fine or imprisonment.

The Warsaw Gate City

Warsaw, Ill., Aug. 8, 1915.

Mrs. John H. Finlay and guests, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Frank Connors, left Wednesday for Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will spend the summer in Chicago with Mrs. Connors, and Mrs. Finlay will spend several weeks there.

Mr. and Mrs. Collingwood Tucker of Keokuk were guests at the six o'clock dinner given by Mrs. J. H. Finlay recently.

Mrs. Wm. Johnson of Warsaw, died in a Quincy hospital Wednesday evening, of tuberculosis from which she has been a sufferer for some time, the trouble beginning with an attack of whooping cough at the time one of her twin babies died with it. She was an estimable woman and a devoted mother and wife. She was twenty-nine years of age, and leaves a husband and four little children. Her funeral occurred Thursday afternoon, Rev. Cole officiating.

Geo. W. Eymann received a dispatch Thursday from his brother Albert H. Eymann, formerly in the drug business here, announcing the death of his wife at the Page hotel, Denver, Colo., July 31. She had been ill for a long time at her home in San Antonio, Texas, and finally went to Denver to submit to an operation which was performed July 30, but she succumbed to the shock sixteen hours later. Her daughter was with her and also her sisters Mrs. Buehler of Denver, and Mrs. DeSouche of Pueblo, Colo. Mrs. Eymann was summoned from Kingman, Kansas, where he was on business at the time. Mrs. Eymann was a native of Warsaw, though her early womanhood was spent in Winterset, Iowa, where her remains were taken for burial. She will be sincerely mourned by her friends here.

The Warsaw band went to Lima Saturday morning where they played for the picnic of the Christian church; there was an immense crowd there but the church was precluded from feeding them, 125 chickens having been slaughtered for the fried chicken dinner and 200 pounds of fish caught for the supper. Lima people are noted for never doing things by halves. All had a delightful time and the weather was ideal.

A sweet little daughter, seven pounds, came to brighten the home of our young friends, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Buckert, at 6 o'clock Friday morning, August 6. Mrs. Buckert, "Miss Alberta" are doing fine, and congratulations are being tendered almost every hour by many friends. Mrs. Buckert was Miss Isabelle Crane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crane.

Mrs. Frank LeBron Sr., of Keokuk and her daughter, Mrs. Unser of Chicago, are expected Tuesday for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick. Tuesday, the latter's little son David will be two years old.

Two boys and a girl as follows: An 8 1/2 pound boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Perry Zinn, August 2; an eight pound boy to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rock, July 24; and a daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Jacobs, of Elderville, July 23. Mrs. Jacobs was Miss Olga Satory of Warsaw.

If the weather is unfavorable, the union services will be held in the Methodist church Sunday evening and not in the park.

A few flakes of snow were seen and felt about 9 a. m., August 5, by three persons, in different parts of Warsaw. No imagination about this, sure.

Mrs. D. W. Loomis of Warsaw and her sister, Mrs. J. H. Bohan and Mrs. Pierce, both of Quincy, drove over to La Harpe Thursday, and returned Friday evening.

Many loads of wheat were marketed here Saturday. Hay is rotting on the ground and wheat sprouting in the shock.

A human skeleton was found at the foot of the Ft. Edwards bluff by some workmen plotting for the foundation of the Standard Oil Co.'s station. Only the skull and a few bones were left. The remains were only about eighteen inches below the surface, and a rusty razor was found with them.

A mammoth picture of a woolly dog, sitting up and begging, may be seen on one of the galvanized iron bill boards being erected by Edgar Hambringer, city bill poster. The picture has possibly been accidentally formed by laying two plates or sheets of zinc face to face, just as they came out of their finishing bath and the solution stained them. They were set up, side by side, in the bill board, each sheet showing half a dog. The likeness is striking to any observer and needs no stretch of imagination to see the picture. Another picture formed in the same way is that of an almost complete skeleton. The board is on the northeast corner of Seventh and Main streets.

No candidate for mayor has been secured yet.

Mrs. Howard Baker has returned from a ten days visit with relatives and friends in St. Louis.

Miss M. Gibson Hunt of St. Louis is the guest of Mrs. C. C. Crawford. Mrs. Joseph Stiffett and son of Moline are here visiting her sister, Mrs. P. D. Gaunt.

Speaking of cold years, the year 1833 was noted as the "famine year" all over the United States. Snow fell some time in every month of the year, several inches falling in the city of Philadelphia. One thing notable was the potato crop the country over was a failure.

Fred S. Rattermann, proprietor of the Mississippi restaurant, Denver, Colo., writes interestingly under date of July 30, of the recent visit of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Roth of Warsaw, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Renckel of Wray, Colo. The party is having a delightful time sightseeing, and in fine health.

Only a few weeks to expire before school begins. All the old teachers are retained.

A. W. Ehlebe is home from his Nebraska trip; Mrs. Ehlebe, Miss Gumbel and Miss Grimpe will remain for a longer visit.

L. E. Lennon has sold his seventy-two acre farm, known as the Kretschman place, for $3,500 to Henry Weinbauer of Rocky Run. D. Woods, the latter's son-in-law, will farm the place.

Dr. P. D. Gaunt has returned from a short business trip to Chicago.
