HAMILTON IS TO PRESIDE

Cases Resulting From Raids by the State Agents in August and Other Matters Will Fill Docket.

When the September term of the district court convenes here Monday morning, September 20, Judge W. S. Hamilton who will preside, will find a heavy docket before him, and the grand jury which comes Monday afternoon will find plenty to keep it busy. A number of cases have been sent over from the superior court since the last session of the grand jury last May.

There will be the injunction cases in connection with the prosecutions resulting from the raids made by the state officers here in August. In the cases of some of the alleged inmates, grand jury investigation may be made.

The docket is all printed and will be ready for distribution by tomorrow. The docket and assignment of cases will be made Monday morning. Nine persons have been bound over to await the action of the grand jury from the superior court for the September term of the district court since last May. None of the offenses are of a serious nature. All but three of those bound over are out on bond which ranges from $100 to $300.

Clinton Righter, who was originally bound over, is now serving his sentence in the penitentiary, following an information filed by the county attorney under the new Iowa state law. He entered the shop of the Swiss cleaners.

Bert Williams, colored, is charged with assault to do great bodily injury on the person of Henry J. Smith. The information was filed on May 9. Fern is out on $300 bond.

LeRoy Reddinger is charged with breaking and entering the old Stone and Webster hotel on the corner of Third and Main streets on May 24. He is also out on bond.

Administration hopes for disavowal by Austria of Ambassador Dumba's proposal to foment strikes among Austrians in American munition factories, were raised today by the United Press dispatch from Correspondent Carl W. Ackerman, saying the Austrian government will not interfere with American internal affairs.

Officials have been confident that, in addition to recalling Dumba, the Austrian government after a clear understanding of his offense, would assuage the United States that it has no sympathy with his plan. The administration, it was stated on high authority today, will, however, be entirely satisfied with his recall and will not propose or insist upon official repudiation of his strike scheme.

"Complete Understanding." WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Ambassador Van Bernstorff's "complete understanding" with Secretary Lansing is merely an understanding that the United States will insist on a disavowal of the torpedoing of the Arabic as the only condition on which diplomatic intercourse will be continued.

This was the white house interpretation today of Bernstorff's "complete understanding" interview in New York, forecasting a settlement of all German-American difficulties and the establishment of more friendly relations than ever before.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Germany and the United States are undergoing a "cooling off" process. It will last two weeks, Secretary Lansing leaves Friday for a fortnight's vacation. German Ambassador Bernstorff does not expect to return here during that time.

Much importance was attached in official quarters today to Bernstorff's declaration in New York that the entire controversy would be settled within two weeks. His optimism was not, however, reflected by officials here.

It can be said upon excellent authority that the administration is not in the least averse to the spirit of pessimism prevalent among American officials. It was even reliably reported that an attitude of considerable anxiety is being deliberately maintained with a two fold object:

Easier concessions from Germany are believed probable if Berlin understands that the administration deems the situation very grave. Ambassador Bernstorff has advised his government that the United States insists upon a disavowal of the submarine commander's act in sinking the Arabic. Arbitration of the exact financial reparations for the Americans killed on the Arabic will follow, if Germany makes the expected disavowal.

Regarding Austrian Ambassador Dumba's recall, state department officials were puzzled over their failure to hear from Ambassador Penfield. Communication with Vienna has invariably been slow, but the delay was so long this time that it was hard to understand.

Dumba's wife was to arrive here today to pack Dumba, it was understood, will leave here next week on a Dutch liner.

The Dispute with England. [By Charles P. Stewart, United Press Staff Correspondent.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The Anglo-American situation was temporarily more urgent today than the German-American difficulty.

The sharpest note the administration has yet addressed to London was predicted in well informed quarters that a pending investigation by Congress General Skinner proves the truth of American importers' charges that English private interests are obtaining modifications of the order in council which have been denied to Americans.

As long ago as September 6, Ambassador Page notified the state department he had been advised by the British foreign office that "in a few days" arrangements would be made to permit the British through neutral ports of German-Austrian goods contracted for by Americans before the order in council went into effect.

Great numbers of American importers promptly wrote or telegraphed to the British embassy here for fuller information. An investigation of Anglo-American trade relations since then reveals the following facts: American importers to file their contracts for German and Austrian goods with the American trade advisers, to be forwarded after certification, to the embassy.
