

DAVY JAMES CAME TO GRIEF IN ROW

In Quarrel Started Over Payment for Barrel of Apples, He Falls Before Bombardment.

A BIG COLORED MIX-UP

Life and Customs of Colored Residents on Upper Boulevard Street—Altruistic Charge.

David James, colored, of 1605 Blon-deau street, found out Friday after-noon that although it was all right to squabble with Mrs. Lucy Hawkins also colored, over the division of a barrel of apples, that it did not pay to ask Mrs. Mattie Clay, heroine of the recent romantic police court wed-ding with Henry Dominick, what she was butting in for, when the fight be-gan to take on a general nature.

For this is what the Clay woman did: She took five nice big rocks and only missed James once at twelve feet. Four of the shots bounded off the victim's head and rendered him hors de combat. Dominick and his wife then walked down to the police station and wanted James arrested, but the latter was not entirely knocked out and he beat them at their own game. He took a car and swore out an information against both in the superior court and when Dominick and Mrs. Clay appeared there after coming from the police station, he had the goods on them. Both were charged with assault and battery, Dominick being included be-cause he did not keep his wife from throwing the stones.

James in for it too. Mrs. Clay however, then and there accused James of having hit her on the face and when the trio told their troubles the following story came to light:

To begin with a friend of Mrs. Hawkins called in last week to visit her and promised to send her a barrel of apples when he returned to his home in LaCrew. The apples arrived on Friday afternoon, addressed to Mrs. Hawkins in care of David James. James got the apples and here is where the trouble started. It seems that the freight and hauling charges only totaled sixty cents. James and the Hawkins woman were to divide the barrel, each to pay half the charge. According to the story told in court, James boosted the charges up to eighty cents, and tried to get the Hawkins woman to give forty cents.

Then the squabble started. It seems that Mattie Clay, wife of Dom-inick, started to take the part of Mrs. Hawkins, whereupon James wanted to know what she was butting in for and made the remark with a force-ful blow. Following this the rock scene occurred and then the rush to the authorities.

The information was dismissed against Dominick and the one brought by James will be tried later, at which time it is hoped to clear the whole trouble up.

Charged With Adultery. An information was filed on Friday afternoon against Mrs. Alice Beal and John C. Wellman by D. P. Deal, hus-band of the woman, charging them

PIMPLES SPREAD ALL OVER HEAD

Severe Itching and Burning, Red and Sore, Kept Awake at Night with Itching. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Head All Healed.

3508 N. Hamilton Ave., Chicago, Ill.—

"My scalp trouble began on the lower part of my head with severe itching and burning, forming into lumps or pimples which spread all over my head. These would itch something terrible, getting red and sore and after some time they got hard. My trouble always seemed to be worse. Nights when I would take down my hair and comb it the scales were so thick that I would have nothing but scales in my comb. I had had the trouble six months when I heard about Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. The itching had kept me awake at night but when I used the sample I had better rest. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and bar of Cuticura Soap and used them every night and morning for four weeks. My head was all healed and I would never wash my head now with anything else but Cuticura Soap." (Signed) Miss Helen Meyer, July 30, 1914.

with adultery. They were arraigned at 5:30 o'clock on Friday, put under $500 bond, and taken to the police station. Later there was a reconcil-iation between Mr. Beal and his wife, and the information was withdrawn.

AMUSEMENTS.

Kreiser is indorsed. Keokuk people who have heard Fritz Kreiser in recital, say that he has played to a crowded house in practi-cally every case. It is the hope of the Monday Music club that when Kreiser appears at the Grand on Wednesday evening this week, the crowd will fill the entire house. Kreiser gives a program which appeals to everyone. He gives one or two num-bers of the sort of music which ap-peals to musical people more than to others, but the remainder of his pro-gram is made up of music which can-not help but be appreciated by every-one whether he knows a note of music or not. Kreiser's audiences are ex-tremely cosmopolitan. It bids fair to be so here. A waiter in a restaurant here last week pointed to his picture and told a patron that he was going to hear "the great Kreiser, that he had heard him before and was going again."

Miss Anne B. Davis heard Kreiser in the west and gives an unqualified indorsement of the musician. Miss Mildred Joy heard Kreiser in Wash-ington last year when the auditorium several times larger than the Grand, was crowded and people were sitting on the stage. Kreiser packed a Den-ver auditorium, according to a letter to Eugene Carter from a friend of his there, and pleased everybody. The Monday Music club is hoping that Keokuk can continue the record of packed houses for Kreiser on Wed-nesday evening, October 27.—Adver-tisement.

Wm. Faversham Tonight. Following its policy of selecting ex-tra good programs for Saturdays and Sundays, the Grand offers "The Right of Way," after the widely read novel by Sir Gilbert Parker, for its program tonight. The distinguished dramatic actor, William Faversham, who for two years refused fabulous offers to appear before the camera, has at last succumbed to the strong inducements and makes his appearance in what is one of the most powerful photoplay productions yet released. Sir Gilbert Parker's impressive story, "The Right of Way" is the medium for Mr. Faversham's screen debut and no more admirable production could have been selected, for it lends itself perfectly to his exceptional histrionic ability in the character of Charlie Steele, which character fits Mr. Faversham's physique and personality like a glove. "The Right of Way" is a five act feature production in which, in addition to Mr. Faversham, the exquisite stage star, Jane Grey appears.

John Barrymore in his newest picture "The Incurable Dukane," is the attraction for Monday and Tuesday. When it is promised that this picture will delight you, and remembered that John Barrymore, always a joy in the pictures, plays the leading part, an unusual film comedy is assured.—Adver-tisement.

"The House That Jack Built" Sweet peas, black-eyed Susans, violets, popples and grass blades are growing where they never grew before—in the parish house of St. John's. They are imitation flowers and grass, in human form, which will give a pic-turesque setting to "The House That Jack Built," which is soon to be pro-duced at the Grand, with a cast of some two hundred young people. After the public school closes each after-noon, children fairly swarm to the assembly hall for the rehearsal of the operetta that is to be given for the benefit of the work undertaken by the Social Service League of St. John's church. The boys and girls are now in training, learning music, drills and dances. Mrs. Hortense Reynolds, like the woman who lived in a shoe, has charge of the immense brood of little folk, who skate over the floor in the interests of the shoe stores, play taz and have a genuine romp until Mrs. Reynolds makes a demonstration that brings about order. Then the re-hearsals begin, discipline is enforced and the "kids" show their enthusiasm by going through their parts like real show girls and chorus singers.

During the rehearsals the children have been divided into groups with chaperons in charge of each, for they are "too many" for one woman to hope to keep quiet. The little folks are enjoying the preparations for the opera immensely, and the musical training is good for them.

Rehearsals of the beautiful operetta "The House That Jack Built" which is to be given in the Grand opera house November 5 and 6, are being held daily in St. John's parish house. This promises to be one of the musical treats of the season.

One of the very attractive numbers is a dance by eight young ladies, beau-tifully costumed, representing stars and moonbeams.

Stars—Frances Sawyer, Mildred Rayburn, Ruth Maguire, Mabel West-orhoff. Moonbeams—Celestine Agnew, Veda Alton, Mary Collingwood Tucker, Mild-red Joy.

The role of Mother Goose will be sung by Mrs. J. M. Furlong; King Cole, Charles W. Dickinson; Knave of Hearts, Thomas Rogerson; Miss Greta John will be the Queen of Hearts, favored for her tarts; Jack Goose, Jack Marsh; Page to the Queen, Cor-ona Sherlock. Special soloists, Mrs. Florence Wright Schouten, Miss Celestine Dickey.—Advertisement.

THOSE who like fun are going to be offered a brimful measure of that sort of entertainment in the very near future. The "Chaplin Comedy Carnival," a spec-tacular selection of comedy films depicting the doings of the world's most popular screen comedian, is coming to town, and it is safe to predict that upon the day of its arrival we are all going to suffer more or less from a severe attack of Chaplinitis. All over the country right now every-thing is Charley Chaplin. They are sing-ing songs about his feet, his waddling walk, his make-up and his mustache. Imitators by the thousands have sprung up overnight, but all the damage that has been done simply has made the little fellow just that much more popular. From $50 a week he has sprung into

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

SPEND 25 CENTS; DANDRUFF DIS-APPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

TRY THIS! HAIR GETS BEAU-TIFUL, WAVY AND THICK IN FEW MOMENTS.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable soft-ness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it imme-diate dissolves every particle of dan-druff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowl-ton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as di-rected and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire your hair to be lustrous, beautiful and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

A gripping photodrama, replete with intense situations and full of thrilling action throughout, is "The Scapegoat," a three act Essanay production fea-turing Edna Mayo and Bryant Wash-burn.

Bryant Washburn, who plays the title role in "The Scapegoat," has be-come an expert in the art of chair dodging. Rehearsing his part in a scene of "The Scapegoat," he is cal-led upon a dozen times or so to dodge a chair hurled at him in a gambling den fight. Several times the chair narrowly missed Mr. Washburn's head, but her part is that of "the success of the theatrical season," and she ap-pears bowing to an appreciative au-dience and receiving the congratula-tions of the manager and others of the company.

"The Scapegoat" will be shown at this theatre tonight, in addition to the great two act comedy, entitled "The Property Man," featuring the
