DEARER BREAD.

The report of an advance in the price of bread as a result of the rise in the values of wheat and flour was to be expected. Wheat being the raw material of flour and flour the raw material of bread, an increase in the cost of the first, whether natural or artificial, necessitates proportionate advances in the more finished products. The only question is whether the upward tendencies have not been used by combinations and manipulators to fill their own pockets out of the needs of the people. There is no doubt that a considerable part of the advance in wheat is due to the small amount of last year's crop still available for marketing. There is general belief that this legitimate advance has been exaggerated by speculators, says the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph. As far as this is the case we may hope that it will be temporary, and that the harvesting of a good crop this year will restore prices to a fair basis. There are also indications that a combination of milling interests has increased the old margin between the prices of wheat and flour, and thus established another squeeze on consumers. These means of enhancing the cost of products cannot be carried very far without inevitably increasing the cost of bread.

A writer in the New York Sun protests vigorously against the attack upon the "split infinitive"—this putting an adverb between the sign "to" and the verb. All the grammars are, of course, against it, but practice, which makes grammar, is quite the other way. Nearly everybody uses the "split infinitive," and though Byron is charged with being the originator of it—"to slowly trace the forest's shady scene"—still Macaulay, Ruskin, Burns, Johnson, Lamb, Burke, and even that literary wretch, Shakespeare, seem, at some time or other, to have fallen into the same careless habit; if so it may be called. The fact about this ungrammatical form of expression is, that it seems to be a very natural and effective way of arranging one's words, says the Ohio State Journal. It seems almost as natural to place the adverb before the verb it modifies as to place an adjective before the noun. It seems to make the modification more exact and emphatic. So it is late in the day to be kicking against the split infinitive.

The shade trees have been exposed to great peril through the ravages of insects, and now come the unhappy tidings that the chestnut trees are falling victims to a disease for which no cure appears to have been found. The trouble is particularly notable on Long Island, the fine specimens of chestnuts on the estates of wealthy men owning summer homes in that locality being among the victims. The ailment is believed to be communicated through the sap, and the most determined effort has failed to discover the real cause or find a remedy. The chestnut tree stands for a highly useful purpose, and if it must "go" 'Veat will be the loss involved.

A curious society has just been formed at Darmstadt, in Hesse. Its object is to promote the substitution of the military salute for the present mode of salutation among civilians. Instead of the present method of raising one's hat, the Hessians—or at least a certain proportion of them—would like to see the general adoption of the German military salute, consisting of bringing the hand extended, with fingers close together, to the edge of one's hat. The only reason given for this strange predilection is that the new salutation would be identical with that used in the time of Arminius.

Since the time of Adam men have been laying the blame for everything on women. Retribution for this centuries' old wrong is coming. A woman in San Francisco says that the blame for the flippery of modern feminine attire belongs to the men. When one looks at the monstrosities of the present fashions, and hears the men blamed for it, it must be confessed that the score, old as it is, is evened.

There's a lot of fuss about the recent smuggling of five trunks filled with French finery, just because the owner's name is not known, while nothing is said about the 50 or more trunks filled with the same kind of stuff, just because the owners are known.

London is to have 2,000 delegates from all over the world to an international suffrage convention. And as the women have been practicing jitsu, the subsequent proceedings are apt to add to the gaiety of the nations which can enjoy looking on.

If a man be rooted in morals and modesty there is no more inconsistency between his immature and mature views than there is between the violet before and after blossoming, or in the trees before and after leafing.

According to a famous Russian chemist, Prof. Clavin, the czar is so rich he could quit work to-day if he wanted to. Drunken lake and hundreds of square miles around it "are brimful of radium." They are the private property of the czar and mean millions to him.

BANK LOOT $137,000

LEWISTON (IDAHO) INSTITUTION IS SYSTEMATICALLY ROBBED FOR FIVE YEARS

DEFALCATION IS MADE GOOD

Officials Pay Back Stolen Funds—Manipulation of Adding Machine a Factor in Methods of Plunder—Case in Federal Hands

Lewiston, Idaho.—That the Lewiston National bank has been robbed of $137,000 is the startling statement made by National Bank Examiner Claude Gatch, who has just completed an investigation. Beyond the fact that the stockholders have made the alleged shortage good, Mr. Gatch declines to discuss the situation. The embezzlement has, it is stated, extended over a period of the last five years, and it was made possible, it is understood, by manipulation of the adding machine used in computing the daily balances. Immediately after the condition became known to the bank officials, a meeting of the stockholders was called and the entire defalcation made good by them.

The Lewiston National bank and the Idaho Trust Company were consolidated about a year ago. At that time the capital and surplus of the Lewiston National was $260,000, and the capital of the trust company, $400,000. The aggregate deposits at the present time are about $900,000, of which $450,000 is subject to check. The cash on hand is $200,000.

The case has been placed in the hands of the comptroller of the currency, who will decide whether any arrests will be made.

F. W. Kettenschlag, president of the National bank and Idaho Trust Company, said:

"I corroborate the statement of Mr. Gatch as to the defalcation having been made good. Some time since, when it was discovered that defalcations by employees had been committed, the directors and large shareholders, after having checked up and ascertained the exact amount, paid it in at once. A material salvage has since been realized, and a further salvage is covered by surety company bonds.

"No suspicion attaches to any employee now in the bank. The defalcations show the result of a gradual abstraction covering a period of five years, and no large sum was taken at any one time."

TRAIN BANDITS ARE HELD.

Omaha Prisoners Are Bound Over to Grand Jury Under Bonds of $25,000.

Omaha, Neb.—G. W. Woods, Fred Torgensen and James Gordon were bound over to the next grand jury and held under $25,000 bond each to answer the charge of holding up and robbing the Overland limited mail car on the Union Pacific railroad on the night of May 22, by Judge W. H. Monger in the United States district court.

Twenty-two witnesses were called to identify the prisoners and all were more or less sure that the men in the prisoners' dock were identical with those who committed the robbery. Six small boys, running from eight to eleven years were interesting witnesses and each told of seeing one or more of the men in the vicinity of Brown park before and after the robbery occurred. They found the revolver and other paraphernalia which led to the arrests of three men charged with the robbery.

BOY HEROES ARE DROWNED.

One Saves a Life and Then Causes Other's Death Near Fairview, Michigan.

Detroit, Mich.—Heiler Block, aged 14, and Henry Thilke, 16 years old, lost their lives, and Frank Faulker, aged ten, narrowly escaped drowning in Conner's creek, in the suburbs of Fairview. The three boys were in swimming when the last named got beyond his depth. Block seized the younger boy and after a desperate struggle succeeded in pushing him into shallow water and safety. But the effort was too much for his strength and he collapsed and fell back.

Thilke then went to Block's assistance, but the latter clasped his arms so tightly about his would-be rescuer that he was powerless to drag him from the water and both were drowned.

COPPER MAGNATES TO PRISON

GEORGE BAGLIN TAKEN TO THE TOMBS FOR CONTEMPT.

Vice-President of Heinz Company Held Until Missing Books Are Produced.

New York.—Judge Lacombe of the United States district court sent George Baglin, vice-president of the United Copper Company, to the Tombs prison until the missing books of the concern, which the district attorney wants to use in the prosecution of August Heine, are produced.

A similar punishment also hangs over Sanford Robinson, a prominent director of the company whose case was further considered by Judge Lacombe today.

Both men are alleged to have permitted the splitting away of the books that were under subpoena. Baglin testified before the grand jury that he had overheard Robinson and one of the Heine brothers conspiring to remove the books and had interposed no objection.

"Nothing remains for me to do but to commit you for contempt," said Judge Lacombe after hearing Baglin's admission. "You had no right to stand by while men were pleading the removal of books wanted in a grand jury investigation. An officer or an employe cannot so act with impunity."

Baglin was visibly affected by the sentence of the court. He was allowed to communicate with his wife and lawyer, then he was led to the Tombs.

Robinson's case was then taken up by the court. It was shown that he had refused to testify before the grand jury regarding his alleged conversation with one of the Heine brothers, maintaining that he was an attorney, and that therefore his conversation was privileged. Judge Lacombe declined to accept this plea.

HILL DEFENDS PATTEN.

Great Northern Railroad Chief Declares Chicagoan Did Not Corner the Wheat Market.

Seattle, Wash.—J. J. Hill, chairman of the Great Northern board of directors, in discussing the recent wheat corner, said:

"It is a mistake to say James A. Patten cornered the wheat market. Here is merely a case of a man taking advantage of an opportunity. It has been but a few years since it was estimated that the average consumption of wheat per annum in this country was six bushels, but now the experts argue that it is seven bushels and some pounds. The census of 1910 will show that we have a population of 90,000,000 which will mean that we will require for our own use 630,000,000 bushels hereafter.

"We raise now probably 650,000,000 bushels of wheat in the United States with good crop conditions. This will leave us but 20,000,000 bushels as a surplus for export while in the past we have exported upwards of 120,000,000 bushels per annum. So you can see we will need all our wheat to feed our own people."

Great Celebration by Danes.

About 30,000 Danes from neighboring states have come to participate in the festivities. The exercises will consist of speeches, music games and a banquet.

Rich Woman Fears Noose.

Flandreau, S. D.—With the wealthy woman defendant seated before the judge's bench and the peasant mother of her alleged 16-year-old victim mourning at the prosecutor's table, the retrial of Mrs. Moses Kauffmann for murder assumed an intensely dramatic stage Wednesday. Mrs. Kauffmann, charged with murdering Miss Agnes Polreis, her maid, seemed to glare defiantly at the state's attorney as he questioned veniremen for possible jury service. Mention of the death penalty made her quail.

GIRL'S SLAYER TO HANG.

Jury Convicts Negro Who Killed Ottumwa Choir Singer and Barely Escaped Lynching.

Centerville, Ia.—Quickly following the jury's verdict of guilty in the case of John Junkin, a negro who murdered Miss Clara Rosen, a choir singer of Ottumwa, Judge M. A. Roberts sentenced the prisoner to be hanged.

The jury returned its verdict after a deliberation of less than four hours. There was an immense crowd awaiting the result of the trial and as the last words were read by the clerk a shout went up which was taken up by the crowd in the courthouse square.

Attorneys for the defense waived their customary right of three days before sentence of death is passed and agreed that Judge Roberts pass sentence immediately, which the court did. Junkin will hang the last Friday in July, 1910. He was taken to Fort Madison for safe keeping till the day of his execution.

Adj. Gen. Guy Logan of Des Moines was in the court room when the sentence was pronounced. He stated that there would be no need of militia to guard the prisoner as the verdict met with popular favor.

Junkin's crime was one of the most atrocious in Iowa. He confessed killing Clara Rosen with a stone while she was returning from the home of her sister. Later he dragged the girl into an excavation and assaulted her. Her dead body was found by a searching party the next morning.

TAFT DOWNS DAN CUPID.

Gets Toe Hold on Red Tape and Prevents the Marriage of Midshipmen.

Washington.—"Big Bill" Taft went to the mat with Dan Cupid in the White House Tuesday and in 13 minutes had the little love god beaten to a pulp. For 12 minutes Dan gave the big fellow a fair tussel, but then the weight began to tell, and when the bigger man got a toe hold in a bunch of red tape it was easy to pin the kid's shoulders to the floor.

Ole Maid, who refereed the bout, called Taft on the shoulders and called him a winner. There was little cheering. A big stork which acted as second for Dan flew from the arena.

In other words President Taft today formally signed the new naval regulation which forbids midshipmen to marry within the six years of their cadet course. Heretofore the middies were kept away from matrimony during their four years at Annapolis. The two years sea service which follows the academic course was the undoing of many of the middies and many became married men before they had learned to use a safety razor.

COUNT'S AIRSHIP WRECKED.

After Sailing 850 Miles in 37 Hours Zeppelin's Craft Collides with a Tree.

Goepfingen.—After covering a distance of about 850 miles in 37 hours, Count Zeppelin's new airship on its return trip from Bitterfeld to Friedrichshafen, came to grief in an open field near here. In maneuvering for a landing, the airship came into contact with a tree.

That the collision was a heavy one is indicated by the broken and bent strips of aluminum lying about the ground and the half-split branches dangling from the tree trunk. Enormous crowds soon assembled and it became almost impossible for vehicles to pass along the public highways.

MAY HAVE BEEN MURDERED

POISON FOUND IN BODY OF RICH ILLINOIS WOMAN.

Result of Autopsy Over Remains of Mrs. Archer Causes Sensation in Oneda, Ill.

Galesburg, Ill.—The fact that strychnine in large quantities was found in the body of Mrs. Josephine Carleton Archer after it was secretly exhumed at Oneda, Ill., has caused a great sensation. That the woman was murdered at Los Angeles, Cal., and her body shipped to Oneda, is the theory on which relatives and the county authorities are working.

The body of Mrs. Archer had been shipped here by her husband, Richard Archer, upon her death, and the circumstances which surrounded the sudden demise led to an investigation, resulting in the holding of an autopsy. Mrs. Archer, a woman wealthy in her own right, filed a suit for divorce in the courts of Los Angeles two weeks before her death, charging cruelty and inhuman treatment. Two days before the news of her death was received by her daughter, Mrs. Helen Carleton Marsh of this city, a letter was received stating that she was in excellent health. The message conveying the tidings of her death stated that she had died in convulsions.

A private investigation has been in progress for six weeks, instigated by Charles E. Marsh, her son-in-law, who is a roadmaster on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road. He made an affidavit before Coroner G. S. Chalmers, which resulted in the finding of the poison.

The deceased was formerly Mrs. John Carleton of Oneda, and about three years ago she went to Los Angeles for her health, meeting Archer there, and they were married, residing in a home owned by the wife on Harvard boulevard. Archer had conducted a brokerage business in Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City.

"I found a strong reaction for strychnine in the liver, kidneys and spleen," said Coroner Chalmers. "The stomach and contents are now in the hands of a chemist for analysis. In a thorough examination I found no condition that could have caused death in my opinion except from unnatural causes. The organs were all sound. There was no condition that would have caused convulsions. Considering Mrs. Archer's physical condition she should have lived many years."

STREAM POLLUTION PERILS

Epidemic Caused and Waters Made Unfit for Use, Declares Report of Committee.

Washington.—The committee on the "Pollution of Streams," appointed last year, of which Alec H. Seymour, secretary of the New York state department of health is chairman, Friday presented its report to the meeting of the state and provincial boards of health of North America. The other members of the committee are Dr. Charles O. Probst, secretary of the Ohio state board of health, and Dr. H. D. Holton, secretary of the Vermont state board of health.

Studies of conditions all over the United States and reports of state health departments show that there have been many epidemics of typhoid fever directly due to this practice; that in many cases public nuisances have been caused, and that many of the waters of the various states are rendered unfit for domestic and manufacturing purposes. Fish life has been destroyed and the waters ruined for boating, bathing and fishing and rendered objectionable and obnoxious in other ways.

The report shows that during the past few years many laws have been passed dealing with this subject, but that the legislative activity has not kept pace with the needs.

PARTY LEADERS TO TESTIFY.

Libel Case Continued to October 11; When Hitchcock, Cortisoy and Mack Will Be Heard.

This action was taken to permit the prosecution to introduce as witnesses Frank H. Hitchcock, former chairman of the Republican national committee; Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic national committee; George B. Cortisoy, certain members of the office staff of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., and certain officials of various departments of the government at Washington.

Mr. McNamara said he expected to prove by these witnesses that the defendants, Delavin Smith and Charles Williams, had knowledge of the editorial articles published later in the Indianapolis News.

ONE THING THAT WAS CERTAIN

No Doubt in the Baggageman's Mind as to Contents of What Looked Like Coffin.

In an emergency the manufacturer of Limburger cheese was forced to use strategy with a shipment. Ordinarily his product went in special cars, but in this instance no car was available and the order must be filled. Two hundred pounds of the fragrant comestible was put in a rough, oblong box, and taken to the railroad baggage room. Then the manufacturer bought a ticket for himself and the box and entered the train. At the first stop he went ahead to the baggage car to see that there was no trouble. He stood by the box in a sycophantic attitude and shaded his eyes with his hand. The baggage man was sympathetic. "A relative?" he asked. "Yes," answered the manufacturer. "It is my brother." "Well," said the railroad man, philosophically, "you have one consolation. He's dead, all right."—San Francisco Argonaut.

TORE HIS SKIN OFF

As Shrubs—Itching Was Intense—Sleep Was Often Impossible.

Cured by Cuticura in Three Weeks.

"At first an eruption of small pustules commenced on my hands. These spread later to other parts of my body, and the itching was so intense, so much so that I literally tore the skin off in shreds in seeking relief. The awful itching interfered with my work considerably, and also kept me awake nights. I tried several doctors and used a number of different ointments and lotions but received practically no benefit. Finally I set down to the use of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Pills, with the result that in a few days all itching had ceased and in about three weeks' time all traces of my eruption had disappeared. I have had no trouble of this kind since. H. A. Krutskoff, 5714 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Ill., November 18 and 23, 1907."
