Here Too. Burlington Hawk-Eye: Now that Quincy has awakened and states that she has $75,000 on hand for the purpose of beginning the improvement of her harbor, now that Muscatine has started and that St. Louis has made the first appropriation of more than a quarter of a million, to get her modern harbor improvements, it seems as if Burlington should delay no longer. In fact, she ought to have gotten busy early and ought to have been among the leaders in the important movement.

The Warsaw Gate City

Warsaw, Ill., Jan. 9, 1916.

Saturday, January 8, was a "red letter day" for the Farmers' Grain and Supply Co., one of Warsaw's newest successes. The day began with a banquet given at 12 o'clock by the directors of the company, at the Hotel Grant, at which eighty-eight farmers and business and professional men sat down at once, admission being by invitation; the tables were set for about forty more, who were served as soon as there was room. An appetizing menu was enjoyed, and music by the high school orchestra in an adjoining room, enlivened the hour. It was certainly a meeting of "brothers," everybody enjoying themselves to the utmost and emphasizing the fact that a monthly meeting of a similar nature would result in great mutual benefit, and also the betterment of Warsaw; every one showed in his smiling face that it was good to be there. At 1:30 p. m. at Dreamland theatre, the annual business meeting was held, and reports read of amount of business done in 1915 and also the present financial standing of the elevator. The report was most flattering when it was considered that two poor grain years succeeded each other, and also that competition was strong, but, in spite of all this, the elevator has made Warsaw a first class market, grain being received from points in Missouri and Illinois, 25 miles distant.

Hogs have found a good market here, the highest market price being given. In spite of discouragements and the company doing business partly on borrowed capital, a 5 per cent dividend was paid to stockholders Saturday. The matter of increasing the capital stock from $10,000 to $15,000 was brought up, discussed and met with kindly approval, and after a vote by ballot, each man voting his shares, the result showed 212 majority for the increase of $5,000, and Chairman Jas. Daugherty appointed a committee to solicit subscriptions to stock. The association was most fortunate in securing Mr. W. M. Myers, editor of the American Co-operative Journal of Chicago, who made a stirring address of about an hour, setting forth the abundant advantage of farmers' co-operation and urging our people to be loyal to the Warsaw Farmers' Grain and Supply Co. An extended report of the year's business, and a list of officers will appear later.

Edward Bartow, director state water survey, Urbana, Ill., under date of January 4, 1916, reports as follows as to Warsaw's filtered water: "The analysis indicates satisfactory treatment. The water is safe for use for drinking purposes." According to previous instructions, the school house committee of the board of education has installed sanitary drinking fountains in the high school building. Hon. C. C. Pervier has been secured to deliver a lecture on "Soil Fertility," Tuesday afternoon, January 11th, at 1:30 o'clock, and on "Farming in Europe," at 7:30 in the evening. The meetings will be held in Odd Fellows hall, and are free to the public. The meetings are held under the auspices of the Hancock County Farmers' Institute, which meets that day and will have a "Corn Show" and local poultry exhibit. Mrs. J. H. McMurry will conduct the meetings in the Household Science department in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. The afternoon session commencing at 1:30 o'clock, will be devoted to a cooking exhibition "For a Family of Five on $7.00 a Week." The evening session will commence at 7:30 o'clock, an address being delivered by Mrs. McMurry on "Future Home Makers." Both sessions are free to the general public. Earl A. Wallace, chief of the Warsaw fire department, accompanied by Wm. Bell, delegate, will leave Monday for Murphysboro, Ill., to attend the state firemen's convention. Warren Holliday of Keokuk, was calling on Warsaw friends on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller of St. Louis returned home Tuesday, having spent a week or more with relatives here. Rev. Geo. Long returned from St. Louis Saturday. Mrs. Fred Nelson and children are home from St. Mary's, Mo., where they spent several weeks with Mrs. Nelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Allen. Thos. P. Hill returned last Wednesday to St. John's military academy at Delafield, Wis., after spending the holidays with home folks here. The Farmers' National bank is giving two neat souvenirs to its friends, being a large wall calendar, and a brass edged ruler. John Van Tuij and Miss Marie Van Tuij of Denmark were guests of Joseph Fry on Tuesday.

Willing to Try. Judge: Mrs. Peck—They've talked over 2,500 miles, by wireless. I wonder if you could hear me that far away, Henry? Henry Peck (wistfully)—I wonder!

OLD AND NEW WAY TO TREAT CATARRH

Breathing a Germ Killing Air Endorsed by Actual Results. The discovery of Hyomel has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were drugs, sprays, lotions, etc. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting. With Hyomel you take into the air passages of your throat and head a balsamic air that goes into the minutest cells, and should effectually kill all germs and microbes of catarrh. Its purpose is to enter the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restore health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been helped by Hyomel. A complete outfit is inexpensive and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomel for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters, is the fact that Wilkinson & Co. have so much faith in Hyomel that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not relieve. Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomel and rid yourself of this serious and oftentimes dangerous disease. Nothing is gained by waiting till the vicious microbes of catarrh have made still further inroads on your health.

Mrs. J. H. McMurry will conduct the meetings in the Household Science department in the parlors of the Presbyterian church. The afternoon ses-

LAST OF PRAYER SERVICE IS HELD

In Absence of Dr. Newcomb, Rev. E. LeRoy Steffy Conducted Services on Friday Night.

"ZEAL FOR OUR TASK"

This Was Topic Considered by Pastor, Who Spoke From Several Verses in Acts.

The last of the services of the week of prayer was held Friday evening in the assembly room of the Y. W. C. A. In the absence of Dr. Newcomb, on account of sickness, Rev. E. LeRoy Steffy, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church conducted the meeting. The topic for consideration was, "Zeal for Our Task." The scripture lesson read was Acts 8:26-40, and this portion of the Word was used as a foundation for the address of the leader. In part, Rev. Steffy said:

"In our age the calls and opportunities for christian service and work are most numerous and urgent. At every turn in life we meet with calls and opportunities for service for the Master, and not only is a privilege to work for Him, but it is a duty to do so. I think we need to emphasize the gospel of duty in this age. From the standpoint of the necessity, the duty, and gratitude every christian should be filled with zeal in the work for the Master.

"The christian is to place himself continually under divine direction, and when he does so he will perceive of the many evils that need to be removed; and of much good that needs to be done. We will not have an audible voice to speak to us as did Philip, but we have the 'mind of Christ' which will just as unmistakably show us the evil and the good. This 'mind' will say to us, 'Arise, and go toward the south; go near and join thyself to this chariot!' Zeal for our task demands that we consult and know the will of the Master by intelligently and devoutly studying the Word, by unselfishly regarding the leadings of His providence, and by earnestly acting for the promptings of His divine spirit.

"There is much work for God to be done in the kingdom to you and to me as christians. He has entrusted the work of His vineyard. And brethren, God will not have the just return for all His gifts if we are not faithful in His service. Like Philip, we have received much, and from us much is required. To us as to Philip he gives two imperatives, 'Arise, Go!'

"From and through the spirit of penitence, faith, reverence, and hope man worships God, out none of these is more acceptable to Him than the spirit of gratitude. In each christian heart there is this question: 'What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits toward me?' And with the question comes the answer, 'Hearty and zealous service!' Every christian should say, 'I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy."

"Many a professor of religion is without zeal for the Master because he has forgotten that supreme importance attaches to being right and then doing right.

"The task of the christian is primarily the building up or the extension of the kingdom of God through the conversion of men. Our task, therefore, is to bring others to Jesus. Andrew first findeth his own brother Simon. And he brought him to Jesus. And Philip findeth Nathaniel, and saith unto him, 'We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets did write, Jesus of Nazareth. And he brought Nathaniel to Jesus.

"Christ will draw for his own the poor in need of enrichment; the rich in need of some higher wealth; the lowly wanting some of the honorable craving some higher dignity; the children of privilege familiar with the truth the sons of ignorance and superstition; and the children of indelicacy far from the wisdom of God. He will furnish his table with guests from all classes of men, and will make them heirs of salvation. But, brethren, if these are won for the kingdom and to Christ, spiritual enlightenment must be imparted to them through us, through human agencies. We must preach unto them Jesus, the grand theme of every christian, and they, like the eunuch, will go on their way rejoicing. God is depending on us. Therefore be zealous for your task.

John Brown's Compass.

From the Kansas City Journal: A compass, once the property of John Brown, which played a part in early history, has just been received at the museum of the Kansas State Historical society in Topeka. John Brown used the instrument when he was living in Osawatomie, in the years between 1855 and 1858. During the Missouri-Kansas border warfare in those days the story goes, the abolitionist leader used the compass in a pretense of surveying land, when in reality he was locating and mapping the camps of proslavery men.

LIFE WAS A TRAGEDY, SAID IOWA WOMAN

Mrs. William Litzberg of Montezuma, Iowa, suffered from stomach troubles for a long period. She grew weak as a result of the failure of her digestive processes. She was always tired.

Then came Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and showed her the way back to health again. The first bottle, the very first dose, put Mrs. Litzberg on her feet. She wrote:

"I have taken four bottles of your Wonderful Remedy. I can't be thankful enough for it. I must say that it is the best medicine that I ever tried. 'I was so weak that I did not think life was worth living—had no appetite—everything I ate worked against me, but now I can eat anything at all that looks good. I feel so strong—have been able to do a good day's work ever since I took the first bottle.'

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart.
