PROMINENT MAN OF COLLINSVILLE

Relatives in Keokuk Receive Word of the Death of Dr. J. L. R. Wadsworth in Illinois Town.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY

Came Here During Civil War Times to Study Medicine, But Later Went to Chicago College.

Relatives in this city have received word of the death of Dr. J. L. R. Wadsworth at Collinsville, Ill., on Wednesday. Dr. Wadsworth was a cousin of the late Julia Wadsworth Stevens of this city and the relatives living were her children and grandchildren. The funeral of Dr. Wadsworth was held in Collinsville on Saturday.

He at one time resided for a short time in Keokuk. He came here when a young man to attend the medical college here, but owing to the unsettled condition of affairs at the outbreak of the civil war, went to Chicago, studied there and obtained his degree shortly before the close of the war.

Just after leaving the medical college, he was married to Catherine Halsey and moved to Collinsville, Ill., where he started his practice. He had remained there until the time of his death. He was one of the most prominent and highly esteemed residents of that city.

Dr. Wadsworth was always active in public affairs and was also a prominent churchman. At one time he was elected president of the Illinois State Medical association and has held city and state offices of prominence. He was about eighty years old and is survived by his wife and three daughters. There are also a number of grandchildren. Dr. Wadsworth was born in Massachusetts, but went to Kansas with his parents during squatter sovereignty times. He lived in Kansas until he decided to take up the profession of medicine. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

BOYS' CONGRESS SENIOR MEMBERS

Miss Lucretia Hulskamp Entertained These Young Men at Dinner Friday Evening at Her Home.

EVENT IS ENJOYABLE

Fourteen of the Members With Their Supervisors Were at This Enjoyable Dinner.

Miss Lucretia Hulskamp entertained at a dinner on Friday evening at her home 729 Grand avenue, for the seniors of the Boys' Congress of Missions and for the supervisors of the congress. Covers were laid for fourteen. The color scheme in decoration of the table was red. Down the center of the table was a red satin ribbon which was tied in a bow to the handle of glass baskets at each end of the table. The baskets were filled with red and white flowers. The color scheme appeared in the nut baskets and in the dinner cards which were painted in water colors with red roses. A dinner in seven courses was served. On the reverse side of the dinner cards were written original conundrums, the answers to which was some sort of tree. Woodson Hulskamp conducted this feature of the dinner program. There were a number of local hits which the boys enjoyed.

Clever after dinner stories were told by Miss Hulskamp, Mrs. Montgomery and Cook Reeves. Leonard Matless gave a toast to Miss Hulskamp, Donald Strickler toasted Miss Hornish and Cook Reeves gave a toast to Mrs. Montgomery and Woodson Hulskamp gave a toast to the Boys' Congress with all the guests standing. The after dinner program closed with the congress yell which is a good strong yell.

Miss Hulskamp is famed for her Jack Horner pies and when the guests went into the living room there stood the Jack Horner pie all trimmed out in roses and lighted around the edge with tiny candles. The pie contained beautiful souvenirs, cuff buttons and stick pins, leather purses with a coin in them and pocket knives—each boy thinking he had gotten the choicest plum from the pie. Victrola music, games and visiting made the time pass all too quickly at this last congress party for the senior boys. The guests were Miss Hornish, Mrs. Montgomery, Woodson Hulskamp, Leonard Matless, John Bell, Frank Bidwell, Paul Dysart, Ruh Montgomery, Joseph Kinnaman, Cook Reeves, Donald Strickler, Sydney Collisson.

Congress Helps Boys.

It is hard to estimate the value to a boy of the six years spent in the Boys' Congress under the supervision of Miss Hornish, Miss Hulskamp and Mrs. Montgomery. There are now thirty-eight boys belonging, ranging in years from ten to sixteen. When a boy joins the congress he is assigned a country in which missionary work is being done, and is given a book which has been made by Miss Hornish, containing items of interest relating to that country and he is asked to bring any additional items which he may read or hear. The congress meets in the Westminster chapel on Sunday afternoon each month. The speaker John Bell, president and Ralph Kirch is the clerk, and David Collisson the treasurer.

They conduct a business session, after which every boy speaks on his topic. They don't read from a paper or follow notes, they stand up and speak extemporaneously. In the six years they get a vast amount of information, a knowledge and appreciation of christian citizenship, besides the training in public speaking.

The boys who spoke at the dinner on Friday evening did it in the most correct mode of after-dinner speaking. The training which the Keokuk boys have had in this way was noticed by one of the out of town men at the fathers and sons banquet last week. This man said to Mr. Hulson, "How unusually well these boys speak. Where did they get their training?"

Mr. Hulson told him, at the Boys' Congress. This congress was organized in 1907 by Miss Hornish who thought out the plan and since then copied from the Keokuk organization, others have been formed in Phoenix, Arizona, Rock Island, Ill., New Orleans, Byron, Ill., and in Allahabad, India.

EVEN CROSS, SICK CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

IF FEVERISH, BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, GIVE FRUIT LAXATIVE AT ONCE.

Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of California Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again. Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy. Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

Sets Many a Man To Thinking

until all at once nervousness, a sleepless night, a dull headache, heart flutter, or some other ailment—often due to coffee drinking—brings the message home.

Then, attention is called to the fact that caffeine, the drug in coffee, does hurt some people and hurt them hard.

If you are a coffee drinker and think anti-coffee talk is only a "scare" it would be a good idea to make this easy, personal test: Quit coffee ten days and in its place use

POSTUM

If the change to this pure food drink brings steadier nerves, sounder sleep, a clearer head, and the better health that follows freedom from the coffee drug, you'll know where comfort lies—whether to stick to Postum or go back to coffee and its troubles.

Made of wheat and a small portion of wholesome molasses, Postum has a delicious flavour much like that of mild, high-grade coffee, yet contains no caffeine nor other harmful element.

There are two forms of Postum. The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum is quickly soluble in hot water, more convenient to prepare, and has the same rich flavor as the original Postum. Some prefer one form, some the other. Both forms are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

The change from coffee to Postum is a little thing to do for so great a benefit. It's worth thinking over!
