THE IOWA TROOPS TO MOVE

Governor Receives an Order to Get a Regiment Ready
DES MOINES, May 9.—Governor Shaw has received a telegram from the war department which reads as follows: "It is the intention to order to camp Geo. H. Thomas, Chickamauga Park, Ga., the first regiment of infantry which is first completely equipped. Every effort should be made to complete as far as possible each regiment in turn rather than all simultaneously. Report by telegraph when the first regiment will be ready."
R. A. Ariza, Secretary of War.
This is the first order received with regard to movement of troops. The governor notified the secretary of war that he would be able to have a regiment ready for service and transportation on the 16th. As soon as the regiment required is chosen another will be gotten in readiness.

BUDD STILL CHAMPION.

Won the Schmelzer Trophy and Broke World's Record.
DES MOINES, May 13.—Charles W. Budd, of Des Moines, is still a champion. He won the famous Schmelzer Arms Company cup, a $500 trophy representing the world's championship in inanimate target events with reverse pulls, and in winning the trophy incidentally broke the world's record by getting a score of 96 out of a possible 100. The record was previously held by J. W. Sexton, of Leavenworth, and was 90 out of 100.

BISHOP PERRY IS STRICKEN.

His Condition is Precarious and His Recovery Doubtful.
DUBUQUE, May 12.—Rt. Rev. William Stevens Perry, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Iowa, was stricken with paralysis yesterday while at dinner, and is in a very precarious condition. He came here last Saturday to administer the right of confirmation and was the guest of Judson Demming. It is thought he will not recover.

Board of Control.

DES MOINES, May 12.—The members of the state board of control arrived in Des Moines after their second tour of inspection of Iowa institutions. During this trip they visited the school for the deaf at Council Bluffs, the home for feeble minded children at Glenwood, the insane hospitals at Clarinda and Mount Pleasant, the penitentiary at Fort Madison and the soldiers' orphans' home at Davenport. They have now completed the rounds of the institutions with the exception of the girl's industrial school at Mitchellville and the industrial home for the blind at Knoxville.

Nothing Like It Known Before.

DUBUQUE, May 13.—A prominent lumberman who has just returned from the upper country reports an unprecedented condition of affairs. All the tributaries are so low that it is impossible to get out the logs. Unless heavy rains raise the streams the sawmills will have to shut down. Nothing like it was ever known before.

Iowa Can't Have a Brigade.

DES MOINES, May 12.—General Byers received a telegram from Senator Gear stating that the war department absolutely refused to change the assignment of the four Iowa regiments for active service.

Reviewed by the Governor.

DES MOINES, May 7.—The troops comprising the Iowa National Guards were reviewed by Governor Shaw yesterday afternoon on the prairie west of the fair grounds.

IOWA CONDENSED.

The postoffice at Ordien was burglarized about 3 o'clock a few nights since. The safe was drilled and a charge of powder exploded, but it was not sufficient to blow the safe open, although some of the contents of the safe were destroyed. The general store of Postmaster Zollinger, in which the postoffice is situated, suffered some loss and a small amount of money taken from the money drawer. A quantity of stamps in the office was left untouched.

Iowa City dispatch: Sheriff John W. Welsh of Johnson county was found "not guilty." He was on trial charged with malfeasance in office, drunkenness, permitting a prisoner to escape, etc. The case was tried before Judge House of Maquoketa, Judge Wade decided not to preside at the trial of an officer in his own court. Judge House took the case from the jury on technicalities, declaring that the law did not provide for the dismissal of an officer where intoxication did not interfere with the performance of his official duties and that the recent escape of the prisoner at Cedar Rapids, while en route to Anamosa, unless willfully permitted by the sheriff, was not a cause for expulsion. A dozen other charges were stricken out on the grounds that if the sheriff had been guilty as charged term of office.

Mrs. Jeannette Ireland, residing near Waterloo, was attacked a few days ago by a large and ferocious bull dog, which inflicted upon her injuries which may cause her death. The dog had been long kept in the family and was regarded as perfectly gentle, but he made an unprovoked attack upon the woman, springing at her throat. Mrs. Ireland threw up her arms to ward off the attack, and so probably saved her life, though her arms were so terribly lacerated that the flesh hangs in shreds and both will doubtless have to be amputated. Other severe wounds were also inflicted on the woman's breast and shoulders. Mrs. Ireland succeeded in so pluckily fighting for her life that the dog was at last wearied and left her, and the woman succeeded in reaching a neighboring farm, when she fainted from exhaustion and loss of blood. The physician states she is in a precarious condition, with the chances all against her recovery.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

APPLICATION MUST ATTACH.

Decision of the Iowa Supreme Court in Important Life Cases.
DES MOINES, May 13.—A decision handed down by the supreme court of Iowa says that an exact copy of the application must be attached to every life insurance policy. Failure to attach such copy does not void the policy, but precludes the company from pleading falsity of the application in any action. The decision rendered in the case of Wesley M. Johnson vs. the Des Moines Life Insurance Company, appellant, from Lee district. An exact or true copy of an application is defined in the decision as "more than a merely substantial copy and yet not a true likeness or facsimile, but so exact and accurate that upon comparison it can be said to be a true copy without resorting to construction."

BURGLARS AT BOONE.

Big Haul of Bad Men Made by Officers.
BOONE, May 10.—The biggest haul of burglars in this section for many years was made by the sheriff and his deputies. It is supposed that the gang was engaged in bank robbing, as an abundance of nitro-glycerine, dynamite, drills and all the paraphernalia of the bank crackers' profession was found in their possession. Thirteen men were arrested, but part of them were discharged for lack of evidence connecting them with the active operations of the gang. The officers are positive that the men captured are responsible for the recent robbery of the postoffice at Ordien.

JOHN A. HULL GETS A JOB.

Nominated for Judge Advocate With Rank of Lieutenant Colonel.
WASHINGTON, May 10.—Among the large batch of army nominations sent to the senate by President McKinley appear the following of special interest to Iowans: John A. Hull, of Des Moines, to be judge advocate, with rank of lieutenant colonel. William B. Allison, of Dubuque, to be assistant adjutant general with rank of captain. John A. Hull is a son of Congressman Hull, chairman of the house military committee, and William B. Allison bears the same name as his uncle, the distinguished senator.

SECOND ORDERED OUT.

Governor Shaw Issues Official Order to Second Regiment.
DES MOINES, May 13.—Adjutant General Byers, directed by Governor Shaw, issued an official military order to the effect that the Second regiment of Iowa National Guardsmen, under command of Col. D. V. Jackson, has been selected as the regiment to comply with the order from Washington asking for a regiment at the earliest possible convenience. The order states that hereafter the Second regiment will be known as the Fiftieth Iowa volunteer infantry.

THE SECOND WILL GO.

War Department Settles the Matter of Moving Iowa Troops.
DES MOINES, May 11.—The question of which of the Iowa regiments should be the first to go to the front was settled by the secretary of war when that official telegraphed Governor Shaw that it was his wish that the regiments be sent separately in the order of the seniority of colonels. Under that arrangement the Second regiment would be the first to move, and it will depart on Monday, May 16, provided the government wants it as early a date.

CEDAR RAPIDS REPUBLICAN.

Sold to Hon. H. G. McMillan and Mr. Cyrenus Cole.
CEDAR RAPIDS, May 10.—The Republican newspaper editorially that after May 12 the Republican Printing Company will pass into the hands of a new company, it having been purchased by H. G. McMillan, of Rock Rapids, United States attorney for the northern district of Iowa, and Cyrenus Cole, for many years associate editor of the Des Moines Register.

Iowa Law Turned Down.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The supreme court in the case of H. Rhodes, railroad agent at Brighton, Iowa, vs. the State of Iowa, held that the Iowa law forbidding the sale of liquor in the state and making it a crime to transport them, is unconstitutional, as interference with interstate commerce. Rhodes, as the agent of the company, carried certain liquor that had been shipped from outside the state, to a man in Brighton, from the car in which it came to the station warehouse, about ten feet. For this he was prosecuted personally for having violated the law which prohibits the transportation of liquor in the state to persons not authorized to receive it. He brought an action in the federal court to prevent the state from punishing him, on the ground that he was only an agent of the railway company, perfecting the transportation of the original package, which it is admitted the railway company had the right to carry. Lawyers say if it had been decided against Rhodes, no railway company could have shipped liquor to persons not holding permits, because such action would subject the railway companies to all the penalties of the old prohibitory law. The decision will not, it is thought, have any other effect upon the state liquor law, though its full purport is not known.

Verdict Against Street Railway.

DES MOINES, May 13.—A verdict was returned by the jury in Judge Holmes' court in the damage case of Mrs. E. J. Root vs. Des Moines Street Railway Company for $4,350 in favor of plaintiff. The amount sued for was $12,000 for a personal injury sustained by her while attempting to alight from a car of defendant company on the University avenue line, being thrown violently to the pavement on account of the sudden starting up of the car.

Iowa Troops Assigned.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Subject to change, the war department has assigned one regiment of Iowa troops to Washington, one to New Orleans, and the other two to department commanders for defense and reserve.

AN IOWA INSTITUTION.

The Iowa State Register, referring to the monument reared by the Hawkeye Insurance company of Des Moines, "which is a statewide monument, because its business covers all of Iowa and is confined to the state," writes as follows: "It will be noticed that the monument was reared year by year, and that there is not a year that does not show an increase of business since the organization of the company in 1868, nearly one-third of a century, and that there has been an average increase nearly equal to the first year's business during each of the years the company has been in existence. That is a splendid record, and The Register takes pleasure in placing it before the people of the state as an example of the manner by which any well managed business can be made popular with the state of Iowa, and as successful as a similar business can be in any other state."

"The Hawkeye Insurance company is exclusively an Iowa institution and every dollar paid to that company for insurance against fire, lightning, high winds and other risks remains in the state to aid in the building up of Iowa business and labor. It is officered and managed by Iowa men who have pride and interest in their own state, and desire to aid in making Iowa all that the state can be made as the chief agricultural and manufacturing state of the world. No one has ever attempted to deny that Iowa is the chief agricultural state of the world, the official statistics prove that Iowa produces more bread and meat than any other state or country of equal area on the earth; and Iowa will become the chief agricultural state of the world when the shop workers and food producers have been brought together on Iowa's peerless plains, where food and fuel are cheaper than in any other state."

"The monument of the Hawkeye Insurance company shows that the business of that company reached $23,617.14 during its first year, 1868, and increased year by year until they reached $798,969.72 in 1897. Compare the assets of the two years, 1868 and 1897, and you will be convinced of the steady growth of this sterling Iowa company, and the absolute safety of the money stock of that company. It is a monument of which all Iowa can be proud and every policy holder should be proud that he has aided in building up a fire and storm insurance company in Iowa that is as strong and safe as any insurance company of any other state or country. The company has a capital stock of $100,000 total assets of $798,969.72, and a net surplus of $230,058.53, in excess of gross liabilities, including re-insurance reserve and capital, and the surplus as regards policy holders is $420,058.53. These are the official figures for the year 1897. If there is any company or business interest in Iowa that can make a safer, cleaner and better showing of its whole record, The Register will be pleased to receive the details, for that is what we are constantly looking for in our earnest endeavors to induce the people of Iowa to patronize home institutions, and thus to help themselves and all the other business and laboring interests of the state."

"The Hawkeye Insurance Company is one of the chief business interests of Iowa, and one of the best safeguards of the people of the state. It has good competitors in its line of business, and there is unlimited opportunity for the organization of other companies to compete for the insurance of the people of the state. There has been and will be growing against the insurance companies, just as there is against all other business interests, but Iowa has as well managed and safe fire insurance companies as any other state or country, and the millions of dollars annually sent out of the state for fire insurance should be retained in Iowa, and will be when the people of the state become fully loyal to their own interests."

"Advertising on the editorial page? Not a bit of it. Never a line on the Register's editorial page has been extended for, but the Register has entered upon a life mission to induce the people of Iowa to unite to build up the state by patronizing their own institutions, and it is speaking of the Hawkeye Insurance company as one of the best and safest institutions of the state, because its editor personally knows of the facts, and notwithstanding the fact is not now and never has been connected with that company, nor had any pecuniary interest therein whatever, except a fire insurance policy upon the Register property. That is the best test, and the Register will be pleased to extend editorial commendation to any legitimate, helpful and safely managed business interest in the state."

"This is the year to give all Iowa renewed growth in business and labor, and the only way to safely and certainly accomplish that is for all the people of the state to patronize Iowa institutions, and Iowa business and laboring interests in preference to all others. This editorial is intended to directly apply to every citizen of Iowa who reads it, or sees or hears reference made to it."

DEWEY AT MANILA

STORY OF THE DESTRUCTION OF THE SPANISH FLEET.

Our Squadron is Uninjured and Only a Few of Our Men Are Slightly Wounded--Dewey Controls the Bay.

"OLD GLORY" NOW WAVES OVER MANILA BAY AND CAVITE.

Washington, May 8.—The state department yesterday received news from Commodore Dewey at Manila. The news came by way of Hong Kong, to which point the dispatches were carried by the dispatch boat McCulloch. The first dispatch was as follows:

MANILA, May 1.—The squadron arrived at Manila at day-break this morning, immediately engaged the enemy, and destroyed the following Spanish war vessels:

REINA CRISTINA,	CASTILLA,
ULLOA,	ISLE DE CUBA,
GENERAL LEZO,	THE DEUCO,
CARREO,	VELASCO,
MINDANAO,	ONE TRANSPORT,
WATER BATTERY AT CAVITE.

The squadron is uninjured and only a few men are slightly injured. The only means of telegraphing is to the American consul at Hong Kong. I shall communicate with him. (Signed) DEWEY.

Later another dispatch was received, as follows:

CAVITE, May 4.—I have taken possession of the naval station at Cavite on the Philippine Islands. I have destroyed the fortifications at the bay entrance and patrolling garrison. I control the bay completely; can take the city at any time. The squadron is in excellent health and spirits. The Spanish loss is not fully known, but is very heavy. One hundred and fifty were killed, including the crew of the Reina Christina. I am assisting in protecting the Spanish sick and wounded. There are 250 sick and wounded in the hospitals within our lines. There is much excitement at Manila. I will protect the foreign residents. (Signed) DEWEY.

By direction of the president, Secretary Long sent the following cablegram to Dewey:

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Dewey, Manila: The president, in the name of the American people, thanks you and your officers and men for your splendid achievement and overwhelming victory. In recognition he has appointed you acting admiral, and will recommend a vote of thanks to you by congress. (Signed) LONG.

HONG KONG, May 8.—The order of battle assumed by the Spanish was with all the small craft inside Cavite harbor and timber break-waters and the larger ships cruising off Cavite and Manila. No patrol was established nor was any searchlight placed at the entrance to the bay. On Saturday night the American ships crept inside the bay without being seen until the McCulloch's funnel emitted a spark. Then a few shots were exchanged with Corregidor Island, but the fleet never stopped nor slowed, down opposite the city until dawn. The Spanish ships then drew nearer to Cavite and the Cavite forts. The McCulloch remained at some distance and the enemy's shells passed, but did not touch her. The cruiser Baltimore's battery was almost immediately reduced to silence.

The squadron then slowly proceeded up the harbor and when daybreak had opened, the town of Manila was seen about five miles distant. The American ships steamed deliberately along in front of Manila, but without opening fire until the Spanish cannon from the batteries around the town began firing and shots began to strike the water around the squadron. Then the Concord fired a few shots more or less as she passed, but the other ships proceeded silently towards Cavite. When nearing Baker bay, a sudden upheaval of the waters occurred a little distance in front of the leading ship and quickly following this a second waterspout denoted the fact that the fleet had fired a couple of mines or torpedoes.

The Olympia, Baltimore, Raleigh, Concord, Boston, Petrel, McCulloch, Nanshan and Zafro, and thus they steamed to the center of the bay. They passed before the city, seeking in the Spanish squadron and found them near the entrance of Baker bay, backed and flanked by the Cavite forts with two torpedo boats and four gunboats inside the mole, which served as protection, while the Reina Christina, Castilla, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Cuba does, but their efforts to blow up the ships were absolutely unsuccessful. Almost immediately the guns in the Cavite battery burst into a heavy cannonade. The shells fell in the neighborhood of the Spanish squadron, but a majority of them fell short and were badly aimed. The squadron then drew nearer to Cavite and the battle began in earnest. The American ships entered by the southern channel, between Cavite and the Olympia, Baltimore, Raleigh, Concord, Boston, Petrel, McCulloch, Nanshan and Zafro, and thus they steamed to the center of the bay. They passed before the city, seeking in the Spanish squadron and found them near the entrance of Baker bay, backed and flanked by the Cavite forts with two torpedo boats and four gunboats inside the mole, which served as protection, while the Reina Christina, Castilla, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Cuba

Isa de Luzon and the mail boat Mindanao were drawn up outside. The Spaniards fired the first shot at 6:00 yards, but it was ineffectual. The American ships formed in column line and steamed nearer, reserving their fire until within 4,000 yards. They then passed backwards and one of her six times across the Spaniards' front, pouring in a perfect hail of shot and shell. Every shot seemed to tell. Then the Americans retired for breakfast and a council of war.

The Spanish ships were already in a desperate condition. The Reina Maria Christina was badly hit, and one of her steam pipes had burst. The Castilla was also on fire, and both were burned to the water's edge. The Don Antonio de Ulloa made a magnificent stand and sailed to her mast, she sank with all hands. Her hull was riddled and her upper deck swept clean, but the guns on the lower deck were still firing defiantly as the vessel sank beneath the waters. A torpedo boat tried to creep along the shore, round the oblongs and attack the now-combatants Zafro, Nanshan and McCulloch, but was driven ashore and shot into bits. The Mindanao was run onto the beach and the other small craft retired behind the mole. The fight started at 6:30, was adjourned at 8:30 and resumed about noon. The finishing touches were given to Cavite by the Petrel and Concord. The Raleigh grounded twice in shallow water during the engagement.

Cavite is in utter ruin and has surrendered, the gunboats have been scuttled and the arsenal was on fire and exploded, causing great mortality. The commodore of the fleet on board the Reina Maria Christina on the wounded and her captain, lieutenant, chaplain and the midshipman were killed by a shell striking the bridge. Eighty of her crew were killed and twenty wounded. On the Castilla one hundred were killed and sixty were wounded. The Spanish casualties aggregate more than a thousand. There were no casualties among the American crew, except that six of the Baltimore's men were slightly wounded by one of the enemy's shells striking another shell lying on the water and exploding. There were only three shot holes in her upper works, five in the upper works of the Olympia and a wheelbarrow smashed on the wharves. No other damage was done anywhere. The disparity between the injury inflicted on the Spanish fleet and that sustained by the Americans has been noted by the superior guns of the latter and the superior marksmanship at long range.

The Manila Esplanade Krupp 10-inch guns were fired continuously, but the Americans avoided replying, and the batteries showed a white flag afterward. The terms of capitulation are still unascertained. Commodore Dewey fears that the rebels if he attempts bombardment. The forts at the entrance to the bay capitulated and were dismantled on Wednesday. The American fleet is now in the harbor. The Spaniards refused to permit them to use it pending the surrender of the city, and it is, therefore, not known what is transpiring on shore.

NO SILKEN GLOVE.

Power of the United States Will Be Forcibly Exerted in Pacific.
WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Post prints the following:
All day yesterday, following the receipt of the official advices from Dewey, important conferences were in progress at the white house, the war and navy departments. As the result of these conferences, plans have been perfected for the retention of the Philippine Islands in the immediate invasion of Cuba and the occupation of Porto Rico. Telegrams have been sent in all directions advising military and naval commanders of the adoption of an aggressive policy, and in six weeks the war ought to be at an end. In the meantime, Spain's fleet on the Atlantic will be sent to the bottom of the ocean.
It is to be no silken glove that the United States is to stretch out over the Pacific. It will be a hand of mail. Armed men are to be sent, with guns and bayonets and light artillery, and the expedition is to be no summer picnic.

The military governor of the islands will probably be General Henry C. Merriam, a brave fighter and a fine executive officer. There is to be no turning the islands over to a provisional or experimental government of the insurgents, as will be the case with Cuba. Such a step would endanger the lives of Spaniards as well as Europeans, and would lose to the United States all the fruits of Dewey's victory. The flag of the United States is to float over the islands in fact, as well as in name.

There is to be a new power in the Pacific, all the rest of the world to the contrary notwithstanding.

SPANISH SIDE OF THE STORY.

Spanish Losses Were 618—Dewey Maintains Close Blockade.
MADRID, May 7.—The general governor of the Philippines telegraphed: "The enemy seized Cavite and the arsenal and established a close blockade. It is said that on the request of the consul the Americans will not bombard Manila now, provided it does not open fire on their squadron, which is out of range. A thousand sailors from our destroyed squadron arrived yesterday. The losses to our squadron were 618."
