

INVITES PUBLIC TO SEE EXHIBIT

Manual Training and Domestic Science Departments of Schools to Have Open House.

TO SHOW WORK OF YEAR

Exhibit Will be in Place Tomorrow Afternoon and Will Continue to be Shown Through the Evening.

The exhibit of the manual training and the domestic science departments of the Keokuk public schools will be made tomorrow afternoon and evening in the manual training building at Eighth and Concert streets. The public is most cordially invited to come and see what has been done in the work during the first term of the school year. There is, of course, no admission fee. The exhibits will all be in place by one o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and can be seen from then until closing time, which will not be until late in the evening. It is planned to keep the exhibit open as long as people are coming, and the evening hours will give opportunity for those who cannot be present in the afternoon to attend.

The instructors in the two departments are H. M. McClure for the manual training department and Miss Helen Packer for the domestic science department. The instructors and their classes as well as the school officials extend the invitation to everyone to come and see what is being done along the lines of practical work in both of these departments.

The Denison Bulletin expects Allen, Harding and Kuehne all to lead Coe in the primary vote.

WITHDRAW TROOPS.

ATHENS, Jan. 19.—All Greek troops, except one battalion, will be withdrawn from the Greco-Bulgarian frontier if an announced today, because of the difficulty of obtaining provisions for them. It was officially stated that England has agreed to export 5,000 tons of coal to Greece, eliminating the possibilities of a tie-up of the Greek railroads.

[It is possible that a reason other than the difficulty of provisioning the Greek troops forced their withdrawal from the Greco-Bulgarian frontier. Allied diplomats for several weeks have urged the Greek king to withdraw troops from both the Serbian and Bulgarian frontiers.]

M'MANUS SPEAKS AT CLUB MEETING

County Attorney Tolia High Tension Club Members Era of Prosperity for U. S. Will Continue.

STOP SOME STATEMENTS

Says That it is Very Un-American to Say That This Country is Weakening and In-vites Trouble.

That the United States was in an era of unprecedented prosperity and that they would enjoy it for a long time to come unless the country participated in the war, was one of the main themes of the address of County Attorney E. W. McManus, delivered at the monthly meeting of the High Tension club last evening. Mr. McManus also said that there was a tendency of American citizens to depreciate the ability of the United States to defend itself and to his audience that the moral effect was bad where it was publicly proclaimed that this country could not defend itself and would be an easy prey to European aggrandizement. It was described as almost an invitation for some powerful country to sometime come over and find out if the reports of the United States' weakness were true or not. The speaker said that he believed that this country was plenty able to defend itself. He said that he thought that such preparations should be made as was necessary and that we should not be lulled into false security; but he emphatically stated that it was un-American in the extreme to spread broadcast the reports that the United States was a weakening. He pointed out what the country had done in the past when European foes beset it and predicted that red blooded Americanism would do the same in the future if a foreign power should attack us.

Three Causes of Prosperity.

In opening his address, Mr. McManus stated that the country's prosperity was due to three causes, namely: the prosperity of the farmers, the railroads, and the steel and iron industries. He said that six billion dollars had been taken out of the soil in 1915 in the United States. He said that during the last decade, the country had seen an era of reform. The people were becoming dissatisfied with the rule of corrupt corporations which had perverted the industrial life of the country, and had risen against them with amazing results. A great deal of legislation had been aimed at corruption also. The country was described as being on a purer basis.

Should Keep Out of War.

He said that one thing that would prevent prosperity would be participation in the war. "The United States," Mr. McManus said, "should be absolutely neutral. This not only applies to the government but to every American citizen. The people of this country are too apt to judge the motives of an individual or a people without a sufficient knowledge of them. The tendency in this country is toward race and sect and the result of this is prejudice. Suspicion of our fellow men should have no place in our national life. Because some fanatic uses a bomb, or some misguided patriot applies the torch, we should not in whole race of people, no matter of what nationality he is. We have no place for this suspicion and prejudice under the stars and stripes. "There is a tendency in this country to depreciate the ability of the United States to defend herself. The newspapers, especially the yellow ones, have been in part responsible for this, and also those persons whose claim to patriotism is questionable. They advertise to the world that the United States is a weak, overgrown patroom; a bluffer, who would be an easy prey.

No False Security.

"While we could not be lulled into an idea of false security, we have a right to know that we have some claim to be able to defend ourselves." The speaker cited the attempts of England to subdue this country in 1812 and how the citizens arose and drove them into the sea. He said that he believed that should the time come when a foreign despot should attempt to spread his empire of tyranny on the United States that the same thing would happen again. He did not belittle the necessity of preparation for defense, but said that the United States should make such preparations as were necessary.

The Committee Named.

The committees for the coming six months were appointed by President R. R. Ralston at the meeting last night. The standing committees named were the following: Entertainment—Willam G. Kennedy, J. J. Miley and A. G. Morgan. House—V. G. Stafford, Arthur Murray and Paul King. Membership—Dan Harrington, A. S. Nichols and W. G. Ainsley. A special committee which will look after the matter of contracts with a boat company for the annual excursion given by the club was named. The committee is composed

AVOID ST. VITUS' DANCE

Physicians are baffled by St. Vitus' dance because it is a nervous disease in which they can find nothing actually wrong with the nervous system.

Long before the child becomes awkward and begins dropping things there is a period in which the appetite is fickle and the patient is tired and listless. The jerking movements characteristic of the disease come much later.

In the early stages a good tonic for the blood and nerves will go far toward preventing the development of the disease. But the tonic must be free from alcohol and opiates for these make the nervous condition worse. Watch your child appear listless, prefers to sit and read rather than go out and play and requires entirely too much time to get his or her lessons, give a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot do harm, the system is sure to be benefited and you may avoid serious trouble.

These pills build up the blood, nourish the starved nerves and improve the general health. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for free booklet on "Nervous Disorders."

of J. J. Miley, J. H. Bissel and A. G. Morgan. This committee will select the date for the trip and will secure the boat.

NIGHT RIDERS GO TO PRISON

Leader Gets Five Years Sentence and Others Are Sent up for Two Years.

[United Press Leased Wire Service.] NEW MADRID, Mo., Jan. 19.—Scores of farmers and merchants of Missouri were pouring into town today to attend the trial of fifty-nine alleged members of a night-riding gang. Six members of the clan were sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday on charges of assault to kill and conspiracy. The testimony yesterday revealed a clan that rivalled the Ku-Klux-Klan. "To do the bidding of the majority," was their vow. Death was the penalty for disobeying, according to witnesses. Those sentenced were: Walter Willoby, reputed leader of the band of twenty-nine night-riders, who several months ago fought a pitched battle with detectives in a corn field near Clarkton, Mo., received the heaviest sentence, five years. J. W. Spinnel, George Perry, Hobart Shipman, M. L. Peters, Robby Fields, Otto Willoby and George Gordon each two years.

Willoby testified that the night riders at the time of their arrest were planning to attack Gideon, Mo., kill three designated citizens and burn the town. Five men were to be killed at Clarkton, Mo., and the town burned. The purpose of the clan, he said, was to compel landowners and merchants to better working conditions of their tenants and their workmen. The men were arrested several months ago after the night riders had besieged six detectives who spent six weeks in the woods and swamps of New Madrid and surrounding counties, working as lumber jacks with the night riders by day and spying on their meetings by night.

Nations that Died and Left No Signs.

The Christian Herald: There are two great nations of antiquity whose inscriptions cannot yet be read—the Etruscans and the Hittites. The Etruscans occupied a part of Italy corresponding roughly to what is now known as Tuscany. The Hittites at one time occupied a part of Palestine, and united with the Canaanites to resist the invasion by the Israelites under Joshua. The Etruscan and Hittite inscriptions have thus far resisted the attempts of scholars to decipher them, though no one knows when some one may stumble on a bilingual inscription which will serve as a key, just as the Rosetta stone, discovered in Egypt in 1799, served as a key to the Egyptian hieroglyphics. In the New World, the so-called Maya inscriptions, found on the ruins in Yucatan, are also a puzzle to scientists.

"I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.—"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would cramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month."—Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, it is not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

BUILD TABERNACLE AT ONCE IS PLAN

Work Will be Commenced on This Big Gospel Shed This Coming Week, Committee Decides.

YOUNG IS THE CHAIRMAN

Contractor Will Have Charge of the Work—Will Hire Labor—Not Ask for Donation of Services.

Work of constructing the tabernacle for the Charles R. Scoville evangelistic meetings will commence next week, according to the plans made at the meeting of the committee last night and again this morning. The labor on the tabernacle will all be hired labor, none of it will be donated. The committee decided that this was the best policy to pursue, and that it would give employment to many men. John W. Young was made chairman of the working committee of the tabernacle committee. Mr. Young being a contractor, was selected to head this committee. At the meeting this morning the blue prints and drawings were turned over to him. The tabernacle will be erected on the market grounds at Twelfth and Main streets, and will be 150 by 140 feet in dimensions. The seating capacity will be 4,400. It is believed, and the choir loft will seat 600.

Start Advertising Features.

The advertising features of the campaign have been started and the extension work will be done at once. Cards and posters will be posted in the wholesale and manufacturing districts of the city. Cottage prayer meetings will be started shortly, with Rev. McAllister as chairman of the committee. Guy S. Williams, publicity agent for the Scoville party, left today for Emporia, Mr. Williams had a wire from Mr. Scoville before leaving, saying that the Emporia meetings were continuing with unabated interest. Miss Stella Robinson, private secretary to Mr. Scoville, has been called to Aurora, Mo., to attend the funeral of her brother there.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Potash and Perlmutter," the famous comedy-drama which Manager A. H. Woods will present at the Grand Wednesday for matinee and night, is aptly described as "an up to date garment in three pieces, made by our special designer from material in the stories in the Saturday Evening Post, by Montague Glass," and the announcement adds most truthfully that it is "trimmed with a thousand laughs." New York audiences laughed at the quaint humor of "Abe" and "Mawruss" for two seasons and Manager Woods sends it direct to us from the Cohan theatre, where it could have run another year were it not for contracts made long ago. There are no more lovable characters in modern literature than the two partners who were immortalized in Mr. Glass' famous stories and later in the three-act play that we are soon to see and it will be a treat to meet them in flesh and blood.—Advertisement.

At the Grand.

It is rarely indeed that the motion picture public has been privileged to witness so exquisitely artistic a performance as that of Mary Pickford in the Famous Players Film company's screen adaptation of John Luther Long's immortal classic, "Madame Butterfly." The screen version of this famous love tale celebrated in opera, novel and play, has preserved and enhanced all the poetic beauty and tenderness of the original. As the forsaken Cho Cho-San, the little maid of the Flowery Kingdom, patiently waiting through the long months for the return of her faithless American husband, Mary Pickford presents an innocent, confiding, pathetic figure, who proceeds through her many sorrows with unconquerable courage and endurance. Only an actress of Miss Pickford's remarkable magnetism and dramatic power could have presented a pantomimic impersonation of this famed character that will stand comparison with the artistry of the stage and operatic standards already established. For pure pathos and dramatic appeal, the photo production of "Madame Butterfly" has few equals in the whole realm of fiction, stage or screen. In addition to this six reel feature at the Grand tomorrow and Friday, the Paramount Newpictures will be shown, making a big program, with two showings in the afternoon at 2:30 and 4, and two at night, 7:15 and 9. Souvenir photos of Mary Pickford for the ladies at the matinees. Prices 5 and 10 cents. Maelyn Arbuckle in "The Reform Candidate," tonight at 7, 8, and 9:15.—Advertisement.

Can Uncle Sam Keep Out?

Marshalltown Times-Republican: Carranza has been recognized, Villa is down and out and yet brigands are in power in Mexico. The Times-Republican has not yet withdrawn its prediction that Uncle Sam would have to police Mexico before order could be restored; however, there have been times of late when this newspaper would not insist upon its claims to the powers of prophecy.

Is Life Worth Living?

It Depends Upon the Liver.

Wrong living is the cause of most physical ills and generally stomach and liver are first to suffer.

Coffee drinking is a very common cause of digestive disorder, but it usually takes the user some time to fully realize it. Fact is—some people drink coffee with seeming impunity, but when disturbances of the digestive organs result in headache, biliousness, irritability and other common symptoms of caffeine poisoning it's time for the coffee drinker to look to his morning beverage for the true cause.

For any coffee drinker who finds that his health is wrong, but don't know just why, it's a good idea to quit the coffee and use

POSTUM

—the pure food-drink

Made of wheat and a small amount of molasses, Postum has a rich, snappy flavour much like that of mild Java coffee yet contains no caffeine (the drug in coffee) nor other harmful element.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum is soluble in boiling water and can be made in the cup at table. Both kinds are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

A change from coffee to Postum is a good move toward right living.
